SOCIETY

ALINE THOMPSON

BRIDGE parties and luncheons interspersed with a few informal gatherings have enlivened the opening days of this rather quiet week. The most attractive being the afternoon affair for which Mrs. William Brown and Mrs. William Eldridge were hostesses this afternoon at the home of the former. Lovely blossoms of the season were used artistically about the rooms. A number of prominent matrons were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ludden and as their guests yesterday Miss Mildred Bagley and her fiancé David Graham of Eugene.

Quite the most important even scheduled on the calendar for tomorrow night is the final dance of the season to be given by the Booth string orchestra at the armory. The Cherrians in their white uniforms will be among those attending the affair. A feature of the evening will be several popular solos by Tom Ordeman, one of Salem's favorite singers.

Mrs. Eunice Roberts of Portland, is the guest of relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bishop will leave tomorrow for Chicago, where the former will attend the national Republican convention. Although Mr. and Mrs. Bishop's plans are indefinite they expect to visit New York and other Eastern cities before their return.

The Heilig theatre in Portland will no doubt see a generous sprinkling of Salem society folk during the week as several parties have planned to attend the "Passing Show" of 1915, which is being played there this week. "The Passing Show" which is the biggest thing that has been in Portland this season opened its week's engagement Monday night with matnees on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday.

According to the Sunday Oregonian "It is an onslaught of fun, a riot of fashion, a whirl of dancing, an evening full of song and all other things that go to make up a musical burlesque with enough of the esthetic thrown in to balance things a bit."

There are 125 in the company, among the artists are Willie and Eugene Howard, George J. Moore, Daphne Pollard, John T. Murray, Marilyn Miller, Jean-seuse, Kosloff and his Russian Imperial ballet and many others.

Considerable interest centers around Marilyn Miller, the London dancer, who created a sensation for her esthetic dancing in New York.

Mrs. J. M. Garrison and daughter, Miss Mildred Garrison, left Monday morning for Newport, where they will spend the summer.

Mrs. Albert Foustanum went to Portland today for a few days visit with friends and to attend the United Brethren concert.

An amateur entertainment to which one may look with legitimate hope of enjoyment is "Robin Hood" the comic opera to be presented tonight by the Salem high school, under the direction of Miss Minnetta Magers.

The play sparkles with fun and frivolity, and the leading roles are to be taken by Miss Lura Minton, as "Maid Marion," and Max Alfred, as "Robin Hood." The music is to be played by the Stege-Stoudermeyer orchestra.

Mrs. Oswald West of Portland is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Ben Olett.

An enjoyable surprise party was given Monday evening at the Bungalow church in honor of Harold Simpson.

The evening was spent with games and music. Later refreshments rounded out the gayeties. Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Downing chaperoned the young people who were the Misses Gladys Page, Hazel Long, Ruby Allen, Gladys Hettich, Ethel Davis, Marion Frye and Messrs. Walter Leibold, Cyril Hill, Harold Simpson and William Reinke.

Secretary Daniels Plans Indorsed

Washington, May 31.—Plans for legislation favoring relief for California oil operators now occupying land claimed by the government, who have been made defendants in a number of suits were accepted today in a minority report submitted by Senator Husting and Thompson.

The report assailed the operators' argument as legally fallacious and declared that Secretary Daniels' plea for legislation preserving the land to add to the navy's efficiency was overwhelmingly important. Daniels declares the territory is needed to provide fuel for oil burning battleships.

WAR MOVE CAUSED BY ALLIES NOT GERMANY

Dutch Fear of England Caused Sudden Preparation--and Mobilization

The Hague, May 2.—(By Mail)—Despite the statements of certain pro-English newspapers, it is now known authoritatively that it was fear of the Allies, and not of Germany, that prompted the Dutch government to take war-like measures a month ago.

Certain reports reaching the Dutch government about steps taken by the Allies at the Paris economic conference caused grave concern here.

The Minister of War informed newspapers that the government was expecting an economic crisis of great importance, though he refused to go further in his statement.

Evidently in anticipation of sharp measures by the Allies, the government chartered several steamers and sent them to America for wheat.

Measures taken by the British government to enforce the blockade of Germany are steadily becoming more irritating to the Dutch.

This does not mean, however, that the anti-German feeling of the greater part of the people of Holland has been lessened.

Hollanders are generally convinced that Germany has respected Dutch neutrality in this war only because she depends upon Holland for her food supplies.

The people blame high food prices upon Germany because exportations to the Kaiser's realm have lessened the supply here.

The people of Holland want to be let alone by both sides.

Capital Journal Only Complete Paper Sold

The Capital Journal is the only evening daily published in Salem that is a complete newspaper. The Portland papers peddled here are printed in the forenoon about 11 o'clock, are simply the regular edition of the day before with some changes on the first page. They are only extras made up of street sales and out of town circulation, making no pretense to being real newspapers. The Capital Journal on the other hand, contains the complete news service up to 3:30 p. m., which is 6:30 p. m. in New York and past midnight in Europe, the seat of the great war. It also contains all the local news of Salem and surrounding territory that is worth while. It is complete afternoon newspaper and the only one circulated in Salem. When you pay your money for a Portland evening paper here you are merely being "faked" into buying a cheap extra with big headlines on the first page and yesterday's news everywhere else.

Business Is Slowing Down But Prosperity Prevails

New York, May 27.—In various directions there are symptoms of slowing down in business. The most significant incentive to caution has been the late rise in commodities and wages, which has so increased the cost of doing business as to impose a widespread check upon new enterprise. In brief the rise seems to have been overdone for the time being at least, and reactionary tendencies are already at work. This is noticeable even in the iron trade, which though holding orders extending into 1917, finds new demands less urgent and prices in some instances decidedly softer when compared with conditions a month ago. New munitions orders are of course coming less freely, and high costs are impeding new construction work; while the railroads are confining their outlays to necessary replenishment. In no direction is there any marked development of new railroad construction; a fact, which is somewhat remarkable in view of the much improved state of affairs in the railroad world. In the drug and chemical trade there is also a decided reaction. This large, but often forgotten, industry profited much by the war; the demand for explosives and medical supplies causing prices for many articles to soar several hundred per cent. Now that the reaction is on, precipitous declines have occurred, causing more or less unsettlement in the entire industry. In the dry goods and grocery trades there is also a slackening of demand, though no general weakness of prices and no general unsettlement. In these lines of trade there is a spirit of confidence and values are well maintained. Outside of war influences the crop situation is the most unsatisfactory feature. No serious damage is reported in any section, but the spring has been cold and wet, consequently most of the cereal crops are backward and less promising than a year ago. On the other hand all fruit crops are far above the average in condition; peaches, which promise a poor yield, being the only exception. Cotton is about two weeks backward, but condition is good and acreage, according to the National Ginners' association estimate, is nearly 13 per cent larger than a year ago. A few warm days will compensate for all present drawbacks. Bank clearings, though still running over 40 per cent ahead of last year, are not showing such big gains as in the first three or four months of the current year. Railroad earnings show excellent results; gross results reported in April thus far being more than 20 per cent ahead of last year. April net returns are also very satisfactory if the latest reports of Union Pacific and Atchafalpa are any criterion. Traffic on some of the western lines has been remarkably heavy, which doubtless will be a factor favorable to a easier adjustment of the railroad labor problem. The net earnings of American railroads for the nine months ended March 31, were $399,000,000, compared with $250,000,000 the same time last year, an increase of nearly $250,000,000. Prosperity such as this, if sustained, should mean not only better wages to railroad labor but better returns to stockholders. The noticeable public hostility to railroads is also disappearing, and these favorable developments would undoubtedly have been reflected in a more general advance in the stock market had it not been for the pressure of foreign holdings of American stocks. The proposal of the British government for an additional tax of 10 per cent upon American stocks will stimulate foreign sales and tend to weaken this market.

For the next few weeks the presidential election promises to assume its proper place in public attention, provided nothing serious enough to overshadow it occurs in the European war zone. Both conventions occur in June, and the country will seem relieved of all doubts as to both men and issues of the coming campaign. Fortunately there are no domestic issues of an unusually exciting nature, unless it be that of preparedness, concerning which the country seems to be settling down to sane and sober views. At the moment there is nothing on which to base any vigorous, large buying movements. Our present prosperity has been considerably discounted, the advance in the stock market last week was conspicuously met by profit taking. In trade reactionary movements are gaining in force, and these must to some extent affect the security markets. The war, the presidential campaign, trade and crop conditions combined have created a series of cross currents on which it is impossible to expect any continued upward movement. They may induce activity and frequent fluctuations, but no general maintained advance until the war and home political conditions become more satisfactory. The market really has been strong only in spots.

HENRY CLEWS.

AFTER SIX YEARS OF SUFFERING

Woman Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Columbus, Ohio.—"I had almost given up. I had been sick for six years with female troubles and nervousness. I had a pain in my right side and could not eat anything without hurting my stomach. I could not drink cold water at all nor eat any kind of raw fruit, nor fresh meat nor chicken. From 178 pounds I went to 118 and would get so weak at times that I fell over. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and ten days later I could eat and it did not hurt my stomach. I have taken the medicine ever since and I feel like a new woman. I now weigh 127 pounds so you can see what it has done for me already. My husband says he knows your medicine has saved my life."—Mrs. J. S. BARLOW, 1624 South 4th St., Columbus, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains just the virtues of roots and herbs needed to restore health and strength to the weakened organs of the body. That is why Mrs. Barlow, a chronic invalid, recovered so completely. It pays for women suffering from any female ailments to insist upon having Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

A little more than two years ago the Capital Journal invited Mrs. Kate Brew Vaughn, Better Foods, Better Homes lecturer, who has won for herself national fame, to hold a school here for housewives and cooks. The welcome accorded Mrs. Vaughn and the enthusiasm with which this Better Foods Better Homes instruction was received by the best women of the city brought about a determination to make this school an annual affair, if it would be possible to obtain Mrs. Vaughn as teacher. The Capital Journal is happy to announce that such an arrangement has been made and Mrs. Vaughn will lecture and give cookery lessons here the week of June 5th.

Believes Work Valuable Being asked to impart to other mothers and housekeepers the knowledge that has meant much to her, Mrs. Vaughn very eagerly entered into this work and has during the past three years accomplished far more than she ever dreamed of doing. She has spoken before women's clubs, mothers' clubs, domestic science classes and high school girls and boys all over the country. With these girls and boys she is always exceedingly popular. She always tells them she likes girls better than anything in the world, because of her own two daughters, and then she she likes boys just a little better, because she has three sons. In a city where she recently addressed some five hundred high school boys, the mothers reported the next day that these boys came home full of enthusiasm about Mrs. Vaughn. Why she knows a lot about other things than cooking," they said. "She understands just what boys like."
