Wives Three and Four Cause a Little Tangle

Portland, Ore., May 3.—The ex-wives of Bob Fitzsimmons caused a mixup in Portland church and theatrical circles today. Two of them will be in Portland at the same time tomorrow. Mrs. Fitzsimmons No. 3, formerly Julia Gifford, a prima donna, is slated to appear at a vaudeville theatre. Mrs. Fitzsimmons No. 4 will lecture tomorrow night at an evangelical meeting at the White Temple church. When he saw the name Mrs. Robert Fitzsimmons emblazoned on the theatrical billboards yesterday, H. W. Stone, Bible school superintendent, telegraphed that if Mrs. Fitzsimmons No. 4 was the one who was going to appear at a theatre, she might just as well cancel her evangelical engagement. Mrs. Fitzsimmons No. 4 replied from San Francisco that she wasn't on the stage and hadn't been for some time.

For a few days only, Fiber and Matting rugs at a big saving. Prices reduced 1-3 to 1-2.—Buren & Hamilton.

Miss Verda M. Ray and Elmer Simkins, both of Polk county, were married at the residence of W. A. Ray last Sunday, the Rev. J. S. Rhoades officiating. The bride was beautifully gowned in white, wearing the bridal veil. Following the ceremony, a dinner was served to the 35 guests.

The Waconda baseball team will give a social dance benefit next Saturday evening in the Aral Bros. hall, Waconda. Music will be furnished by the Peerless orchestra. According to the announcement of the members of the Waconda team will spare no pains to see that everyone present has a good time.

One week from tonight, Wednesday, May 10, the Macraebes will hold a smoker and open session. The principal speakers of the evening will be Frank Davey and there will be a general entertainment of music and short addresses. The meeting is rather in the way of preparing for the big initiation event for the evening of May 24.

The Joler Lumber company, of Eugene, filed notice of dissolution today at the office of the corporation commissioner. The Oregon Salvage & Mercantile company was incorporated with a capitalization of $25,000 and the Moro Co-operative Warehouse association, of Moro, Sherman county, was incorporated with a capitalization of $3,000.

Attorney Ben S. Via and family will leave this city tomorrow for Tillamook where Mr. Via expects to spend a few days fishing in the Nestucca river where he had excellent luck two weeks ago. The melting snows at that time muddled the water and proved a great hindrance to successful fishing but the mountain streams have cleared up considerably in the past week.

News has been received of the death of Andy Lewis, a former Salem boy. Recently he had been engaged in business in Portland and while at Juneau, Alaska, on a business trip received an injury from making a high dive in a bathing tank that later proved fatal. The injury was received March 26, and it was while on his way to Seattle for medical treatment that he died, April 10. Funeral services were held at Seattle, April 17. He had many friends in the city as he had lived here several years, and had attended the public schools.
