SOCIETY

ALINE THOMPSON

Of special interest in clubdom these days is the local Y. W. C. A. campaign. A large number of club and society matrons and maids are striving for the success of this worthy cause and so far individuals and organizations have made bounteous responses considering the amount of money that has been raised this winter out of the pockets of Salem spenders. Wednesday afternoon at the ten hour, women flocked to the club rooms for a chat over the tea cups and to hear the daily report. Spring flowers adorned the tea table and the afternoon was presided over by Mrs. E. Breyman and Mrs. George Geringer of Dallas.

Dr. Nellie S. Vernon, grand chief of the Pythian Sister lodge of Astoria paid an official visit to Centralia Temple No. 11 Tuesday evening. Dr. Vernon was the house guest of Mrs. Anna Fitch during her visit in this city.

Last Friday evening a number of the university set gathered at the home of Miss Hazel Roberts for an informal time. Those enjoying the evening were the Misses Lucile McCully, Barbara Steiner, Fabian Rosche, Irene Johnson of Portland, Winfred Baker, Alice Gregson, Evelyn Culley and Earl Fiegel, Leland Austin, Dean Adams, Russell Hall, Paul Miller and Edward Richardson.

Monday evening the members of the Willamette Westminster Guild were entertained by Miss Murpa Blair and her mother at their apartments in the Albest. This was the last meeting of the guild and a resume of the work studied was given by Miss Emily Palmer. During the evening Miss Margaret Holde charmingly sang "When Song is Sweet" and several others. As a little remembrance from the guild Miss Regina Long, bride elect, was presented with a pretty piece of china. After refreshments were served the guests called at the home of Miss Ada Dayton, a member of the guild, and a bride of Wednesday evening, and also presented her with a dainty token of china.

Miss Helen Deckelbach went to Eugene Thursday where she will be a guest at the Gamma Phi Beta Sorority house during junior week end.

Master Barton McElroy entertained a number of his little playmates at a happy birthday party at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McElroy on Wednesday afternoon. The young guests revelled in games and later the party closed with delightful refreshments. Those present were: John and Henry Turner, Sherman Plimpton, Alvin Kurtz, Herman Richmond, Joseph Bellinger, Doyan George, Clarence Arthur and Ralph Hamilton, Donnan Husler, Raymond Magee, Ronald Prissell and Chester Lindley.

Mrs. Percy Young of Albany is the guest of Mrs. William Burghardt, Jr. Mr. Young and several parties of Albany folk will motor to Salem this afternoon for the Hotel Marion dinner dance. The Burghardts will be among those entertaining friends at dinner tonight.

Honoring Miss Regina Long, who has been delightfully entertained since the announcement of her engagement, Mrs. B. J. Miles and Mrs. Donald Miles were hostesses this afternoon for a charming shower. Spring flowers of a brilliant hue were used about the rooms and also adorned the small refreshment tables. Assisting were Mrs. Cecil Pruner, Mrs. George Burnett and Miss May Ranch.

BORN

GURGURICH—To Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gurgurich, rural route 3, Friday May 12, 1916, a son, to be named Albert Sylvester.

MOTHER'S DAY

(By the Rev. R. N. Avison.)
Next Sabbath is Mothers' Day by act of the congress of the United States. I hear somebody say, a "mere sentiment." Yes, sentiment to be sure. But what is more powerful in life than sentiment? Are not the most powerful forces of civilization, love of home, love of country, love of God. After all the golden key that unlocks deepest mysteries and possibilities of the human heart is the love sentiment.

The home, the state, and the church, are the three great institutions that are constitutional with the race. Every man is born into the family relationship. The only way by which he can escape from the family into which he was born is to organize a family of his own. His relation to the family determines his status and worth as a man. Every man is born a citizen of some state. There is no way by which he can escape the obligations and responsibilities of citizenship. Wherever he may go the world over he is amenable to the powers that be. If law abiding, he enjoys the protection the state gives to its citizens. If a law breaker, the state must protect itself and mete out to him penalty adequate to the crime against its sovereignty. A man's attitude toward the state determines his worth as a citizen. In like manner is every man born a member of the church of God; that is, he is born into a relationship to God out of which he can never pass. The character of that relationship determines his standing as a Christian man. So, man's attitude towards this trinity of natural institutions determines his place in any civilization. Based in these institutions is the truth of the holy book. It is the guarantee of holy motherhood, the foundation of the state, and the authentic record of divine relation. Fortunate the home, the state, and the church, that fosters the sentiment expressed in the following verses, and on next Sabbath let every man in Salem wear the white flower in honor of the uncrowned queen of the home.

"This book is all that's left me now!
Tears will unbidden start!
With faltering lip and throbbing brow,
I press it to my heart.
For many generations past
Here is our family tree!
My mother's hand this Bible clasped,
She dying gave it to me.

Al, well do I remember faces
Whose names those records bear!
Who round the hearthstone used to close,
After the evening prayer;
And speak of what this volume said,
In tones my heart would thrill,
Though they are with the silent dead,
Here are they living still.

My father read this holy book
To brothers, sisters dear,
How calm was my dear mother's look,
Who learned God's word to hear.
Who angel face! I see it yet!
What thrilling memories come!
Again that little group is met
Within the walls of home!
Thou truest friend man ever knew!
Thy constancy I've tried!
When all were false I found thee true,
My counsellor and guide.
The mines of earth no treasure give,
From me this book could buy;
For teaching me the way to live,
It taught me how to die."

Liquor Importations Increase Rapidly

Portland, Or., May 12.—Importation of liquor into dry Portland for the month of April shows an increase of 2,000 shipments over March, according to figures announced by the county clerk today. March showed an increase of 3,000 shipments over February and February shipments were 2,500 greater than January.

In April 5,683 Portlanders sent out of the state for liquor. Nearly all of it was shipped from California. Exhaustion of old liquor supplies and growing familiarity with the methods of getting booze under the prohibition law are reasons assigned for the steady increase.

May Day Exercises at Willamette Tomorrow

Rex Oregonus, and his ally, Jope Phloxus, have capitulated and will surrender their power to Queen Frances I. tomorrow at 12:30. At this time the queen of the May will begin her triumphal march to the vacant throne. Her pathway will be made royal in nature by the courtiers who will accompany the queen to the throne. The dances of the season, as previously announced, will be held as then scheduled—just before the coronation of the queen. James Crawford, '12, will be on hand to act as Lord High Chancellor, and will place the crown of pearls on the queen at 1 p. m. The winding of the May pole will follow immediately after the coronation ceremonies. The throne will be decorated with green fir boughs and trimmed with purple streamers, while the throne chair will be graced with the coat-of-arms of the Phloxosian and Adelante societies. The program will be attended by a larger crowd tomorrow than would have been present last Saturday, on account of the fact that a number of people will be in from the country as tomorrow is the day scheduled for the Marion county meet, in which all of the schools in the rural districts will take part. The tug-of-war between the sophomores and freshmen classes will be held soon after the coronation ceremonies.

GIRL COULD NOT WORK

How She Was Relieved from Pain by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Taunton, Mass.—"I had pains in both sides and when my periods came I had to stay at home from work and suffer a long time. One day a woman came to our house and asked my mother why I was suffering. Mother told her that I suffered every month and she said, 'Why don't you buy a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' My mother bought it and the next month I was so well that I worked all the month without staying at home a day. I am in good health now and have told lots of girls about it."—Miss CLAUDE MORSE, 22 Russell Street, Taunton, Mass.

Thousands of girls suffer in silence every month rather than consult a physician. If girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a safe and pure remedy made from roots and herbs, much suffering might be avoided. Write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. (confidential) for free advice which will prove helpful.

GUSTAV ANDERSON

In addition to the musical concert which will be given at the First M. E. church on the evening of May 17 the audience will have the privilege of hearing several readings by the dramatic reader, Gustav Anderson, a sophomore in the college of liberal arts at Willamette university. During the past winter he has appeared in 20 towns and cities with that Willamette quartet giving dramatic and humorous readings, also as an impersonator and his work has been highly received in every instance. His readings: A modern education; and A night of horror, are two that never fail to hold the closest attention of the audience.

If practice makes perfect, then it may be said that Anderson is on the right road; for the past years he has been an active leader in literary work at Haverhill, having staged there recently and with great success the play "Back to the Country Store." In this play he took the leading role in addition to directing it. For the past two years "Gus" has been one of the leading members of the Websterian Literary society and on a number of occasions has entertained his fellow Webbs with one of his humorous readings. His talent is not, however, confined to dramatic work entirely for he has also an excellent tenor voice. He has been a member of the First M. E. church choir for the past seven years, he has also been a member of the Willamette Glee club for the last two years, singing first tenor. Anderson is one of the foremost students in the public speaking department conducted by Prof. Helen M. Senn. He is expecting to continue his work in music and speaking during the remaining years which he will be in Willamette.
