

MEXICAN RUMORS SAY ULTIMATUM IS GIVEN

Trevino actually was acting under orders from Carranza in sending the note, as he stated to Pershing. They hoped it would be shown Trevino exceeded his instructions either intentionally or otherwise.

In any event some officials believed the communication to Pershing could not be overlooked, coming as it does on the heels of the last Carranza note, which by many was called "too abrupt."

The Mexican embassy today branded the published text of the Trevino message as "a farce." It said the embassy has not been informed that any message was sent but that such an action by Trevino was possible.

Officials admitted again today, however, that "the situation carries a degree of extreme danger." But they added that there will be neither war nor intervention except through some overt act such as an attack on American forces by organized Carranza troops.

San Antonio, Texas, June 17.—General Funston today received a message from General Bell at El Paso stating that Carranza forces in northern Mexico, is understood to have warned General Pershing that any attempt to send additional troops into Mexico, or move the American forces now there, would be considered sufficient provocation for an attack by Carranza's troops.

The total known Mexican dead in the raid was brought to nine by the finding of another body on the American side. Three bandits were captured near the scene last night.

Figures compiled in army headquarters here today show that 30 American soldiers have been killed and more than 100 wounded by Mexicans since Luis De La Rosa began his raids near Brownsville.

Columbus reports stated that the communication might be construed as a threat of attack in case of a further American advance into Mexico.

El Paso, Texas, June 17.—Official knowledge of any Carranza threat to attack American troops were denied by General Bell at Fort Bliss today.

Three Candidates Up for School Director

Three candidates have filed for school director of District No. 24, known as the Salem district and will come before the qualified voters next Monday, and as the legal time for filing expired today noon, no other names will be voted on.

The names, according to the order in which they were filed with W. H. Burghardt, Jr., clerk of the school board, are H. L. Clark, Robin K. Page and Frank Jaskoski.

The polls will be open Monday afternoon from 2 until 6 o'clock and the voting booths are located as follows: Ward 1, Garfield school; Ward 2, police court room in the city hall; Ward 3, office of William Brown & Co., South Commercial street; Ward 4, office of Halverson & Burns; Ward 5, Grant school; Ward 6, Burgers' confectionery store, Seventh street; Ward 7, Lincoln school.

Only those may vote whose names are on the assessor's tax list, or who can produce evidence, if called on, showing they are owners of stock in a firm or corporation doing business in the city. A legal voter is a male or female over 21 years old with the proper qualifications.

Miss Imma Larson, of Quincy, who was the motif for questionable litigation recently, now has a home of her own for a marriage license was issued today which will permit James Monroe Sturgis, a farmer of Brooks, to wed Miss Larson.

The Silverton creamery, made a record in the month of May. Fifteen tons of butter were manufactured, thus outdistancing by many pounds of butter any previous month in the history of the creamery.

Berlin, via London, June 17.—The repulse of a French patrol struck near Beaulieu is officially reported by the German war office today. Artillery duels are in progress on the Verdun front.

Salem was well represented this morning on the steamboat Great Northern when it sailed from Flavel for San Francisco. On their way to Los Angeles to attend the 33rd convocation of the grand lodge of Knights of Templars were S. S. East, F. E. Shafter and son, Glen C. Miles and Henry Shoemaker.

Market Shades Off On Mexican Account New York, June 17.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today said: The reactionary tendency which developed in the stock market toward the close of the session yesterday on the rumors of the impending mobilization of the national guard for service in Mexico was accentuated this morning by the definite announcement that General Carranza had issued orders that if any more troops crossed the border or if any attempt was made to move the troops already there east-west or south, they would be attacked by the Mexican forces.

An irregularly heavy opening was followed by an interval of weakness in the course of which Mexican Petroleum declined about two points, while losses ranging from a large fraction to a full point and more were freely distributed throughout the list. Standard railway issues offered greater resistance to the forces of reaction than other groups, but St. Paul declined a full point and Reading, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and others of that kind declined fractionally. Losses were not much if any in the closing half of the session but the market, while a shade better, developed no pronounced rally.
