DIVIDE DEPARTMENT INTO THREE SECTIONS

General Pershing Will Remain in Command in Middle Section

Washington, July 3.—The war department today announced a division of the southern department in three sections under the command of General Funston, General Pershing and General Bell.

The readjustment is said to be preliminary to appointing a supreme commander for the three departments. General Leonard Wood, now commanding eastern department, has asked a position commensurate with his rank, and it is possible he will be the man selected.

The southern department proper will embrace that part of the present department to a line east of El Paso.

The second section will be called the department of New Mexico, with headquarters at El Paso under command of General Pershing. It will extend from the western boundary of the southern department to the 109th meridian. The third division will be assigned to the western department and be under command of General Bell with field headquarters at Douglas, Ariz. This will run west of the 109th meridian.

Brigadier General Pershing, who becomes in line for a major generalship, may give up present command and lead a punitive expedition and locate at the El Paso headquarters; on the other hand, he may divide his time between the army and the headquarters or he may decide to remain entirely with the expedition.

The reorganization was made because of the fact that pressure of business was so heavy that General Pershing's duties so complicated that officials here thought it best to divide the work. For the present the general staff will have charge of the three branches. Secretary Baker declined this afternoon to make any announcements as to plans for a future control over the three.

Later in the day the order making the changes was suspended pending adjustment of minor details.

Will ship Thursday night, top hogs, $7.75 or better, G. W. Eyre, phone 2206-M.

The exhibit of cherries at the armory was judged by Prof. B. F. Fisher of Wenatchee. He is a government expert experimenting with sprays for brown rot, with stations at Wenatchee, Vancouver and Salem. Judge McFarland of Portland, president of the Portland Rose society, passed judgment on the flower displays.

With the organization of the Gaulein volunteers, the Salem Rifle club and the auxiliary of the Salem Rifle club, the young men as well as those in middle life who feel the call of "hot faces" will have no difficulty in affixing their names to a paper that calls for regular drilling and at the same time not entering into any obligation to join the colors. Within a week or so several hundred men will become familiar with military tactics.

Baseball series for championship Inter-City league Salem league grounds July 2-3-4, Battling Brundage vs. Salem. Games start 3 p. m. 2nd and 3rd and 2:30 p. m. 4th.

PRESIDENT URGED TO KEEP OUT OF WAR

Flood of Telegrams Sent Him, Same Tactics Being Used on Carranza

Washington, July 3.—Demands on President Wilson and congress to keep the United States out of war with Mexico are assuming five form and proportions of official propaganda. It was learned today that the thousands of telegrams received at the White House and capitol during the last few days, 100 or more contained what appeared to be a set phraseology. This runs:

"We strongly urge you to exhaust every means of preventing war with Mexico."

It is understood a similar campaign is being directed upon General Carranza.

The flood of telegrams abated somewhat today, apparently after the president's New York speech and confidential advices received here that Carranza will not defy the United States when he replies to President Wilson's demands.

Tomorrow President Wilson will deliver an address at the dedication of the new labor temple here. It is thought likely he will again discuss the Mexican problem.

opportunity of attending a genuine real estate convention in Portland to be held July 17-18 and 19. The call for the convention was made by the Portland Chamber of Commerce and will include representatives from Oregon, southern Washington and Idaho. It will be the first annual real estate convention in Oregon and it is expected that fully 300 will be in attendance. A prize will be offered to the speaker who can say the finest things about his home town in a five minute talk.

Lenses do not wear out, but eyes do. Time changes every part of the body, the eye with the other organs. But the usual changes in the eye can be neutralized by the use of lenses properly fitted.

By order of King Bing all Cherrians are ordered to report in uniform at 9:45 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Southern Pacific depot of the state fair grounds. Attached to the order to mobilize in order to escort the queen as she enters the grounds, is the suggestion that any nasal discharging orders, will be subject to a heavy fine.

Frequently the girls working in the canneries find boxes inscribed with the name and address of the picker. As a means for advertising for help the cherry box was used for the first time the other day. A girl in the Oregon Packing company's plant found a box with the following advertisement scrawled on the side: Wanted—A woman with a sharp tooth to punch holes in doughnuts. Apply at the hotel. The box came from a near-by town.

King Bing Deckebach evidently believes that brevity is the soul of wit, and that when crowds assemble together to see a queen crowned, they are not especially interested in long orations. This morning although he had an opportunity to make a long speech, expressing the gratitude of Queen Estella, he merely said: "On behalf of Queen Estella, I extend her heartfelt greetings, with the assurance that she will rule justly to make the next two days happy ones."

The river rose one foot in the past 24 hours and is now 5.5 feet above low water gauge. This month will probably break the July record for rainfall, as already the official record shows a precipitation of 1.18 inches, compared to .99 for the entire month a year ago, and no rainfall at all July 2 years ago. Although there was hardly one inch of rainfall last July, there was 2.1 cloudy days in the month. This information is for those who are always talking about the unusual weather. The Willamette at Portland is the highest it has been for years, 23 feet above low water gauge.

While walking on South Commercial street at Salem Heights in company with a crowd of berry pickers, Mrs. D. H. Ferrell, mother of Motorman Ferrell, was run into by a motorcycle and suffered a broken collar bone, two bad cuts on the head besides several bruises. She was taken to her home at 715 North Twenty Second street and Dr. Robertson called. With a party of about 30, Mrs. Ferrell had just left the car at the end of the line on South Commercial street and was walking in the road when the crowd was run into by a motorcycle rider, striking Mrs. Ferrell, resulting in her serious injury.

Reports from Forest Grove and Hillsboro are very unfavorable for cherry growers. In some sections the rains have almost ruined the crop and the canneries in the section would receive only those that were ripe.

The Roth memory class will meet Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Commercial club. The regular meeting night is Monday, but there appears to be too much celebration in town even for those who are studying to improve their memory. Hence the postponement to Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Mamie M. Hayden has received a post card from her son who is at the Mexican border with Company M, carrying this message from the soldier boys: "Tell everybody that Company M certainly appreciates the nice things the people of Salem did for us boys. That is the general sentiment."
