

SOCIETY and CLUBS

By ALINE THOMPSON

ALl affairs of a frivolous nature were held in abeyance this week and the social calendar has been practically a blank. The mobilization of Company M. O. N. G., east a decided gloom over Salem and the soldier boy was the all absorbing topic. Salem has been bubbling over with patriotism, and matrons and maids deserted most of the week's gaieties to sew or raise funds for the soldiers. The tuning up of public spirit to a higher degree of patriotism was effectively accomplished by the members of the newly organized Salem Patriotic League, who have worked zealously all week.

Society is now preparing for the annual Cherry Fair, which promises to be one of the biggest pageants that Salem has ever known. This year every one is manifesting a marked enthusiasm in the festival and many prominent men and women will enter their cars in the floral parade. A number of society matrons and maids who are always willing to be of assistance wherever necessary, are taking an active interest in the baby show and scores of responses are pouring into the headquarters of the committee from parents of little tots, who will vie with each other for honors. In fact the enthusiasm has been such that directors of the association are confident that this year's parades will eclipse in point of size and artistry any previous festival.

Mrs. William Dancy has proven herself a most efficient chairman, and to her efforts and those of the committee, is due the credit of the pageant.

Another feature and a fitting close to the gaieties of the festival will be the ball, which will be given at the armory Monday night, under the auspices of the Cherrians.

A charming and exceptionally pretty affair of the mid-week was the luncheon and bridge for which Mrs. John H. Scott was hostess Wednesday. The room was festooned with Caroline Testout roses effectively arranged in hanging baskets and vases, a huge art basket of the same blossoms and lace ferns centered the luncheon table, covers being placed for 16.

Mrs. Susie Jones presided over the coffee urn, and Mrs. John Albert assisted.

At bridge the card favors were won by Mrs. C. H. Robertson and Mrs. Charles K. Spaulding. The matrons of the Happy Hour Bridge club were guests and included:

Mrs. Thomas B. Kay, Mrs. John D. Sutherland, Mrs. John H. Albert, Mrs. C. H. Robertson, Mrs. David Eyre, Mrs. Lenta Westcott, Mrs. Charles K. Spaulding, Mrs. Anna Eoff, Mrs. Robert Downing, Mrs. Frank Brown, Mrs. Louis Lachmund, Mrs. Joseph Albert, Mrs. H. J. Bean, Mrs. John Griffith, Mrs. E. S. Tillinghast and Mrs. Susie Jones, who was an additional guest.

Mrs. Joseph Rodehild (Margaret Egna) and small son Fritz, who have been the guests at the country place of the former's father, W. H. Egan, returned to Portland Friday.

Mrs. Ruthchild frequently comes to Salem to see her family and her visits are always made delightful by many little attentions from her host of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. "Jack" Currie entertained recently with a pretty bridge party at their residence on the Silverton road. The guests motored out for the affair, and included the members of the "Oaks Bridge Club."

Five tables were arranged for bridge, card honors falling to Mrs. Homer Smith and John Caughill. The room was attractive with sweet peas and greens, artistically arranged in jars and vases.

Mrs. Currie was assisted by Mrs. G. E. Hall of Portland.

Those playing were: Mr. and Mrs.

Homer Smith, Mr. and Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Deckebusch, Mr. and Mrs. William Thielsen, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Siocke, Mr. and Mrs. John Caughill, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Hartling, Mrs. Lovelace, Mrs. Fred S. Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Hall of Portland.

Mrs. Rollin K. Page entertained Thursday at one of the smart bridge parties of the week. The rooms where the card tables were arranged were charming with an airy array of Thousand Beauty roses.

The matrons of the Bridge club and several additional guests were asked to make up three tables of the game. Mrs. Edgar Hartley was awarded the high score honor.

Those playing were: Mrs. Henry W. Meyers, Mrs. Fred S. Stewart, Mrs. William C. Knighton, Mrs. George E. Waters, Mrs. E. Cooke Patton, Mrs. Thomas B. Kay, Mrs. William H. Boot, Mrs. Henry J. Schneiderman, Mrs. E. E. Waters, Mrs. Charles L. Dick, Mrs. Edgar Hartley and Mrs. Fred Waters.

A group of the married set motored to Albany Friday to participate in the gaieties of an informal dinner and dance for which Mr. and Mrs. Rocky Mason and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Young were hosts last night at the residence of the latter.

Those going up for the festivities were: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Livestey, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Asahel Bush, Mr. and Mrs. William Burghardt, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Plimpton and their house guest Mrs. Harry Terry of Portland.

Several matrons of the smart set also received invitations to attend the attractive musicale given by Mrs. Young and Miss Isabel Young Friday morning.

Miss Young, who has just returned from Mrs. Harker's school in Palo Alto charmed the guests with her singing. She was assisted at the piano by Mrs. William Burghardt, Jr., whose accompaniments completed the artistry of the charming programme.

One of the prettiest of the week's luncheons was that given Thursday by Mrs. Carlton Smith in honor of Mrs. G. W. Jones of Tulare, California.

It was an informal affair, but very delightful, the guests being old friends of Mrs. Jones' who formerly lived in Salem.

The luncheon table was most artistic with a huge basket of variegated sweet peas and dainty ferns.

Covers were placed for the honor guest, Mrs. George G. Bingham and her guest Miss Margaret Ramoney of Lafayette, Miss Cornelia Marvin, Mrs. E. M. La For, Miss Mary Gaidwick, Mrs. Arthur Benson, Mrs. George Burnett and her guest Mrs. W. Morris of Berkeley, Cal., and the hostess.

Mrs. Henry W. Meyers has as her guest Miss Helen Edes Jordan of Seattle, the charming young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Jordan. Miss Jordan will visit in Salem until after the Cherry Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rodgers and a party of friends motored to Clackamas and Portland Thursday. They returned that evening and were accompanied home by their daughter, Miss Margaret Rodgers, who has just graduated from Miss Ostlin's school in Portland.

Next year Miss Rodgers will attend the University of Oregon, and the following year she will enter Vassar College.

Mrs. J. H. Aekerman and daughter, Mrs. Edmund P. Carleton, are expected home Wednesday from a delightful two months sojourn in the east.

While east they visited Mrs. A. J. Lunn (Bella Ackerman) in Amhurst, Mass. Mrs. Carleton also visited in New York, where she was a delegate to the National Federation of Women's clubs.

En route home, Mrs. Ackerman and Mrs. Carleton will stop in Washington, D. C., where they will be the guests of Congressman and Mrs. Willis C. Hawley.

SOOCIETY has waxed so enthusiastic over engagement announcements this season that few maids escape "Dance Rumor." Hardly a week passes by that some Salem girl does not announce the name of the man of her choice, and it is whispered that there are one or two more surprises in store for Salem society.

The latest girl to be added to the list of brides-elect is Miss Isabel McGilchrist, whose engagement to William Douglas of San Francisco, Cal., was made known Thursday at a charming luncheon presided over by Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr. The affair was attended only by a few of the closest friends of Miss McGilchrist.

The McGilchrist residence was aglow with garden flowers effectively arranged in baskets. Yellow margolds, nasturtians and greens were used, in the living room and pink roses, sweet peas and maiden hair ferns in the dining room.

Covers were placed for sixteen of the younger girls, around small luncheon tables adorned with blossoms and candles.

Pretty corsage bouquets of sweet peas and lace ferns centered with a carnation, bore the happy news and marked the places.

Mrs. McGilchrist was assisted by the Misses Ethel and Hazel McGilchrist, sisters of the honor guest.

Miss McGilchrist is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McGilchrist, Sr. She is an accomplished girl, and has an unusually sweet voice. She is a student of the Willamette University, college of music, and a graduate of the Salem high school.

She is one of the coteries that include Miss Caroline Dick, Miss Marjorie Kay, Miss Bernice Craig, Miss Gertrude East, Miss Vivian Hargrove and several other of the younger maids.

Mr. Douglas is from Scotland and has been in this country but nine years. He is connected with the firm of Kelly Clarke company in San Francisco. He is also a devotee of music and is a member of one of the most prominent musical clubs in San Francisco, and also of the Amphion club in Seattle.

The wedding will be an event of the early fall.

Miss Elizabeth Lord will entertain on Tuesday with an informal tea, in honor of her charming house guest, Miss Elsa Deimel of San Francisco.

About 20 matrons and maids of the smart set have been asked for the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Page and children Urin and Kimball, Mrs. Cordele Haver and Mrs. L. K. Page, motored out to the Page ranch during the week to have dinner with Miss Manette Page and Addison Page, who are enjoying the informalities of country life.

One of the most delightful events of the week was the studio recital given Wednesday evening by Mrs. Julia Brons Pinnell in the parlors of the First Congregational church.

The affair was attended only by the pupils of Mrs. Pinnell and the programme included a group of charming songs by five of her students who were Miss Priscilla Fleming, Miss Lucille Emmons, Miss Isabel McGilchrist, Miss Gussie Niles and Everett Craven.

Garden flowers in artistic profusion adorned the rooms, and the evening was closed with dainty refreshments.

Miss Ruth Kress entertained with an informal evening Wednesday at her home on Chesapeake street.

A group of girls who are members of the Quince Quir club were asked and the evening was delightfully devoted to sewing and cards. The rooms were gaily adorned with garden flowers. In the dining room, red roses centered the refreshment table, and a lovely red bud marked the places.

Carousing yet simple was the wedding of Miss Mildred Marie Wilson and Jay Clark Leedy, which took place on Thursday at high noon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wilson, 1156 Court street.

Rev. James Elvin officiated and the couple were unattended. Only the relatives of the bride and bridegroom were asked for the ceremony.

Several unusual features characterized the wedding, the bride wore her sister's wedding gown, which was made of crepe meter and lace. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and sweet peas. It also marked the twenty-ninth wedding anniversary of her parents.

The house was decorated with quantities of blossoms, sweet peas, rhododendrons and syringa carried out an attractive pink and white color scheme.

The bride's going away suit was of sand colored gardenias, with hat, shoes and gloves to match. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Leedy will make their home on a ranch near Beaverton, Oregon.

The bride was a teacher in the Burns and Pendleton high schools for two years and is a graduate of the Salem high school and also of O. A. C. Mr. Leedy taught school in the Burns high school for three years and is a graduate of the 12 class of the Oregon Agricultural College. He is a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

A party of Salem folk including Mr. and Mrs. Asahel Bush, Asahel Bush, Jr., Mrs. William Boot, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Plimpton and their guest Mrs. Harry Terry of Portland left this afternoon in the former's car for a week-end sojourn at Rhododendron Inn. They were joined in Portland by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cannon and Harry Terry, who also motored up for over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald C. Glover left this morning for Albany and Lebanon where they will be the week end guests of friends and relatives.

A number of the members of the Three Link Needle club gathered in the L. O. O. F. hall on Thursday to share in the gaieties of the afternoon. Geer, Anna Miller, Mae Radcliff, Bertha Radcliff, Jennie Martin, Fay Wright, Elizabeth Waters, Constance May, Alma Henderson, Patsy Nichols, Ida Taghlo, Gertrude Cummings, Lela Eggstrom, Nina Ohmart, Mollie Denison, Ruth Anderson, Hattie Cameron, Gertrude Cumings, Hattie Patterson, Luigia Simeral, Miss Marie Bennett and Mrs. Marv Moore and Miss Hazel Fleetwood guests of the club.

Mrs. A. N. Bush and Mrs. Harry Clay went to Portland this morning for the day.

Miss Philippina Schmidt of Olympia who will be the guest of her brother Frederick Schmidt at the Court apartments for the summer left today for an over Sunday visit in Olympia.

Miss Catherine Shade of Silverton is the guest of her sister, Mrs. John J. Roberts.

The interest of the week in music lay chiefly in the pianoforte recital by the pupils of Miss Beatrice Shelton at the First Congregational church, Monday evening, the event, despite the military agitation, attracting a large audience.

The assistants for the evening were Mrs. Hallie Parrish Hinges, soprano, and Miss Lillian Stege, Mary Schultz, violins, and Miss Bernice Sauter, pianist. The latter with Miss Shelton at the organ in orchestral numbers gave the greatest pleasure, the instruments being employed with extremely goodly facility, and the fine shadings and vocal control apparent at all times.

The second number, which was being introduced here was featured with the piano and two violin accompaniment. Miss Alice Baker and Miss Ruth Schultz opened the program with Chamade's "Pas Des Lyabales."

Both played with much brilliancy, anticipating without effort the attitude of the other. Later both appeared in solo. Miss Schultz giving "Troika," (Tchikowsky) and "Romance" (Mildenberg). She was perfectly poised and artistic at all times, interpreting her music with a fine intelligence.

Miss Baker, it would seem excels in the interpretation of the exacting Mae Dowell music, her explanation of his "Schattenwaz" eliciting the greatest surprise. Her other number "A la Bien Aimee," was also remarkably given. It is generally conceded among musicians and those who understand things musical that these two young players have worth while places for them in the field of music, should they continue their work and progress.

Miss Mildred Reid, a conscientious and apt pupil had a place early on the program in Nevia's "Butterflies" and Godard's "Jon Mazurka in E Flat."

Her work is clean-cut and quite individual. "Mazurka Caprice" (Wollenhaupt) was selected by Miss Genevieve Yankie. She played with fine expression, big tones ringing clear and musical through every measure.

Another Chamade composition was featured, the "Guitare Caprice op. 32," by Miss Ruth Bedford, the youngest musician to appear. The fantastic Spanish rhythm of the piece was predominant in her interpretation, and the entire work characterized by brightness and delicate shading.

The "Ritournelle" by Chamade, derived from an ancient form of Italian poetry, was exceedingly interesting as presented by Miss Gladys Har-bert, who also gave "Rustle of Spring No. 3" (Standing). She is a most studious and interesting pupil and works out her music in an exact and attractive manner.

Miss Agnes Hassell, a very talented player, brought out delightfully the charming theme of the "Spangled" (Litolff) and was accorded a most complimentary reception.

Numbers by Godard and Massenet the "Valse Comotique" and "Aragonaise Ballet," which require great brilliancy on the part of an interpreter were given under the aid of the score by Miss Laura Arens. The runs were remarkably clear and her technique quite beyond criticism.

Confidence, artistry and a fine feeling distinguished Miss Sauter's playing, her number occupying the place of honor on the program. She gave "Allegro Scerzando," and a brilliant new number "Pan," by Vardayne. Her work was freely commented upon, Miss Sauter showing the finish of the professional in both her solo and accompaniment work.

As a setting for the event the church had been beautifully decorated with masses of crimson rambler roses, under the direction of Miss Ermine Bushnell, Miss Orla Chapman and Miss Alta Johnson.

The ushers were Miss Mary Pigger, Miss Rosenbrough, Miss Helen Hunt, Miss Alta Johnson, Miss Gertrude Tasto and Miss Lois Martin.

Mrs. Lloyd Hauser of Eugene is here for a several weeks visit, and will be the guest of Mrs. Paul Hauser and Mrs. W. H. Cook.

Harold Hager who is attending Harvard University arrived home Tuesday to spend the summer with his mother Mrs. Cordele Hager.

Mr. Hager is a scholar and will return to Cambridge in the fall.

The violin and piano pupils of Miss Joy Turner will give a recital in the Willamette University chapel on Thursday evening, June the 29th at 8:15 o'clock.

A delightful feature of the programme will be the violin ensemble numbers, and the solos by a local artist.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Parrots-Murk.
On Sunday evening, June 18, at 8 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murk, one of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized when Mr. George S. Parrott of Hood River was united in the bonds of matrimony to Miss Leota Murk of this place. The bride looked beautiful in a gown of white embroidered organdy and carried a shower bouquet of white bride's roses. She was attended by her two sisters, Misses Frances and Ida Murk, who were dressed in white, and carried bouquets of pink bridesmaid roses. The groom was attired in a navy blue suit. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. L. C. Peor of the M. E. church. The house decorations were pink and white roses and sweet peas. Immediate relatives and friends were in attendance. After the wedding all friends and relatives were at the etalon where they partook of a sumptuous dinner. Many costly and beautiful presents were showered upon the happy couple. They left amid a shower of rice and roses for Seaside to spend their honeymoon, after which they will make their home in Hood River, where the groom holds a responsible position.—Woodburn Independent.

WEDDINGS AT SCOTT'S MILLS

Cupid was stirring things up generally at Scott's Mills Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Frederick Kludas, of California, formerly pastor of the Friends church in Scott's Mills, and Miss Evangeline B. Frazier, of Scott's Mills, were united in marriage at the home of Rev. Jesse Coulson; and at the same time and place Miss Mammie A. Coulson, daughter of the officiating pastor, became the bride of Earl Dean. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few intimate friends.

Rev. Kludas and bride will leave soon for Kansas to take up evangelistic work, and Mr. and Mrs. Dean will go to Michigan to reside. Mrs. Dean is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Coulson, of Scott's Mills. The contracting parties are well known in the vicinity of Scott's Mills and have many friends there who wish them a prosperous and happy life.

Miss Olive Moe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Moe, was married Wednesday at the Lutheran Synod church in this city to Martin Haterberg, Rev. White officiating. A reception was given at the home of the bride's parents in the afternoon.
