

SOCIETY and CLUBS

ALINE THOMPSON

ALTHOUGH the wonderful Subscription dances are a cherished memory to smart set has most certainly set a precedent in carrying out these truly marvelous parties which will long be premier in originality and cleverness. Incidentally the success of the dances this season has been due to the efforts of Mrs. Asshel Bush, Mrs. Frederic Thielson and Mrs. Melvin Plimpton, who seem unable to exhaust their repertoire of variations for these fetes of artistry.

Monday night's ball was the brilliant finale of the gay season, and as each preceding affair was in a different key in beauty and artistic effects.

It was in an enchanted summer garden at moonlight, illumined by the soft gleams of lights stealing through the branches of flowering fruit trees and scented with the fragrance of the merry through revealed.

The ball room was enclosed with a striking black and white lattice behind which was a profusion of Scotch broom aglow with a myriad yellow blossoms. In the center of this garden two large black and white strip swings hung beneath a huge canopy of the same dashing color combination. The music by the string orchestra was unusually good with a lot of swing that made dancing a delight.

A few of the gowns noticed follow: Mrs. Asshel Bush orchid and magnolia satin evening made in panther effect with pearl head and ribbon embroidered bodice. Peasants of pearl beads from the waist crossed in front and fastened the side drapes.

Mrs. William Burghardt, white satin with panel of opalescent peacock, bodice of paillettes and tulle.

Mrs. Percy Young of Albany, light blue tulle over cloth of silver under skirt. Silver lace and tulle bodice, with a filmy blue tulle scarf.

Mrs. Thomas Livesley, white chiffon embroidered in gold and silver over apple green satin with silver lace ruffles.

Mrs. Melvin Plimpton, bouffant gown of white princess lace and fine net over white satin. Silver trimmed bodice with girles of turquoise and pink satin.

Mrs. Thomas Smith, Jr., ruffled gown of rose-pink tulle and gold shadow lace.

Mrs. William Lytle, apple green tulle over satin with slight silver trimming and silver slippers.

Mrs. Clifford Brown, hillowy white tulle gown. The skirt was made in a tier design, edged with canary yellow satin the bodice was of tulle and silver lace.

Mrs. Ben Olcott, pastel blue satin with filmy lace and tulle bodice.

Mrs. Chauncey Bishop, pink and white novelty tulle over silver lace under skirt.

Mrs. Joseph Rothchild of Portland, bright blue tulle, silver embroidered over cloth of silver under skirt. The blue tulle and silver lace formed the bodice.

Mrs. Rita Steiner, mauve and silver broadcloth over tulle and silver lace under skirt trimmed with fur and clusters of rose buds.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lord, variegated pink

Dainty little Jeanette Sykes, who will appear in the "May Day Fete" to be given by the Juvenile Artisans.

tulle, very full skirt with slight trimming of silver.

Mrs. Esther Carson, coral pink tulle with tulle and lace bodice.

Mrs. Margery Marvin, salmon pink trimmed with rosin egg blue satin, silver lace and tulle formed the bodice.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Livesley, Mr. and Mrs. Asshel Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. George Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. William Burghardt, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Plimpton, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Olcott, Mr. and Mrs. Monk Hofer, Dr. and Mrs. William Lytle, Mr. and Mrs. Zedoc Riggs, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Smith, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spears, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Cross, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dick, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Gosler, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Greer, Mr. and Mrs. David Eyre, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Gosler, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Young of Albany, Mr. and Mrs. Belcher, and Mrs. Joseph Rothchild of Portland.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lord, Miss Ida Simmons, Miss Esther Carson, Miss Harriet Hargrove, Miss Aline Thompson, Daniel J. Frye, Jr., Paul Wallace, James Young, Carl Gabrielson, Laurence Jones, H. C. McCammon, Ralph Moore, Erel Kay, Prince Byrd, William Walton, Albert Egan and Russell Horton.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Sutherland entertained Tuesday evening at one of the smart card parties of the week. The rooms were aglow with the colors of many wonderful spring blossoms, making an artistic foil for its guests. About twenty-four of the married set, including the members of the Merry-Go-Round club, circled the tables, and the high score honors were won by Mrs. Thomas B. Kay and C. O. Rice. Mrs. Sutherland was assisted by Mrs. Rice and Miss Ellen Thielson.

Mrs. Monk Hofer and small sons, Robert and Ernest are enjoying a sojourn at the Hotel Abbey in Newport.

Informal yet charming was the small bridge for which Mrs. George Waters was hostess Thursday afternoon. About a dozen prominent matrons of the small bridge club and several additional matrons were guests. The attractive card favor was won by Mrs. Rollin K. Page. Mrs. Waters was assisted by Miss Ida Simmons.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Livesley accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts spent Thursday morning on the Columbia Highway, returning to Salem late that night.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Bishop entertained with a small informal supper party after the dance Monday night. Greens and yellow toned spring blossoms were used to center the artistically appointed table.

Covers were placed for their house-guests, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Young of Albany, Mr. and Mrs. William Burghardt, Jr. and Mrs. John Roberts, Carl Gabrielson and the hosts.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Bishop honored her house guest, Mrs. Percy Young with a late party at the Liberty theatre. Several of the younger matrons were guests.

Later the party enjoyed tea with Mrs. George Palmer Putnam. The tea table was presided over by Mrs. William Burghardt, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. William Knight are being welcomed home after a delightful sojourn in the South and East. They returned yesterday by the Northern route, having gone East by way of California. Mrs. Knight has been extensively entertained during her trip and now will enter into the social activities of Salem.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Olinger were hosts Tuesday evening for a five-hundred party. Their guests included about twenty-four of the married set, who are members of a card club.

The rooms were gaily decorated with fragrant spring flowers, hydrangea and carnations being effectively arranged. The high score honors fell to Mrs. George Rose and Dr. L. F. Griffith.

Mrs. Milton Meyers and Mrs. George Brown assisted Mrs. Olinger.

Informal teas have been occupying the time and attention of maids and matrons almost every day this week. These small gatherings furnish a delightful opportunity for a congenial group of friends to meet for a cozy chat and a refreshing cup of tea. Wednesday Mrs. Guy Sargent entertained at one of these small informal gatherings, asking several prominent matrons as guests.

About a dozen young friends of Master Elbert Raymond Dusselle gathered at the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Hasselle Wednesday afternoon to participate in the gayeties of his twelfth birthday party. The afternoon was made happy by games and the prizes were won by the Misses Prudence Stite, Frances Dick and Meredith Louder. The dainty pink and white table was centered with an array of soft colored spring flowers over which opened a pretty Japanese tarasol. Little Japanese tarasols marked covers for: Marie Schulderman, Margaret Stolz, Constance Vantis, Prudence Patterson, Prudence Stite, Frances Dick and her house guest Madeline Baker of Portland and John Coughlin, Meredith Louder, Theodore Howard, Donald Smith and John Croan.

A visitable air of spring time surrounded the pretty party for which Miss Joy Turner was hostess Tuesday evening. The rooms were fragrant with lilacs and other spring flowers. The evening was devoted to progressive games and the prize was won by Mrs. Blanche Liston Neimeyer. Later a dainty luncheon was served. Pretty hand painted billings marked the places. Miss Estor Billing assisted the hostess in the serving. Miss Turner's guests including the members of the Quince Quin club were:

Misses Hazel Bishop, Mable Hadelson, Laura Grant, Freida Spitzbart, Annette Graber, Greta Phillips, Alyce Hollister, Mary Piggie, Florence Smith, Hazel Price, Marie Bennett, Ruth Kress, Esther Billings, Katherine McClelland, Alice Judd, Mary Phillips, Margaret Dodge, Marguerite Miers, Mrs. Winona Savage Lloyd, Mrs. Blanche Liston Neimeyer and Mrs. Elliott Colony.

The Pythian Sisters club was entertained Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. J. Ratcliff, 415 South Cottage street. After a business session a guessing contest formed a diversion of the afternoon. Mrs. Barber was awarded the prize. Refreshments rounded out an enjoyable time. The rooms were prettily decorated with lavender blossoms.

Dr. and Mrs. John Evans entertained Tuesday evening with a few tables of five hundred. The guests included the members of the hosts card club and the score-honor fell to Mrs. Floyd Utter.

Spring blossoms, sweet music and the presence of many merry makers made the dinner dance at the Hotel Marion last night one of the gayest of the series.

The tables were surrounded by several charming dinner parties; among the hosts being Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Plimpton, whose guests were: Mr. and Mrs. George Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Bishop and Mrs. Asshel Bush.

Dr. and Mrs. William Lytle presided at another table and their party included: Miss Ellen Thielson, James Young and Mr. Hackett.

John P. Rogers entertained friends at another table and his guests were: Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Deebach, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith, Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kozier, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gillingham, Mrs. Lovelace, Mrs. Charles Miller, Miss Belle Rogers of Los Angeles, a niece of Mr. Rogers, Miss Manson and Jim Linn.

Others who circled tables in a party were: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Livesley, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Sargent, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McNary, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts and Dr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Smith, Jr.

Seated around another table were: Miss Rita Steiner, Miss Esther Carson, Miss Ida Simmons, Miss Margery Marvin, Carl Gabrielson, Daniel J. Frye, Jr., Erel Kay and Fritz Slade.

A third party included Miss Florence Hofer, Miss Catherine Carson, Miss Helen Deebach, Miss Hazel Erixon, Miss Alva Thompson, Laurence Hofer, Hugh McCammon, Allan Byron, Albert Egan and Jack McCammon.

Mrs. R. B. Houston, who has been sojourning in Southern California is expected home the first of the week.

Eugene Houston, who accompanied his mother returned this week.

Miss Regina Long, bride-elect was the honor guest Sunday at a charmingly appointed luncheon given by Miss Laura Grant. The table was most artistic with a basket of lovely white carnations and greens.

They bunnies marked for Miss Long and her fiancée Clyde Raueh, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McElchrist, Mrs. Mary A. Long, Mrs. E. Houston, Mrs. Matilda Grant, the Misses May and Ruth Raueh, Miss Ann Sweeney, Frank Churchill and the hosts.

Salem society folk will be interested to know that President Field an Easter Baby show and parade last week Sunday to our annual Cherry tree parade. Over one hundred little tots were entered and many children of prominent families well known in Salem participated in the festivities.

Among the little folk of prominent parents winning prizes in the parade were: Roland McNary, small son of Dr. and Mrs. Wilson McNary, who won first prize on his little express wagon, which was handsomely decorated with red roses and sunlac and tiny Elizabeth Jane Bishop, daughter of the Roy Bishops, who also won first prize in the perambulator class. Miss Barbara Stanfield, the little niece of Mrs. William Lytle, accompanied baby Elizabeth Jane whose buggy was beautiful with lavender lilacs and tulle covered parasol effect.

Mr. and Mrs. Roma Hunter were dinner hosts Friday evening at their residence on South Liberty street, later entertaining their guests at cards. Small tables were artistically arranged for the guests and the rooms were fragrant with lilacs and forget-me-nots. The evening was devoted to "500" and the honors were won by Mrs. Stiffler and Dr. Roy Byrd. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Shelton and Mrs. Marthington.

The guests including the members of The Hunter's club were: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hauser, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elgin, Mr. and Mrs. James Chinnock, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hauser, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sheldon and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Marthington and Dr. Roy Byrd who were the additional guests.

A charming mid-week bridge was given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Frank Brown. About sixteen matrons of the Happy Hour Club were asked for four tables, and the card honors were won by Mrs. Frank Meyers and Mrs. Robert Downing. Vases and jars of fragrant lilacs and daisies were arranged artistically about the card rooms.

Assisting the hostess were: Mrs. Lawrence T. Harris, Mrs. A. I. Eoff and Mrs. E. F. Billingshast.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Hussey had as their guests for dinner Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hauser who are leaving soon for Eugene where Mr. Hauser will take charge of their sporting goods store. After dinner the hosts surprised the guests of honor by having about sixteen friends in for an informal evening of five hundred.

The card rooms were aglow with spring flowers. Mrs. Paul Hauser and James Chinnock were awarded the card favors.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Barbour were hosts for a pretty five hundred party at their residence Monday evening. The guests included the matrons of the hosts' club and their husbands. The rooms were fragrant and airy with an array of pink sweet peas. Five tables of the game were circled by the guests and the card honors were captured by Mrs. George Winchell, L. S. Roland, Mrs. John Shipp and Louis Beckel. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. John Shipp, Mrs. George Winchell and Mrs. H. A. Bidell. Those playing were: Mr. and Mrs. Louis Beckel, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Olmsted, Mr. and Mrs. George Winchell, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. John Shipp, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bidell, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Morse, and Mrs. Charles Farmer. The non-club members and their husbands included: Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Roland, Miss Pearl Morse, Miss Myrtle Shipp and Miss Genevieve Barbour.

Over one hundred dainty roy checked little maids of the Juvenile Artisans will give a "May Day Fete" at the Grand theatre Saturday afternoon and evening, May the thirteenth. Mrs. Ralph White is directing the youthful performers, who will have Miss Vera Coe as their May Queen. Little Jeannette Sykes will be featured in a charming butterfly song and dance assisted by ten little butterflies.

Miss Mona Sebaum will give an artistic Spanish dance, assisted by fourteen little maids in Spanish costumes. Miss Elva Maylie Hunter will be heard in a special song number. Miss Margaret White Salem's talented and artistic young dancer, will give several solo dances. A feature of this delightful entertainment will be the musical concert preceding the performance by the Artisan juvenile band of Portland.

Mrs. John Dubois entertained the North Salem Woman's club at her residence Wednesday afternoon. The afternoon was made especially interesting by an address given by Mrs. Edith T. Wethered on "Civic Pride and Improvement" and by Miss Marguerite Flower who charmed the guests with her solos. During the business session Mrs. H. W. Elgin was appointed chairman of the committee to take charge of the booth at the fair ground for the Cherry fair and an ice cream and strawberry festival was planned to take place at Mrs. F. L. Purvins. The club also decided to give an out door play during the Cherry fair, which will be under the direction of Mrs. E. D. Lamb.

An interesting event of the week in clubdom was the meeting of the Woman's Marion county Republican club, in the council chamber of the City hall last evening. The room which was a hodge of dogwood was thronged with women and men. Mrs. Helen Southwick, president of the club, presided.

A delightful feature of the affair was the music by the Epley quartet. The quartet opened the programme with "Annie" followed by a solo by Dr. Epley. Frank Davey gave an interesting address during the evening on "The History and Principles of the Republican Party." The personnel of the committee in charge of the meeting was Mrs. C. P. Bishop, Mrs. George Burnett and Mrs. Ida Babcock.

Amid a fragrant array of spring blossoms Mrs. Norma Leffingwell became the bride of George Edward Terwilliger at the home of the groom on Thursday evening at eight-thirty o'clock. Rev. Robert Gill of the Episcopal church read the services. It was a pink and white wedding, quantities of fragrant carnations and lilacs forming an effective foil and setting for the bridal party. The bride's gown was of pink and white chiffon and she carried a huge bouquet of lovely pink and white carnations combined with ferns. Her attendants were Mrs. Margaret E. Hawley of Portland, who was matron of honor, and Miss Selma Knurton, bridesmaid.

The bridal party was preceded by sixteen members of the Artisan drill team who formed an aisle and an arch with wands tied with pink ribbons. Stouendemyer orchestra furnished the wedding music and also played "I Love You Truly" after the ceremony. Mrs. W. O. Astoria and Mrs. John Farrar assisted in the rooms, and the little Misses Margaret, Assel and Ruth Cook acted as pages.

Mrs. Virgil L. Lloyd (Winona Savage) entertained several school day friends at an Easter dinner in honor of the first anniversary of her baby son, Lawrence Henry Lloyd. The table was prettily appointed and in harmony with the season. A huge birthday cake adorned with one candle centered the table around which were seated Miss Mary Hatch of Albany, Miss Joy Turner, Mrs. Frieda Spitzbart, Miss Ellen Savage, Mrs. H. H. Savage and the hostess.

Mrs. Charles Fisher has gone to Portland for a several days visit. Mr. Fisher will join Mrs. Fisher for the weekend.

A series of charming musical recitals will be given by the pupils of Miss Eliza Weller, the first of which will be Tuesday evening May first. The programme for this evening of music will include numbers by three graduates of Miss Weller who are the Misses Marie Rosten, Dorothy Each and Ruth Page. These young artists will be assisted by Miss Grace Babcock, who will give a reading, and Miss Lois Watt, a charming singer of Portland, who has a lovely soprano voice.

On May the ninth "Peer Gynt" a dramatic prose reading arranged from the famous drama by Henrik Ibsen will be given with a musical accompaniment by Edward Grieg. Miss Weller and the pupils will be assisted by Mrs. Richard Cartwright, reader, Mrs. Jean Miller Rahn, contralto, and Miss Mary Schmitt, violin.

On May sixth another recital will be given by the advanced pupils, the Misses Leona Wislizen, Mabel Steeves, Isola Smith and Fred Clive.

The members of the Yeoman lodge held an enjoyable meeting at the Moose hall last Friday evening. Several grand officers were present at the affair and favored the lodge with remarks. An interesting and pleasing programme was rendered and numbers were given by several well known local artists.

Later refreshments were served, and the guests enjoyed vocal solos by Miss Vera Coe, accompanied by Miss Joy Turner, Miss Margaret White gave a clever reading, and Miss Joy Turner a violin solo, accompanied by Miss Florence Smith.

Mrs. Blanche Liston Neimeyer scored a tremendous success at the election recital given by her pupils last evening in St. Joseph's hall when the play "Dorothy" was presented with most gratifying results. Miss Frances Doerfler characterized "Dorothy" as being captivating the audience by her winning personality displayed to advantage Mrs. Neimeyer's skill as a teacher. Little Pearl Jones surprised the assembly by her able portrayal of a spoiled little rich girl whose heart nevertheless was in the right place while Thelma Fowler as the same child seven years later won her way into the hearts of those present, by her simple grace and charm. Particularly worthy of note were the dialect parts. Miss Eugenia Smith hiding her own individuality beneath the garb of colored Chloe, kept the entire house in an uproar whenever she appeared upon the stage. Her clever sayings, unique dactyles, and adroit tricks made her a favorite at once. "Ma Pinkerton" was another character regarded with peculiar favor. Deeply religious in her own crude way, shocked at the ungodliness of her more worldly husband, ecumenically neat and saving, but kind withal to the wait, Debbie. Such was the character that Catherine Campbell so aptly portrayed. Wilhelmina Doerfler, as "Pa Pinkerton", was ideal as a happy-go-lucky farmer; and Theresa Devereux, as the farmer's wife made a typical gossip and village encyclopedia. Thelma Williams as Margaret, the little orphan, whom Bob Westcott, tries to impose upon the Ormsbys as their lost child, surpassed herself. Sarah Lansing, as the rich and selfish Mrs. Ormsby, Elysis Painter as her sister, Anna Bora-Jorner and Susie Sparrow as Dorothy's cousins, Hazel Blake as the plotting nurse who steals Edith, and Helen Antenone as the maid from "down kennt", were excellent and did credit to the skill of their accomplished teacher. A particular feature of the play was the dance by Frances Doerfler and little Miss Jones at the opening of the first act, and the drill by the Village Girls toward the close of the second. Mrs. Neimeyer was assisted in the recital by the vocal class in a beautiful cantata, and by the Academy orchestra. Taken all in all, the recital was a success for both pupils and teachers.

Invitations have been issued for a charming musicale to be given by the pupils of Minnetta Mages in her studio Monday evening. Here is the programme:

THAT TIRED FEELING

Relieved by Hood's Sarsaparilla, Which Renovates the Blood.

That tired feeling that comes to you in the spring, year after year, is a sign that your blood lacks vitality, just as pimples, boils and other eruptions are signs that it is impure; and it is also a sign that your system is in a low or run-down condition living disease. It is a warning, which it is wise to heed.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This old standard tried and true blood medicine relieves that tired feeling. It cleanses the blood, gives new life, new courage, strength and cheerfulness. It makes the rich red blood that will make you feel, look, eat and sleep better.

Be sure to get Hood's, because it is the best. There is no other combination of roots, herbs and berries like it—no real substitute for it—no "just-as-good" medicine.

Informal yet charming was the small bridge for which Mrs. George Waters was hostess Thursday afternoon. About a dozen prominent matrons of the small bridge club and several additional matrons were guests. The attractive card favor was won by Mrs. Rollin K. Page. Mrs. Waters was assisted by Miss Ida Simmons.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Livesley accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts spent Thursday morning on the Columbia Highway, returning to Salem late that night.
