FLOUR SHIPMENT IS HELD UP BY SEALER

California Officials Notified of Shortage in Weight of Salem Flour

In correction of a San Francisco dispatch which appeared in the Oregon newspapers yesterday in regard to a shipment of 539 sacks of flour which were sent out by the Cherry City Flour Mills of Salem, Deputy State Sealer of Weights and Measures Fred G. Buchtel said today that the shortage in weights was discovered in Salem and that the Salem office notified the San Francisco sealer to hold up the shipment when it arrived on the steamer Great Northern.

Sixty sacks of flour sent out by the Cherry City Mills were consigned to Portland and these have been shipped back to the mills for resealing. The other shipment was sent from Portland before it could be stopped and all information was collected and sent out by the Oregon state sealer. It appears that District Sealer J. F. Jones weighed a carload of flour and found that the sacks were short of the required 49 pounds net weight. The manager of the Cherry City Mills was absent from this city at the time but through an error the shipment went forward. It was found at that time that the scales at the flour mill were off a few ounces on the sack at this particular shipment had been packed before the scales were adjusted and corrected.

"I am not of the opinion that the Cherry City Mills deliberately gave short weight and I know that the error in their scales was not discovered until after the flour had been packed," said Mr. Buchtel this morning, "and the shipment was made during the absence of the manager of the mill."

The Oregon law requires that all packages containing food stuffs must be stamped on the outside with the net weight of the package regardless of the weight of the container and a flour sack is required to contain 49 pounds of flour under the Oregon law. The shipment of 539 sacks is being resealed in San Francisco under the direction of the state sealer in that city.

SLAUGHTER'S SECOND TRIAL GOES ON TODAY

Present Charge Is For Offense Committed On a Different Date

Oroville, Cal., April 26.—Rev. Madison Slaughter yesterday went to trial for the second time on charge of attacking Gertrude Lamson, aged 15. In his first trial the jury disagreed. The present charge alleges an offense committed on a different date.

It had been expected that Slaughter's attorneys would ask for a change of venue, claiming that it would be impossible to have a fair trial here, but the anticipated request failed to materialize.

More than 50 prospective jurors were on hand today. It is believed likely that additional veniremen will have to be summoned before a jury is obtained.

Slaughter was in court with his family. The room was crowded, many who were unable to get inside clustering around the doors.

The sheriff's office claimed to have evidence that Slaughter sympathizers had talked with some of the veniremen.

It is likely that the attorney general's office will not help the prosecution, as it did in the first trial. Prominent

FRECKLES AND BLOTCHES ARE EASILY PEELED OFF

If you are bothered with any untoward blemish, it's a poor plan to use paint, powder or anything else to cover it up. Too often this only emphasizes the defect. Besides, it's much easier to remove the disfigurement with ordinary mercurized wax. Applied nightly, the wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, moth patches, liver spots, sallowness, red blotches or any surface eruption. The affected cuticle is absorbed, a little each day, until the clear, soft, youthful and beautiful skin beneath is brought wholly to view. Ask the druggist for one ounce of mercurized wax and use this like you use cold cream. Remove in morning with soap and water. Many who have tried this simple, harmless treatment report astonishing results.

If troubled with wrinkles or furrows, a wash lotion made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered salolite in 1/2 pint witch hazel, will prove wonderfully effective.

Boy Murderer Said To Be Deficient Mentally

Seattle, Wash., April 26.—Juvenile diagnosticians, after studying Jon Burke, 12 year old man slayer, declare his mind cannot differentiate between right and wrong. They say that he is otherwise, mentally and physically normal.

The lad will be held for observation in the juvenile department for the next few weeks, and will probably be placed in some state institution for correction, but not in a penitentiary.

Dr. Liburn Merrill, chief diagnostician, found that Jon had a passion for excitement. He believes it would be unsafe to let him assume social responsibilities until he has been taught the difference between right and wrong.

Jon masked himself Sunday evening and shot and killed Frank Bealer, a milkman, "like they do in the movies."

THE SWAN SONG ENDED

Portland, Ore., April 26.—People who live near Washington Park will sleep undisturbed tonight for the first time in two years. It was they who started the controversy of cat versus swan for the championship in nocturnal noises. One big he swan, they claimed, could make more anti-sleep noises than a whole orchestra of prowling cats.

This morning the swan who had disturbed their sleep for two years was found dead. His neck was broken. Officers are investigating.

Suffragettes Demand Defeat of President

San Francisco, April 26.—Having interested San Francisco in the fight to enfranchise women of the entire states, the 23 envoys of the congressional union for women suffrage today went to Oakland where they will stop en route to Reno, Nev.

At a mass meeting in the exposition auditorium delegates demanded defeat for the democratic party, because of President Wilson's stand on suffrage, and urged western women to close watch congress in its dealings with the Susan B. Anthony suffrage amendment. More than $700 was collected for the ballot fight at the meeting.

Bridge Work Delayed By Death In Family

Because of the bereavement that befell Judge Teal on Wednesday night last, when his wife died quite suddenly at her home in Ellis City, the county court postponed its meeting from Friday afternoon until today, when it will take action in the matter of securing plans and specifications for a concrete bridge across the Willamette river at Salem, the same to be submitted for bids with those for the steel structure, which have been approved by the viewers and the Marion county court. It is probable that the court will make this recommendation to the Marion court, in which case there will probably be a fortnight's delay in advertising for bids for the bridge. Commissioners Wells and Beckett met at the court house Friday morning, and while no session was held they were waited upon by a citizens' committee from a mass meeting held the previous night and requested to delay action in accepting the plans and specifications for the proposed steel bridge until such time as plans and specifications could be secured for a bridge of the other type mentioned, which request was acquiesced in by these officials. Both commissioners, as well as Judge Teal, favor the concrete type of construction, provided a substantial foundation can be had and the additional cost is not excessive. It is deemed advisable to plan the concrete bridge for Court instead of Center street. In discussing the bridge question, Commissioner Wells told The Observer that he was strongly in favor of securing plans for a high level concrete bridge, and placing both propositions before the contractors for competitive bids and this action is expected from the court at its meeting today.

The receiving of bids for taking down, removing and the erecting of the steel bridge at North Independence dence across Soap creek, some three miles distant from Buena Vista, and also for the construction of a concrete bridge to replace it, will necessarily be postponed until some future date by reason of the fact that some irregularity crept into the proceedings. This will have the effect of delaying the proposed improvement at Independence, which included the moving of approximately 20,000 cubic yards of dirt in order to make the fill at another point, but the correction will be made and the contemplated work rushed as rapidly as possible. Other bids called for will be opened today and contracts awarded if they are in keeping with the views of the county court. These include a wooden bridge across the Luckiamute river at Falls City to replace the structure recently condemned, and for the construction of a wooden bridge across Mill creek, two miles south of Buell. There are several bids for these jobs in the hands of the county clerk. — Dallas Observer.

The Shakespearean ter-centenary will be celebrated this evening at Waller hall with a program of Shakespearean songs and readings from Shakespeare. The exercises of the evening are in charge of Prof. Robert Stauffer, and the public is welcome.
