Municipal Playgrounds Is All "Dressed Up"

The children of Salem responded nobly to the call for help and now the Albert pasture known as the municipal playground, presents a dressed-up appearance. Tons of loose rubbish and branches were raked up and the children worked with a will all yesterday afternoon. The grounds will be open Sundays and picnic parties are invited to make themselves at home. Miss Schultz is on duty from 10:30 in the morning until 7:30 in the evening every day excepting Sundays. Hence, on Sundays no one in charge will be on the grounds or responsible for the children, and it has been suggested that parents or some older party attend all Sunday parties. Yesterday July 125 children were making themselves at home, many of them bringing their dinners and today the number is even larger. The formal opening of the municipal playgrounds to which the public will be invited, will be held within a week or ten days.

In addition to the list already published of the members of the Auxiliary of the Salem Rifle club, the following have shown an interest in drill tactics with an assurance of their presence Monday evening: Justice George H. Burnett, C. O. Rice, city treasurer, Floyd White, L. M. Gilbert and C. W. Elgin.

The Auxiliary will be under the instruction of the following officers: Fred J. Rosenberg, captain; Clarence Blue, lieutenant; Dan Howell, lieutenant; H. H. Lucas, first sergeant; squad leaders: E. F. Moore, William Ellis, E. Alime J. T. Welch, Frank Mapes and James Hartwell.

The Portland Rifle club organized over a year ago, now has only 75 members, while the Salem club was organized with a membership of 98 and now has 121.

The Mikado, the most musical comic opera ever written, will be produced in the city by home talent on the evenings of July 26 and 27, under the auspices of the Moose lodge.

It will be given by George T. Wilson, a professional producer of operas and minstrel shows. He carries with him the necessary scenery and costumes. Here is a hard luck story for the professional burglar. The Hartman Bros. company, successors to the Barr Jewelry company, will install a burglar proof safe in their store this evening at the hour of midnight. It weighs 12,000 pounds, and as no truck in the city can carry this weight, tonight it will be brought to the corner of State and Liberty streets on the car on which it was shipped from San Francisco. The doors of the safe are pressed home with the single air pressure system, making it air tight and impossible for the would-be burglar who goes a burgling to introduce nitroglycerine. It is one of the largest jewelry safes in the northwest and is the one that was given an award at the San Francisco exposition.

The lecture to be given by Lieutenant Niemeyer at the opera house next Friday evening, has been changed to Tuesday evening, July 11. This change of date was made on account of the Chautauqua.

Big Mass Meeting at Armory Monday Night

Everything is now ready for the great mass meeting to be held at the armory next Monday evening, when the citizens of Salem will be given an opportunity to show their patriotism by subscribing pledges for a certain amount each month during the absence of Company M, the funds to be used for the benefit of the families of those in need. Mrs. Chauncey Bishop and Mrs. Fred Bynon are in charge of the program for the evening, and have been successful in securing Justice George H. Burnett as chairman of the evening, and several prominent speakers. Following the business session of the evening and program, a dance will be given, to secure additional funds. In order that the floor may be filled with dancers and a goodly sum received, the committee decided that a charge of 25 cents each would be about right. No dress suits or monies are required. Everybody with a patriotic spirit is invited to join the dance and at the same time give two-bits for a good cause.
