The fourth annual session of skort courses for boys and girls in agriculture and home economics will begin at the college on June 19 and extend to June 30th. Pupils of seventh and eighth grade rank and of high school grades are eligible for admission. The number of prize winners attending will probably not exceed forty while there are accommodations on the campus for At your druggist, in 25c and 50c iars. about 100. The remaining sixty will be accepted in the order of their applications provided they are eligible. All these except the forty must come at their own expense unless they are selected as representatives of some school lected as representatives of some school or organization that pays the expenses. The boys will live in Cauthorn hall and have instruction and recitation separate from that of the girls. Their work will be in open field, orchards, gardens, green houses, barns, shops and laboratories rather more than in class rooms. They will enjoy indoor and out door sports including swimming and baseball and hikes to nearby points of interest.

The girls will live in Waldo hall under the management and supervision of regular college officers. These officers and instructors will supervise games, recreation and campus life to see that each girl gets the individual benefits and enjoyment to which she is entitled. girls will study cookery, sewing drawing in the home economics building. The work in cookery will consist of preparation of different kinds of food, planning and serving meals, preparation of picnic lunches and care of the kitchen.
