and controlled by the national government.

"In our democracy, every male citizen is charged with the duty of defending his country. This duty is not new. It has existed from the foundation of the government. Under modern conditions, it cannot be performed without military training.

"We stand for peace, not war. We believe in preparedness for defense, but never for aggression. We should not sacrifice the lives of men for the glory or gain of military conquest. We desire that the women of the country who bear and rear its soldiers and make and keep its homes, shall have the full political right of suffrage.

"Arms alone cannot maintain a nation. Of far greater permanent importance must stand a national industry efficient for the general welfare, a prosperity justly distributed, the nation organized in all points for national ends. Four years ago this party was born of a nation awakened sense of these fundamental truths. In the platform then adopted, we set forth our position on public questions. We here reaffirm the declaration then made on national issues.

"A nation to survive, must stand for the principles of social and industrial justice. We have no right to expect continued loyalty from an oppressed class. We must remove the artificial causes of the high cost of living, prevent the exploitation of children in industry, protect the wage earner and by a properly regulated system of rural credits, encourage the farmer and give the landless man opportunity to acquire land. A country must be worth living in to be worth fighting for.

"To make possible social justice, to maintain our position in peace and war, we must insure business and industrial prosperity. This can be done:

"By a regulation of industry aimed at promoting its growth and prosperity and a just distribution of its return by a conservation and development of our national resources for the good of all; "By making a new standard of governmental efficiency, through a complete civil service system, the reclamation of lands and national budget and the destruction of pork barrel legislation; "The creation of a permanent export tariff commission;

"The protective system is essential to our national prosperity.

"Tremendous pressure will be thrown upon our industries after the war by the highly mobilized production of Europe."

"At all times, conditions of competition must be equalized between our own and foreign countries. We can only get the protection we need through the use of exact and complete knowledge unaffected by prejudice and politics. We can only secure that knowledge at all times and when needed through such a commission.

"The industrial issues are chiefly national. The present and the future make it imperative that the regulation and promotion of industry and especially of transportation and foreign trade be national, not local.

"Only federal power can work justice to capital and labor throughout the nation. Only national authority can mobilize industry for defense as a nation's needs demands it.

"Beneath a structure of military and economic strength must be the spirit of the people, a deep loyalty and undivided allegiance to America, a land which welcomes us and our immigrant forefathers. When that foundation ceases to endure we shall no longer be a nation.

"We have set forth in this platform plain essentials of national existence. They are not new in principle. Most men agree with them. Any man may propose them. The urgent and immediate need is for their performance. We have had ample experience with the premier with words and his last words were restricted. We must choose a man who not alone by words, but by past deeds can give us a guaranty that he can and will make these good. The issue is one of men. In the midst of world changes unparalleled in history, we cannot forecast the problems which will confront our government during the war and at its end. If we continue longer to stand for words, as above deeds, for fancy as above facts, we shall receive and merit the fate that surely awaits the man or people who do not face the truth.

"We meet and work with any man or party who sees the nation's needs, and produces a leader fit to meet it. We will accept no less in the plan or in the man, and we hereby solemnly charge upon those who place party and politics above the country, the responsibility for a nation's future, sacrificed to self interest and spoils."

WITHYCOMBE TO TALK ON PREPAREDNESS FOR PACIFIC COAST

Oregon's Governor to Read Paper at Western Governors' Conference

As secretary of the western governors' conference, Governor Withycombe has been busy formulating the program and plans for the forthcoming gathering of the western executives which occurs at Salt Lake city on Monday, June 20th.

The western governors' gathering will be followed by the national governors' conference, on the 27th, 28th and 29th. To a certain extent the program of the two events will overlap, as several of the western governors are expected to speak before the national body, of which they are of course all members.

This is the first national conference ever held in the west and will be the largest in point of numbers that has yet assembled. The tentative program will include an address of welcome by Governor Spuy of Utah, and an acknowledgment by Governor Lester of Washington, president of the western governors' conference.

Governor Boyle of Nevada will discuss "Public Lands and Water Power." Governor Carlson of Colorado is down on the program for "State and Federal aid in Land Settlements."

Governor Alexander of Idaho will discuss "State Administrative Problems," and has for his subject before the national conference. What will the States do to meet International competition after the War?

Governor Hunt of Arizona will deliver a paper on "State Administrative Problems."

Ex-Governor Hawley of Idaho will speak on "The West and its Water Power."

Governor Withycombe will deliver a paper entitled "Practical Preparedness for the Pacific Northwest."

Probably several of the papers above listed will be delivered before the national conference. Detailed arrangements on this head will be worked out later by Governor Withycombe with Miles G. Riley, Madison, Wisconsin, secretary of the national governors' conference, who is arranging for the national program. The present indications are that there will be not less than nine active western governors in attendance and probably three ex-governors, including ex-Governor West of Oregon, who has just left for the East, and has

COMMERCIAL CLUB ELECTS ITS OFFICERS

Discusses Cherry Fair and the Fourth, and Suggests Sign for the Depot

THE NEW OFFICERS

President, Joseph H. Albert. Vice president, Charles K. Spaulding. Secretary, Charles H. Fisher. Treasurer, Asahel Bush.

At the annual meeting of the Salem Commercial club last evening, Joseph H. Albert was elected president, Chas. K. Spaulding vice president, Charles H. Fisher secretary, and Asahel Bush treasurer. With their election last evening, they become the active officers of the club for the coming year.

Mr. Albert was placed in nomination by Hal D. Patton and seconded by Chas. H. Dick who said that Mr. Albert was the man the club wanted as he surely could save the money and that he had a good head for business. Mr. Albert felt that he could not very well give the time necessary and asked that his name not be placed in nomination, Charles R. Archard, who bought the business of S. A. Manning was also nominated.

For vice president, Chas. K. Spaulding was nominated by F. G. Deekebach. The name of W. W. Moore was presented by H. A. Johnson, Parak Spears nominated Curtis Cross and D. P. Wagner suggested A. N. Gilbert.

For secretary, Charles H. Fisher was presented by Judge Charles L. McNary, and T. B. Kay nominated Asahel Bush for treasurer.

L. H. McMahon said that while he was not especially noted for saying nice things about people, he did wish to express himself to the effect that he had never seen a man more conscientious in his work than the retiring president W. H. Handlon, nor a man who was more honest and upright and who subordinated his own interests to others.

The Cherry fair celebration came in for a few remarks when J. G. Deekebach rose for a matter of information and was inclined to move that it was the sense of the meeting that the Cherry fair do all its celebrating on Monday, July 3, and leave the Fourth clear for the state fair board and the horsemen, especially as the fair board was trying to make this such a successful celebration that hereafter it would be an annual event. Theodore Roth favored the plan of giving the fair board all day Tuesday, especially as he had been informed the people of the surrounding towns were all coming in to celebrate and that he wanted the fair board to have a chance to give them a celebration worth while.

Representing Mr. Brick who was in Portland, Rev. James Elvin said that plans had already been made for a city celebration all day Monday and up to Tuesday noon and that he was rather surprised that the state fair board wanted all day of the fourth. It was finally agreed that the officers of the club confer with the state fair board and arrange the celebration whereby the events at the air grounds will not conflict with the downtown program.

The carnival proposition also bobbed up, the question being whether there should be a street carnival during the Cherry fair. Walter H. Denton opined that the carnival proposition had already been settled at a former meeting, to the effect that there was to be no carnival.

Honorable H. Smith wanted to know where the club would get with a $500 appropriation, as his opinion was that so small an amount was not even a starter for the annual event.

Dr. H. H. Olinger was not inclined to be much over-joyed when informed that the Southern Pacific officials were considering the building of a new passenger depot. With the exception of a few coats of paint he thought the depot was about as fine a piece of scenery as it was 30 years ago. In fact the doctor thought a sign should be erected near the station, large enough to be read from a distance reading, "Do not judge a nation by our depot." In fact, a nation was forced that this be done and was unanimously passed, with the amendment of Rev. James Elvin that it be illuminated at night.

stated that he will arrange to be present at the conference in his return journey.

Mr. Riley, secretary of the national conference, has written to Governor Withycombe that he had definite acceptances from ten eastern and middle west governors, in addition to the western executives above mentioned. Further acceptances were expected. Below is a list of the states which positively will be represented, exclusive of the western states. Watching the Scoreboard

Table with Pacific Coast League Standings. Columns: Team, W., L., Pct. Rows: Vernon, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland, Salt Lake, Oakland.

Yesterday's Results

At Portland—Portland, 10; Oakland, 5. At San Francisco—San Francisco, 7; Vernon, 6. At Los Angeles—Los Angeles, 4; Salt Lake, 2.

Bales, of Los Angeles, beat Salt Lake in the sixth when he poked a homer to deep center and scored two ahead of him.

San Francisco again took the measure of the Vernon Tigers, beating Art Fromme, the southerners' star heaviest.

Johnny Couch, of the Seals, pitched a wobbly game and allowed 16 bingles, but Schaller's home run and a couple of bengal bingers won the day for him.

Hello! Oakland lost again. Portland made it two straight, the Beaver batsmen pounding their old colleague, Dutch Klavitter.

Berger, of Oakland, was larceny personified on the bases, nearly stealing the game on a couple of occasions.

The Browns are trying to cop some of the Glants' stuff. A few more wins and they'll be in first division. Their victory over the Yanks gave them their fifth straight win.

Twelve innings were necessary before a winner could be decided.

It was a great day for Mullen, the Yankee's first sacker. He made four hits and 20 putouts.

High robed Severoid of a hit in the eleventh by catching his long drive. It would have been a sure homer. High took it off the fence.

Rain put the quietus on ball games. Only a game apiece in each big league.
