SALEM INTERESTED IN SOCIAL HYGIENE

Audience of 800 at Armory, and 700 at Congregational Church Yesterday

An attendance of more than 800 at the armory, where the services were held especially for men, and 700 at the Congregational church, where the meeting was held for women, attested the interest of Salem in the work of the Oregon Social Hygiene society.

Governor Withycombe presided at the meeting held at the armory and in a short talk expressed his interest in better citizenship and also his endorsement of the work of the Oregon Social Hygiene society.

A medical paper of interest to men was read by Dr. L. F. Griffith, staff physician at the state hospital, in which the doctor's views were presented on subjects that were once very little discussed in public, but that are now brought before thinking men in general public meetings.

Dr. Calvin S. White, of Portland, spoke especially in reference to quack doctors and fake medicines. He referred to the benefits of the laws passed in Oregon in which the quack doctor is not allowed to advertise, and had a practical demonstration of the law in showing an eastern sporting paper, in which it was filled with fake advertising of quacks for its Montana and Washington editors, and the same papers with all the fake ads eliminated for the Oregon edition.

J. E. Sawyer, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Pendleton, and a member of the Social Hygiene society, spoke mostly on what the society was doing and what it hoped to accomplish. As to the individuals share in this great work, she emphasized the fact that fathers must do their part and the mothers must do their part and their children as well, in instructing their children as to the facts of life and that each child was entitled to the privilege of having two parents, each interested in its welfare.

The meeting for the women completely filled the auditorium and balcony of the First Congregational church. Mrs. F. A. Elliott, president of the Salem Women's club, presided. The address of the afternoon was delivered by Dr. Bertha Stewart, of Reed college. Among other practical suggestions, she stated that mothers should become the companion of their daughters and should not leave too much to school teachers.

The state organization is planning for work to be done in the cities and towns adjacent to Salem and expects to interest local doctors and business and professional men, who will take time to attend meetings and lend their support to the work of the society.

E. J. Cummins, one of the field agents of the society, will return to Portland today but within the week will take up the work in the towns near Salem.

Salem Motorcycle Club Beats Jefferson by Score of 16 to 8

The Salem Motorcycle club team won from Jefferson yesterday by the score of 16 to 8 although up to the eighth inning the score stood at six all. In this inning, Doty, the Jefferson pitcher, aeroplaned and the Motorcycle Miquies fell on his offerings for enough runs to clinch the game. Ray Baker, manager of the Motorcycle club team, staged a "come back" at the great national game. He played second with vigor and all of his old-time speed, secured a three bagger, and accepted six chances with one error. Weeks, the Motorcycle twirler, secured six hits in as many times at the bat, one of which went for extra bases.

The batteries for the motorcycle club were Weeks and Groves for Jefferson and Doty and Ryals.

Defense Asks Delay In Trial of Orpet

Waukegan, Ill., April 10.—A continuance until June 1 was demanded today by counsel for the defense when William H. Orpet, Wisconsin university student came before Circuit Judge Donnelly for trial on a charge of murdering Marion Lambert, Lake Forest high school girl.

The defense lawyers said experts were attempting to prove that the girl committed suicide. Their report is not yet ready, hence the request for delay. Prosecutor Dady urged an immediate trial. Judge Donnelly will rule later.

Mexicans Set Fire to Southern Pacific Shops

Douglas, Ariz., April 10.—De facto government intelligence officers joined with American authorities today in a rigid investigation into the cause of a fire which destroyed three locomotives, two coaches, the round house, and machine shop of the Southern Pacific railroad at Naco, Sonora, this morning.

Three Mexicans were seen loitering about the shops shortly after daylight and remained about the premises until the start of the blaze; they disappeared. Their actions were reported as suspicious.

No estimate of the loss was announced by railroad officials. It was conceded that the conflagration was of incendiary origin. Considerable excitement on both sides of the international line followed the fire.

SCHOOLS TRYING TO SECURE 40 PER CENT OF LAND GRANT FUND

Parents and Teachers of State Unite In Effort to Increase Fund

A united effort is being made by the schools of the state to secure 40 per cent of the funds derived from the sale of the O. & C. lands for the common school fund and numerous letters are pouring into the office of Superintendent J. A. Churchill from parents and teachers of the state offering to cooperate with him in his efforts to increase the school fund.

When it first appeared in the press dispatches that the clause in regard to the school fund was in danger of amendment, Superintendent Churchill sent letters to all districts of the first class, and to all the county superintendents, calling their attention to the fact. Commercial clubs, Parent-Teachers' associations, school boards, and in fact, all forms of civic bodies at once sent telegrams to their representatives in Washington, urging that the irreducible school fund should receive not less than 40 per cent of the land grant money.

The response was so strong that Superintendent Churchill was encouraged and continued the work. He took the matter up with the smaller districts of the state. Letters coming to Superintendent Churchill's desk show that the most prominent and influential people in all parts of the state are co-operating in trying to protect the schools. He has received copies of a large number of telegrams which have been sent to Washington. Some are signed by civic bodies, others are signed by citizens. Many of those who have recently come to Oregon are sending telegrams to their representatives of their original home states. Mr. H. R. Marsh, of Glendale, who is a brother alumnus University of Illinois, Representative J. R. Mann, has sent a long telegram to Mr. Mann explaining to him what the land grant bill means to the school system of Oregon.

"From letters which I am receiving," said Superintendent Churchill, "it is clear that the people of Oregon are anxious to see the irreducible school fund of this state receive a large share of the fund derived from the O. & C. land grant. The reason is very evident, if one will examine the sources of the school funds of this state. More than 50 per cent of the funds spent for the maintenance of our schools is derived from the local district tax. Nowhere in the state do the people hesitate to tax upon themselves for school purposes, but they all feel that if this state had an adequate irreducible school fund it would materially reduce the taxes in all parts of the state and would affect every citizen in Oregon. No other plan proposed for the distribution of this money would come so near affecting every man, woman and child in Oregon as that of using the funds to build up a state school fund which would take care of the maintenance of our schools."

I still use Doan's Kidney Pills once in a while when a cold settles in my back and kidneys and the kidney secretions become disordered. I always get quick relief. You may continue publishing the endorsement I have given Doan's Kidney Pills before."

BUENA VISTA BUSY

New Commercial Club Herald's Spirit of Optimism of Community.

Buena Vista, Ore., April 10.—The clearing of more lands for hops, the building of numerous dairy barns during the past year, the converting of worn-out grain farms into modern dairy farms, the improvement of the school and the organization of a Buena Vista Commercial club are the outstanding results of the optimism prevalent in the Eastern Luckiavute valley. The establishment of regular systems for the marketing of cream and other farm products are credited largely for the rapid improvements.

Hay has been raised on an extensive scale, and clover has replaced grain on many farms. "Give back to the land something every year" is the slogan of the dairymen. Sundry crops for food have been raised, causing more inten-

Burman's Body Will Be Sent to Detroit

Los Angeles, Cal., April 10.—Accompanied by the widow, the body of Bob Burman, killed in the auto race at Corona Saturday will be shipped to Detroit for burial today or tomorrow. The body of Eric Schrader was sent to St. Louis yesterday by Eddie O'Donnell, winner of the 300 mile race which resulted in three deaths.

At Corona, a formal inquest was held covering the deaths of Burman, Schrader, his mechanic and W. H. Speer, special officer.

Mrs. Burman was with her husband from the time he was lifted into an ambulance at the course, within fifty feet of the wreckage, until he died at Riverside.

Waiting in a cell in the Riverside county jail today is Mrs. Marian Clark, held on a charge of grand larceny. It was alleged she attempted to remove an $800 diamond pin from Burman as he was being lifted into an ambulance immediately after the accident.

The five men injured when Burman's Peugeot car struck the spectators railing were reported recovering today. None of the injured will die.

The fatal ending of the Corona race Saturday will probably result in Saturday's race being the last at Corona. There was agitation at Corona today among the five thousand townspeople to discontinue the annual race.

since use of the land.

A short crop in 1915 and threatened low prices for future crops have been no setback to hopgrowers here. Economy has been urged by the growers and the results of the 1915 season show that only a few losses were encountered by Luckiavute growers. It is likely that cooperative buying will aid in economizing this year.

A new project appears to Buena Vista residents in the form of the peppermint island, which is to be utilized for the growing of the plants when the spring weather permits. Clearing indicates that an early start is intended.

Along with the growth in farm improvements is that of the school systems, and more pupils over a wider area are attending school in Buena Vista now.

Buena Vista has made street improvements. Civic pride has been awakened and an attitude of community welfare has taken firm root.

Last month the Buena Vista Commercial club was organized. Buena Vista citizens from every section paid a visit to this region and gave expression to congratulations and offers of aid in a city of action. The new organization has one of the largest memberships of any in Buena Vista, although there are four larger towns.

Turner Grange Takes Sides In Recent Riot There

Action of the Turner city administration in interfering with the entertainment given last Saturday night at Turner by the Turner band, by which a riot was precipitated, three persons stabbed and more than a score injured, is severely condemned by Surprise grange, No. 233, of Turner, in resolutions adopted Saturday.

The grange has a membership of 95 and the resolutions are said to have been adopted unanimously. The text of the resolution follows: "Whereas, The Turner band arranged for an entertainment for the purpose of securing funds for the betterment of such band; "And Whereas, The action taken by the city officials of Turner, Ore., in breaking up said entertainment and thwarting the wholesome and desirable ends sought by such band was wholly uncalled for;

"And Whereas, Said actions of said officials were carried beyond all bounds of reason and led to bloodshed and gross violation of law;

"And Whereas, Nearly all of the members of said band are farmers' boys living in the vicinity of Turner and outside of the corporate limits of said city, and all of the members are known to be public-spirited men of principle and integrity;

"And Whereas, Said actions of said officials were carried to such an extent as to lead to false accusations against members of said band;

"Therefore, be it Resolved, That Surprise grange, No. 233, of Turner, Ore., condemn, and it does hereby condemn, the said unlawful actions and conduct of said Turner officials in breaking up said entertainment and committing and causing to be committed the other acts of violence and lawlessness on the evening of April 3, 1916;

"Be it Further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the Grange Bulletin and other papers."
