TABLOIDS

New York.—Dancing is expensive—sometimes. Theodore Kosloff, a dancing master, sued Mrs. Winifred DeWolf for $2,837 for instructing her daughter in the art of dancing.

Chicago.—Music may soothe the savage breast but it doesn't go with a lion. It takes roses to subdue a lion's temper, according to Charles Smith, circus man, who has been experimenting with perfumes and lions.

New York.—"I sentence you, Theodore Roosevelt, to 20 days in jail." With these words, a night court magistrate closed the case of a small, meek man, charged with vaudeville.

Chicago.—Booby Leek, aged 9, asked School Superintendent Schoop to install in the public schools a sack in which pupils can stick their gum when not in use. The River Falls, Wis., normal school has installed them.

Chicago.—Miss Norina Finch was granted a divorce when she told the court that her husband wanted to take the money she earned playing baseball for the Chicago Bloomer baseball club.

Forgery and Bigamy Charged Against Ford

Governor Withcombe has forwarded to Secretary of State Lansing at Washington an application for a requisition upon the authorities of the Province of Manitoba, Dominion of Canada, for the extradition of H. N. Ford and Elizabeth G. Fry, alias Elizabeth G. Ford, who are wanted in Portland for forgery and who are now under arrest in Winnipeg.

In cases of international extradition the proceedings are handled through the Department of State at Washington and the request for the surrender of the fugitives is made by the president. Ford in May, 1914, forged the name of his legal wife to a deed for some property they owned and left the state. Only recently he was found in Winnipeg and proceedings were immediately instituted by District Attorney Evans of Multnomah county to return the fugitives. As a further complication it is stated that Ford left his wife and child in Portland and later married Elizabeth G. Fry and will probably face the charge of bigamy as well as forgery when he is returned.

THE REAL SECRET OF REJUVENATING THE FACE

She holds the true secret of facial rejuvenation who has learned how to remove the dead skin particles as fast as they appear. It's a secret anyone may possess. The aged, faded, or discolored surface skin may be gradually absorbed, in an entirely safe and rational manner, by the nightly application of ordinary mercurized wax. Within a week or two the underlying skin, youthful and beautiful to behold, has taken the place of the discarded outside. So little of the old skin is absorbed each day there's no inconvenience at all, and no one suspects you are putting anything on your face. The mercurized wax, procurable at any drug store (an ounce is sufficient), is applied like ointment. In the morning it is erased with soap and water. It's the best thing known for freckles, blackheads, pimples, moth patches, liver spots and fine surface wrinkles.

For the deeper wrinkles, an excellent recipe is: Powdered saxolite 1 oz., dissolved in 1-2 pt. witch hazel. Bathing the face in this solution produces quick and wonderful results.

FAVORS A CHERRY FAIR

To the Editor: The matter of holding a Cherry fair this year still being a debated question the writer wishes to point out that the matter of immediate financial return to the merchants of the city is really of minor importance. It must be apparent that even though the thousands of inflicting visitors may not spend generously during the actual period of the festival, the fact remains that during the course of the year much of their business is done in Salem anyway. It is a rather selfish viewpoint tending to aggravate the differences between the farmer and the merchant to which the reorganized Commercial club has been most successfully lessening during the past year. The relations between the city and the surrounding country are mutual because what helps to make the one contented and prosperous as surely reacts in the interests of the other.

It would be superfluous perhaps to recall the practical value to a community of a holiday, as, long before the heyday of Roman civilization, the rulers of ancient Greece and Assyria utilized festive occasions to foster loyalty and contentment among their subjects. If ancient history is to be believed an emperor became popular in proportion to the number of holidays he granted.

To the community at large a few days of common relaxation from the strain of monotonous farm labor or fretful office work is comparable to the physical and mental benefits derived from a hunting or fishing trip to a tired business man.

Students of psychology know that there is an essential value to a crowd or a gathering of all classes of people on festive occasions which fosters the elements of democracy, loyalty and patriotism.

rounding folk in the country? The Greater Salem Commercial club has shown its strength in its first year of activity and should be able to stage a high class Cherry fair second in size only to the Rose festival of Portland, the Madi Gras of New Orleans or the Cherry Blossom carnival in Japan.

Lecture On Mouth Health. Editor Capital Journal: I desire to call attention to the illustrated lectures to be given Tuesday evening at First M. E. church on "Mouth Health." The relation of the mouth infections to the general health of the individual is very important. Scientific investigators are proving that these infections can cause had systemic effects. I do not know the lecturer personally but he comes highly recommended. I am quite sure his message will be timely and that a lesson can be learned on Oral Hygiene. The lecture is free.

TWO DIFFERENT TYPES.

"It will take ten thousand years," said Bishop Quayle the other day at the funeral of the late Bishop Luzebeck at Kansas City, "for Naphthyl Luzebeck to walk two blocks in Paradise, because multitudes of angels will stop him on the way to share with his sunny ways, his bright sayings, his genial soul." The worthy bishop might have added that there are also, some visaged, dyspeptic church deacons in every community, who, if they managed to squeeze into Heaven, will walk ten thousand times ten thousand miles on the gold paved streets there without hearing the fluttering of a welcoming angel's wings.—Herbert Canvass for Marion, Kansas Record.

Why Swear, Dear? Use 'Gets-It' for Corns?

It's the New Plan. Simple. Sure as Fate. Applied in a Few Seconds.

"Why, John, I never knew you to use such language! I've told you several times it's no use to try those bandages, salves, tapes, plasters, and con-

"You Wouldn't Lose Your Temper, John, If You Used 'Gets-It' for Those Corns!" traptions for corns. Here's some 'Gets-It', it's just wonderful how easy, clear and clean it makes any corn come right off. Takes but a few seconds to apply. It dries at once. Put your sock on right over it—there's nothing to stick or roll up, form a bunch of your toe, or press on the corn. It's painless, simple as rolling off a log. Now put away those knives, razors and scissors, use 'Gets-It' and you'll have a sweeter disposition and no more corns and calluses."
