Stock and Dairymen Meet at Monmouth

(Capital Journal Special Service) Monmouth, Ore., May 29.—The members of the Polk County Dairymen's club, cow testing association, stockholders of the Monmouth Cooperative Creamery and the Monmouth Grange met Saturday at Professor Geater's farm, north of Monmouth, in a get-together picnic. A fine picnic dinner was spread on the lawn of which every one present partook with great satisfaction. In the afternoon Frank Loughery called the meeting to order and introduced the speakers. The first speaker was John D. Mickle, state dairy and food commissioner, who reviewed the work done to establish a marketing agency for the cooperative creameries and its apparent successful consummation soon. He said that co-operation in standardizing and raising the quality of dairy products would win the fight for the dairyman and would secure him profitable returns for his labor. Mr. Mickle was followed by Prof. Pitts, of the O. A. C., who congratulated the people on having an officer who took the side of the people. He spoke of the advantages to be derived from the cow testing association, of which Oregon has more than any other state according to the number of cows kept. He urged the members of the cooperative creamery to use their best individual effort to promote success by furnishing only a superior product. Mr. Dixon, of Shedd's, introduced as the grandmaster of Oregon's dairy industry, spoke briefly of co-operation. He said its success was assured if we were not too selfish. We must have not only our own interest, but the other fellows' at heart. Mr. Elliott of Dallas, invited the Jersey breeders to bring their stock to the Polk county fair in the fall, and assured them good accommodations. With more registered cattle in Polk county than any other county west of the Mississippi, a good exhibit should be the result. Henry West also addressed the meeting. All of the speakers were listened to with attention and received frequent applause. After the speaking was concluded, the crowd went to the barn where a boys' cow judging contest was pulled off. Frank McElowney was the winner in this. Everyone of the crowd present seemed to thoroughly enjoy the day. CARBOLIC ACID AND SOAP FOR SHOT HOLE BORER The fruit bark beetle or shot hole borer is doing more than the usual amount of injury to orchards in Oregon this year. The pest injures the tree by burrowing the bark, particularly at the base of the buds full of small holes about the size of ordinary shot. These tunnels extend through the bark and well into the wood. Trees at all heavily infested quickly show the effect of this drain on the vitality. After a careful study of this insect, over a period of about three years, it has been practically proven that the pest never attacks a perfectly healthy tree. There must be some initial cause for the devitalized condition of the tree before this pest will attack it. Poor drainage, unfavorable soil condition, root injury, etc., are common causes that serve as the initial factor in devitalizing the trees in the ordinary season. Due to our silver thaw and particularly unfavorable conditions generally this spring, many orchards have had a poor start and such has given rise to a sour sap condition which is ideal for the entrance and work of this pest. It is of prime importance, therefore, if possible to discover the initial cause of the poor condition of the tree. For trees slightly infested by the fruit bark beetle, the following wash has given very good success in British Columbia and in other localities where it has been given a thorough trial. Water 1 gallon Soft soap 1 gallon Crude carbolic acid 1/2 pint Mix these materials thoroughly and paint over the infested portions of the tree at ten day intervals until three applications have been given. For trees heavily infested by this insect, or for limbs which are badly shot, the only thing to do is to remove and burn. A. L. Lovett, O. A. C. Experiment Station. We had sold it to your city there would have been no injunction, and think this statement is false as far as we are concerned. When your committee did not look favorably on our proposition we gave the matter about plant sale to your city no further thought, treating your committee courteously when here and assured them they were under no obligations to us whatever for bearing the expense of the trip. We have always taken a local interest in Salem owing to the large amount of paving we have there, and most certainly deny having anything to do with the injunction suit. Monmouth News

(Capital Journal Special Service) Monmouth, Ore., May 29.—The last meeting of the Normal School Literary society was held Friday evening in the Normal chapel at 8 o'clock when the Vespertines and the Delphines went together for a joint meeting and an open session. The fine program which consisted of various kinds of numbers was thoroughly appreciated by all of the students and visitors. Some of the most interesting features of the evening were the cantatas "Little Boy Blue," "The Hummel Flag," "The History of Our Flag," orchestral numbers, stunts, piano duets and readings. The cantata "Little Boy Blue" was played in such a manner that everyone felt as though they themselves were really living in the land of Little Boy Blue. Even the dreams of Little Boy Blue were shown. Fireflies and fairies came and danced around the boy's shock. The American flag was represented in a new and very pretty way by girls dressed in red, white and blue and arranged on the stage so as to represent the stars and stripes. The swaying of the girls' bodies appeared as though a gentle breeze was blowing and waving the flag which they represented. The "History of Our Flag" was given by different girls who each carried a flag representing a different period of history. The baccalaureate sermon for Monmouth high school graduates will be preached next Sunday, June 4, by Rev. Fisher in the Evangelical church at 11 o'clock. The board of trustees of the Christian church in their meeting last Wednesday evening elected Rev. W. A. Elkins of Lebanon, to the ministry in the place soon to be vacated by Rev. George C. Ritchey. Rev. Elkins is a son-in-law of Mr. W. A. Wood, who was previously a minister of the local Christian church. He was born in Polk county and was educated at the University of Oregon and in the divinity school in Eugene. He served a term in the army in the Philippine islands and has been chaplain of the Oregon National Guard for the past seven years and has lived in Lebanon for the past five years. Rev. Elkins will receive a very hearty welcome by the members and friends in the local Christian church on his first sermon Sunday after next. The Monmouth high school baseball team made a trip to Buena Vista last Saturday afternoon where they played the Buena Vista team. The latter played the game with a score of 15 to 7. The victory would very likely have been for Monmouth had the Monmouth boys not been so very busy this season practicing their athletic sports for track work leaving very little time for baseball practice.

THE MARKETS

The following prices for fruits and vegetables are those asked by the wholesaler of the retailer, and not what is paid to the producer. All other prices are those paid the producer. Corrections are made daily. With Decoration day as a national holiday, there is naturally but few changes in the markets. Valencia oranges are now on the market, quoted at $2.50 to $3.50 a box. Pork is for a somewhat weaker, with 8 1/2 cents as the price for tops. The wheat market was lagged yesterday in Portland with an advance and decline of a cent, but of course these speculative prices have no effect on the local market.
