

Beautiful Bust and Shoulders
are possible if you will wear a scientifically constructed Bien Jolie Brasieres.

The dragging weight of an unconfined bust so stretches the supporting muscles that the contour of the figure is spoiled.

BIEN JOLIE BRASSIERES put the bust back where it belongs, prevent the full bust from having the appearance of sagging, eliminate the danger of dragging muscles and confine the flesh of the shoulder giving a graceful line to the entire upper body.

They are the dearest and most serviceable garments imaginable—come in all materials and styles: Cross Back, Hook Front, Surplice, Bustless, etc. Boned with "Walloch," the rustless lining—permitting washing without removal.

Have your dealer show you Bien Jolie Brasieres. If not stock- ed, we will gladly send him, prepaid, samples to show you.

SOCIETY

ALINE THOMPSON

THE next few days are dotted with dates for this or that entertainment. The preliminary work which is being done right now entails a vast amount of planning and effort so that what social entertainment there is, is naturally very informal. Shakespearean lovers will flock to the Grand theatre Saturday afternoon and evening to attend the presentation of "A Mid-Summer Night's Dream," to be given by the drama class of the Salem Woman's club.

Mrs. E. A. Elliott left today for Danville, Illinois, where she will be the guest of Mr. Elliott's mother. Mrs. Elliott will visit in the east for about two months.

The dance loving contingent are on the qui vive for the informal stepping party to be given by the string orchestra Friday evening at the Hotel Marston.

Mrs. Greta Looney, of Jefferson, who has been visiting here for several days, was the guest of Mrs. William Connell Dyer Monday.

Mrs. Clarence Townsend entertained the members of the Fair Grounds club at her pretty new bungalow, 110 East Myers street, Friday afternoon. Five hundred was played during the afternoon and later the guests enjoyed talks by Mrs. Edward Tollman and Mrs. Edith Tosier Wethered.

FOUR DOCTORS DISAGREED
Pains Disappeared After Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Wilmington, Del.—"I was suffering from a terrible backache and pains in my side, with bearing down pains and was very nervous. I was always tired, always drowsy, never could get enough sleep and could not eat. I had four doctors and each told me something different. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. I got good results and I now feel better than I have felt for years and I am gaining in weight. I can gladly recommend it to all women."—Mrs. GEORGE W. SMOULD, 1611 West 4th Street, Wilmington, Del.

Backache and bearing down pains are danger signals which every woman should heed. Remove the cause of these aches and pains by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that good old root and herb medicine. Thousands of women have testified to its virtues.

For forty years it has been making women strong, curing backache, nervousness, ulceration and inflammation, weakness, displacements, irregularity and periodic pain.

Edith Tosier Wethered, Mrs. Wethered's subject, Honolulu, was particularly interesting as she told her visit there. Dainty refreshments were served to the following guests:

Mrs. Edward Kyle, Mrs. Edith T. Wethered, Mrs. Edward Tollman, Mrs. D. B. Griffin, Mrs. Fay Smith, Mrs. Stetson and Mrs. O. Cotterman.

Thursday afternoon the members of the Aid society of the Woman's Relief Corps will share the pleasures of a social afternoon, for which Mrs. Ben West will be hostess at her residence, 680 North Church street.

A unique and original party has been planned by the members of the Christian Endeavor society, which will be given in the bungalow Christian church Friday evening, April the twenty-first, at seven-thirty o'clock. The affair is to be in form of a "Rubber Social" and all those gathering are requested to bring a piece of rubber or pay a fine of five cents. An enjoyable programme has been arranged and all members and friends are invited.

The "Kia Club" composed of a group of the younger girls of the high school, gathered as the guests of Miss Lucille Patton Saturday evening to participate in a five hundred party.

The rooms where the card tables were arranged were charming with sprays of apple blossoms. Miss Dorothy Buckner and Miss Ethel Rupert were awarded the card favors. Those playing were: Miss Dorothy Dick, Miss Margaret Gordon, Miss Marjorie Brown, Miss Valerie Briggs, Miss Dorothy Buckner, Miss Ethel Rupert, Miss Emma Snook, Miss Ruth Jones, Miss Gladys Harbert, and Miss Eva Randall, Miss Catherine Campbell and Miss Marie Briggs, who were guests of the club.

Miss Grace Taylor, visiting nurse for the public schools, will give a talk and practical demonstration on nursing in the home before the mothers' meeting of the Lincoln school Parent-Teachers' association tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Lincoln school. A short business session will precede the programme. Mrs. L. J. Chapin will favor the meeting with a piano solo. All mothers are urged to be present.

The Woman's Marion County Republican club held a meeting Monday afternoon in the city hall.

The report of the committee showed that the women are becoming very much interested, and that over ninety per cent will be registered. During the afternoon Mrs. C. P. Bishop gave an interesting talk in behalf of the educational work, which will be taken up by the club in the near future. The work will be along the lines of political science and national and state work.

There are a number of new members, as well as many visitors at each meeting which shows an increase of enthusiasm and interest.

Mrs. M. C. Smith, of Turner, was among the visitors attending the last meeting. From now on, the club will meet regularly on the first and third Mondays in the city hall. The next meeting will be May the first at 2:30 o'clock.

At the benefit entertainment given recently by the Parent-Teachers' association of the Grant school for the athletic department of the high school over one hundred dollars was realized. Part of the proceeds were used for the purchasing of suits for the baseball team.

COMMERCIAL CLUB TOLD OF NAVAL BASE

Wallace R. Struble Visits City, Asks Financial Aid for Movement

The sacred precincts of the Commercial club were invaded last evening by an armed force, not for the purpose of dispersing the peaceful meeting, but in order that the members of Company M, under command of Lieutenant Roy Neer, might hear the address of Wallace R. Struble, secretary of the Naval Base committee.

The occasion of the meeting was the monthly assembly of the members of the Commercial club to hear reports from the seven directors, to transact other business and to also hear what Mr. Struble had to say about naval base at the mouth of the Columbia.

The primary object of Mr. Struble's visit to Salem was to secure the financial assistance of Salem, and at the same time make known the fact that the month of the Columbia was the logical place for a naval base of the first class. Salem had already given the proposition its moral support, but Mr. Struble was after something more tangible, something that could be used to aid in the furtherance of the publicity campaign.

For he it known, that although the month of the Columbia is one of the three possible places where a naval base of the first class could be established on the coast, this fact must be driven home to the members of Congress, to the admirals and vice admirals and even to the members of the cabinet.

To Give Information. And not only must the government officials be fully informed as to the mouth of the Columbia and how it fulfills the demands of the Naval board at Washington, but commercial clubs throughout the country must receive this information. Although Congressman Hawley and Senator Lane have introduced bills providing for an immediate survey and the purchase of a site at the mouth of the Columbia, congress has been rather backward so far in making the appropriation.

But with the publicity campaign started by Astoria, and the telegrams sent urging our members in Congress to urge the passage of the bill, the prospects are now favorable for some action during the present congress.

In order to aid Astoria in its publicity campaign and to give it Salem's moral as well as financial support, George F. Rodgers offered a motion that the Salem Commercial club heartily endorse the movement to establish a naval base of the first class at the mouth of the Columbia and that President Hamilton appoint a committee of five to raise funds to aid Astoria's publicity campaign.

Through the eloquent address of Mr. Struble, substantiated by figures to prove his statements, the entire membership of the club was favorable to the motion of Mr. Rodgers, and it was passed unanimously.

Salem Will Assist. Favoring the establishment of a naval base at Astoria, Thos. B. Kay, Benjamin Brick, William Walton, Gideon Stolz, Max O. Buren, Charles B.

and the remainder was given to the athletic department. A splendid programme was a feature of the entertainment. Among the contributing numbers were Elwood Tower, who gave an Indian solo dance; little Ross Harris played a violin solo, and the Indian string trio gave several selections.

HAVE GOOD HEALTH

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the Old Reliable Spring Tonic.

Don't let the idea that you may feel better in a day or two prevent you from getting a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla today from any drug store and starting at once on the road to health and strength.

When your blood is impure and impoverished it lacks vitality, your digestion is imperfect, your appetite is poor, and all the functions of your body are impaired.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is a wonderful blood tonic. It will build you up quicker than any other medicine. It gives strength to do and power to endure. It is the old standard tried and true all-the-year-round blood purifier and enricher, tonic and appetizer. Nothing else acts like it, for nothing else has the same formula of ingredients. Be sure to ask for Hood's; insist on having it.

Archers, Judge P. H. D'Arcy and Joseph H. Albert each spoke briefly, although there was some difference of opinion as to the best way of raising funds.

Carrying out the motion of Mr. Rogers, President Hamilton appointed as a committee to raise funds, George F. Rodgers, chairman; Benjamin Brick, David Eyre, Hal D. Patton and F. G. Deekebach, working with Wallace R. Struble and Mr. Kelley. Up to noon today, the committee found the business men were duly impressed with the necessity of establishing a naval base at the mouth of the Columbia and they backed their judgment with generous giving. The morning's contributions amounted to $200 and the committee was continuing its work this afternoon.

TURNER JURY STILL DEADLOCKED AFTER DAY'S DELIBERATION

No Report Heard From Talesmen Since They Retired at 5:30 Yesterday

The jury in the case of the state against Rex Turner is deadlocked and the indications are at a late hour this afternoon that a disagreement will be reported. The jury went out to begin their deliberations at about 5:30 last night and were allowed to retire to bed about 10 o'clock. This morning they arose and resumed their balloting but no decision has yet been reached. It is possible that they are about evenly divided and each side is attempting to outwit the other and again it is possible that two or three jurors are holding out against the majority and the jurors consider that there is still a possibility of reaching a verdict.

District Attorney Ringo stated today that if the jury disagreed it was possible that the case would not be tried again this term of the court. If the jury acquits Turner, however, the case against Cleve Simpkins, who is jointly indicted with Turner, will be dismissed.

The case went to the jury before 6 o'clock last night after the attorneys in the case had used up about two hours in presenting their arguments to the jury. Attorney James G. Heltzel opened the argument with a short statement to the jury in which he outlined the main contentions of the statement and then left the principal argument to District Attorney Ringo. Judge McNary opened for the defense with an able argument in which he recalled the contentions of the ticket books which had the sheets missing and then attacked the evidence of the state in general, pointing out the weaknesses of the state's case.

He made considerable of the fact that the state had failed to produce the turnstiles at the fair grounds and maintained that these would be the best evidence of the number of admissions and that the evidence which had been presented by the state failed to show a single fact to connect Turner with the shortage.

Attorney John H. Carson who made the chief argument for the defense called the jury's attention to the slips which were received from Turner by the auditors which were marked "All Unsold tickets turned over." This he held to be conclusive evidence that Turner did not take the tickets from the bunch, however the state argued that the bunches were only assumed to be correct until they were officially counted and this the auditors did not do until later.

Mr. Carson argued at length that the state had failed to make out a case against Turner and that generalities, suppositions and circumstances only were being used to convict Turner by the state.

District Attorney Ringo closed the state by summing up the evidence from the state's point of view.

After Judge Kelly over ruled the motion for a directed verdict the ernment of the United States has been very patient. At every stage of this distressing experience of tragedy after tragedy it has sought to be governed by the most thoughtful consideration of the extraordinary circumstances of an unprecedented war and to be guided by sentiments of very genuine friendship for the people and government of Germany. It has accepted the successive explanations and assurances of the imperial government as of course given, in entire sincerity and good faith and has hoped, even against hope, that it would prove to be possible for the imperial government so to order and control the acts of its naval commanders as to square its policy with the recognized principles of humanity as embodied in the law of nations. It has made every allowance for unprecedented conditions and has been willing to wait until the facts became unmistakable and were susceptible of only one interpretation.

It now owes it to a just regard for its own rights to say to the imperial government that that time has come. It has become painfully evident to it that the position which it took at the very outset is inevitable, namely, the use of submarines for destruction of an enemy's commerce, is, of necessity, because of the very character of the vessels employed and the very methods of attack which their employment of course involves, utterly incompatible with the principles of humanity, the long established and incontrovertible rights of neutrals and the sacred immunities of non-combatants.

If it is still the purpose of the imperial government to prosecute relentless and indiscriminate warfare against vessels of commerce by the use of submarines without regard to what the government of the United States must consider the sacred and indisputable rules of international law and the universally recognized dictates of humanity the government of the United States is at last forced to the conclusion that there is but one course it can pursue. Unless the imperial government should now immediately declare and effect an abandonment of its present methods of submarine warfare against passenger and freight carrying vessels the government of the United States can have no choice but to sever diplomatic relations with the German empire altogether. This action the government of the United States contemplates with the greatest reluctance but feels constrained to take in view the examination of its witnesses. Rex Turner, the defendant, took the stand and testified in his own behalf.

"Did you take any of these slips out of the bunches of tickets?" he was asked.

"If there were any missing I did not," Turner answered. He further testified that the tickets were counted in bunches of 100 and that the separate slips were not counted each time they changed hands. District Attorney Ringo, on a cross examination attempted to ask Turner about a conversation with W. A. Jones, W. M. Keller, and Percy M. Varney, but Attorney Carson interposed an objection and this completed Turner's testimony. E. M. LaFoy, P. N. Deby and E. W. Strausloff testified that Turner had "swears" enjoyed an excellent reputation and that they had known him for years. Secretary of State Oelert was also called to the stand for a few minutes to testify as to the connection of the state fair with the other branches of state government.

ALKALI MAKES SOAP BAD FOR WASHING HAIR

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain unperfumed coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.
