ADVICE TO GROWERS ABOUT SPRAYING

Experts From Agricultural Department, O. A. C., and Others Tell How to Do It

The following letter in regard to spraying has been sent to all the fruit growers in the valley by a committee composed of Dr. Chas. Brooks, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture; Prof. G. B. Posey, of the Oregon Agricultural College; Robert C. Paulus, manager of the Salem Fruit Union; W. T. Jenks, of Willamette Valley Prune association; C. O. Constable, county fruit inspector; and H. S. Gile & Co. The letter represents views on spraying that are of practical benefit to every grower and these ideas are the result of experiments by men who have been and are now giving their time to the study of fruits.

The letter is as follows:
To Prune, Peach and Cherry Growers: There have been so many questions asked us in regard to the proper spray and at what time to spray for brown rot of prunes, peaches and cherries that the undersigned committee was appointed to take the matter up with the man from the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., and the professors of the Oregon Agricultural college, Corvallis, Oregon, and we have secured the following advice from them in regard to spraying for brown rot:

"Our advice in regard to the treatment of brown rot on stone fruits based upon the best information available at the present time is as follows:
Spraying program: The growers are advised to spray four times.
1. Just before the petals open.
2. Just after the petals fall.
3. Just after the shucks or blossoms cups fall away.
4. About one month before picking.
The first application supplemented by the second aims to control the blossom blight; the third to control rot on green fruit in the suring; the last to control the rot of maturing fruit on the tree and in the boxes.

If a grower feels that he cannot give all these sprays, the second spray may be omitted, but never the first or the last. No practical spraying program can be expected to prevent the disease entirely throughout the whole season. The recommendations given, however, will help to protect against infections, at the periods usually most favorable to damaging outbreaks of the disease.
Materials: We recommend Bordeaux mixture 4-4-50 as the material likely to give the best results with least injury. Even a 2-3-50 Bordeaux with careful and thorough application will probably bring excellent results and is suggested for those who feel that the stronger formula is too expensive. The use of a resin sticker will greatly assist in making the Bordeaux spread out in an even coating over the sprayed surfaces.
Lime-sulphur solution is an effective fungicide. It may under certain conditions (hot weather particularly) cause foliage or fruit injury. For those who believe Bordeaux too expensive, however, it is suggested as a substitute to be used rather dilute. With a concentrated solution testing 32 degrees Baume dilute it 1 to 25 or 30 for the first application, and 1 to 50 for the others. No resin sticker can safely be used with this spray because of the chemical effect. It is not safe to use ordinary lime-sulphur on peach foliage.
Self boiled lime-sulphur 8-8-50 is the standard spray in the east for brown rot on peaches. Without a sticker added this material does not adhere well to prunes. It is more likely to be effective in warm weather rather than in the cooler days of early spring. On account of the success met with by Fisher of the United States Department of Agriculture in 1915, as reported in Bulletin No. 368 of the United States Department of Agriculture, with this material combined with a resin fish-oil sticker we suggest this combination as a promising substitute for Bordeaux."

COURT HOUSE NEWS

The jury in the case of J. W. Levitt Co. against B. M. Dimmick brought in a verdict for the defendant last night in the sum of $1500. This was a case in which Levitt & Co. sought to collect $1050 from Dimmick for auto supplies delivered to Mr. Dimmick when he was in the automobile business. Dimmick brought in a counter claim for $12,000 on the grounds that the auto company took his territory from him and caused him to lose money. The verdict in favor of Dimmick was signed by the following jurymen: Fred A. McIntire, foreman, Charles Hinz, Frank Hayes, L. W. Durant, George Keech, Stephen Hamshutz, G. D. Brown, Jonas M. Will, G. N. Lucas, William Zimmerman and A. B. Crosby. Attorney W. C. Winslow appeared for the defendant and Mr. Humphries of the firm of Chamberlain & Thomas represented the plaintiff.

Today is the last day to pay taxes before the penalty of one percent a month is added on the first half and the money has been pouring into the office of the tax collector in a steady stream all day. The largest taxpayers in the county paid their bills yesterday for the first half. The largest single amount received was $35,544.37 which was the first half of the taxes of the Southern Pacific company. The Bush estate was second with $12,212 as a half payment. The Oregon Electric was third and the Silver Falls Timber company was the fourth largest taxpayer in the county. Turnover No. 6 was made today by Sheriff Koch and amounted to $39,709.11 making a total of $270,290.29 that has been turned over to the county treasurer by the tax collector on the 1915 taxes.

The preliminary hearing of Lee Jeans charged with assault with a deadly weapon, and Robert Cole, charged with carrying concealed weapons will be held in Turner either Friday or Saturday of this week. This is the outcome of the pitched battle that took place at the door of the carnival tent Saturday night in which three men were cut with a pocket knife. Jeans will in all probability be bound over to the grand jury and the case will be trashed out in the courts when it is brought to trial. It is also possible that a change of venue will be asked for Cole, but since all of the witnesses are in Turner, it would cost too much money to hold the preliminary hearing of Jeans in Salem, in the opinion of district attorney Ringo.

The Marion county court met today in regular session to pass upon the county bills and to take up the usual routine business that marks the first few days of the session of the county court.

The case of George Labree & C. A. Clark against C. L. Sperling and Arthur Sperling, doing business as C. L. Sperling & Son was called in department number 1 of the circuit court this morning. This is an action brought by Labree Clark to recover money alleged due on a commission to sell real property. They claim that they found a purchaser for the grocery store of the Sperlings at 247 North Commercial street and that $112 is due as a commission. McNary & McNary are attorneys for the plaintiffs, and W. H. Trolan for the defendants.

The jury in the case of Labree and Clark versus C. L. Sperling and Son brought in a verdict today in favor of the plaintiffs in the sum of $23. This is the commission allowed on a real estate deal. The plaintiffs asked for $112.

Another horse trade was being untangled before Judge Kelly this afternoon in the circuit court in the case brought by Jake Moser against H. R. Humphries and J. F. Humphries. The plaintiff stated on the stand that he sold a mare to the Humphries for $200 and took their note for this sum. Humphries said they were to take the mare on trial and if she was not as represented they were to return her and receive their money back. Moser accepted the mare back but said when he received her she was not worth more than $50 at the time and he wanted the difference paid by the defendants. Jas. G. Heltzel represents the plaintiff and McNary & McNary the defendants.

The county court today granted a franchise to a telephone company to put in a line from the Silverton city limits along the Silver Creek Falls road.

EUGENE VOTERS DECIDE NOT TO DRAIN SLOUGH

Eugene, Ore., April 5.—The proposed amendment to the charter of Eugene, providing for the issuance of bonds to drain the Amazon slough, was defeated by a heavy vote in the annual city election yesterday. E. K. Wheeler defeated P. B. McKinney for mayor of the water bond by a 2-to-1 vote. E. B. Paris, E. Koppen, J. P. Evans and B. F. Goodpastor were all re-elected councilmen without opposition.

Complete unofficial returns show that the Amazon amendment was defeated by a vote of 1,542 to 112.

SELIG'S SAFE IS BLOWN

Nitroglycerine demolished the safe in the mercantile establishment of N. Selig at Falls City early Friday morning and burglars made away with about $35 in addition to some notes and securities, which will be of no value to them. This is the second time within a few months that Selig store has been entered and there is a strong opinion that the jobs were directed by the same person or persons.

Sheriff Orr was summoned as soon as Mr. Selig discovered the robbery and he made a thorough investigation. The sheriff found evidence of the operation of an experienced safe blow-er, and the fact that no one in the neighborhood heard the explosion makes it appear that the culprit knew his business. Sacks of grain piled about the safe and the plentiful use of soap denuded the intonation from the explosion and made it possible for the burglars to work in peace until they had completed their job and escaped. The total cash loot will not
