SOCIETY

ALINE THOMPSON

A BIT of news that will be of marked interest to Salem's younger set is the announcement of the engagements of Miss Francis Adams daughter of Mr. L. J. Adams of Silverton to Charles Reynolds of Salem; and Miss Palm Cowden daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Cowden also of Silverton to Irvin G. Brooks of Portland. The engagements were made known Sunday in Silverton at a dinner given at the home of Miss Adams.

The brides-to-be and their fiancés are all former University of Oregon students; the girls being members of the Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority and the latter prominent members of the Beta Theta Phi fraternity.

Both Mr. Reynolds and Mr. Brooks formerly lived in Silverton, the former being the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reynolds of that city and the latter the son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Brooks now of Portland.

Tonight the last and fourth recital of the department of music of the Willamette University will be given in the First Methodist Episcopal church by the students of Frank Wilbur Chase and Miss Joy Turner.

One of the delightful features of the ceremony will be the piano number by Harry Quinn Mills, "Concerts-lunk" in F minor, with orchestral parts on the organ by Dr. Chace.

The programme follows:

- Part I
Piano, (a) Polonaise in C sharp minor—Chopin
(b) Dance of the Gnomes, No. 2—Liszt
Miss Lucille E. Emmons—List
Vocal, (a) "I Hear You Calling Me"—Marshall
(b) The Sword of Ferrara—Bullard

THAT TIRED FEELING

Relieved by Hood's Sarsaparilla, Which Renovates the Blood.

That tired feeling that comes to you in the spring, year after year, is a sign that your blood lacks vitality, just as pimples, boils and other eruptions are signs that it is impure; and it is also a sign that your system is in a low or run-down condition inviting disease. It is a warning, which it is wise to heed.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This old standard tried and true blood medicine relieves that tired feeling. It cleanses the blood, gives new life, new courage, strength and cheerfulness. It makes the rich red blood that will make you feel, look, eat and sleep better.

Be sure to get Hood's, because it is the best. There is no other combination of roots, herbs and herbs like it—no real substitute for it—no "just-as-good" medicine.

The beautiful home of ex-governor West near Ecola, Cannon Beach, was the center of attraction Saturday night, when about 40 neighbors and friends surprised Mrs. West's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Hutton, who are at present residing in the West home. The guests, laden with baskets and packages, filed up the broad stone steps leading from the beach. Music, dancing, cards and games made up the programme of the evening. Some very unique characters were represented by the women, and Mrs. W. H. Dakin won the prize for her impersonation of "Phoebe." Other prizes were won by B. McKay, J. Brailleur and Master Glen Stevens. A delicious supper was served.—Oregonian.

Mrs. Will Skiff and daughter, Miss Alice Skiff, left today for a several days visit with friends and relatives in Portland.

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Henry Coleman Cottle of Boston, Mass., who are the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Volk, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. East were hosts Saturday evening for a pretty dinner party.

The table was centered with an array of fragrant roses, covers being placed for Mr. and Mrs. Cottle, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Volk, Frank Lovell and the hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Estes' guests were all Bostonians and the evening was delightfully spent in chatting over old times the principal topic of conversation being "Do you remember."

Mrs. George Fox extends an invitation to the guardians of the campfires of the city to gather at her residence 230 North 18 Street Friday afternoon for tea and an informal chat over the work accomplished by the campfires during the past months and arrange plans for the coming season.

COURT HOUSE NEWS

Frank Marshall was given a preliminary hearing in Justice Webster's court Saturday afternoon on a statutory claim. He was bound over to the grand jury under $200 bonds which he made no attempt to furnish. He was taken back to the county jail where he will be held until the grand jury meets to pass upon his case.

The office of county school superintendent W. M. Smith was sending out the examination questions today to the schools of the county for the coming state eighth grade exams which will be held Thursday and Friday of this week. The Silverton schools will take the state examination at this time. The pupils of the Salem schools are not obliged to take the state examination as Salem is a district of the first class and the examinations are conducted by the teachers.

Marriage licenses have been issued at the office of the county clerk to Orlan C. Stevens, a rancher of Hood River, and Henrietta Baker, of Broadacres. The wedding will take place June 4. Samuel Benson, a farmer of Mr. Angelo and Alice Latchey, of Woodburn, also secured a license and Harry Seward O'Hara, a Salem teacher and Lillian Page, also a teacher of Salem, likewise took out a matrimonial ticket.

Louisa Johnson today filed a suit in the circuit court asking for an order of the court to restrain and enjoin Robert Johnson from killing her. She alleges that she is the owner of 33 acres of land in this county and also considerable personal property and that the defendant is wrongfully withholding the same from her possession and keeps her away from the property by threatening to kill her and to do her other bodily harm. Smith & Shields represent the plaintiff.

A transcript of appeal from the justice court at Woodburn was filed in the circuit court this county today by N. J. Yoder against E. G. Hawman. The defendant sold a horse to Yoder for $165 and the plaintiff paid $150 down at the time of the purchase. Yoder claimed that the horse had eye trouble and also spinal afflictions and he brought suit to return the horse and get his $150 back. The defendant claimed that the horse was sound at the time of the sale and that he should have the $150 due on the sale. The jury returned a verdict in favor of Hawman in the sum of $15 and $29.95 costs from which verdict the plaintiff appealed to the circuit court.

An inventory and appraisal filed in the probate court in the matter of the estate of Clara Hansen, deceased, shows the estate to consist of real property valued at $4073.75. The appraisers were D. W. Eyre, L. A. Westcott and E. L. Kappaha.

The appraisement of the estate of Frances D. Murphy filed in probate court shows the personal property of the deceased to be valued at $1060 and the personal property of the estate to be valued at $22,580. The appraisers were George Griffith, J. G. Fontaine and W. L. Jones.

WILLAMETTE NOTES

Willamette students are being exposed to the final charge on the campus this week; the faculty are taking the offensive and the shelling the defendants with their heaviest weapons, the latest products of ingenuitive minds, final exams.

The end of the week will tell whether the defendants will return for participation in next year's work. As has been said of war by a noted northern general during the civil war, a somewhat similar comparison may be drawn in regard to final exams.

Roger Lyons, a sophomore, left for Boise, Idaho, this morning. He will work on the government survey during the summer, returning next fall. He was recently selected by the executive

CLOSING EXERCISES AT SCHOOL FOR BLIND

Will Be Held Thursday Evening, June 1, at First Christian Church

The exercises for the closing of the school year of the Oregon State school for the Blind will be held Thursday evening, June 1, at the First Christian church, under the direction of E. T. Moores, superintendent. The program is divided into two parts, the first, a floral cantata, "The Brownies' Whispers," and the second scenes from "Mid Summer Night's Dream." The following gives a general idea of the evening's entertainment:

First part—"The Brownies' Whispers," a Floral Cantata—Characters of the Cantata:

The Brownies.
The Flowers.
The Raindrops.
The Sunbeams.
The Gardener.
His Daughter.

Synopsis—The gardener has received an order to decorate a fine mansion near by with flowers from his beautiful garden but is sorely troubled and perplexed because he has not been told the nature of the festive occasion and fears that he cannot do himself credit, while working at so great a disadvantage. His daughter comes to his aid by assuring him that she will try to solve the mystery, and in the meantime she tries to help her father by calling before him the flowers of his garden. This plan only adds to his perplexity, for all of the flowers are lovely.

In the second part, the Brownies talk over the matter among themselves and find that one of their number already knows the secret. Soon they all have discovered the cause of the mysterious order. The daughter's efforts in that direction proving vain, she falls asleep in utter weariness. The flowers find her asleep and sing to her a lullaby. The Brownies join them and sing to her softly the secret she would know. Awakening suddenly, she finds herself alone and remembers the dream. She tells her father that the occasion for his mysterious order, is the birthday of a little child. So, with pleasure he takes all his flowers to the mansion to grace the festive occasion.

- Interlude.
1. Piano duet—II Trovatore—Verdi
Ellen Fuston, Frieda Mauer
 2. Song—Hark! Hark The Lark..... Schubert
Mildred Searles
 3. Duet (piano and organ)—Andante Cantabile..... Tschatschkowsky
Wendell Helm, T. S. Roberts

Midsummer Night's Dream, taken from Acts I, II, III, IV. Characters: Oberon, King of the fairies. Titania, Queen of the fairies. Puck, or Robin Goodfellow. Peaseblossom, Cobweb, Moth, Mustardseed—fairies.

Bottom, the weaver.
Flute, a bellows-mender.
Quince, a carpenter.
Snug, a joiner.
Sneut, a tinker.
Starveling, a tailor.

Synopsis—The play opens with a scene between Nick Bottom, the clown, and his friends, who are to prepare a comedy to be acted at the wedding of the Duke, which is to take place in a day or two.

The scene then shifts to the fairies in the woods. A disagreement takes place between the fairy king and the fairy queen for the possession of the little changeling-boy, whose mother had been Titania's friend.

Oberon sends for Puck, his chief counselor, to come to his aid. He has Puck fetch him the flower which maddens all "Leave in idleness;" the juice of which, will make one dote upon the first live thing he sees upon awaking. Oberon then softly steals near Titania and drops some of the Love-juice on her eyelids. In the meantime, he has transformed Bottom into an Ass. Titania, rousing up, sees Bottom and straightway falls in love with him.

Oberon, having his wish granted, takes pity on Titania's dotage and by the use of another flower restores her to her natural senses.

committee as official yell leader of the student body for next year, and his work as assistant this year has given him considerable experience.

Paul Todd formerly a Willamette student but now principal of schools at Hoballa, Wash., is a campus visitor this week, stating he is glad to be back on the campus once more.

John M. Dixon, '15, and wife are back to see the commencement exercises. He is now a pastor in the First M. E. church at Bellingham, Wash.

Arlie Walker was elected student athletic manager by the executive committee last Friday. This new office recently created is one that places the student manager in control of all athletic events in connection with the athletic coach. It pays a salary of $100.

The Websterites and Adelantes held their annual picnic on the Willamette river. It was in the nature of a leap year party; the ladies furnished the launches and the gentlemen the eats, a good time was enjoyed by all.
