

It will be Bigger and Greater Than Ever Before and the FINAL HOUR IS 9 o'Clock Tomorrow Morning When I Swing Open the Doors for the Chicago Store's $20,000 Sale--My Orders Are Final

They Wired Me to Come and I am here. I am here this time to raise $20,000 for The Chicago Store, and I will not let one single thing stand in my way. I intend and will give you greater bargains than during my last stay at The Chicago Store. The proprietors of The Chicago Store have again given me complete control of their store, and have given me authority to cut and slash prices in order to raise them $20,000 cash in very quickest time possible, and it is no use for me to go into details about it. My mind is already made up what I am going to do, and you will hear from me every day in the daily papers.

I Must Do It in a Hurry

I may seem out spoken to you, but when I get a contract to sell merchandise at any price I see fit to move it. I will be point blank with you and give you the facts right from the shoulder and as I have always told you I am ready to stand back of any statement I make, and I've got to get $20,000 for The Chicago Store in double quick time. It matters not to me what sacrifice I have to make. They know that I like to spill printer's ink and butcher prices--that's why I am here. So make up your mind that you will have the biggest opportunity to buy your Easter togs at almost give away prices.
