Quality

Flavor and the Sealed Package

There are three big reasons. And the Value it gives in long-lasting, beneficial enjoyment is a point that people appreciate. The air-tight package keeps the flavor and quality as fine as when made in the wonderful Wrigley factories.

W. U. GLEE CLUBS WILL GIVE CONCERT MAY 12

Program Wide in Range and Calculated to Please Every Taste

The announcement is made by Mr. Paul R. Smith, the urban manager of the combined Glee Club and Young Ladies' Club, that on the twelfth of May they will make their first, last and only appearance in concert this year, at the First Methodist Church, May 12.

A varied and miscellaneous program has been arranged by Frank Wilbur Chase, the musical director of the clubs. Dr. Chase is past master in program-making, and bears in mind the proper equation, not wearying with an over-plus of the however-good. It will be a feast, yes, a real feast with good, solid courses, not forgetting the musical ice cream and confections. There will be musical food not only suited to the taste of the ears trained to listen to contrapuntal mysteries solved, but the ears of the layman will be pleased and satisfied as well.

Delightful Numbers Promised. A fine contrast of men's choruses, ladies' choruses, quartets, solos for piano, voice, and violin, with possibly a reading, will be given. The season has been remembered with a "Spring Song" by Miss Benson, and the "Bridal Chorus," from Cowen's Rose Maiden, with the combined clubs. The fresh young voices of the singers almost persuade one that a Gypsy's life in the open is far preferable, with the "Gypsy Chorus" from "The Bohemian Girl." The men tell tales "out of school," in "They Kissed, I saw Them Do It," "The Lost Chord" may be found in "How It Happened," by Hadley, the young American composer of whom we are all proud. An "Alpine Rose," by Gerrit Smith, is found near "The Forest," by Haesser. "An Irish Folk Song," leads the girls to "Twilight Dreams," whereupon the male quartet is inspired to sing, "Sunset."

It would never do to forget the "war times," and the martial note is struck in Schumann's inspired "Two Grenadiers," and our own John Philip Sousa's "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

This is the first time in five years the Willamette University Glee Club has appeared in Salem, although it has made various long tours going as far as Coos Bay, where it gave concerts in Marshfield, North Bend, Coquille, Myrtle Point and Bandon. It has given no concerts in Salem and the reason for this has been that it never appears in Salem unless it can give a concert which would far surpass any other musical production.

This year, however, the director, Dr. Frank Weber (Chace) feels that they can give a concert of which they and the citizens of Salem may be justly proud. Therefore the musical enthusiasts of Salem will have an opportunity of hearing the combined Men's and Ladies' Glee Clubs of the Willamette University, present their talent on Friday night, May 12.

American Mines Will Have to Quit Business

Douglas, Ariz., April 27.—American-owned mines at El Tigre, Nacozari, Sahuaripa and other places in Sonora will be forced out of business, it was predicted here today as a result of General Carranza's order prohibiting the export of gold and silver coin and silver bullion.

Carranza's order will go into effect next week. Mining officials here stated today that their interests would suffer heavily as a result of the Carranza order. They hinted it might mean extinction of American mining interests in Mexico. It was also reported that another order prohibiting the export of copper will be issued.

Non Support Charged; Arrested in Roseburg

(Capital Journal Special Service.) Dallas, Ore., Wednesday, April 26.—J. DeMonts, wanted in this county on a non-support charge, was arrested recently in Roseburg and was brought back to this county by Constable J. S. Ashbaugh, Monday. DeMonts was arrested on a complaint sworn to by his wife who charges that he deserted her and their small child at Grande Ronde without cause and has since failed to support them. The case will be heard in Justice Holman's court Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

City of Independence Sued. Mrs. Charles Lee has sued the City of Independence for $300 damages for the dislocation of an ankle caused when she fell on a sidewalk on North Main street. The city claims that it was not responsible for the accident but that the responsibility rests with other parties who had been excavating at the place where the accident took place and had neglected to repair the sidewalk, as it should have been. The case will come up for hearing at the next term of circuit court.

Trades for Woodburn Property. W. R. Allen has traded his 14 acre farm near Bridgeport to H. Bunting of Woodburn for property in that city including a dray line and three teams of horses. Mr. Allen will move to Woodburn immediately and take up the new line of business.

Charles Lynn and Ira Weiss have purchased the barber shop on North Main street and have taken possession of the same. Both men are barbers and are well known in this city, having worked in shops here for the past several years. Mrs. L. S. Finseth and little son are visiting at the home of her mother in Portland.

Face-To-Face Courtesy

GOOD telephone service depends largely upon mutual courtesy. The telephone is more useful to those who talk as if face to face, for civility removes difficulties and facilitates the promptest possible connections.

As in other intercourse, it often happens that two or more people wish to talk with the same person at the same time. Without courtesy confusion is inevitable, and the confusion is greater when the people cannot see each other.

The operators must be patient and polite under all circumstances, but they will do better work if they meet patience and politeness on the part of telephone users.

The Bell Telephone service enters intimately into the social and business life of each individual. The best results come through the practice of mutual courtesy.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Abbey Pass Away at Newport

Newport, Ore., April 26.—Mrs. Cerena Abbey, who died here Friday night last after being an invalid for more than two years past, was the widow of the late Peter M. Abbey, who passed away last February. She was born in Vienna, Canada, in 1848, and was married to Peter M. Abbey in Canada in 1866. The same year with her husband she came to Corvallis, Ore., and in May, 1867, they moved to Newport, Ore., and engaged in the mercantile business. Their principal customers then were Indians, the white settlers being limited in number. The Indians at that time had not been placed on reservations.

In 1871 they disposed of their mercantile business and built the old Abbey hotel, and from that time on followed the hotel business, Mrs. Abbey becoming one of the best known and most popular hostesses in the state and on the coast. During 1911 the old building having become obsolete, the new and modern Abbey hotel was erected, the first modern hostelry built on Yaquina bay.

Mrs. Abbey is survived by two sons, Edwin James and Morton Hazard Abbey, who are now operating the Abbey hotel.

LONG SEARCH FOR LOST BOY

Paul Cosper, aged 11, son of Emmett Cosper, walked into his father's home on Saturday morning about 9 o'clock, following an all-night search, in which the police and many citizens participated, for his whereabouts. The lad unconsciously left home shortly after 4 o'clock the previous afternoon, but when the father arrived at the usual hour and his son's absence continued after nightfall he felt alarmed and instituted a search, which was later joined by others. Night Watchman Shaw calling out the populace by ringing the fire bell. The banks of the Rickreall were searched, the father thinking that perhaps the lad had gone fishing and some mishap had befallen him but no trace of the missing one could be found. And the homes of his youthful friends were visited with the same result, the search being abandoned only with the dawn of day, and then only temporarily. The boy had gone to McNary, a station on the Salem & Falls City railroad, and there spent the night in camp with some timbermen, his original intention
