Sessue Hayakawa, the noted Japanese actor will be seen at Ye Liberty Theatre on Friday and Saturday in the "The Cheat," a thrilling photoplay written especially for him by Hector Turnbull, author of "The Cheat" in which play Hayakawa established himself as one of the most distinguished actors of the day. It is a Paramount attraction.

For the past two years, after having starred with a number of motion picture companies, Mr. Hayakawa has been under contract with the Lasky organization and has appeared in the productions "The Cheat," "The Secret Sin" and "The Cheat." His popularity has become so great that in response to public demands he will be starred at the head of a company of his own.

Hayakawa is a nephew of the famous Japanese actor, Otto Kawahara, and came to this country to study the English drama and was the first Japanese to ever play Shakespearean classics in his native tongue in the leading theatres of Japan.

Weights and Measures Generally Correct

Weights and measures used in this city in connection with the harvesting of the berry crops have been inspected by Spence Workman, of the state auditor's office. For the most part they were found to be satisfactory in this field.

Concerning loganberries, the pack is declared to be in excellent condition with the boxes well filled. In some instances, though, raspberries are not packed as well as they should be and dealers have been warned of this.

to see that the consumer gets full measure and impresses the fact on the dealer that it is up to him to see that he gets full measure from the grower. To date, 72,000 milk bottles have been examined over the state and with very few exceptions they have measured up to the standard. Seals used by the canner people and also by the growers, and used to weigh fruit placed by individuals, have received attention and in some cases corrections have been ordered. The state auditor has jurisdiction over all weights, scales or measures entering into trade in Oregon.

Lack of Freight Cars Is Causing Trouble

Unless the Evans Box company of Klamath Falls, can persuade the Southern Pacific, with the help of the state public service commission, to furnish freight cars, it will be forced to close its plant this afternoon or tonight. Ninety per cent of the shipments the box company wishes to make are for customers who have green fruit they must get to the canneries promptly.

Customers who have been advised that no rolling stock is available at the present time have wired the factory that they must have box trucks under contracts already entered into or they will sue. The commission has taken the matter up with the Southern Pacific.

THIRD BATTALION ARE NOW ALL EN ROUTE

Last of Oregon's Militia Left Camp Clackamas This Morning

Camp Withcombe, Clackamas, Ore., June 29.—The last of the Oregon militia mobilized here were hustled about 400 men, making up the First battalion of the Third infantry, regimental headquarters, the band, supply and machine gun companies.

More than 1,000 Oregon soldiers are now en route to the Mexican border. The contingent leaving today comprises about 400 men, making up the First battalion of the Third infantry, regimental headquarters, the band, supply and machine gun companies.

But the encampment will not be deserted entirely. A few men rejected by the physical examiners, a few more waiting to be recruited and sent forward, and a few recruiting officers remain here. Captain Williams, U. S. A., announced that he will begin recruiting immediately. He wants 700 more soldiers from Oregon to put every organization on a war strength basis. It is probable that another troop of cavalry will also be organized.

Clackamas station was jammed with people last night before the long train carrying the Second battalion and Troop A, cavalry, pulled out. Repes were stretched to the point where relatives and friends from interfering with the duties of the militiamen, and soldiers kept the crowds back from the train.

It was 7:40 p. m. before the train, carrying 600 men, started for San Diego.

enl opponents on what they would do under similar conditions.

The president will return to Washington tonight, leaving for New York tomorrow afternoon.

Troop Movement to Go On. San Antonio, Texas, June 29.—General Trevino's release of the American cavalrymen captured in the Carrizal fight is expected to have no effect on troop movements to the border. Army officers today felt that while an actual clash has been averted temporarily, the situation between the United States and Mexico will continue to be strained until General Carranza definitely changes his attitude toward American troops in Mexico.

The war department has been asked by General Panista to expedite the transfer of the regular army from eastern recruiting stations. These men are needed for the newly formed regiments and to fill the gaps in old regiments caused by the transfer of men to the new units.

Several routine reports were received from General Pershing last night, but nothing to indicate a new clash with Carranza forces as rumored at border points late yesterday.

Information was received here early today, through reliable sources, that Missouri National Guard would be sent directly to Laredo.

May Not Cause War. Mexico City, June 29.—The Carrizal incident will not become a cause for war between Mexico and the United States, the United Press was authoritatively informed today.

No official announcement has been made regarding the decision reached at yesterday's conference regarding President Wilson's demand for the release of the American prisoners.

The fact General Trevino ordered the release of the Americans has not yet been made public in Mexico City.

It was stated, however, that the matter undoubtedly would be settled amicably and a precedent established for friendly settlements in future occurrences of the same kind.

HONORS FOR STUDENTS.

Mount Angel, Ore., June 29.—At the commencement exercises of Mount Angel college, seven students were presented with handsome fountain pens in recognition of their services in behalf of the Pacific Star, a monthly publication. The qualifications for receipt of one of the pens called for two years' service on the magazine staff. Those who received the pens, as shown above, were: 1—Joseph Heesaker, editor-in-chief. 2—Frank P. Liepzig, poet. 3—Alphonse Kronberg, poet. 4—Edgar Gallant, literary department. 5—Francis Franciscovich, joke department.

Runaway Boys Stopped by Police at Albany

Albany, Ore., June 29.—Lyle and Ivan Jones, aged 8 and 12 years, were taken in charge by the local police this morning upon advice from Salem officers. The boys are from Quincy, near Salem. They left there yesterday with $20, bought fishing tackle, a 22-caliber rifle, a hunting knife and other camp equipment at Salem, and round trip tickets to Newport.

Stayton News Items

(Capital Journal Special Service.) Stayton, Ore., June 29.—The new laundryman who recently leased the laundry of this city, now owned by Mr. Sloper, is expected to arrive about the first of the month. He has been employed at McMinnville in the laundry there and has had a great deal of experience in that line of work. Stayton is glad to welcome him for we need a good laundry.

Mr. Sloper has been repairing the old building. He has put a solid foundation underneath the building and has equipped the building with a new water wheel. The machinery in the building is in very good shape and there is need of only one or two new pieces and the laundry will be well equipped for business.

In these warring and troublous times the city of Stayton was surprised to learn of the appointment of its new postmaster, E. D. Alexander, editor of the Stayton Standard, has received the appointment to succeed W. A. Elder. Usually such matters do not receive such rapid attention, especially when the government is in a crisis such as it faces at the present.

The rain has damaged the cherry crop here considerably. Many people are wondering whether the Royal Annes will be ruined or not.

There were enough people in attendance at the "Trip Around the World," given by the Junior Loyal Sons class of the Christian church, to have three different parties. The parties left the church twenty minutes apart under the leadership of guides. The three guides were Ed Young, B. Putnam and Mr. Taylor, proprietor of the Stayton electric light plant. The parties first visited Japan, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Smith, where tea and wafers were served to the guests who sat on cushions on the floor. Germany, home of Mrs. Ben Shaefer, was next visited and here the menu was chicken noodles and water served by two German maids. From here the parties journeyed to Ireland, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Young. Aside from the Irish lunch served, each member of the parties had to kiss the Blarney stone. The return trip to America was now begun and the last place visited was Boston, the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Elder where Boston Brown Bread and Boston Baked Beans were served.

Those attending enjoyed themselves greatly and were well pleased with the trip the boys planned. A small sum was realized for the building fund and the boys are starting with the expectation of building a new class room soon.

The Junior Loyal Sons class, their teacher and several invited guests went to Salem Sunday in Ward's auto truck. They went to visit the Bungalow Christian Bible school. They went out to Ed Young's place east of Salem and took dinner. This trip had been promised the boys by their teacher, Mr. Young, for some time and they surely enjoyed it.

The Masonic lodge and the Rebekah lodge held a joint fellowship meeting and banquet last Friday evening. Several splendid toasts were given and the ladies trio treated the company with some beautiful singing.

From the looks of things it is a good thing Stayton did not take a notion to celebrate the Fourth. There are farth of July celebration posters all over the city. Mill City, Sublimity, West Stayton, Turner and Salem have their bills out.

Jefferson Notes

(Capital Journal Special Service.) Jefferson, Ore., June 28.—Mrs. Rita Ritten and Mr. Wilbur Funk were married in Albany on June 22, 1916.

The picnic at Morning Star garage last Friday was well attended. A number of Jefferson people were present. A good program was rendered by the grangers and the audience was also favored by an address by Governor Withcombe and a talk by Superintendent Jackson. Races and a ball game followed and the pleasant day ended with a good old grange dance in the evening.

Jefferson is well represented at the Oregon normal school this summer. The seven young people from here are the Misses Shumaker, Clement, Christensen, Van Buren, Allen, Henderson and Burr.

Quite a number of Jefferson people attended the Philomath "Roundup" Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. John Lagus are here from San Francisco to stay indefinitely with Mrs. Lagus' mother, Mrs. John Henderson.

Mr. Chas. E. home on the A. N. Gain dairy farm is well under way.

Mr. Milton Mason is spending his summer vacation on the A. N. Gain farm.

Mr. Elbie Daie, one of our Jefferson barbers, left Thursday evening for Idaho, Montana and Wyoming with Mr. Wick Miller, his brother, Fred, and a Mr. Cawthorn, of Brownsville. The boys are taking the trip by automobile and expect to be gone about 60 days, stopping for some time at Mr. Miller's cattle ranch near Weiser, Idaho.

Miss Mabel Humphrey, of Roseburg, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey, of Jefferson.

The Misses Olga and Esther-Monson and Jessie Armstrong spent Sunday and Monday with Miss Rose Kieper at Tebbot.

YOUNG O. N. G. OFFICERS.
Dallas, Ore., June 29.—Not only has company 1 from this city, the distinction of being the second company of state troops in the United States to be sworn into the federal service, but it has the additional distinction of having the youngest officer in the Third regiment. Oscar L. Chenoweth, who left this city with the company as a private, received his commission as second lieutenant the day after reaching camp. E. K. Piasoski at the same time was advanced from second lieutenant to first lieutenant.

Claxtar News

(Capital Journal Special Service.) Claxtar, Ore., June 28.—Cherry picking and berry picking here have been carried on under difficulties, during the past few days. Hay men are beginning to hope also for settled weather.

Fruit men have sallied out between answers, with their crews of cherry pickers, trying to get the fine fruit before the rain cracks the cherries. The only farmers who seem to appreciate the rain, are those engaged in putting out large plantings of kale and broccoli. Late cabbage is also being put out extensively.

Mr. Frank Holtzclaw is building a new barn.

Mr. William Riefuss is completing his dry house.

Many from this vicinity attended the convention at Quincy. The attendance would have been double had it not been for the rain which fell continuously. About 500 were present.

Mrs. Alice Holten and Merle spent the week-end with Dr. and Mrs. John Evans returning here on Monday.

Mr. Elmer Westley has returned to his work on Columbia river, going on Monday of this week.

Chas. H. Grant, of the University of California, was here this week representing a domestic science book concern.

Sergeant-Major Bassey, of the Salvation Army, was through here today making social calls and selling War Cries. Sergeant-Major Bassey says he finds a deep interest in being taken in Army work wherever he goes.

A few ripe loganberries are being picked in this vicinity for shipment to early markets. The main crop, however, will not be ready for some days yet.

Mr. George Johnson, who runs the Quincy meat wagon through here, reports all the sales he can handle. The excellence of his product being probably one reason of his success.

Miss Grace Dodge is spending the summer with relatives at Lodi, Ore. Three big men, whose absence was regretted, at the Sunday school convention, were Gustave Anderson, who is in the east visiting, Dr. Eppley and Rev. Chas. Phipps. These three school-horses of the convention always add greatly to the interest by their presence and well-timed remarks.

An immense flood at Great Falls, Montana, is in progress according to advice received from there this week. Alex S. Hadden is at that point engaged in contracting and building and was tonight engaged to visit relatives here at this time as was at first anticipated.

MONMOUTH IS TIED UP

Monmouth, Ore., June 29.—Half of the city council having resigned, Monmouth is finding difficulty at present to conduct city business. Some time ago councilman John Riddle underwent an operation at a Portland hospital and in order that his absence might not interfere with city business sent in his resignation. It will be a month yet before he is able to leave the Good Samaritan hospital.

Yesterday Charles Goodman, another councilman, mailed his resignation. In the city recorder and departed for Eastern Oregon. Neither resignation has been accepted. What was left of the council met last night and adjourned for one day, lacking a quorum.

City Attorney Swaps was asked for a legal opinion from state officers, and until this is received the council will remain adjourned until a quorum is found. The meeting was of importance as the remonstrance against the street paving proposition was to have been considered at that time. The remonstrance has less than 50 per cent of the affected property owners, and 60 per cent is required.

Disinclination to accept the responsibility of acting on the remonstrance is alleged to be the cause of Goodman's resignation and departure.

As the thing now stands the ordinance passed, the remonstrance has insufficient signatures, and the only thing that can prevent the ordinance from becoming effective automatically is some irregularity of procedure.
