ALINE THOMPSON

THE week just ended has been unusually prolific in engagement announcements. Miss Janet Gray's engagement to Carl Steiner, and Miss Helen Krause's to Glenn Sigel, caused quite a furore in Salem society when the news was first made known this week. The girls formerly lived in Salem and are tremendous favorites in local society.

Miss Gray is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gray, of Seattle, and a granddaughter of the late Governor Chadwick.

Mr. Steiner is of a prominent Oregon family, a son of John Steiner, of Jefferson. Miss Gray's engagement was announced Saturday in Seattle at a tea for which the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. W. G. Gray, was hostess.

Miss Krause is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto E. Krause, and her fiancé, Glenn Sigel, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Sigel, a well known Portland family. He is a graduate of Amherst and a Beta Theta Phi fraternity man.

The news of Miss Krause's engagement was also made known on Saturday at a luncheon presided over by Mrs. Edwin D. Jergensen (Grace Dalrymple) in Portland at her residence in Parkside Drive, Arlington Heights.

The weddings probably will take place in the early fall, although definite dates have not yet been set. Owing to the popularity of the brides-to-be, society will entertain them with many pre-nuptial affairs.

Miss Caroline Dick and Miss Marjorie Kay went to Portland Friday and are guests at the R. R. Giltner residence. This afternoon the girls were the guests of friends for the college fête, and tonight they will attend the informal dance given by the Chi Omega fraternity at the Laurelhurst club.

DYSPEPSIA OVERCOME

Tone Up the Stomach with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

When you have dyspepsia your life is miserable. You have a bad taste in your mouth, a tenderness at the pit of your stomach, a feeling of puffy fullness, headache, heartburn, and sometimes nausea.

Dyspepsia is difficult digestion—that is what the word means—and the only way to get rid of it is to give vigor and tone to the stomach and the whole digestive system. Hood's Sarsaparilla, sold by all druggists, is the one medicine which acts on the stomach through the blood and also directly. Its beneficial effects are felt at once. Improvement begins immediately.

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, makes the rich red blood that is needed for perfect digestion, and builds up the whole system. No other medicine can take its place.

Mrs. Frank Meredith, of North Yakima, and Mrs. Ralph Watson, of Portland, two popular visitors in the city, have been honor guests at several affairs this week.

Among the delightful attentions was a luncheon presided over by Mrs. William Dancy Wednesday. Yellow blossoms of the spring time adorned the table. Covers were placed for six. Later several matrons came in for an afternoon of bridge.

The attractive card favor was awarded to Mrs. L. F. Griffith. Those playing were: Mrs. Meredith, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Edwin L. Baker, Mrs. Harry Olinger, Mrs. L. F. Griffith, Mrs. Oliver Locke, Mrs. George Brown and the hostess.

Mrs. John D. Sutherland presided over a charming and exceptionally pretty dinner party Monday evening. The affair was planned to honor Mr. Sutherland on the occasion of his birthday anniversary.

An art basket filled with lovely pink tulips decked the artistically appointed table.

Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Moores, Mr. and Mrs. William Eldridge, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spencer, and the hosts.

Dinner was followed by an evening of bridge.

Miss Edna Josse, who has been the inspiration for a number of charming affairs since the announcement of her engagement, was the honor guest at an attractive bridge for which Miss Zoe Stockton was hostess Thursday afternoon.

Miss Stockton's guests included only the closest friends of the bride-elect, most all of whom were members of a Kensington club.

The stockton residence was decorated in tribute to the honoree. The living room and dining room were a bower of fragrant apple blossoms, similar blossoms also decking the prettily appointed table which was in pink and white. At bridge Mrs. Walter Spaulding was awarded the high score favor.

The players included twenty-four of the married set who are members of the Merry-Go-Round club and a few guests. The rooms where the card tables were arranged were adorned with spring blossoms, Oregon grape and logwood. Honors were won by Mrs. John McNary and Dr. D. M. Field.

Mrs. Smith was assisted by Miss Ellen Tubelsen.

A small informal dinner was given Wednesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spens. Greens and yellow toned spring blossoms were used to center the artistically appointed table, which had covers for: Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Hofer, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Cross, Lawrence Hofer, James Young and the hosts.

An informal bridge was given Monday afternoon by Mrs. Homer Smith, who had the matrons of the bridge club and a few visitors for three tables of the game.

The high score honors were awarded to Mrs. Louis Lachmund.

Mrs. Robert Kinney, of Astoria, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Moores.

Mrs. Robert Downing had a number of guests at her home Wednesday for an afternoon over the bridge tables. The rooms were aglow with spring blossoms, yellow daffodils and white lilies, making an artistic background for the matrons to whom the hostess extended her hospitality. Those playing were the members of the Happy Hour Bridge club and a few visitors who were Mrs. John McNary, Mrs. Charles Dick, Mrs. Frank Durbin, Mrs. Homer Goulet and Mrs. Frank Myers.

The score honors fell to Mrs. J. N. Smith and Mrs. E. S. Tillinghast. Mrs. Downing was assisted by her daughter, Miss Hazel Downing.

Mrs. C. P. Bishop's Kensington on Thursday afternoon was one of the most delightful informal affairs of the week. An enjoyable diversion of the afternoon was a guessing game. Mrs. William Brown was awarded the attractive favor. The rooms were effectively decorated with greens and logwood. In the dining room the refreshment tables were adorned with spring blossoms and dainty old-fashioned nose gay favors marked the places. Mrs. Bishop was assisted by Mrs. Ben Olcott, Mrs. Robert Kinney, of Astoria, Mrs. Clifford Brown, Miss Hazel Bishop, Mrs. Chauncey Bishop.

Amid an artistic setting of spring blossoms a dozen or so society matrons gathered at the delightful bridge for which Mrs. Frank Durbin was hostess Thursday afternoon.

The affair was given for the members of the Thursday bridge club, with a few guests being asked to make up an extra table of the game.

The non-club members playing were: Mrs. Lawrence T. Hartzel, Mrs. Ralph Watson, who is the guest of Mrs. E. L. Baker; Mrs. Elmer Ladden and Mrs. Curtis Cross.

THE post-Lenten season is to be enlivened with several dances. Dinner parties are restored to their place of importance because dancing nowadays has its prelude of dinner parties, particularly the dance at public places.

Friday night society flocked to the Hotel Marion to whirl in the gayeties of the second dinner dance. About sixty girls and men and young married folk surrounded the tables, many joining a coterie of their friends for dinner. Those making up the largest party were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Livesley, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Sargent, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Smith, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. Asahel Bush entertained Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Plimpton, Miss Margery Marvin and Albert Wakeman, of Portland.

At Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Hofer's table were Mr. and Mrs. David Eyre, Miss Hazel Erickson, Miss Aline Thompson, Jay Dwiggins, Jr., of Berkeley, California, and Lawrence Hofer.

Another table was surrounded by Mrs. Robert Kinney, of Astoria, Miss Rita Steiner, Miss Esther Carson, Errol Kay, Carl Gabrielson and Ralph Moores.

Others noticed at various tables in small congenial groups were: Mr. and Mrs. George Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spears, Miss Elizabeth Lord, Miss Hazel Downing, Prince Byrd, James Young, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kozier, Jim Lima, Miss Alice Lupton, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Miss Putnam and several others.

Miss Margaret Rodgers, who is attending Miss Cattie's school in Portland, will arrive home Sunday to spend the Easter vacation.

Miss Leah Johnson has gone to Corvallis for a week end visit with friends.

Informal bridge parties have been the order of the week with society matrons, in fact these small affairs have become so popular that most of the smart bridges given this winter have been of a very informal nature.

There is something so cozy and delightful about an afternoon over the card tables with one's own coterie of friends that large formal parties seem to have no place in the calendar, at least not at present.

One of the most charming of these small bridges was given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Thomas B. Kay, who asked guests for three tables of the game. The tables were circled by the matrons of the Thursday bridge club and Mrs. Frank Spencer, Mrs. Griffith, Mrs. John Minto and her house guest, Mrs. Otto Metchan, of Portland, who were additional players.

Mrs. Rollin K. Page won the high score honor. Yellow flowers in vases and bowls were arranged about the rooms.

Mrs. John Minto has as her guest Mrs. Otto Metchan, of Portland. Mrs. Metchan will visit in Salem for about a week, and will no doubt be the motif of several informal affairs.

Mrs. William Brown has asked a group of matrons to accompany her to the beach Monday for a week's sojourn at her summer cottage in Seal Rock. The house party will include Mrs. Richard Cartwright, Mrs. Carlton Smith, Mrs. William Dancy, Mrs. William Eldridge and Mrs. George Bingham.

Salem friends of Mrs. Norman Courtney (Emmeline Klein) will be glad to know that she is planning to visit here soon. Since her marriage last winter in Los Angeles, California, Mrs. Courtney and her husband have been living in Mazatlan, Mexico. Mrs. Courtney expected to sail today, but will visit en route in Los Angeles and San Francisco, California, arriving in Salem on the first of May.

About a dozen young folk gathered as the guests of charming Miss Marie Schulderman Wednesday afternoon to participate in her tenth birthday party, given at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Schulderman.

It was a merry affair for the young guests, who came and played games. Miss Prudence Patterson and Albert Russell were the happy prize winners in the Easter Egg hunt which rounded out the gayeties. Later in the afternoon the party closed with delightful refreshments. The table was all done in yellow. Satin streamers from the chandelier terminated in huge bows at the four corners of the table and Easter favors marked places for Constance Yantis, Margaret Stolz, Janet Plimpton, Prudence Spight, Francis Dick, Prudence Patterson, Sherman Plimpton, John Coughell, Hanford Post, Elbert Russell, Peter Schulderman and the young hostess.

Mrs. Hal D. Patton and baby daughter, Jeannette, came in later to call.

Mrs. John Coughell entertained Monday afternoon with a few tables of bridge. It was a charming informal affair, and was planned as a courtesy to her house guest, Mrs. W. P. Sperry and Mrs. Ralph Watson, who is visiting Mrs. Edwin L. Baker. About a dozen matrons gathered to greet the visitors.

The card honors were won by Mrs. Walter Spaulding and Mrs. J. C. Evans.

Miss Margaret Putnam returned Wednesday from Albany, where she has been the guest of Miss Mary Stevens for several weeks.

A group of matrons shared the charming hospitality of Mrs. F. J. Chapman recently at an enjoyable afternoon of sewing. Mrs. Chapman asked as her guests the members of the Broke Kensington club, which is composed of Mrs. Fred Erickson, Mrs. Earl Anderson, Mrs. J. W. Lewis, Mrs. Jim Wilson, Mrs. Robert Savage, Mrs. T. Klein, Mrs. Paul Stege, Mrs. C. E. Reinhardt, Mrs. Roy Rice, Mrs. William Skinner, Mrs. Edward Wood, Mrs. P. E. Follerton, Mrs. Louis McCoy and the hostess.

Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Klein assisted in the serving.

Dr. and Mrs. Ray Pemberton were dinner hosts last Sunday evening in their residence on Commercial street. The prettily appointed table was circled by Miss Florence Coffin, of Springfield, Miss Myrtle Mills, of Portland, Ralph Coffin and the hosts.

Tuesday evening Dr. and Mrs. Pemberton presided over a similar affair. An array of yellow tulips centered the table and covers were placed for Dr. and Mrs. Grover Bellinger, Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Thompson and the hosts.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Clay have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. John Snyder and children, of Milwaukie, Oregon.

Friends of Mrs. Robert Cushman, of Berkeley, California, will be glad to know that she is in Salem and is the guest of Mrs. W. T. Slater.

The unexpected death of Mrs. Jane Ann Chadwick in Winlock, Washington Thursday awakened many tender memories among her host of devoted friends. She was a woman of great charm and beauty of character; a widow of the late Stephen F. Chadwick, former governor of Oregon. Mrs. Chadwick continued to live in Salem after her husband's lamented death and had only been in Washington since December.

The funeral services were held here this afternoon at St. Paul's Episcopal church. Rev. Robert Gill officiated. Numerous letters and messages of sympathy have been sent to her daughters, Mrs. William Gray, who is here from Seattle and Mrs. Mary Chadwick, who lives in Salem.

Mrs. N. E. Hobben and granddaughter, Miss Marie Holden, of Tillamook, are the guests of Mrs. W. A. Jones.

Mrs. Holden and Miss Holden are en route home from California, where they have been spending the winter.

Mrs. John F. Hooser entertained a number of friends at her home on Oak street Thursday afternoon in honor of her sister, Mrs. W. F. Wright, a bride of last month.

Mrs. Wright was formerly Miss Mae Keller, of Kokomo, Indiana. Several of the guests were former residents of Indiana and were old friends of the honoree.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright, who are on their honeymoon, will leave in a few days for Lovelock, Nevada, where they will reside.
