HOLSTEIN NEARS RECORD

Gaston, Or., May 25.—If Johanna De Kol, of Rush Court, keeps up her present gait of 2000 pounds of milk a month for another six months, it will mean a world's record Holstein cow for Oregon. Johanna is a registered Holstein cow, 26 months old, owned by Herbert Jones, of Amity, Or., and on May 19 finished the first six months of her yearly test with 12,000 pounds of milk to her credit.

Barring accidents, she should finish the year with 20,000 pounds of milk, which would be beating the world's record for a junior 2-year-old. She has an official seven day record of 467 pounds of milk, 19.37 pounds butter, which is going some for a cow with her first calf. Mr. Jones is the "man behind the cow" and is one of the most enthusiastic Holstein breeders in Oregon. He owns and operates a 300-acre stock farm at Amity, Or.

SALEM CHAPTER OF SONS OF REVOLUTION

Organized Last Night and Elected Officers—Charter Is Still Open

Salem chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution was organized last evening with the election of Winthrop Hammond by an unanimous vote as president. On account of his business interests taking him away from the city, Mr. Hammond thought a local man should be elected president, but as he had been active in the organization of this, the second chapter in the state, his objections were over-ruled.

Other officers elected were Frank J. Miller, first vice president; R. E. Green of Albany, second vice president; George M. Post, secretary; P. S. Gannett, treasurer; W. F. Foster, registrar. As several who have their papers and are entitled to membership could not attend the meeting last evening, it was agreed that the charter should be left open until the postponed meeting Monday evening when it is expected that fully 20 will have secured their papers and be eligible as charter members. Already 45 have become interested in the Salem chapter and it is probable that fully this number will be able to prove their claims of relationship to Revolutionary stock.

In order that the chapter may take part in Memorial day exercises, a committee to make arrangements was appointed composed of Rollin K. Page, James D. Hartwell and Ernest Blue.

To arrange for the observance of the battle of Bunker Hill, June 17, co-operating with the Daughters of the American Revolution, a committee was appointed composed of Rollin K. Page, George M. Post, and P. S. Gannett on membership the following were appointed: B. L. Beal, Geo. M. Post, and W. F. Foster.

COLONEL MULHALL COMPLETES HIS BOOK

Says "It Will Rock the Nation"—Implicates Many Prominent Officials

Seattle, Wash., May 25.—Colonel Martin B. Mulhall, former field agent of the National Manufacturers' association, who was a witness for three months in the congressional investigation of the "insidious lobby" in 1913, today announced the completion of a book exposing the lobby's methods, which, he says, "will rock the nation."

Colonel Mulhall has been living in Seattle for the past year, preparing his book which is entitled, "The Invisible Government." It is a collection of amazing facts gathered in his 30 years of experience in active politics—and is based upon documentary evidence which came into his possession as a "lobbyist." He claims to reproduce copies of original letters written by members of congress and others high in national affairs, in which they acknowledge subservience to certain private interests.

Mulhall will leave in a few days for Chicago to present a plank for adoption by the republican convention, demanding a report on the congressional investigation of the lobby, which, he says, has thus far been pigeonholed.

Woodmen of World Membership Campaign

The Woodmen of the World are now right in the midst of a membership campaign. In order to make it more interesting for those who have the interests of the lodge at heart, several prizes have been offered to those bringing in the greatest number of applications. These prizes are offered by individuals and not from the lodge fund.

The contest is now on and will continue until August 1 and the prizes are as follows:
First prize—A fine leather rocker, valued at $25, offered by Geer & Kreuger. The party winning first prize must bring in 10 or more applications for membership.
Second prize—A fine W. O. W. ring, offered by I. I. Boak, head consul of the order. The winner of this prize must submit more than six names.
Third prize—The winner of this prize must submit more than six applications.

The Nichols grocery store on North Commercial street, has offered $10 worth of groceries to the winner of the fourth prize who will receive a hat from George W. Johnson & Co., and the fifth in line, to receive a pair of W. O. W. cuff buttons offered by C. T. Pomeroy. The sixth prize is a W. O. W. watch fob. District Manager Jones is in the city assisting the lodge in getting the campaign underway.

ELECTION RESULTS

With the almost complete returns it is certain that E. O. Potter of Eugene; J. A. Buchanan of Roseburg, and John S. Coke of Marshfield, were nominated for circuit judges in this district at the primary election held here last Friday.—Roseburg Review.

According to the latest revised figures, it seems certain that Albert Abraham, of this city, has been elected as one of the delegates from this congressional district to the republican national convention at Chicago. C. P. Bishop is the other. The vote for Bishop as returned was 21,868, for Abraham 18,581. The race between Abraham and Calkins, the next highest was a very close one, there being but a few over 200 difference. As fully ninety per cent of the votes are now in, it is not thought this lead will be overcome.—Roseburg News.

THE FINN, WINS RACE FROM CLASSY FIELD

Belmont Park, N. Y., May 25.—The Finn, H. C. Hallenbeck's great four-year-old colt, won the Metropolitan handicap here this afternoon from the classiest field the event has known in many years.

August Belmont's five-year-old gelding, Stromboli, which won the event last year, finished second, and Spur was third. The Finn carried an impost of 120 pounds and Stromboli 122.

The prospects are good for 100 Cherrians lining up for the parade during the Portland Rose Festival. Last night 72 of the members responded to roll call. At a business meeting following the evening's drill, full power to make all arrangements with the state fair board was given to a committee, as to what part of the Cherrians would take in the second day's celebration of the Cherry Fair at the fair grounds.

James Mott came before the Cherrians with a proposal to put on a Cherrian show. Karl Hingee, U. G. Shipley and Frank L. Waters were appointed a committee to consider the proposition. Red ties are now taboo with the Salem boosting organization. A resolution was unanimously adopted declaring the red tie was in bad, and that hereafter white ties would be recognized as the only official color for neck dressing.

The report that Arthur Sperring, formerly with his father in the grocery business on North Commercial street, was hurt while driving on Columbia highway, appears to be untrue. It seems that Mr. Sperring was on his way to join his father at Burns, and that the steering gear of his car became out of order, landing him and the machine at the side of the road. About the only damage was to a sewing machine and a talking machine.

The convicts at the state pen are improving their time while the flux plant is partially out of commission by tearing up the old brick walls about the main entrance preparatory to laying concrete walks. The old walks will be cleaned up today and work of putting down the concrete will start at once.
