

Public Health Service Taking Active Measures to Check Dread Disease

Washington, July 7.—Fearing a possible nation-wide epidemic of infantile paralysis, the United States public health service today took active steps to aid New York health officials in fighting the disease that has already killed more than 160 New York babies in less than a month.

The first step of federal authorities in the battle against the dreaded disease, it was announced today, will be the visit of Assistant Surgeon General William Colby Rucker to New York. The United States public health service, following a conference at noon today, ordered six of its experts to co-operate with New York officials to prevent spread of the disease, which today reported in Cleveland, Chicago and other cities.

Surgeon Lavinder will have charge of the six men. Dr. Rucker today telegraphed to doctors of the service all over the country for reports on infantile paralysis in their states.

Monkeys are needed immediately for experimental work if the disease is to be checked.

Commissioner Emerson telegraphed Dr. Rucker today that 100 monkeys belonging to the Rockefeller Institute are being held in the Philippines because of a department of agriculture embargo against the importation of animals. Emerson asked that these be released. Rucker took the matter up with the department of agriculture.

One case of infantile paralysis was reported at Waynefield, Kan. Groping in the dark, certain only that a germ causes the disease, the public health service is trying to save the babies of the country. The government is also fighting ignorance, of mothers and fathers. The fight has two phases—before a baby is attacked and during its illness.

In the first phase—prevention—general rules of health only are necessary. In the second, the first step is to send for a doctor.

Some of the rules for prevention were given the United Press today by Dr. William C. Rucker, assistant surgeon general.

Care in the baby's diet. Prompt attention to intestinal disorders. Proper milk—preferably mother's milk. Plenty of sleep—16 hours a day for babies less than one year old. Elimination of flies. In case of illness—and especially when infantile paralysis is present in a city—a doctor should be called immediately, Dr. Rucker said. Perhaps the greatest danger from the disease in the first 24 hours is when many parents are trying to cure their babies by home treatment, Dr. Rucker said. Diet and rest are the principal treatments. The disease is noticed first by fever, pains and intestinal disorders. It may cause death in a day or it may attack a baby so slightly that beyond a day's illness no bad effects will be felt.

TO HAVE PERFECT SKIN THROUGHOUT THE SUMMER

These days the face needs special care and attention. Flying dust and dirt, the heating sun, are severe on any skin. Their despoiling effects are best overcome by the application of pure mercurized wax. This keeps skin and pores in a cleanly condition, the complexion beautifully white and spotless. Discolored, freckled and roughened cuticle are actually absorbed by it. One ounce of mercurized wax, obtainable at any drugstore, is sufficient to completely renovate a soiled complexion. It is used like cold cream, allowed to remain on over night, and washed off in the morning.

As the skin tends to expand in warm weather, causing wrinkles to form, a good astringent lotion should be used. Dissolve 1 oz. powdered salolite in 1-2 pt. witch hazel. Bathe the face in this during the heat of the day or before going out for theatre or social affair. It is a remarkable skin tightener and wrinkle eraser.

WOMAN HAD NERVOUS TROUBLE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

West Danby, N. Y.—"I have had nervous trouble all my life until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nerves and for female troubles and it straightened me out in good shape. I work nearly all the time, as we live on a farm and I have four girls. I do all my sewing and other work with their help, so it shows that I stand it real well. I took the Compound when my ten year old daughter came and it helped me a lot. I have also had my oldest girl take it and it did her lots of good. I keep it in the house all the time and recommend it."—Mrs. DEWITT SINCERAUGH, West Danby, N. Y.

Sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, backache, headaches, dragging sensations, all point to female derangements which may be overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Thursday for a motor trip to Portland and Hood River. They will return tonight.

Mrs. Frederic Taiselen and attractive children will leave tomorrow for their summer place in Agate Beach. They will be accompanied by Mr. Thielsen who will return next week.

Mrs. Lizzie Smith who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Brock, in Portland for a few weeks returned Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Taiselen will be hosts tonight for an attractive affair at their country place "Derry Orchards." The guests will include members of the Oaks Bridge club.

There is a new awakening—the realization that if people are to be happy, they must live under right living conditions.

Coming to Chautauqua is a man who has made a life study of the smaller cities and their problems. He probably knows more about how to develop the smaller cities and how to solve its many municipal problems than any other man in the country today. That man is Charles Zueblin, of Boston, a speaker in constant demand and one who is noted for his practical ideas on civic matters.

Contrary to what one would expect, Mr. Zueblin does not talk in that deep, scientific method used by some lecturers on such subjects. He talks straight from the shoulder in a clear, plain manner and tells in a practical way of the reforms that can be adopted by any set of people in any community. Bringing Mr. Zueblin to Chautauqua is but another one of the big things that the Chautauqua does for the community in its real service.

High School Boy Tells Experience

Here is another story from the front, written by a junior of the high school, 19 years old, and ready to enter the senior class of the Salem high school next fall. The letter is written to his parents, by Edgar M. Rowland, and is in part as follows:

"Today is the Fourth and last night we captured five Mexicans after dark, but turned them loose this morning. Yesterday I walked six miles to the beach just to take a bath in the ocean. It is hard to keep clean here as there is so much sand and no rats.

"We are allowed by the government, $60 a year just for equipment, besides the regular pay of $15 a month. We are all surely feeling fine although several of the boys have had colds and are recovering from the vaccination at Clackamas. That is why I am not very hungry tonight. I guess most of the boys are so busy they have forgotten all about being homesick. We have a machine gun that shoots 750 shells a minute. I have 90 rounds of ammunition and carry a loaded gun. Every-time we turn around, we have to have a pass signed."

The letter addressed to Mrs. L. S. Rowland left San Ysidro July 5 and arrived in Salem July 7.

CHARLES ZUEBLIN IS BUILDER OF CITIES

Is Expert On Civic Problems of Smaller Cities and Towns

Never before have people paid so much attention to the problem of city building and development as they are at the present time. Such problems as the caring for smoke from the great factories and the cleaning of streets, the beautifying of parkings and public places and the development of municipal water and light systems are before the public in a greater degree than ever before.

attack, General Haig's army has been unable to make any important gains against the German line. Forced to abandon shell wrecked first line positions, the Germans retired to their second line north of the Somme, where they threw back time and again British infantry assaults.

It is well understood here that the British will resume the offensive, perhaps with greater violence than marked the first day of the forward movement, but the manner in which the German wall withstood the first shock has inspired the greatest confidence in Berlin. A group of British prisoners, captured at the village of Serre, admitted their disappointment at the stubborn German defense.

"We thought it would be a romp after our guns had finished their work," a captured officer was quoted as saying. "Instead, Germans popped out of all sorts of funny places and got machine guns working on us."

That the French have made some substantial gains south of the Somme is not denied here. But the French gains, it is stated, constitute no serious menace to the German line, which is amply prepared to repel any serious menace on the sector around Peronne.

As French Told It.

Paris, July 7.—The open town of Lure was being bombarded by a German air squadron and 11 women and children killed and three wounded. The war office announced today that the French will reserve reprisals until later.

(Lure is a town of 6,000 lying west of Belfort and near the German lines in upper Alsace.)

French bombardment air squadron last night dropped 40 shells on the Hamles-Neumes railway and junctions west of Charleville. Returning to the French lines, French war planes escorting the bombardment squadron brought down two German planes near Mecieres and the Lessincourt woods.

The night passed without infantry fighting on the Verdun front also, although a violent bombardment occurred on the east side of the Meuse, in the regions of Thiaumont, Fleury and Chenois woods.

In Le Pre wood, southeast of Verdun, the Germans made an unsuccessful attack on French trenches. French grenadiers retaliated, cleaning up a German trench and taking many prisoners.

The British Story.

London, July 7.—British troops have captured a thousand yards of German trenches in severe fighting east of La-Boiselle, (east of Albert), General Haig reported this afternoon.

The gain is one of the most important advances scored by the British since the first day of the allies' great offensive.

Severe fighting is going on in the LaBoiselle sector, Haig reported. The Germans have suffered heavy losses.

"Southwest of Thiepval a determined enemy attack was completely repulsed," reported the British commander in chief.

The British gain east of LaBoiselle is of particular importance because it links up with the eastward advance of the French north of the Somme. The Germans had massed large forces on this sector and counter attacked desperately in efforts to fling back the British line.

Russians Press Forward.

Petrograd, July 7.—Russian armies in southern Galicia are now within ten miles of both Stanislaw and Nadworna and are pressing their advance westward despite increasingly stubborn Austrian resistance.

The Austrian force that evacuated Mikuliczyn, giving the Russians command of an important railway, are now retiring southward toward the Carpathian mountains.

An official statement from the war office today announced fresh successes on several sectors of the long battle front. In the fighting below Kolki Tuesday and Wednesday, the Car's troops captured more than 300 officers and 745 men, large part of them Germans; six guns, 23 machine guns, several thousand rifles, two searchlights, eleven bomb throwers and 77 ammunition wagons. This brings the total the offensive began to more than 242,000.

Lose Either Way.

Geneva, July 7.—Dissension between Austrian and Hungarian statesmen over the disposition of the Austro-Hungarian armies was reported in advices received here today.

The Hungarians, greatly alarmed at the prospects of a Russian invasion, successfully urged the withdrawal of troops from the Italian front to help check the Slavs. The Italians immediately advanced in the Trentino and the Austrian leaders appealed to the government to stop the transfer of troops from the Italian front, lest Trent and the surrounding region fall into Italian hands.

Proud As Anything of Her New Pockets

PREPARED

Gray and white striped gingham, cut in one piece, is the fabric used here. What breaks the line is a corselet of white pique closed with a black silk lacer. Interesting triangles are embroidered in black silk on the cuffs and point of the front, and buttons trim the pockets.

Mid West Golfers Can't Get to the Far West For Championship

Chicago, July 7.—The 1917 Western Amateur championship probably will go to the far west. Golfers of the middle western states, including the present title holder Chick Evans, cannot make the trip to the Del Monte, Cal., course where the championship play will take place, because of the great distance and the amount of time needed.

Fraus announced some time previous to the qualifying rounds, scheduled for July 17, that he could not defend his title because of the action of the association in choosing the far western golf course as the battle ground.

Only two men of championship calibre in the Chicago district, which has produced champions for the last seventeen years, are among the scheduled contestants. They are Ned Sawyer, Weston and E. Hoover Rankard, Midlothian.

As a result of the disadvantages in the Western Golf association championship contest, most of the Chicago stars will journey to Philadelphia in August to play for the national amateur championship.

Germans Hold Back
Berlin, July 7.—German troops have abandoned certain lines in the region of Charzort, in Volhynia, under attack of superior Russian forces. It was officially admitted this afternoon.

At Kosiuchnowka, west of Kolki, and on both sides of Sokul, Russian attacks were repulsed with heavy losses.

Strong Russian forces attacked Von Hindenburg's front south of Lake Naroz and northeast of Smorgen, but were repulsed, the war office announced this afternoon.

Fighting is Severe
Berlin, July 7.—Severe fighting is going on both north and south of the Somme, where the allies have resumed nounced this afternoon. Very lively engagements occurred last night south of Contalmaison, near Hen and around the village of Estrees.

Lull May Continue
Paris, July 7.—The lull in the fighting on the French front on both sides of the River Somme, where the allied offensive is under way, continued throughout last night. The war office today reported utter calm on the Somme front.

French military critics warn the public today that the lull on the Somme front may continue for a few days while the French organize and prepare for a new attack by fresh bombardments. They point out that the lull on the western front is being followed by increased activity by the Russians, particularly in southeastern Galicia.

Lloyd George Gets Job
London, July 7.—King George received David Lloyd-George in audience today and handed him the seals of the secretaryship of war. Lloyd-George assumed his new office this afternoon.

Raid English Coast
Amsterdam, July 7.—That a portion of the German high seas force swept through waters close to the English coast capturing the British steamer Lestrie, was announced today in an official statement from the German admiralty. The German raid was made on Wednesday.

This is the second time German naval forces have appeared near the English coast within three weeks. June 16 the steamer Brussels, plying between England and the Hook of Holland was captured and taken to Zeebrugge.

Take More Towns
Petrograd, July 7.—Russian troops have occupied Gradie and Komorov, an official statement from the war office this afternoon announced.

Other Austro-German positions in the region of Galuscia, Optovo and Voltchetsk have been occupied.

Available maps do not show the location of the villages captured by the Russians. From the fact that both Austrians and Germans are engaged and from the German official statement of a retirement in Volhynia, it appears probable that the Russian successes were in the region west of Kolki, in Volhynia.
