STORY OF WAR

An unselfish allied patriot seems to have been born in the travail of strife. Particularly she fights to win her own "geographical and marine liberty." As a condition of the allied peace she will press the "correction" of her northern border. She will seek, as she has always sought, the return of her "unredeemed lands," Trent and Trieste. The natural fortifications of the Alps, which are now entirely in Austrian territory, must be divided. Italy must have something besides frontier plains and valleys to insure her a peaceful and prosperous life. The almost insurmountable difficulties of her mountain warfare, she asserts, have proven this to her beyond the shadow of a doubt. The "threat" of an armed Austria, looking down upon her, must be forever removed.

Austria's Control of Adriatic
In the Italian opinion the Austrian control of the Adriatic also should come to an end. Owing to the unavailability of the balance, Italy declares that her Adriatic commerce has amounted to a practical nothing. On the other hand, Austria, it is asserted, has thrived on her unjust control and prevented fair competition.

Under the spur of such possessions Italy dreams that much of the power of old Rome would return to her. Something of the spirit of that ancient mistress of the world has lately been born again in her. It is showing itself in a thousand and one plans, suddenly formulated and aimed at the acquisition of industrial, commercial and artistic greatness.

In the presence of the pope in Rome apparently has done little to complicate the Italian situation. Benedict has made at least one direct plea and not a few indirect ones for a general peace. His efforts have been diplomatically resisted by all the allies, including Italy. The peaceward inquiries of the holy father, it is said, always meet with a unanimous allied response. "We are ready for peace, but only for an allied peace," the allies invariably are reported to reply.

The Italian papers generally give but little if any space to the pope's peace efforts. Consequently they do not come into the constant thought of the people. The possibility of any marked effect is therefore eliminated.

Want Pope's intercession
However, the general belief here is that Germany is seeking to effect peace through the holy father. Papal representatives to the central powers are said to have laid the conditions of a peace in Germany before his holiness. The conditions, it is rumored, were felt to be unsatisfactory to the allies on their face. But, as the story goes, the vatican regarded them as a starting point. Many believe that he invited President Wilson's recent academic discussions on peace and the apparent interest of the king of Spain.

Italians generally view the alleged performance as a show of German weakness and an enemy plea for an early peace. These can be the necessary preliminary steps that possibly may reach peace, it is admitted. The wall, however, can be and probably will be on the roll for many months, it is reminded. If it is on the roll at all, it is on the roll and toward a peace.

It is on the roll and toward a peace. It is on the roll and toward a peace. It is on the roll and toward a peace. It is on the roll and toward a peace.

When will the war end? Italian speculation gives the question many answers. The vatican, it is felt, is making a stupendous effort to end the strife before winter. The pope, it is rumored, has not given up hope of accomplishing his purpose. The military campaign before the final end of the war, it is believed, will be a hard and constant, but patriotic labor for an indefinite period of fighting.

Number of Known Dead From Brush Fires 318
Haileyburg, Ont., Aug. 2.—Officials today announced the known death list in the great brush fire at 318. Stories told by refugees who fled from outlying districts before the blighting blaze enveloped every living thing in the path like tissue paper, led officials to fear the total list may exceed 500.

The official figures so far obtained show 14 dead at Ramore, 130 at Nishkin and Monteith; 137 at Kelso; 15 at Iroquois Falls; 20 at Cochrane. Communication with outlying districts remain broken. It will be necessary for searchers to visit the sections before definite figures can be obtained.

A peculiar phase of the fire was that it has considerably enhanced hundreds of acres by clearing them of brush and undergrowth that would have cost thousands of dollars to remove.

In Germany there has been invented a fireproof celluloid, chiefly for use in automobile windows and wind shields.

LIEUTENANT SPAULDING

I did not hear the call. Tomorrow I have another company to move to Imperial City. This will be a permanent camp, with floors in the tents, etc. Uncle Sam is spending $12,000 in this work—I expect to have an electric light in my tent. How is that for comfort?

I have been assigned to the supply company and have left Major Abrams and Lieutenant Compton, and now have a 9x9 tent all to myself in the headquarters row. Am still messing with L. company (Dallas).

I haven't yet had time to study or even to read the magazines I brought from home. Have received no pay yet. Things are peaceful here, but at Nogales east of here some few hundred miles, shots are exchanged each day or night. The situation is uncertain.

The boys came in the other night and rolled down the front of my tent and tied it so tightly that I nearly had to go under the side to get out. Imperial City is on the beach, about two miles directly west of here.—Taps.
