Until this morning no rain had fallen for eight days, resulting in a gradual falling of the river until the gauge today recorded 1.8 feet above low water. And while the east and central state are reporting many deaths from the excessively hot weather, Salem and the valley is experiencing an unusually cool spell, with the maximum yesterday at 75 degrees, the minimum 53.

Dr. M. P. Mendelsohn, who has been on an extended vacation for the benefit of his health, is back very much improved and will be at his office tomorrow, where he will be very glad to receive his friends.

Regardless of weather conditions, the excursion of the Salem street railway employes to Newport will take place Sunday. Having postponed the excursion once on account of rain, the committee in charge announces that weather conditions will have nothing to do with the trip, as the train will leave on schedule time, which is 6:30 o'clock in the morning. The Salem Street Railway band will accompany and give a concert during the afternoon.

CARD OF THANKS We wish to express our thanks to those who so kindly assisted in our sad bereavement. Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Bliven and family.

The Pythian Sisters of the Grand Temple of Oregon will hold their 23d annual convention in Portland beginning Friday. Many of the delegates from Salem and surrounding lodges will remain in Portland until next week to attend the National Session of Pythian Sisters.

The Freeburg, Hanover, St. Petersburg and St. Paul mining claims situated on the north fork of the Santiam river in the Lester mining district, this county, have been sold by Charles Wols to James W. Mays, through the agency of D. M. Wilson & Co. A deed to the property has been deposited in escrow, to be delivered upon the payment of $10,000.

Now is the time to can apricots. There is just one week in the year when the time is just exactly ripe for apricot canning and that week will begin tomorrow. Apricots from The Dalles and Wenatchee are now on the market, the fruit is in fine condition for canning and the prices as low as may be expected during the apricot season. And in addition to all this, the price of sugar has not advanced for several months.

Prof. J. O. Hall, professor of social science of Willamette University, has just returned from Ashland where he was engaged as one of the speakers and instructors for the Ashland Chautauque. He will speak Friday afternoon at the Wisconsin picnic held at the state fair grounds and has been engaged by the department of the interior to deliver an address August 8 at the Chemawa institute on "Remedies Against Poverty."

Clara Hastings, living on South Sixteenth street showed true salesmanship last evening by selling 32 tickets at the dance given on Court street by the Salem Patriotic League, and by selling this number was given the prize, a box of candy, for selling the greatest number of tickets of the many who were aiding the League. Clara is only nine years old but demonstrated in a short time that she could sell tickets faster than the average young lady twice her age.

Beginning next Tuesday morning, street car patrons will be given the privilege of boarding cars on the near side of the street. The only exception to the rule will be made on State street and Commercial and again on State and Liberty. On account of traffic conditions at the intersections of these streets, the present method of stopping will be maintained. Those who have been getting on the cars at the Ladd & Bush bank and the Portland Railway, Light and Power corner may do so in the future, and also those accustomed to waiting for the cars at the corner of the Salem Bank of Commerce building will find the stop just as in the past. But after August 1, all other car stops will be made on the near side of the street.

TOOK 36 HOURS TO GET ELECTRIC MINE LAMPS

Criminal Negligence of Officials—11 Bodies Still In Tunnel

Cleveland, Ohio, July 26.—With electric mine lamps secured today 36 hours after more than a score of lives were snuffed out with the tunnel disaster, rescue work was resumed.

Attempts were made today to recover the bodies of 11 workmen trapped and suffocated in the death hole under the lake Monday night.

H. H. Rhinehart, chief engineer at crib No. 5 warned the federal mine inspectors to watch out for more deadly gas.

"Hell is liable to break loose in that hole any time," said Rhinehart. "Engines working all night pumped fresh air into the tunnel, raising the pressure to 20 pounds per square inch."

MAY SEND THEM HOME

El Paso, Texas, July 26.—Major Gen. Tasker H. Bliss of the general staff, stated this afternoon he would recommend to secretary of War Baker that militiamen on the border disconnected with camp life be sent back home as soon as military necessity permits.

Ford agents do not expect any change in the price for the general style of the car for the coming year, although definite announcement will not be made by the factory until August 1. The Ford buyers this week are: Frank Caterlin and the Archer Implement company of Salem; A. W. Meyer of route 6, and Miss Susan Caplinger of rural route 5.

The ladies of the Salem Patriotic League report a net profit of about $50 from the dance given last night on Court street during the band concert and for an hour afterwards. The spirit of patriotism manifested itself to such an extent that the ladies in charge of the work wish to thank the public in general for the liberal support and announce that from time to time as there is the need, other entertainments will be given. The money received from the dance will go into the general relief fund.

George C. L. Sander has been presented with a Krag-Jorgensen rifle by the members of the Salem Rifle club in recognition of the interest he has taken in the organization of the club and in securing members. The members who received their guns Monday are already engaged in rifle practice.

Another shipment of 40 guns from the government arsenal at Veneta, Calif., will arrive in a few days. The regular school of instruction will be held at the armory Thursday evening.

The pessimists who said the fair grounds road would never be paved, not at least during the life of the present generation, should take a little trip out in that direction and just watch the full crew putting out stakes for the curbing and the big road roller at work and the big plow turning up the ground for the curbing. In addition to the city crew working, the water company is preparing to extend its mains north on Summer street along the fair grounds, north to a point north of the Highland road. A six inch main will be placed along these streets.

For the first time in many years, the public will have the pleasure of seeing a home talent show at the opera house, in comic opera. George T. Wilson, who is giving the opera under the auspices of the Moore lodge is a veteran in the comic opera field and besides being a singer and composer, possesses the unusual ability to direct the dramatic work necessary in a comic opera. "The Mikado" is perhaps the most tuneful of all comic operas.

From the opening of the first chorus of Japanese music, the music maintains its interest to the close. The opera will be given next Monday and Tuesday evenings at the opera house. While ten and fifteen cents is about the average that the ordinary citizen is pleased to pay for a movie, yet when a film is announced that has attracted worldwide attention, the price appears to be of little consideration. Beginning Monday night, with prices for the lower floor $2 and $1.50, the opera house has been taxed to seating capacity by the crowds drawn by "The Birth of a Nation." This afternoon at 1 o'clock the street was crowded with hundreds awaiting their chance for a ticket. And the general opinion is that the film is worth the money and then some.

Cherrian Picnic at Fair Grounds Thursday

The Cherrian picnic and dance at the state fair grounds Thursday evening promises to be one of the big affairs of the season.

The picnic is given to raise funds necessary to pay the expenses incidental to carrying the Cherrian band to Marshfield at the Coos Bay celebration August 25, and for this reason, the picnic and dance is a city affair, and the committee in charge wishes it to be so understood.

Hand bills to the number of 1,000 were distributed in the city yesterday announcing several of the main features of the evening.

The dinner will be served in the big dining room of the fair grounds restaurant, and will be of the picnic order in which everybody brings their own eating. Those who have failed to provide will be properly taken care of by William McGilchrist, Jr., who has been appointed by the Cherrians to run a hot dog and coffee stand, the profits of which are to go into the general fund.

The jitney dance in the machinery hall will begin promptly on time, which means, according to the instructions of the committee, as soon as the dinner and a few incidental program numbers are over.

DIED

SWIENINK—At the family home, 105 Miller street, South Salem, July 26, 1916, Miss Harriet Swienink, in her 25th year.

Convincing the Old-fashioned Cook

At first she says that she and her family are satisfied with the shortening she always has used. It is pretty hard to improve upon her pie crust and cake.

But someone induces her to try

Perhaps it is her daughter who has used it at Domestic Science School, or a neighbor who has obtained excellent results.

After the first trial, the old-fashioned cook slowly but surely comes to use Crisco for all cooking. She has become a Crisco enthusiast. She has found these advantages:

Frying. There is no smoke nor odor. Fried foods are free from the taste of grease. Now they are tasty and crisp and digestible. The same Crisco can be used to fry fish, onions, doughnuts, etc., merely by straining out the food particles after each frying.

Shortening. Crisco gives pastry a new flakiness and digestibility.

Cake Making. Crisco gives richness at smaller cost. It brings cake making back to popularity.
