Get the Cash Specials Hurry! Hurry!

Is the Slogan That Holds Forth At The Chicago Store

DON'T STOP AT ANYTHING

Come to The Chicago Store, and grab up these, get the cash Specials. The grocery department is gone—all closed out except a few canned goods, tea and coffee; the balance that is left will be closed out at give-away prices; all Aluminum and Granite ware will be sold at cost and less. Come and look it over—it must all be closed out, as there is no room for it, in other departments.

GO AS FAR AS YOU LIKE

Mr. McEvoy says—"Go as far as you like in cutting prices, we must have money," so look out for me, I'm a goer, there is no limit, I can cut the price as low as I see fit; you know what I did to the grocery stock and I'm doing the same to the balance of The Chicago Store's stock. Be here in the morning, and grasp the opportunity to save money.

SUFFRAGETTES ARE GIVEN WARM WELCOME

Assembly Hall at Capitol Filled to Hear Message of Distinguished Visitors

A woman voters' convention will be held in Chicago the first week in June to launch an independent woman's party. The National Enfranchisement of Women, according to Mrs. Harriot Stanton Blatch, who was the principal speaker at the house of representatives Saturday evening, when the members of the suffragette special appeared before a Salem audience to rally the women of Oregon to the support of their enfranchised sisters in the east.

The party arrived in the special car at 8 o'clock Saturday evening and were taken to the state house where they were greeted by a large assembly interested in women's suffrage.

Acting as chairman of the meeting, Mr. Richard Cartwright introduced George Palmer Putnam, who, in the absence of the governor, briefly greeted the visitors.

Mrs. Helen Todd, secretary to the National Child's Welfare commission and formerly factory inspector for Illinois, declared that in the fight for equal suffrage in California, the women were opposed by the big liquor interests, all special interests and all the crooks and grafters in the state. The cities voted against them, but the country vote, and especially that in the northern rural districts, saved the day. In the industrial districts of the east, especially in Massachusetts, where so many women are employed in factories, equal suffrage was defeated by a two to one vote, she declared. New York is against women suffrage, Vermont with its factories, enfranchises aliens but not women, and the south with its special interests requiring child labor, is lined up against women voting. "For these reasons," declared Mrs. Todd, "women cannot get suffrage by the state method. There is only one way, and that is by federal amendment, through the passage of a Susan B. Anthony amendment, which provides that the right of citizens of the United States shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex."

"If we wait for the states to grant us our rights, it will be 100 years before women are enfranchised," declared Mrs. John Rogers, of New York City, chairman of the advisory committee of the Congressional Union for Women Suffrage. The industrial states in the east were controlled by politicians who were afraid of woman suffrage, asserted Mrs. Rogers, "and in states like Minnesota, Vermont and many in the south, it was practically impossible to secure suffrage."

She explained that a federal amendment must pass both houses of congress by a two-thirds vote of those present and then must be ratified by three-fourths of the states to become a law. By the state plan, the politicians of 37 states must be dealt with, while in the federal way, the members of congress may be approached in the open. "We come here because the money lies with the women of the western states to influence legislation to enfranchise their sisters in the east," declared Mrs. Rogers. "The democratic party would pass the amendment next week if they knew that the women demanded it. Suffrage states already control one-fourth of the senate and one-sixth of the house of representatives. Any party in power, who will not listen to women, will commit political suicide."

Mrs. Harriot Stanton Blatch, daughter of Elizabeth Cady Stanton, referred feelingly to her friendship for Abigail Scott Duniway and her remembrance of the visit of Mrs. Duniway to her home, and to her work with Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton for equal suffrage.

"Men of the east do not trust their women, as they fear they will be for peace at any price," said Mrs. Blatch. Having recently returned from Europe, she declared that the general feeling there was that at the end of the war women will be enfranchised in every belligerent nation.

When the progressive and republican party national conventions meeting in Chicago early in June, the new party to be organized by the women will be right there, said Mrs. Blatch, and the republicans will be compelled to advance to the progressive standard when it comes to equal suffrage, and before the democratic convention meets in St. Louis, that party will know what the women demand.

"If there ever was a time in history when men should believe in its women, it is the present. If they do not, we may be the old world with its prejudices, and Europe will be the new with its enfranchised women," concluded Mrs. Blatch.

The general proposition as voiced by the speakers Saturday evening, was that pressure should be brought to bear on congressmen from suffrage states to support the suffrage movement, that members of the judiciary committee should be urged to take the Susan B. Anthony amendment out of the committee and permit a vote, and that the Democratic leaders should be urged to give their support to this amendment. The Congressional Union for Women Suffrage does not care which party passes the suffrage amendment, but as the democratic party is now in power and responsible for legislation, their efforts are aimed at the party leaders in the senate and the house of representatives and President Wilson.

The visitors were given several cases of loganberry juice as an additional remembrance of the capital of the state. Sunday they were given a ride on the Columbia highway, and today are in Astoria. Tomorrow the suffrage special start on its homeward journey.

WITNESS AGAINST CAPLAN
Los Angeles, May 1.—Sheriff J. H. Shattuck of Rolling Bay, Wash., was slated to appear as a witness in the trial of David Caplan here today. Shattuck's testimony will be a surprise to the defense, it was predicted. District Attorney Woolwine stated today that the trial of the alleged dynamiter would end by May 10.

Getting Rights of Way for Salem-Bend Railroad

F. M. Derby and R. C. Wygant, of Salem, have been in our city since the latter part of last week working on the right-of-way for the projected railroad from Salem to Bend. They have had very good success in most places and have met with but little opposition except in a few quarters.

For the benefit of those who do not know Mr. Derby, we will state that he is the gentleman who managed the right-of-way for the Oregon Electric several years ago, and that he is a prominent citizen of Salem and has a number of life long friends in Stayton.

Mr. Derby is not asking anything unreasonable and the Mail feels sure that anything done to promote a railroad into our town would not only benefit the persons interested but every one else as well.

The survey is completed and it is now up to the property owners along the same to decide whether it will be of sufficient benefit to offset the damage caused by the construction of the road. Mr. Property owner it is up to you. You have said you wanted transportation, and that the solving of that question would solve many others. What are you going to do about it?

Your cooperation and help is needed and needed badly. What do you think of it? The columns of the Mail are open for any fair discussion of the proposition. You have everything to

COMPANY 'I' TO DANCE.

As we have said before—let us impress it upon you again—that the big band concert on Friday evening, May 5th, will be fully up to expectations and well worth your while to attend. Steady, hard practice is putting the band in condition seldom enjoyed by amateur bands, and the results that are being obtained savor strongly of professionalism. A mighty good band with mighty good execution of mighty good music ought to fill the armory to overflowing. Those who have attended previous concerts will vouch for the class of entertainment furnished, and, with the additional support of the weather man, a very large attendance is assured. Next week a complete program will be published, and it is sufficient to say at this time that a goodly number of soloists will be on hand to fill the intermissions. Set that date down in your book and be on hand at 8:00 p. m. sharp.

Captain Grover Todd last week recommended Benton Kilian for a commission as second lieutenant of infantry to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Lieut. Livesey. "Bent" will receive an invitation to attend a party given by the "Examining Board" in the near future, at which time his mental and physical qualifications will be carefully examined. The recommendations of the board are binding.

Epidemic of Measles Visits Salem Schools

Salem has been experiencing quite an epidemic of measles.

A boy visiting Eugene brought the measles home with him about April 1, and within the month, 25 cases were reported from the Yew Park school, according to the records of Dr. O. H. Miles, school physician.

The disease was not confined to Yew Park, as during the month, 25 cases were reported from Lincoln school.

McKinley school got off pretty easy, with but one case, Washington Junior high was credited with 15, and Grant school 14 during the month.

Garfield school had 5 cases and English wood two. In all during the month 90 cases were treated in the six schools.

At present 65 cases are quarantined.

OBITUARY

William Palme was born in Oakland county, Michigan, on November 3, 1853, and was married to Olive S. Hunter on October 16, 1886.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. P. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter that one's system collects.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women, as well as men, take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets now and then just to keep in the pink of condition.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel—10c and 25c per box. All druggists.
