WOULD BE THE WHOLE THING

The Woman's party convention being new at the "Warwick" business started early, and began the first session at Chicago yesterday morning. They have notified the old parties as well as the progressives that they are ready to receive bids for their support.

Every party would have to find out what the ladies wanted, and promise to grant it before they had a show for the political plums. Under these conditions, the country would change its tariff, and revenue laws as often as the ladies do their style in dress or hats.

Oregon has given the ballot to its women, and finds no reason to regret it, but they should not overlook the fact that they are citizens and voters just like the male element.

A solid woman's party, if it could be perfected and held together, would ultimately result in a solid men's party, or else it would reverse the old order of things and placing the women in power would in effect disfranchise the men.

THE PECULIAR INNES CASE

The case of the Innes, of Eugene, recently tried in Georgia for the murder of the Nelms sisters, Mrs. Eloise Nelms Dennis and Beatrice Nelms, for which they were acquitted, is a peculiar one. In that case the acquittal was due to the fact that there was no proof the sisters were dead. It lacked the corpus delicti.

Under the Georgia law, being man and wife they could not be tried jointly.

The British statement that 18 German warships were destroyed in the great North sea battle is denied by the Germans, who ask the British to name the vessels, and smilingly say they cannot. At the same time they say the story was told by the English for home consumption, in order to let the people get familiar with the German victory by degrees.

Thirty-three women delegates will have seats in the National Progressive convention, a dozen of them being from the state of Washington. Women are surely taking their place in the political world, and if the women's party has its way, they will before long take the men's places also.

THE COLOSSUS OF OYSTER BAY

The forty eight states of the Union have sent delegates to the national republican convention at Chicago, for the purpose of naming a standard bearer for the party in the coming presidential election. Those delegates are perfectly willing to do the work they were sent to do, but find that one man will not let them. That is a strange condition for a great party in a free country.

"Now in the name of all the gods at once, upon what meat hath this our Caesar fed that he hath grown so great, that like a huge Colossus he doth bestride this narrow world, and we petty men must peep about and creep beneath his huge legs to find ourselves dishonorable graves?"

The council might as well wipe all ordinances pertaining to automobiles off the books for they are neither observed or enforced. The habit some autoists have of passing street cars while they are at a crossing, is sooner or later going to result in a serious accident. At the risk of becoming tiresome, attention is again called to the fact that a person who accidentally causes death while doing something unlawful is liable for manslaughter.

Henry Ford's name may not be formally presented to the convention as he has so far failed to ask any one to speak for him. He will however get Michigan's 30 votes on the initial ballot even though not formally presented. Henry is a good gentlemanly "also ran."

Lord Kitchener's death will prove the heaviest loss England has yet sustained. In spite of the criticism leveled against him he was no doubt the empire's most experienced soldier, and an executive of great ability in the direction of military matters.

Salem boys carried off both the Beekman and Failing prizes at the state university oratorical contest Monday night. That's better than even winning football or baseball honors.

Roosevelt is proving himself a true friend of President Wilson, and a real Red Cross hero in rendering first aid to the democracy.

"O, what is so smooth as a day in June? Then, if ever, are flossy days!" So the Poet sang, with his lyre in tune, and the subject deserved his praise. For a day in June is the slickest thing that ever the gods designed, and the man who doesn't then smile and sing has barnacles on his mind.

A SMOOTH, HAIRLESS SKIN FOR EVERY WOMAN. (The Modern Beauty) With the aid of a plain delicate paste it is an easy matter to rid the skin of unsightly hairy growths.

LAMAR TOOZE WINNER Eugene, Ore., June 6.—By an oration entitled, "America the Hope of Nations," Lamar Tooze, of Salem, president of the student body and delegate on the Ford peace expedition, last night won the Failing oratorical prize of $150.

GRANT BILL READY Washington, June 6.—Only the signature of President Wilson is now lacking to complete the final enactment of the Oregon and California land-grant law, the house today having ratified the conference report.

***** How You May Change Your Face Completely *****

Any woman not satisfied with her complexion can easily remove it and have a new one. The thin veil of stifling half-lead cuticle is an embarrassment and should be removed.

To see the skin free from wrinkles there's nothing quite so good as the old reliable saxolite lotion. It is only necessary to dissolve an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel and bathe the face in this as required.

Walslow Elected to Head Alumni University of Oregon, Eugene, Or., June 6.—Oregon's commencement had an auspicious opening Friday night with the presentation of the commencement play, with an added touch of prevailing, the seniors made their appearance in their caps and gowns.

Saturday was designated alumni day, and special arrangements made for entertainment by the Alma Mater. At the business meeting Friday morning the alumni effected a reorganization, which, in effect, is to delegate all alumni business to a council of 12 members, these members to be chosen by postal ballot.

Officers elected for the coming year were: Walter C. Winslow, of Salem, president; Mrs. L. T. Harris, of Salem, vice president; Ben Williams, of Eugene, secretary; Leon Ray, of Eugene, member of the debate council; Eberle Kuykendall, John C. Veach, Ray Goodrich, of Eugene, members of the athletic council.

At a joint meeting of the athletic council of the university and the executive committee Saturday, A. B. Tiffany was re-elected graduate manager. His election is conditional, and Dess Walker, of Independence, was elected alternate.

Following the meeting of the board of regents Friday, the following students were announced to have won honors:

Chemistry: Lewis Bond, of Eugene; economics, Roscoe Hurd, of Eugene; Max H. Somner, of Portland; Logic Tooze and Lamar Tooze, of Salem; English, Grace Edgington, of Hood River; mathematics, Elizabeth Martin, of Eugene; rhetoric, Henry V. Howe, of Eugene; Magna Cum Laude, Grace Edgington, who was the only student to make more than one honor, and Miss Ferguson, of Portland. Examinations in honors were exceptionally strict and but 50 per cent were able to pass.

"FAKE REMEDIES" ADVERTISED No doubt some of the medicines advertised are fakes, but these never have any lasting success. They stand in striking contrast to the good old standard, dependable remedies, like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which has stood the test of time and for more than forty years has been alleviating the suffering of womankind. Such medicines are a blessing to the community and will continue their good work from one generation to another.

C. H. Taylor, of Turner, Backs Into Window C. H. Taylor, of Turner, forgot that his E. M. F. was in reverse as he backed it to the curb and when he cranked it to start down the street the machine started backing and before it

INDOOR LIFE MAKES FAT TRY OIL OF KOREIN TO KEEP WEIGHT DOWN, OR TO REDUCE SUPERFLUOUS FAT. People who are confined within doors and who are deprived of fresh, invigorating air and exercise must take precaution to guard against over-stoutness, as fat acquired by indoor life is unhealthy and a danger to the vital organs of the body.

Oil of korein is inexpensive, cannot injure, and helps the digestion. Any person who wants to reduce 15 or 20 pounds is advised to give this treatment a trial.

WILLAMETTE NOTES

The senior class of Willamette presented their gift to the university at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The gift is a beautiful granite sun-dial, is one that is a handsome ornament, as well as a useful article. Whenever the sun is shining—which in Salem is all of the time, passersby may ascertain the correct sun-time by looking at the face of the dial. It shows a difference of minutes with Western Union time, but this is because of the variance between that time and sun time.

In setting the dial it was necessary to secure a perfect north and south line, this was found to be 19 degrees and 30 minutes different from the line on which Eaton hall is located, the dial, however, is perfectly square with the world and can be relied upon to give the correct sun time at all times.

In presenting the gift, Walter Gleiser president of the class of '16, stated that this dial was to be known as the "James T. Matthews dial." Inasmuch as he has been a good friend and advisor of the class during the past four years. On the dial are chiseled four choice words which he asked every member of the class to always retain foremost in their memory. These words are: "Austerity, sagacity, charity and boldness."

could be stopped it punched out one of Watt Shipp's new plate glass windows. The accident happened about 1:30 this afternoon and Mr. Taylor settled all damages caused by the whims of his E. M. F.
