UNCLE SAM INVESTS IN THREE ISLANDS

Treaty Signed Today for Transfer of Danish Islands Near Canal

Washington, Aug. 4.—The treaty between Denmark and the United States for the purchase of the Danish West Indies for $25,000,000 was signed in New York today by Secretary of State Lansing and Minister Bruun, the state department announced today.

Early ratification of the treaty is expected. The sentiment of the United States senate favors such action and unofficial word from Copenhagen is that the conservative party which rejected the proposal for the sale in 1902 is now opposed to the sale.

Chairman Stone of the senate foreign relations committee said today the opposition to the Danish West Indies purchase apparently was negligible and that he believed the vote to confirm the treaty would be unanimous. The only opposition at all was because of the price he said.

Under the treaty the United States obtains the islands of St. Croix, St. John and St. Thomas, east of Puerto Rico. It surrenders its discovery rights in the north of Greenland. The treaty must be ratified by the Danish and American governments and the people of the islands.

The house of representatives as well as the senate will have to ratify the treaty for this country because of the money involved.

From the United States standpoint the chief gain in getting the islands is strategic. For European governments to hold the West Indies is considered to threaten this country's interests.

For the picnic of the Southern Pacific employes to be held at the state fair grounds Tuesday, August 15, two special trains will run, one coming from Portland and the other from Roseburg, each arriving about 9:30 in the morning. While this is a railroad picnic, the public is invited.

Frame that picture now. The Frame Shop and Giftery, 415 Court St., has a window full of frames made from short lengths of mouldings, only 25 cents. More frames inside of large size at 35 and 50 cents. All post card size frames are fitted with glass. Come early so as to have full choice.

The river is gradually setting down to a summer gauge although it is not falling very fast. Wednesday tide gauge was 1.1 feet above zero, Thursday, 1 foot above and today 9 of a foot above. The genuine resort climate continues as the maximum yesterday was 76 and minimum 59 degrees above.

A special dispensation has been granted the Foresters of America, Sherwood camp No. 19 of Salem whereby for the next 90 days, new members may be taken in for an initiation fee of $1. C. J. Beach is chief ranger and meetings are held Thursday evenings at Hurst Hall. It is expected that 25 members will be initiated at the next meeting.

Grand Union Tea company re-establishes agency store. Salem people, especially the good housewives of this city, will be pleased to learn that the Grand Union has re-established their agency store in Salem. The business will be in charge of C. M. Lockwood who formerly conducted the business so successfully for over five years at his store at 216 North Commercial street.

Ray Pomeroy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pomeroy of this city, was among those who passed the examinations recently of the state medical board. At present he is head interne of Vincent's hospital, Portland, and now that he has passed the exams, is entitled to be addressed as Dr. Ray Pomeroy.

W. P. Oids, senior member of the drygoods firm of Oids, Wirtman & King of Portland, became suddenly ill while a passenger this morning on the Oregon Electric. Upon arrival of the train at Salem he was taken to the Marion hotel and given medical attention by Dr. Morse. He recovered in a few hours and was able to take the 1:50 Electric for Portland.

This is a gloom story. It does not concern gasoline, but has to do with one of the other necessary things of life. Flour has been advanced 40 cents a barrel by all the mills in Portland, Seattle and Sound points, all of which means that next week the good people of Salem will be privileged to pay 10 cents a sack more for their flour. At least that is the general impression today.

READ THIS.—Grand Union goods, teas, coffee, soap powder, etc., can now be secured at former location 216 N. Commercial street or phone—968.—C. M. Lockwood. aug7

In the case of the injunction suit brought by Frank S. Ward against the city restraining the city from purchasing the jacking plant now in the city and lying on the fair grounds, Mr. Ward says the object of the injunction was not to prevent the city at any future time from buying a plant, but that it is an injunction against this special machinery and the method of its purchase.

Members of the Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters returned from Portland last night loud in the praise of the Knights and Ladies of that city, and for the special care taken to give visitors a good time. Among those who attended the grand lodge meetings of the Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters are, W. B. Gilson, H. A. Johnson, W. B. Summerville and wife, Otto Schellberg and wife, Mrs. Irene St. Helens and J. C. Perry. The meeting next year will be held at Marshfield.

The 250 teachers and students attending the Chemawa summer institute at the Salem Indian training school will make a special visit to Salem next Tuesday afternoon, according to Benjamin Beck, director of the tourist and publicity department of the Commercial club. At present the plans are to secure a special run from Chemawa on the Electric, bringing the students and teachers to the city about four o'clock. They will be shown about the city and the state institutions and stay for the Cherrian band concert. Attending the institute are prominent teachers and professors in Indian work from all the agencies in the northwest and from several colleges in the east.

The school of instruction of the auxiliary of the Salem Rifle club was attended by 16 last evening. The school is made up of those who are preparing themselves for higher offices in the military service and is called a non-commissioned officers school. They were put through the school of the squad by Captain Rosenberg and in the near future will be given the manual of arms. Appointments as permanent officers will soon be made, based on an examination. Next Sunday members will go to the Finzer range for a preliminary shoot. Instructions will be given in handling a Krag-Jorgensen such as trigger pull and wind deflection.

The New Submarine

Aug. 4.—The New Submarine has given up making a landing in the Chesapeake Bay, and will probably come around by the way of Portland. This is a great news. The reason is they heard they could save money by buying their supplies at the Farmers Cash Store.

George Quayle, secretary of the Eugene Chamber of Commerce in writing the Oregon Flax Fiber company of Salem, notes the fact that the machinery purchased by the Eugene men for cutting flax proved quite satisfactory. As there are only two mowers of the kind in Oregon, and as the Eugene men happen to own both of them, the Oregon Flax Fiber Co. is promised the use of one in a few days. This mower cuts the flax to within one and one half inch of the ground, while the average mower leaves about six inches. As the length of the fiber is what counts in flax, it has been found advisable to pull it, but the Eugene people seem to have solved the problem by securing a machine that will lose only about an inch of the stem, avoiding the slow work of pulling. Theodore Roth is president of the Oregon Flax Fiber company, and Ed Schunke, secretary and treasurer.
