Rumors of War Cause Anxious Moments in Salem's Militia Homes

"War and Rumors of War" floated about Salem last evening and remained floating most of the night and an occasional rumor was seen drifting even as late as this forenoon. Dame rumor had it that Company M had been ordered to the Mexican border and in less than half an hour after the Dame whispered her report a complete mobilization order was on the wing of gossip. The Dame merely whispered that the vague report was about that someone suspected that the state militia might be ordered out—maybe. From that the mobilization order grew and each self appointed reporter filled out the blanks in the order from imagination until the complete report was that the company had been ordered to Mexico to capture Villa and all of his villains, take Carranza prisoner and force his army to take a bath. It was also reported that the company would leave on the 7 o'clock train Sunday morning for the "front."

The rumor has been traced to a single source where it was merely an innocent inquiry relative to a rumor which originated in Portland as a result of the late Mexican raid yesterday. The "seeker after truth" went to the army to ask some of the boys if they had heard anything about it. It happened that there were about 500 Elks in the auditorium at this time, about 11:30, and in passing from mouth to mouth about the table the rumor became strangely twisted and grew to gigantic proportions.

Twelve green hides which were stolen from a slaughter house at Albany were found yesterday evening by P. W. Burger in a pile of driftwood across the river from the bathing beach. They were reported to the police who recovered them and will return them to their owner at Albany. It is thought the hides were left there by F. W. Barr and Charles Douglas, the two men who were arrested June 6 by the Salem police upon a description received from Albany. The men were returned to Albany where they were held over to the grand jury and are now in jail.

Rep. F. West is chairman of the auto parade for Monday July 3, Cherry fair day, and according to Mr. West's modest statement, it will be the biggest auto parade ever pulled off in the city of Salem. He says there is no doubt about it. Already the owners of 125 cars have signed up to decorate their cars and take part in the parade, competing for the three prizes, first $25, second $15, and third $10. But this is just a beginning as Mr. West has about 75 more owners of cars lined up, placing his figures at 200 decorated autos in line, compared to 50 of one year ago. There will be a Ford section and all fortunate possessors of Fords are requested to telephone Donald Miles and notify him of their intentions to enter. Lodges will also compete for the three cash prizes. The S. A. R. and D. A. R. will be represented and even the Sunday schools are to enter one car each. Mr. West says this will be some auto parade.

During June, July and August, is just as good a time as any to start a course of study at the Capital Business college. A new class in shorthand session and a new class in shorthand session all summer. Special studies, such as writing, typewriting and arithmetic may be taken, if desired. June 17

Prof. C. M. McKelips, dean of the North Pacific Pharmacy college of Portland was in the city yesterday just looking around and saying a few kind words for his college. He was the dean of the first pharmacy school established in Oregon at the O. A. C. in 1889, where he remained until two years ago.

Uniforms Add Color.

About this time each of the militiamen who attended the Great Preparedness film shown at the Grand Theater came out on the street at the end of the show and this added fuel to the flames. The militiamen attended the show as guests of Manager Righ and they wore their service uniforms. Then Captain Gehlbart's telephone set up a steady ring and from 11:30 until 3 o'clock this morning, it rang continuously. At 5 o'clock today it started in again and the Captain grew hoarse asuring wives, mothers, sweethearts, lady friends, cousins, and maiden aunts that "There would be no war."

It appears that the rumors is absolutely without basis and only a succession of circumstances all coming at once served to start the rumor which refused to down. As a matter of fact if there ever is a mobilization order issued it will be sent by the president of United States direct to the adjutant general of Oregon who will communicate to the battalion and company officers. The company officers will notify the non-commissioned officers who will notify the men in their squads and no company will ever be mobilized by rumor. The non-commissioned officers of Company M are going out for special field instruction next Sunday at 7 o'clock and the public is hereby warned that they are not going to war, neither are they being for the hills to leave Salem defenseless and open to an attack by the army of Yucatan or the Swiss navy.

COURT HOUSE NEWS

A suit was filed in the circuit court today by the Star Land Company against Katie Holmes and J. P. Holmes and John J. Turner and Provoy J. Turner, his wife, to foreclose a mortgage on parts of lots 1, 2 and 3, of block 2, Central addition to Salem and on lot 13, Liberty Fruit Farms. The note which is alleged due is for $1,150 and in addition to a judgment in this amount the plaintiff seeks to recover interest and cost and $100 attorney's fees. Carey F. Martin is attorney for the plaintiff.

Chris Pollis, of Stayton, today made $47 by being locked in the county jail for one whole minute. Pollis was convicted in the justice court of Stayton for assault and battery and was fined $5 and costs. The costs amounted to $47 and this would have made a virtual fine of $52 had Pollis paid it without being committed to jail. However, he accepted the jail sentence in default of his $5 fine and declared he would serve it out. He was brought to this city by the constable and turned over to the sheriff who locked him in jail. Pollis had $5 on him when arrested and no sooner had the door been locked and the sheriff turned away than Pollis rattled the door and demanded to be allowed to pay his fine. This, of course, is the right of every man who has the money but when a man goes to jail in default of fine he cannot be taxed for costs or be required to serve them out, so Pollis got out of jail and the paying of $47 costs by one minute's headwork.

A marriage license was issued today to John Diehl, a fireman of Mt. Angel, and Anna Keben, an assistant cashier, also of Mt. Angel.

The booze shipments into Salem and Marion county have shown a steady increase since January which indicates that the stores which were left in for the drought are slowly giving out and the "two quart a month" rule is being worked in many instances. In January a total of 370 sales and shipments were reported; in February this was increased to 711 and in March 1176 was the total. This grew to 1227 in April and May shows a total of 1487 with the possibility of all of the reports not being in yet. The common carriers brought in far the greater amount of the booze or 304 shipments during this time, as far as drug stores are concerned, it will be an external use only and still 81 prescriptions calling for intoxicating liquor making a total of 5011 sales in five months under the dry law.

Sheriff Esch today received a letter from A. R. Cook, a former prominent Salem citizen who now resides in Chicago. Cook says he has a fairly good position in Chicago and could get a better one if he were not under parole. He is going to endeavor to persuade Governor Withycombe to give him a full pardon. He is living with his wife in Chicago where he went a year ago and is in the custody of the penitentiary. He is going to be released from the penitentiary signed by the post office department will have to be used on all rural routes. Just at present a large size mail box worth a dollar may be bought for half price.

W. E. Slater, former secretary of the Elk lodge and Milo Bussness will leave this evening for Portland and tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock take the steamer Great Northern for San Francisco. They are on their way to Detroit where they expect to remain.

Bunker Hill day will be duly observed by the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Sons of the American Revolution by the reading of a history of the battle, written by Winthrop Hammond at the public library Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. Bunker Hill day was recently organized by the S. A. R. in cooperation with the D. A. R. in observing Bunker Hill day, following the custom of all chapters in the country. Mrs. A. J. Rahn will sing several patriotic songs. The public is invited to attend.

Colonel's Condition Alarms His Family

New York, June 16.—Colonel Roosevelt suffered another coughing spell during the night and was feeling much worse today. It was admitted at his hotel today that his condition is alarming his family.

The colonel left the hotel with Dr. Hubert V. Goff, who has been called in consultation, and went to the physician's office for examination. He shook his head when asked how he felt and whispered "I don't know a thing boys" when reporters met him. He finds difficulty in talking and appeared to be in great pain.

Several persons who called for conferences today were turned back at the hotel, Roosevelt refusing to see them.

Golf and Tennis to Be Played at Eugene

Tomorrow a party of golfers and tennis players of the Habee club will visit Eugene to engage in a friendly contest with the members of the Eugene Country club.

The golf players of Salem are practically beginners. Therefore, they do not expect to carry away very many honors but they do expect to get a lot of good pointers from their Eugene friends.

The tennis players are stronger and will be more likely to hold their own. The Finzer links are now getting in fine shape and with the completion of the new sand greens the local enthusiasts will undoubtedly put in more time.

316 Accidents Are Reported to Commission

During the past week, June 9 to 15, inclusive, there were reported to the state industrial accident commission 316 accidents, of which one was fatal. Following is the name of the fatally injured:

James C. McIntyre, Enterprise, logging.

Of the total number reported, 253 were subject to the compensation act, 34 were from public utility corporations, 28 were from firms and corporations who have rejected the provisions of the act, one was from a firm which does not employ labor in hazardous occupations, and one was from a firm operating under the act, a passenger being injured.

Polk Farmers' Union Would Recall Officials

Dallas, Ore., June 15.—Inauguration of a movement for the recall of County Judge Paul and County Commissioner Beckett was voted, 31 to 9, yesterday at a joint meeting of the Polk County Farmers' Union and the Polk County Taxpayers' League. Some 125 persons at the session kept their seats when a rising vote was taken.

The two officials were bitterly arraigned by speakers for their action in ordering the construction of a concrete bridge in place of the steel trestle at Independence and the changing of a road to eliminate two curves.

County Clerk Robinson and Circuit Judge Bolt came in for criticism by the speakers, the former being accused of obtaining deeds to the property necessary for the improvement after a suit to enjoin it had been filed, and the latter for his refusal to grant a restraining order.
