Monmouth News

(Capital Journal Special Service.)

Monmouth, Ore., June 1.—Decorations day was observed at the Normal school in the regular interesting celebratory manner. Most of the old soldiers and members of the Woman's Relief Corps of Polk county were present. The Boy Scouts and Willamette Camp Fire Girls of Monmouth, dressed in their uniforms, met the old soldiers at the train. The girls pinned roses on the old veterans and then escorted them to the Normal chapel where the exercises took place. The program for the afternoon was as follows:

Bagle Call—"Assembly."—Mr. Harold Tallman.

Living Flag—Delphian Girls.

Scripture Reading—Chaplain, G. A. R. Music—"Star Spangled Banner."—Oregon Normal.

Paper—Mrs. I. L. Patterson.

Music—"To Thee, O Country."—Oregon Normal.

Reading—"The Man Without a Country."—Miss Claybaugh.

Solo—"Keep the Home Fires Burning."—Mr. O. A. Macy.

Address—Governor Withycombe.

Music—"America."—Oregon Normal.

Flag Drill—On Campus, Children of Training School.

Fire and Drum—G. A. R.

Bagle Call—"Reveille."—Mr. Harold Tallman.

The Monmouth high school baseball team made a trip to Airlie last Tuesday afternoon, May 30, where they played a game with the Airlie baseball team. The latter were victorious with a score of 14 to 10.

The Boy Scouts of Monmouth played baseball against the Independence Boy Scouts Tuesday afternoon on the Monmouth high school track. The Monmouth boys won the victory with a score of 5 to 4.

The whole family will enjoy reading the Capital Journal.

RELIEF EXPEDITION IS TO BE SENT AT ONCE

British Government To Send Ship to Marooned Discoverers

London, June 1.—The British government probably will take immediate steps to send a relief expedition in search of twenty two men of the Shackleton expedition, stranded on Elephant island, near the south pole.

The Daily Chronicle, which received a cablegram from lieutenant Shackleton, announcing his arrival at the Falkland islands, urged the government relief committee whose formation was announced by Premier Asquith yesterday to move quickly. The Chronicle asked that expeditions be sent to the relief of both the Shackleton party and the Ross sea expedition which started from the New Zealand side of the south pole and was stranded when the steamer Aurora broke from her moorings.

Lieutenant Shackleton was asked by cable today to forward further details of the progress made by his expedition. His first message reported merely that his ship, the Endurance, was crushed in the ice floes and that the party left on Elephant island was in need of rescue.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE

tion that the Coliseum "must be absolutely dry" during the convention. The first contest taken up was that of the Fifth and Sixth districts of Virginia. It was decided to refer the matter to the Virginia delegation with directions they recommend to the national committee who should be seated.

The Texas contests were next. Chairman Hilles suggested two delegates for each of the 13 districts contested with half a vote apiece. A sub-committee was appointed to consider the matter, composed of Senators Smead of Utah and Warren of Wyoming.

A resolution was passed to the effect that the national committee should vote on contests immediately after the sub-committee reports.

Islands May Get Votes.
In case of contests where a national committeeman was involved, it was decided he should not be allowed to vote.

The Tennessee contests where eight delegates at large were elected were taken up next. It was decided to allow the four delegates receiving the highest number of votes to be seated as delegates at large and the other four as alternates at large. The Kentucky contests, which are similar to that of the Tennessee contests, were put over.

The committee then took up the question of the status of the delegates from the Philippines, Porto Rico and Hawaii. They have for a long time been demanding that their delegates who have now seats but no votes, be given votes the same as Alaska and the District of Columbia. On motion of Committeeman Warren of Michigan, it was decided to recommend to the convention that the delegates from these territories be allowed votes. There are two delegates from each territory.

The six Alabama "lilly whites" delegates at large were seated by unanimous vote of the committee after an hour's argument by the "black and tans," the contesting delegation.

The contest in the ninth Alabama district was then taken up.

Begins Work on Them.
Chicago, June 1.—The G. O. P. national committee today began to untangle the situation resulting from 40 separate contests, involving 92 delegates from southern states.

Although Secretary Reynolds of the committee declared the fights involved were merely battles for local control, and the usual fights between the "black and tans" and the "lilly whites," campaign managers for Hughes, Roosevelt and Senator Weeks, were watching the contests closely.

The same rules, in substance, that governed the contests in 1912 were to be adopted by the national committee at the beginning of the hearings at 10:30 a. m.

As in 1912, the proceedings will be only semi-public, with press associations as the only reporters admitted.

Hughes' managers were expected to watch closely the contest from Georgia, affecting 17 delegates. One delegation, headed by National Committeeman Henry S. Jackson, is aligned with the Old Guard and is ordered to vote for Senator Weeks on the first ballot if seated. The contesting delegation, backed by State Chairman Walter Johnson, is believed to be aligned with Hughes.

The Louisiana involving 12 delegates also has possibilities of a fight among Hughes, Roosevelt and the old guard. This contest is based on the inability of negroes to gain entrance to the New Orleans hotel where the whites met.

There are two warring delegations in Georgia, a tangle in Texas involving the technical point of the right of districts to send two delegates, and in Virginia, where one Richmond district is involved, it is a fight between the "black and tans" and "lilly whites."

Six delegates at large and one district delegate are involved in the Alabama contest, probably the first to be taken up. The regulars in this contest are chaired by Hughes.

In Oklahoma, where four district delegates are involved, it is believed to be a case of Roosevelt against Hughes.

Politics Knocks Props from Under Market

New York, June 1.—The New York Evening Sun's financial review today said:
Wall Street passed more completely under the influence of political uncertainties today than at any time in the recent past and barely more than a nominal market prevailed on the stock exchange. Similar conditions, it is believed, are likely to prevail until the republican convention selects the presidential candidate to run against President Wilson, who is certain of the democratic nomination.
The political obsession was so complete that no attention whatever was paid to the brilliant statement of April earnings made by the Pennsylvania system and the New York lines or at least the showings were devoid of influence upon the stocks of the two companies.
Prices opened languidly showing no important changes in either direction and the trading was dull and professional in the outset.
An early recession of the general list was followed by a rallying tendency and the undertone was strong. But the movement was very narrow and was wholly without significance except insofar as it disclosed lack of speculative sentiment.

Report Says Business Has Reached Maximum

Washington, June 1.—"Business activity in the United States perhaps has reached the maximum of the present movement," the federal reserve board's monthly bulletin today says.
The reasons given include:
Orders covering factory outputs to the end of the year.
A more or less cautious attitude as to the future.
Considerable unrest on the part of labor, "even where most highly compensated."
A slightly less favorable outlook for some of the growing crops.
On the other hand, the report says:
"Mining and oil wells are exceedingly active."
"Lumber and building show great activity."
"Railroad earnings are generally excellent."
"Postoffices and similar receipts are at a maximum everywhere."

Boy Finds Police Station Too Tame So He "Borrows" a Horse

Richard Smith, an eight year old boy who resides with his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Davidson, at Rosedale, got lost in Salem yesterday and was taken to the police station for safe keeping until his elders arrived. The boy was around the station this morning when he expressed a desire to go outside to play which was granted. He trotted off down the alley and after a few minutes and was seen by a man on the street to climb into Nelson Bros. wagon which was standing alongside the curb. The boy picked up the reins and drove off and neither boy, wagon or horse have been seen since.
