Tonight the members of the New York society will participate in a picnic to be given at the fair grounds.

Market Regains Life and Prices Advance

New York, July 12.—The New York Evening Sun's financial review today said:

Slightly better tendencies which aside from a specialties developed in a general security list yesterday and made further progress and the stock market as a whole showed some signs of finding itself. Sentiment has mixed and the price movement was irregular and highly uncertain at times. But the professional selling pressure lost some of its force and effect and recovering tendencies developed as the session progressed.

The rally considering the extent of the recent decline, was inconsiderable and was inspired in large part no doubt by short coverings. A particularly vicious drive was made against industrial alcohol, which was carried down 14 points or so from the best figures of the day in the early afternoon.

The stability of the general list in the face of the violent break in industrial alcohol, which, however, regained some of its extreme loss, was the feature of the late trading. Prices moved irregularly within a narrow margin, but the undertone was strong and fraction rallies demonstrated in the last hour. A feature was an advance of a full point in Union Pacific.

Third Oregon Still Needs 700 Recruits

Portland, Ore., July 12.—Unless more recruits are forthcoming for the Oregon infantry, the regiment probably will be consolidated into two battalions, declared Captain K. P. Williams, federal inspection officer, today.

Nearly 700 men are needed to bring the regiment up to the required war strength of 1,800 men. Despite the opening of offices throughout the state, recruiting has been slow, especially since the probability of war with Mexico has diminished.

The First and Second battalions of the regiment now are at Palm Beach and the Third battalions at San Ysidro, Cal. Besides these troops Oregon has a battery of field artillery at Calexico, a troop of cavalry at San Diego, both recruited to full strength.

WAR ON GOPHERS AND MOLES

Monmouth, Ore., July 12.—The gophers, upon which pest farmers in this vicinity have made war for the last three years, have been nearly exterminated, says Millard McCaleb, a trapper. Moles are declared harder to catch on account of the character of their holes, and very few farmers know how to successfully operate mole traps. There are very few trappers. With mole-skins valuable this year, it is believed that the number of trappers will increase and the pest decrease accordingly.

COURT HOUSE NEWS

R. C. Heighton was given a verdict for $2500 in his suit against Charles T. Toozee last evening by a jury in Judge Kelly's court. The case, which had occupied the better part of a week, went to the jury about two o'clock yesterday. Possession of a 101 acre farm on which improvements to the value of $175 had been made by Heighton was involved.

Ralph E. Merril has filed suit against Sherwin Shoales and others to collect $3300 alleged due on a promissory note secured by a mortgage on a farm of 100 acres. After negotiating the loan, Merril states, the Shoales made arrangements by which Harry Kemmett and his wife, Lucy, entered into possession of the property. Other factors appear in the case including liens and a $1500 mortgage held by Coolidge and McClaine of Silverton.

Wallace Hart warned his wife Estella not to go to shows, visit candy stores and be in other public places with John Manners, while her husband was working, declares Hart in a divorce complaint filed today. Nevertheless, he states, Estella did these things. Then, one evening in March, 1915, Wallace came home to supper but no supper was waiting. He says his wife had taken their three year old child and also her personal effects and the cooking utensils and had gone to her parent's home near New Era. Since that time the two have been separated. Not only did his wife decline to see him or talk or write to him but she refused to let him visit their child, Virginia, Hart further alleges. He wants possession of the child, stating that the mother is not a fit person to bring her up. Hart alleges that his wife permitted relatives to use vulgar and indecent talk before the little girl and charges that she allowed one Mabel Hoffman to teach Virginia indecent words.

MEXICAN PEOPLE

and could find food and water on the road to Ojiniga.

All available militia cavalry at El Paso and other border sections are preparing to begin patrolling the Rio Grande. They are handicapped by lack of horses, but these are being issued rapidly.

A large bandit column was reported early today to be marching toward Boquilla and Ojiniga but these could not be expected to reach the border for three or four days.

Preparing to Stay.
By Webb C. Miller.
United Press staff correspondent.
Columbus, N. M., July 12.—The heavy rains, already causing great difficulty in motor transportation have hastened negotiations between Washington and Mexico City for extensive use of the Mexican Northwestern railroad from Juarez for shipment for forage to the American punitive expedition.

At the same time the quartermasters corps has completed plans for doubling the present number of trucks and facilities for carrying supplies over the desert route between Columbus and General Pershing's advanced base.

These preparations belie reports that withdrawal of the expedition is contemplated soon. The signal corps continue to extend the field telegraph system on steel poles. The engineering corps, when the rains permit, will resume labor on a new road grade.

Representatives of motor companies here declare orders have been given for immediate shipment of over 400 more trucks to be put into the overland service. A large reserve of rations piled along the American lines in Mexico is believed sufficient to feed the expeditionary forces through the rainy season.

But the problem of forage for the horses and mules with the expedition still is acute.

Convince Yourself

Look at Crisco. Its very appearance tells a story of purity. It is creamy white and just stiff enough to round up nicely on the spoon.

Then see if it has an odor. You will find none but a delicate aroma, indicative of its purity. Crisco remains the same in hot weather without refrigeration.

Next taste it. You will find a neutral taste; that is, practically no flavor—not greasy or "lardy." It resembles cold, unsalted butter.

Then try it. First fry potatoes, and note the wholesome potato flavor. You may never have known the potato flavor before because the taste of the fat you have been using has predominated. Crisco allows the true flavor of the food to assert itself.

Next make some biscuits. See how light they are. Break one open and you will be delighted with its appetizing odor. This is a severe test for a shortening.

Next make a white cake and learn how delicate and rich your cake will be without butter and with few eggs.

Please convince yourself about Crisco. If you will know Crisco you will be a Crisco enthusiast.
