40th Birthday of University Is Fete

University of Oregon, Eugene, Or., June 6.—The beginning of the university in 1876, the struggle for existence, the sacrifices undergone by the founders, the scope of the university's output in graduates, recollections of the early days when Eugene was a mere village, and the needs of the institution were told yesterday by Judge J. W. Hamilton of Roseburg; Judge L. T. Harris of Salem; Governor Withycombe and President L. Campbell at the commemoration of the 40th anniversary.

We look back over a span of 40 years. The time itself has been short, but in history it has been long, said Judge Hamilton, early regent of the university, in the opening address. Then he paid high tribute to the early founders, whom he characterizes as men bent on the advancement of higher education, regardless of personal sacrifice. "The people of Eugene went through extraordinary difficulties, but the results are here already," he said, "and they have been worth the effort."

High tribute was paid to T. G. Hendricks, J. H. Thompson, B. P. Dorris, J. E. Walton, J. W. Scott, and W. H. Abrams, the directors, for making personal contributions in completing the agreement.

The first days of the institution were pictured by Judge Harris. Only 130 students were enrolled. The annual income of the school was $8000. Today the enrollment is 900 and the yearly income $500,000. The plant has increased from a valuation of $5,000 to $1,000,000. The total number of graduates is 2500.

Thoughts were turned from the past to the present by Governor Withycombe, who said: "The institutions of learning are Oregon's greatest asset. The university has passed through trials and tribulations. The people of the state then did not know the university; but sentiment is strong today, and Oregon stands back of the university."

President Campbell explained how donations could be used of the university in establishing loan funds to aid worthy students.

At the close of the commemoration the entire delegation viewed the laying of the cornerstone of the new $50,000 educational building on the southwest corner of the campus.

Hog Market Dull

Portland, Ore., June 5.—Late this afternoon tops were advanced on two drafts of choice porkers to $5.50.

The morning count-out of hogs showed $500 and a little better. This is the heaviest receipts for hogs for a considerable time. Reports of last month's receipts at practically all American markets show a decided increase in the marketing of swine as was the case at North Portland for the month of May. It is to be inferred from these heavy receipts that all the markets have a pretty fair supply in sight and there is no indication at present that there will be any shortage in the marketing of hogs. Receipts today were a little too heavy for a good market and together with a dull feeling that was in evidence at the end of last week.

Buyers, shippers and speculators held back during the morning and bought only a few loads early at the 15c lower price. Packers started out bidding considerably lower, but were unable to buy hogs until later and some trading was done at mostly 15c lower price. On the close the market was dull without any real gain in price. Best hogs of all kinds were the best sellers. Pigs were slack.

The bulk of hogs sold yesterday at $8.25 a week ago at $8.55@9.10 a month ago at $9.00, a year ago at $7.50@8.00, two years ago at $7.15@7.50, three years ago at $6.35@6.55, four years ago at $7.00@7.75.

Regiment of Marines Embarks for Hayti

San Diego, Cal., June 5.—The Fourth regiment of marines, Colonel J. H. Pendleton, is enroute here today to go to New Orleans, whence it will sail on the transport Hancock for Hayti, to reinforce Admiral Caperton's forces opposing the revolutionists there. Expected orders were received last night and were read in theaters and other places where the men had congregated. The regiment comprises 718 officers and men and all will go except the sick and those whose enlistments are about to expire. The regiment will return here after the duty in Hayti, as this is to permanent base of the Fourth.
