SHIPPERS WEAKEN-- LONGSHOREMEN WIN

Sixteen Oakland Firms Yield --Tacoma and Seattle Use Force

San Francisco, June 3.—Acting under instructions from Tokio, the Toyo Kisen Kaisha Steamship line today announced it was ready to meet the demands of the striking longshoremen.

"The fight is as good as won," declared Secretary Foley of the union when he heard this news. "The Toyo Kisen Kaisha was the key line. Others must follow suit."

Sixteen Oakland firms granted the strikers' demands today. It was believed that the trouble might be over and that work along the waterfront might be resumed by Monday.

Only a few independent lines and the Steamship Owners association were cited threatened to import Mexican holding out this afternoon. The Associated Filipino strikebreakers Monday unless the stevedores and riggers resumed work and accepted a proffered 10 per cent increase.

The task of unloading the $2,000,000 silk cargo brought here by the Toyo Kisen Kaisha liner Toyo Maru will begin immediately.

James Holland, first vice-president of the Riggers and Stevedores Union, advised this afternoon that he expected the Spreckels interests would meet the strikers' demands next. He believed the principal fight would meet the strikers' demands next. He believed the principal fight would be with the Pacific Coast Steamship company and the Northern Pacific Steamship company.

Fight at Seattle

Seattle, Wash., June 3.—Fifty strike sympathizers battled with guards, shot one non-union worker and killed one of the guards in the first violence of the longshoremen's strike at one o'clock this morning at the Milwaukee railroad's ocean dock here.

T. C. Hughes, of Los Angeles, who was shot, lies with a bullet in his back at the city hospital. He is expected to recover.

After a hand to hand fight with the leaders of the mob, Jack Warnicke, a guard was carried away.

He regained consciousness at 6 a. m. where he had been left, badly beaten, along Railroad avenue tracks.

Tacoma Is Seething

Tacoma, Wash., June 3.—War is in finish between striking longshoremen and members of the Waterfront Employers association was declared today, following threats by the strikers to destroy barricades and fences erected on Tacoma docks to protect strikebreakers. Lines of fire hose were laid on a number of wharves and will be used to repel any attacks made by strikers, dock officials said.
