QUALITY AND SERVICE

Insurance Federation To Meet Here Monday

Salem has been selected by the Insurance Federation of Oregon as the first city in which to launch a series of educational meetings, whereby the general public and the insurance men may better understand each other.

For the first meeting, which will be held next Monday night at 8 o'clock at the city hall, the federation will present a man who is now famous throughout the country, and this fame came within the last few months. He is fire marshal Stevens of Portland, who will talk on "Fire Prevention."

Mayor Harley O. White will preside at the meeting. Several prominent insurance men of Portland, supporters of Mr. Stevens in his fire-prevention activities, will attend.

The entire insurance fraternity of Salem has been especially urged to attend, and this includes life insurance agents as well. Homer H. Smith of this city is first vice president of the Federation.

Let E. L. Stiff & Son figure on that awning.

The river is exactly five feet above low water gauge, which is a fair average at this time of year. One year ago it was 4.5 feet above, two years ago 2.1 above and three years ago, 3.9 above low water at this date. The lowest temperatures for the nights during the past five days have been, 42 above Monday, 42 above Tuesday and 44 above both Wednesday and Thursday nights. These records were made by the government thermometer at the O. C. T. dock.

A Correction. To correct a misapprehension that seems to prevail in certain circles we hereby announce that the memorial sermon for the Grand Army of the Republic will be preached in the First M. E. church on Sunday May 28, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon of said day, and not next Sunday, as some had understood it. W. C. Phyllis, Commander. D. Webster, AdP.
