

Run Over to Holland to Enjoy Real Square Meal

By William G. Shepherd.
(United Press staff correspondent.)
Rotterdam, Holland, May 25.—(By Mail.)—Babies seven months to a year old are eating carrots, apples and spinach in Germany.

Other folks besides babies are having food troubles. These food stories will tell about them all.

If you visit the consulates here and keep your eyes on the incoming trains you can meet, every day, a scant few persons who have just come from Germany and who will gladly tell you what experiences they have had in their kitchens, dining rooms and stomachs since the food stringency in Germany became noticeable.

These travelers feel themselves heroes, as, indeed, you come to regard them, in a manner of speaking, when you see them abandon themselves to a full man's sized meal here.

Travelers to Berlin, especially the American writing kind, live at the best hotels. They return with stories of plentiful and excellent food.

Berlin is the wartime show place of Germany and the hotels where writers go are the wartime show places of Berlin. What the American writers have said of the plentifulness and the excellence of the food, is not necessarily true.

Here in Rotterdam you get the truth, straight from the dining rooms and kitchens of civilians in every part of Germany. It indicates that life in Germany is uncomfortable, highly so, for a civilian who is keeping house.

Here's a Swedish mechanic from Germany, running around Rotterdam filling his arms with packages of bacon, bottles of olive oil and rice. Perhaps the Hollanders will refuse him permission to take these things across the border but, "I'm going to make a try of it," he says.

Here's a pretty American girl dining alone in a Rotterdam restaurant. She's studying music in Berlin. "I've just run over to Holland to spend a week eating," she says.

Here's a Spanish woman with three little children. "I brought the baby down to get him some milk. He is tired of carrots, spinach and apples. No wonder; he is only seven months."

And here are Germans—rich, elderly, retired Germans—who haunt the doorways of the hotel restaurants, waiting for the American plan dinner bell to ring and who seem to be always eating, even at the hated English tea hour. They are here a week. Then they go back to Germany.

Germany, civilian Germany is hungry. Not hungry for victuals, because victuals are anything a human being can eat and digest. But for decent food like meat and wheat and milk and animal and vegetable fats. (How and why tiny, toothless German babies eat apples, carrots, spinach and oatmeal, instead of gurgling milk, will be the subject of Shepherd's next German food story.)

CAMPBELL IS SORE AND CLUB IS SORRY

Suggested Sign Not To Judge Town by Depot Riles Railroad Man

The Commercial club was busy at its meeting last night explaining one of its little jokes. The joke appears to have pleased the members of the club, but the joke, the Southern Pacific to whom it was directed could not see it in a humorous way and lost no time in making the fact known.

It all came from a suggestion made at a former meeting that a sign be erected near the S. P. depot with the legend "Do not judge our town by its depot." The sign would have soon been forgotten had not the Oakland Advertising club stopped off in the city a few days later, and on its travels proceeded to give publicity entirely unexpected.

President Joseph H. Albert said that the members of the club had been called together to get an expression of opinion regarding the depot joke, especially as he understood the S. P. officials were inclined to feel sore about it.

W. M. Hamilton believed persuasive methods were best and was not inclined to antagonize railway officials, especially as he had been informed that already the men high in railway circles were kindly disposed toward our city.

S. G. Deekobach said that assistant general manager Campbell was indignant at the action of the club, saying that the railroad had shown its friendship towards Salem in various ways. The railroad official was also considerably provoked on account of a few jesting remarks that appeared in the first and only copy of the pamphlet entitled "The Cherry City Rooster," issued the day the Oakland Ad men were visitors.

Club is Sympathetic

In order to show the Southern Pacific that the Commercial club was composed of good fellows, notwithstanding the fact that all of them enjoyed an occasional good joke, the following resolution, introduced by W. M. Hamilton and seconded by T. B. Kay, was unanimously passed:

Whereas, a motion was made in a spirit of jest at the annual meeting of the club on the 7th of this month to the effect that the club should erect a sign near the present depot bearing the words "Do not judge our town by the depot," and

Whereas, certain other remarks about the present depot were made in a spirit of jest in a pamphlet entitled "Cherry City Rooster," published during the visit of the Oakland Ad club without ratification by the club; and

Whereas, both the motion regarding the sign and the remarks in the pamphlet have been given much publicity in a way to convey the idea to the public and officials of the company that the club was on unfriendly terms with the company and did not appreciate the attitude the company had taken upon the request of the club for a new depot.

Now, therefore, be it resolved, that the club does hereby rescind the aforesaid motion and does also hereby declare that said motion and remarks in the above mentioned pamphlet, do not indicate the true attitude of the club toward the company, and that the club does appreciate the attitude that the company has thus far taken relative to the new depot, and urge the company to do everything possible towards having it erected as soon as possible, as the need for a new building is felt very keenly by every one in Salem.

Attack and Kill American Prospector

Douglas, Ariz., June 22.—Mexicans who had armed themselves for war attacked the camp of two American prospectors near Campas, and after a hot fight killed James Parks and took his partner prisoner. It was learned here today. One Mexican was killed and several wounded by the besieged Americans. North Hand, the partner, was imprisoned in the jail at Navajero. News of the fight was brought here by Green C. Bush, a miner, and a number of other refugees.

Hundreds of Mexicans poured into the nearly deserted Mexican town of Agua Prieta, across the line here today, from the vicinity of Douglas.

SOUTH AMERICA BEING STIRRED BY MEXICO

Has Agents In Latin Countries Trying To Unite Them Against Us

By Charles P. Stewart.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
Buenos Aires, June 22.—The Mexican government today launched an extensive anti-United States propaganda in South America.

Former Argentine Congressman Palacio has accepted an offer to make a speaking tour against the United States.

He is working directly under the auspices of the Mexican Federation of Labor.

The information being authorized by General Carranza is circulating matter throughout Argentina and other South American states aiming to stir up hostilities to the United States. The newspaper La Prensa this morning prints a declaration from Carranza's information agency that the United States regards Mexico as the first obstacle in her expansion southward.

"The fate of Mexico is decisive for all Latin America," the statement declared.

Argentine students are organizing a mass meeting to be held Monday to protest against American intervention.

Mexican Ambassador 'Makes Official Report'

Washington, June 22.—Secretary Lansing and Mexican Ambassador Arredondo went into conference at 11:55 a. m. at Arredondo's request to consider the American note and fight at Carrizal. The ambassador was acting under instructions received today from Carranza.

Explanation of the presence of General Pershing's men so far from their headquarters and also of the fighting at Carrizal, together with the taking of two Mexican towns by Pershing, was asked by Ambassador Arredondo.

Secretary Lansing replied he had no information on the subject but would inquire.

Arredondo's information as to the Carrizal trouble tallied with newspaper accounts springing from Mexican sources. He called the attention of the department to what he regarded the lack of prudence on the part of the American commander in going so far from his headquarters. Arredondo held it was unnecessary for the Americans to make this move. His information, he said, was direct.

The Mexican embassy later gave out General Carranza's instructions, through his minister of foreign affairs, to Arredondo including his statement on the Carrizal battle. It follows:

"Please bring to the attention of the department of state that an engagement occurred today (Wednesday) at Carrizal near Villa Ahumada, Chihuahua, between American forces numbering about 200 men and a force of our government troops. During this engagement General Felix Gomez and several of our soldiers as well as several Americans were killed. Our forces captured 17 prisoners, and, according to a statement by the interpreter who was acting as a guide for the American troops, the commander of the latter is responsible for the engagement.

Several dead were left on both sides, according to the Mexican envoy, while 17 Americans were captured by Carranzistas.

The session lasted only a short time.

One of These Decisions Is Certainly Wrong

An anomalous condition will be straightened out in the supreme court on July 5, when the case of Berridge against Marion county and that of Mackenzie against Douglas county are argued.

In both actions the question of payment for expediting the books of the various county departments furnishes the bone of contention. Arthur Berridge examined the records of this county at the order of the county court and later submitted a bill for $1,500 which the county refused to pay.

Berridge applied for a writ of review in the circuit court but Judge Gallegos decided that Berridge erred in not making a formal complaint and Berridge lost out. He applied to the supreme court. Sam Richardson appears

Longshoremen At All Points Renew Strike

San Francisco, June 22.—Their new demands having been refused, longshoremen in every Pacific coast port resumed their strike today. Ship owners, in many cases, continued work with non-union men. The river boats, it was announced, would soon resume regular schedules with dockhand labor. An ultimatum, demanding that all non-unionists be discharged, was served on the employees yesterday. It expired at 5 p. m., and the strikers refused to go to work today. Sevens gathered at the wharves jeering the strikebreakers.
