NEW YORK WILL GIVE MATTY AN OVATION

Great Crowd Promised Today If Weather Conditions Will Permit Game

New York, July 26.—Prevented by rain from welcoming their idol, New York fans will turn out today, weather permitting, to give Christy Mathewson, newly established manager of the Reds, the ovation planned for him. It was rainy and threatening during the morning. Meanwhile, in the west, several highly important series between American league teams are under way. The four first division teams are at each other's throats, while the Tigers entertain Washington and the St. Louis Browns are taking advantage of Connie Mack's hopes. From the way they started in it, it is evident that the west has no intention of making things pleasant for their eastern visitors. Yesterday's games resulted in a clean sweep for the westerners, with a resultant tightening of the league race.

Fresh from their most successful raid trip of the season, the league leading Dodgers play the Cardinals today, while the Braves again minus the services of Johnny Evers, have the Cubs on their hands.

Oregon Beating California. Portland, Ore., July 26.—Having eliminated the first of three Californians who invaded Oregon to grab the state tennis championship, L. K. Richardson, of Portland, title holder in 1914, today clashed with Allyn Barber, of Los Angeles. There is still another Golden Stater—Clyde Curley—to be defeated before the northerners have the championship to themselves.

Richardson's match with Irving Karsby, of San Francisco, was one of the best seen on an Oregon court for many a day. Karsby won several sets after they had gone to dinner, but could not maintain the fast pace established by the Portlander. Meanwhile Barber, who met Richardson today, was easily disposing of W. L. McDougal, of Salem, 6-2, 6-3. Myron Hutchinson, Spokane high school "comet," and Hugh Kelleher, of Seattle, former Harvard crack, are two figures looming up big in the tournament. They will get into action tomorrow.

May Extend Meet. Chicago, July 26.—Extension of the 12 days' racing meet at Hawthorne was being planned by its backers today. Stockholders in the Illinois Jockey club, which is holding the meet, will meet today to vote on it. Some favor a fall meeting, rather than an extension, on the grounds that a move to extend the meet would hurt the sports here. If the meet is extended it will probably be for 12 days. The club's lease of the Hawthorne track expires this week unless renewed.

De Palma to Race. Chicago, July 26.—Ralph De Palma, Italian daredevil automobile driver, has entered two cars for the speedway grand prix race, to be run at Maywood, August 19, it was announced today. De Palma refused to say who his team mate would be. The Italian is also entered for the 300 mile race at the Tacoma, Wash., speedway, to be held a week from Saturday.

A Prize for Leonard. New York, July 26.—An added incentive for Benny Leonard to flatten Freddie Welsh in their battle next Friday night, is an offer from Colorado sport promoters to accept the little Harlem fighter as a substitute for the champion against Charley White on Labor day in case the title changes hands. Benny Apparently has every intention of stopping Welsh if possible any how, but now, if he can assume the light-weight crown at Washington Park, he can be the principal in a very remunerative bout at Colorado Springs, with White as his opponent.

Bill Prough was so stingy with hits that Vernon could get only four off him, and Oakland won, 2 to 1. Devannier hurled forth Bengals and was almost as good as Bill. Prough oozed five and Decannier four.

It was an air tight affair from A to Z. Old Dr. Crandall got the only extra base sweat of the afternoon, a two bagger.

The Tigers were a little butterfly as to fingers and the heels at times appeared amply reinforced with bone. Hence the Oak victory.

Yesterday's big league hero was the only Tris Speaker who got a double and two singles out of three times up the line driving in three runs. Then he scored himself, accounting for every tally made by the Indians. His old team mates were the victims.

The rainmaker potted three games in the National league. Ray Keating and Cliff Markle, right hand pitchers, kissed the Yankee payroll good bye by request of the management.

The world's greatest optimist is Christy Mathewson. "Big Six" says going to a club in the eighth hole isn't so bad because if it goes anywhere it will be up.

The Athletics lost again. Five singles, two bases on balls and a triple off Lanning in the second inning gave St. Louis six runs.

Detroit walloped the Senators by consistent play, scoring in four innings. The Senators got four in the first, but could not stand the pace.

SALMON FISHING

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Moreland and sons, James and William, returned last part of the week for their home in Tacoma after passing a week at the Damon. Mrs. Moreland is the daughter of Hon. and Mrs. J. R. Cooper, of Independence.

Dr. and Mrs. John Straub, of Eugene, will arrive in Newport within the next few days for a two weeks sojourn. Dr. Straub is dean of the college of Liberal Arts in the University of Oregon and has been a member of the faculty ever since the University was opened over forty years ago. The Straubs will stay at the Damon while here.

Miss Mildred Slusser, of Salem, was among the two hundred valley people to take advantage of the Sunday excursion to the beach.

W. G. Baker and family, of Corvallis, arrived the last of the week and are established in a Nye Beach cottage until the first of September.

Elmer E. Addison, of Independence joined the Polk county contingent at the seaside this week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Henderson, of Eugene, are passing a fortnight at Sea Crest.

Edward Blampied of Portland, arrived at the Grand a few days ago to pass his summer vacation.

Albert Magers and children, of Salem, are occupying one of the Redfern cottages on Brook street.

M. P. Modelshie of Salem, came a few days ago and is registered at the Abbey.

WILL HAVE MURDERER WITHIN TWO DAYS

Chief of Police Confident Bomb Planter Will Soon Be In Jail

San Francisco, July 26.—With the police so close on the trail of the men responsible for Saturday's bomb outrage that they expect arrests within 36 hours the death list as the result of the dynamiting was raised to eight today when Mrs. Kinsley Van Loo died at the Adler sanitarium.

The bomb squad, detailed to work exclusively on this case, struck several "hot trails" today, leading Captain Duncan Matheson, in charge, to make this statement: "We expect to have definite results inside of 36 hours. A gang of suspects is being watched right here in the city and arrests may come at almost any time. I believe that when we round up this bunch of men we will have, among their number, the man who placed the infernal machine in Saturday's preparedness parade crowd."

Nearly half of the 15 detectives detailed to the bomb squad have disappeared mysteriously and it is understood that they are watching the men under suspicion. The strongest clue yet furnished was that brought by Newton Potter, owner of the Metal Welding Works, who believes the dynamite purchased from him the container used to hold the explosive which was used in the bomb. Potter gave the police a minute description of the two men who made the purchases. Potter was able to give the police the models from which the container was made and this is expected to prove of great value in running down the dynamiters.

The men told Potter that they wished to use the container for experimentation. They were very particular about the manner of welding a circle of thin metal about a half inch hole just above the cap at one end of the casing.

San Jose Gives Clue. San Jose, Cal., July 26.—The police today received information that the two men, seen by a San Francisco street car conductor carrying a suit case near Stewart and Market streets, San Francisco, shortly before Saturday's bomb explosion there, spent last week in San Jose.

Jesse Blaker, a stationary engineer, asserted that he saw the two men at Orchard and Santa Clara streets at 3:30 Friday afternoon. They were carrying a suit case which appeared to be very heavy as they were shifting it from hand to hand.

The two men stopped at the Linfell hotel registering under names which the local police believe were assumed. Mrs. Madeline Madross, a chambermaid in the Linfell, also declares that the description of the two men printed in the San Francisco morning newspapers, exactly fits the two men who stopped at the hotel.

The San Francisco police have been notified. Officers Are Confident. San Francisco, July 26.—Announced by Chief of Police White that the police within two days would have the person responsible for Saturday's dynamite outrage, in jail, created a sensation here today.

Chief White declined to go into details or to divulge any of the information in the hands of the special police bomb squad on which he based his statement, but both he and Mayor Rolph, to whom he communicated his plans, were optimistic over the outlook. White declared that he feared the detectives would lose their quarry if any hint of their plans leaked out.

Simultaneously White announced that the total reward for the apprehension of the dynamiter whose bomb snuffed out seven lives, had been brought to $15,000 by an offer of additional $1,000 by a man whose name he could not reveal.

Chief White evidently has no faith in theories voiced in some quarters that the dynamiting may have been the result of a plot formed in eastern cities. He said today that he believed it was a local "job" and that the man or men who perpetrated it are still in this city. It is believed that the persons involved are already under close surveillance.

Federal secret service men and postal inspectors are still working in an effort to run down the persons who sent threatening letters to local newspapers and individuals, but have not yet obtained a definite clew.

A trap, set by officers of the "bomb squad" may be sprung at any moment upon at least three men believed to have been ringleaders in the plot which led up to the tragedy. It has reported that at least six of the special investigators have been in association with men either directly or indirectly responsible for the explosion. It is declared several plots were hatched before the final bomb planting was carried out.

Nicholas Phillips, arrested as a suspect, will probably be released today. He was heard to remark, "that's fine" while reading a newspaper account of the tragedy.

Newton Potter, proprietor of the Metal Welding Works, today gave the police a description of two men who, he says, came to him three weeks ago and asked him to duplicate a container for high explosive. The container was of cast iron about eight inches in diameter and the same in length. The police think it possible that this was the container used in the infernal machine which exploded Saturday.

The postal inspectors working on the case are centering their efforts on getting information from handwriting experts regarding postal cards containing threats which were mailed previous to Saturday's explosion. They decline to reveal what their inquiry has developed. An enormous crowd is expected to gather at the Civic Auditorium tonight when a mass meeting, called by the Law and Order committee of the chamber of commerce begins. Mayor Rolph, Archbishop Hanna, and a number of other men of prominence will speak.

Matty Gets Ovation On First Appearance

Polo Grounds, New York, July 26.—Ten thousand New York fans this afternoon greeted Matty, the enemy. They found their score cards and their sentiments badly mixed, for with the old master, now manager of the Cincinnati Reds, were McKechnie and Roesen, also Giants. Buck Herzog, who had converted as a foe in the past, chattered and distributed pep today as a Giant.

Threatening weather caused blocks of vacant seats in the bleachers. When Matty appeared he was given a remarkable demonstration, the crowd cheering him to the echo for several minutes as he was presented with a huge basket of flowers.

A band on the job as a special honor to Matty blared away while the crowd alternately cheered the Giants and the Reds. The visitors were given a lusty shout of approval when they fell on Slim Sallee, late of St. Louis, for a cluster of hits and two runs in the second inning.

Washington, July 26.—Indicating congress believes the National Guard along the border may be maintained until late in the fall, the senate this afternoon created means by which guardsmen may cast their votes in the border camps. The plan was adopted as an amendment to the general army bill, now nearing passage.

WHAT OTHERS SAY GEORGE WILSON'S "KO-KO"

It is difficult to mention Wilson's "Ko-Ko" without resorting to superlatives. From his first appearance to the final curtain he carried his audience with him in a whirlwind of laughter and applause. When we take into consideration that last night's performance of "The Mikado" was the third rendered in Marshfield inside of a few days time, and that the audience was the largest of the three, we are forced to the conclusion that either the opera is an exceptionally good entertainment or else that it was rendered in professional style. The facts of the case are that the large crowd of last night was drawn purely on the merits of the show, as the novelty of seeing home folks in the performance of the show had all worn off with the two previous performances.—Coos Bay times.
