THEIR DEAD TODAY

BAY CITIES BURY

San Francisco, July 25.—San Francisco and the trans- Bay cities buried their dead today.

With thousands of grieving friends in attendance, the bodies of five of the six xictims of Satrday's bomb outrage were borne to the grave. The funerals of George Lawlor, Adam Fox and Arthur Nelson were held in San Francisco, while Geo. L. Painter was buried in Coakland, Lea A. Lamborn in Alameda. Hundreds of those who were marching in the preparedness parade Saturday in the preparedness parade Saturday when the dynamiter's infernal machine exploded with such appalling effect, visited the homes of the dead victims before the remains were borne away. Menntime the search for the guilty dy-namiter continued. Sparred on by the offer of rewards totaling $14,000, and the grim determination of the officials in charge to "run down the murderer if t takes 10 years." several hundred itizens offered their services to aid the olice and secret service men in the (United Press staff correspondent.) Baltimore, Md., July 25 .- The stay or Baltimore, Md., July 25.—The stay or ment, passed by the departure of the German sub-sea freigh-club, July 19, 1916:

Aside from Osmund Jacobs, who is held in Fresno, no persons are under arrest against whom real suspicion is directed. Chief of Police White is declared to have communicated to Mayor Rolph the details of a "hot trail" his men had found but both the chief and mayor were silent about it when questioned about it today.

The special bomb squad, detailed by White to work on the case, today called to their aid experts on chemicals, explosives and hand-writing to help thom solve the mystery.
