

SOCIETY and CLUBS

By ALINE THOMPSON

A GAIN society is grateful to brides and visitors for all the social diversion bestowed upon them the past week. Aside from the reception given by President and Mrs. Carl Gregg Doney, the wedding of Miss Regina Long and Cloyd Dixon, and a few small informal affairs, the week has been an exceptionally uninteresting one.

From now on through this month, brides will be the center of attraction. There are several weddings scheduled for June and as always the question is "what shall I give the bride?" Presents go by fads, it seems. One time it was cut glass that had a run of popularity, and one girl received three or four water bottles. Another bride received at least half a dozen cut glass vases, and at a more recent wedding a girl had four or five vinegar cruetts. The person who originated the society for the prevention of useless gifts—meaning only at Christmas time—ought to extend the usefulness of such propaganda to other times in one's life.

Amid an array of beautiful and fragrant flowers Miss Mary Regina Long became the bride of Cloyd Dixon, Ranch at eight o'clock Wednesday evening at their new home 1680 Fir street.

Rev. Carl H. Elliott officiating. The couple were unattended except for dainty little Helen McCune of Portland who attended their way with rose petals and Branton Miles, who carried the ring in a tiny bird's nest. It was a pink and white wedding. Quantities of roses combined with sweet peas and the soft glow from candles made an effective setting for the bridal party.

A group of young girls the Misses Elia Spaulding, Gertrude East, Bernice Craig, Grace Farrar, and Mildred Reid in dainty frocks carrying baskets of blossoms acted as ribbon bearers. The bride wore a gown of white charmeuse and lace made on simple lines and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses and white sweet peas. Her veil was caught with a wreath of tiny pink rose buds.

Lohengrin's wedding march was played by Miss Laura Grant and Frank Churchill. Mrs. Gordon McGilchrist sang "I Love You Truly."

After the ceremony Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" was played. Following the ceremony a buffet supper was served. Mrs. O. M. Elliott, Mrs. B. J. Ailes, Mrs. A. D. Palmer and a bevy of young girls assisted. About one hundred invitations were issued for the wedding and the bride received an array of attractive gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Raach left Thursday for a wedding trip and on their return will be at home to their friends at 1680 Fir street.

Miss Elsie Dimel, the charming San Francisco girl, who is to be the guest of Miss Elizabeth Lord again this summer will arrive next week. Miss Dimel has numerous friends in Salem society and during her visit here she will be deluged with social compliments.

One of the most attractive functions of the week was the large reception for which President and Mrs. Carl Gregg Doney were hosts Monday evening in honor of the graduating class of Willamette University.

Receiving with President and Mrs. Doney were Dr. and Mrs. Henry Talbot, Dr. and Mrs. George H. Alden and Miss Julia Todd. At the door the guests were greeted by Mrs. Gustave Elsen, Mrs. John Hall and Miss Mattie Beatty.

The Doney residence was decked with a profusion of lovely roses and carnations, which made an effective foil for the large assemblage, and the matrons and maids assisting about the rooms and presiding at the punch bowl and ice.

During the first hour Mrs. R. J. Hendricks, Mrs. R. S. Wallace, Mrs. R. N. Avison and Mrs. E. T. Barnes presided, their places being taken by Mrs. Thomas B. Kay, Mrs. A. N. Bush, Mrs. John Albert and Mrs. A. N. Moores.

Among the other matrons and maids assisting in the various rooms were: Mrs. Alice H. Dodd, Mrs. Frank Willbur Chase, Mrs. W. E. Kirk, Mrs. J. H. Lauterman, Mrs. M. C. Findley, Mrs. Burgess Ford, Mrs. A. A. Lee, Mrs. R. E. Stauffer, Mrs. Florian Von Eschen, Miss Mary Reynolds, Mrs. T. W. Harris and Miss Elsie Evans of Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Sutherland will go to Portland tomorrow, for a few days visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Thielson have had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Brennan Van Dusen of Astoria.

Mrs. Elmer Ludden has as her guest Miss Mildred Bagley, whose wedding to David McCaughey Graham, of Eugene will be a simple event of Wednesday night.

The return of Miss Winifred Byrd from New York causes much rejoicing among her host of friends. She is very popular in Salem society and has been greatly missed from the winter's festivities.

Miss Byrd had an interesting and wonderful sojourn in New York and although she devoted most of her time to her music, she enjoyed a round of gayeties among many others, ice skating which is the craze in New York and all eastern cities. While in New York Miss Byrd played at several prominent musical clubs and also at a number of musicales, which is exceedingly flattering for one's first season. Miss Byrd mingled much with the musical set this winter, and met many interesting artists, among them being the famous pianist Loginski, who is considered by the critics the most remarkable of the young pianists before the public.

Although Miss Byrd is of course, delighted to be home, she is already looking forward to her return next season when she will make her formal debut in Aeolian Hall.

Mrs. Chester A. Moores (Luce Moreland) of Portland is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moreland.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Bush left Friday in their car for Seattle, where Mr. Bush will attend the installation of a chapter of "Psi Upsilon" at the University of Washington.

Asahel Bush and George Palmer Putnam, who also motored to Seattle for the installation, left the same morning in the former's car. They were accompanied by Albert Wakeman who joined them in Portland.

Mr. Bush and Mr. Asahel Bush are members of the "Psi U" chapter at Amhurst and Mrs. Putnam of the University of California.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben O. Schucking entertained Friday evening with a small informal dinner. A huge bowl of red roses centered the artistically appointed table. Covers were placed for six.

In honor of Miss Mildred Bagley, a charming bride-to-be, Mrs. Curtis B. Cross will entertain on Monday with a small tea. The affair will be most informal, only a few of the bride-elect's closest friends being asked.

Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Steeves who have been on an extended trip east, are expected home Sunday.

P ORTLAND'S gates were thrown wide open this week and a huge exodus took Salem society to the Rose Festival. Scores and scores motored down for the gayeties, and others accompanied the Cherrins, who occupied a conspicuous place among Portland's festival merry makers.

Among those attending the festivities during the week were: Mr. and Mrs. George Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baumgartner, Mr. and Mrs. W. Melvin Plimpton, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Olcott, Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Livesley, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Bishop, Mrs. Charles Gray and many others.

Mrs. John H. Albert and Mrs. Charles Park entertained Thursday afternoon at one of the smartest affairs of the week. It was a charming Kensington and was given at the attractive Albert residence on Smith Winter street.

The rooms were gaily adorned with quantities of yellow poppies and vases of roses and the tea table was presided over by Mrs. William Brown. Mrs. John Scott assisted the hostesses.

The guests included the matrons of the Thursday afternoon club and several popular visitors, who were Mrs. Brennan Van Dusen of Astoria; Mrs. Jessup of Boise, and Mrs. William Stiger of Portland.

A charming luncheon was given today by Mrs. George Palmer Putnam in honor of her house guest Miss Pearl Hightower of Bend, Oregon. The Misses Mabel and Florence Loran of Monmouth motored over for the affair and were accompanied home by Miss Hightower who will be their guest.

An engagement that will be of interest to many of Salem's younger set has just been made known in Eugene. The charming bride-to-be is Miss Laura Campbell who has visited here on several occasions and has many friends in Salem society.

Miss Campbell has announced her engagement to Sidney Henderson of Marshfield, Oregon.

The wedding will be solemnized in the early fall.

The bride-elect is the daughter of President and Mrs. P. L. Campbell, the former being president of the University of Oregon. Miss Campbell is a graduate of Oregon and a popular member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Mr. Henderson is an Oregon man, a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity in Eugene. While attending college Mr. Henderson was a devotee of athletics. At present he is engaged in business in Marshfield.

California has lured scores of Salem folk this season, and secretly a week passes by that some one is not leaving or planning a trip south. Many desiring to devote much of the time to motoring, drive down or take their cars with them. They have all manner of gayeties, and the stay there is always replete with glorious entertainment.

Among those who will leave next week in a party are Mr. and Mrs. George G. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Meyers, Mrs. D. W. Mathews, Miss Barbara Steiner and Miss Gertrude Cunningham. While in California Mr. Brown and Mr. Meyers will attend the Knights Templar triennial convulse in Los Angeles.

A small informal dinner was presided over by Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brown Monday. Their guests were, Mr. and Mrs. Deane Haynes and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Paine of Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer Putnam and their house guest Miss Pearl Hightower, of Bend, Oregon.

Mrs. Frank Schmidt and small son Teddy, who left Friday for Portland, sailed today on the Northern Pacific for San Francisco. They will remain south all summer and will be the guests of relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McGilchrist have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Collier of Klamath Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Will De Lay of Glendale. The party motored to Salem and will remain over the week end.

Mrs. Robert Kinney of Astoria will arrive the first of the week for the Bagley-Graham wedding, which will be an event of Wednesday night. She will be the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Moores.

A group of little folks gathered at the home of Miss Elaine Brown Tuesday afternoon to participate in the gayeties of her seventh birthday party given at the home of her parents, Attorney General and Mrs. George M. Brown.

The little guests were: Francis Dick, Rosalind Van Winkle, Margaret and Elizabeth Lewis, Francis Martin, Mabel and Mary Capper, Teddy Schmidt, Anna Peterson, Frances and Jason Bailey, and Helen Ashlman.

An informal dinner party will be given tonight by Mr. and Mrs. John E. Brophy. Their guests will include: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wendeloth, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wiedner, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson, Dr. and Mrs. Armin Steiner, and Mr. and Mrs. George Riches.

Attorney General and Mrs. George M. Brown had as their guests this week Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Bellows and family and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bellows of Roseburg.

A happy birthday party was given Miss Fern Winchell on Tuesday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Winchell of 909 North Cottage street. The young folks enjoyed games, and later refreshments closed the gayeties.

The decorations were all prettily carried out in a pink and white color scheme. A huge birthday cake centered the table, and dainty wax rose buds holding a tiny candle marked the places. Individual cakes were served, and in the heart of one, a pretty ring was found by Miss Leah Ross. During the afternoon Mrs. T. C. McGowan, Mrs. Shipp and Mrs. Gilson called to see the youngsters.

Mrs. Winchell was assisted by Mrs. Charles E. Harbort. The young guests were: Leah Ross, Bertha Vick, Violet Purdy, Genevieve Harbort, Myrtle Shipp, Elsie Gilson and Vera Purdy.

An interesting mid week event was the annual banquet of the Willamette University alumni association at the Hotel Marion Wednesday evening honoring the class of 1896 and 1891. A feature of the evening was the unusually delightful programme.

The first number by the Willamette quartet made a fitting introduction to the clever address of Professor James T. Matthews in which he presented the class of 1916. Walter Gleiser, president, responded and the members of the class sang this year's glee song.

N. M. Newport, president of the alumni association then introduced C. B. Moores of Portland as toastmaster, who presided at the following programme:

Roll call of classes. The class of '96, Mrs. Mary (Robinson) Gilkey, '96.

"Wallpaper," fifty years ago, Mr. J. M. Garrison, '8.

"Old Historic Temple," Alumni quartet.

"Willamette" today, Dr. Carl G. Doney.

Willamette's first athletics, Dr. F. E. Brown, '98.

The class of '91, Mrs. Carrie (Royal) Mumford, '91.

Musical university quartet. "Trusties," Mrs. T. S. McDaniel.

The chapel, Miss Laura Heist, '14.

Music of the mill race, Mr. C. B. Harrison, '12.

Song, "Hail Willamette, My Willamette."

The same club and several additional guests were entertained recently at the home of Miss Mary Hunt on Chemeketa street. It was the last meeting of the club and the usual programme was dispensed with and the afternoon was devoted to fancy work. Artistic year books containing programmes for 1916-17 were presented to each member.

During the afternoon a committee composed of Mrs. E. E. Botsford and Julia Iverson drew up resolutions in honor of the late Mrs. J. A. Churchill a much lamented and beloved member of the club.

The hostess served a buffet luncheon, and the coffee urn was presided over by Mrs. Dee Gholson.

The club members present were Mrs. Botsford, Mrs. Putnam, Mrs. Vase, Mrs. Butcherford, Mrs. Gholson, Misses Fawc, Iverson, Rutherford and Hunt. The additional guests were Mrs. Ida Noonan of Clatsop, New Mexico, Mrs. Claude Knight of The Dalles, Mrs. East and Mrs. Endicott.

Miss Philippina Schmidt of Olympia, Washington, is the guest of her brother Frederick Schmidt at the Court apartments.

Wednesday the Daughters of the American Revolution will motor to "Bethmore," the country home of Mrs. Seymour Jones, to celebrate Flag day.

Mrs. W. A. Penny and Mrs. B. W. Walcher were hostesses for a delightful Kensington at the home of the former on Thursday afternoon. An array of fragrant pink and white roses were prettily arranged about the rooms. Dainty refreshments rounded out an enjoyable afternoon.

Those present were: Mrs. Frank Schellbauer, Mrs. A. Bonhart, Mrs. Fred McIntyre, Mrs. C. A. Arpke, Mrs. J. E. Pollock, Mrs. B. A. Kennedy, Mrs. William J. Busick, Mrs. George Shaw, Mrs. R. E. Wilson, Mrs. George Johnston, Mrs. J. Hall, Mrs. George Hobson, Mrs. S. E. Wolfe, Mrs. Clifford Elgin and Miss P. Aline.

Mrs. Joseph G. Palmer and daughter Miss Emily Palmer left today for Chicago where Miss Palmer will attend summer school at Chicago University. Later in the summer they will go to Colorado Springs, returning to Salem in time for the opening of school in September.

J. L. Stockton went to Portland this morning where he will join Mrs. Stockton and Miss Zoe Stockton for a few days visit.

About a dozen members of the Cherry City Thimble club motored recently to the home of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Jenks in Tangent for the day.

The rooms were a bower of garden flowers, and the refreshment table was prettily decked with a huge bowl of pink roses. Mrs. Jenks was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Smith and her sister, Mrs. Jenks.

Those present were Mesdames W. R. McAlvin, Grant Flake, L. W. Gleason, William Daniels, Elmer Lane, William Breilke, Frank Flake, Homer Marsh, O. L. Donaldson and Edward Prunk.

BELL-ANS

Absolutely Removes Indigestion. One package proves it. 25c at all druggists.

About twenty-five ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps enjoyed the afternoon Thursday at the home of Mrs. J. Shipp.

The afternoon was devoted to needle work and later refreshments were served by the hosts assisted by the Mesdames J. Snover, E. Morgan and Elizabeth Ross.

Mrs. L. W. Potter entertained the members of the Pringle and Pleasant Point social club at her home near the Peble Minded school on Thursday. The rooms were prettily adorned with roses. In the dining room the table was decked with a huge basket of the same blossoms intermingled with sprays of greenery. The afternoon was spent with needle work, and later a business session was called, the members discussing plans for an all fresco affair to be given in the near future. Assisting the hostess in the serving were Mrs. C. C. Harris and Miss Bellinger.

Those present were: Mrs. C. C. Best, Mrs. C. C. Harris, Mrs. Schoppert, Mrs. J. W. Robertson, Mrs. J. M. Coburn, Mrs. E. S. Costes, Mrs. D. Vanderbilt, Mrs. W. R. Robins, Misses Ethel Yates, Edith Bollinger, Grace Robertson, Margery Piper, Fern Harris, Evelyn Coburn and Ellis Harris.

The studio tea given Monday by the pupils of the Fish school of Expression was one of the most enjoyable of the year's functions. The studio was beautifully decorated with roses, and an enthusiastic audience filled the rooms to their capacity.

"The Home by the Side of the Road" (Foss) and "To a Water Lily" (Aron) were given by Mrs. Kazmarek of the cultural course. Mrs. Kazmarek's style is exceedingly graceful and simple, and her interpretations of literary classics are very satisfying.

"Kneedeep in June" (Riley) was read by Ted Howard with a fine degree of earnestness and vigor.

Grace Babcock gave "When Angelina a Shopping Goes" (Dusman), "Elmer Brown" (Riley), "I Asked My Pa" (Aron) distinguishing between the different styles of interpretation in a versatile manner.

Miss Lavonne Coppock gave "The Post That Fitted" (Kipling) with a delicious appreciation of the situation. Her charming presentation of the child in "The 'Hen'" (Cooke) captivated her audience.

Miss Beatrice Walton read the monologues so widely different that her equitable rendition showed her great versatility. "Giving a Tea" (Herford) and "Aunt Dooley" (Dallas) both delighted the audience. Miss Walton's work is especially strong in character drawing.
