SENATOR OVERMAN FAVORS CHILD LABOR

Says Best Means of Keeping Children Out of Jail Is to Keep Them at Work

Washington, Aug. 7.—One means of keeping children out of jail is to keep them in cotton mills, according to Senator Overman, of North Carolina, opposing the child labor bill. He submitted figures in the senate today to prove that fewer children—14 to 16—were in his state where they are allowed to work than in 45 other states of the Union. Per 100,000 the figures in 1910, he said, were: Massachusetts, 279; Rhode Island, 199; Missouri, 122; North Carolina, 15.

Rapping magazine for attacks on his state, he said: "What's to become of the children who work if this bill passes? Say an orphan boy is making $10 a week and supporting his widowed mother, would you pension him?" He declared the least could be done was to give the mill owners two years in which to adjust their plants to the new conditions.

WOMAN AVOIDS OPERATION

Medicine Which Made Surgeon's Work Unnecessary.

Astoria, N. Y.—"For two years I was feeling ill and took all kinds of tonics. I was getting worse every day. I had chills, my head would ache, I was always tired. I could not walk straight because of the pain in my back and I had pains in my stomach. I went to a doctor and he said I must go under an operation, but I did not go. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told my husband about it. I said 'I know nothing will help me but I will try this.' I found myself improving from the very first bottle, and in two weeks time I was able to sit down and eat a hearty breakfast with my husband, which had not done for two years. I am now in the best of health and did not have the operation."—Mrs. JOHN A. KOENIG, 502 Flushing Avenue, Astoria, N. Y.

Every one dreads the surgeon's knife and the operating table. Sometimes nothing else will do; but many times doctors say they are necessary when they are not. Letter after letter comes to the Pinkham Laboratory, telling how operations were advised and were not performed; or, if performed, did no good, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was used and good health followed.

If you want advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

HEAT KILLS FIFTEEN IN IMPERIAL VALLEY

Los Angeles' Boasted Climate Gets Jolt—Temperature 112 in Shade

Imperial, Cal., Aug. 7.—Fifteen persons have died from the heat in Imperial Valley during the past few days, it was learned here today.

A record breaking wave of humidity has swept the valley, and this, combined with the ordinary intense heat of the region has caused many prostrations.

Agriculturalists point to the greatly increased growth of vegetation as the cause of the humidity.

According to figures of the Imperial county health office the deaths are apportioned as follows: Brawley 3; Imperial 3; El Centro 2; Holtville 2; Calexico Mexicali 3; Calipatria 2.

For the past week the daylight temperature has remained at 112 degrees in the shade for several hours each day. In some cases deaths have been partially due to physical debility of victims.

Masked Bandit Earned His Dollar

Sacramento, Cal., Aug. 7.—A masked bandit, armed with a rifle, held up one Sacramento automobile party and attempted to stop another at 7 o'clock Sunday night on the road between Truckee and Colusa.

The first victims were J. W. Chapman and family. They were driving alone leisurely when the bandit stepped out and ordered them to stop. All were forced to hold up their hands.

Chapman handed over his money and checkbook. The money consisted of a dollar and some small change. The bandit handed back the checkbook and ordered Chapman to drive on.

A few minutes later the bandit stepped into the middle of the road and attempted to halt an automobile containing Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Melvian and Mr. and Mrs. Grove J. Fink.

Melvian admits he was dazed by the sight of the masked man with a rifle and failed to heed the command. The automobile sped on past the man. The bandit no doubt realized he could gain little by firing a shot for he did not attempt it.

Turlock Cantaloupe Best in the World

Turlock, California, is without doubt the greatest melon center in United States, the climate is admirably adapted for the growing of melons, and especially the cantaloupe. An even temperature with cool nights with California's sunshine give the cantaloupe the world's best flavor.

Melons growing which up to a few years ago was in its infancy, is now one of the largest industries on the coast. Last year's crop of melons from the famous Turlock belt was estimated at from 1,100 to 1,200 carloads.

The Salem Fruit company has just received a carload of the Turlock cantaloupes, containing 400 cases which are the best of the season, and the price is 10 cents per case less than Portland prices.

Weather Bureau Says No Relief in Sight

Washington, Aug. 7.—After writing a couple of collars and almost melting away from his task, the gentleman in charge of weather prognosticating announced dolefully today that "no important change to lower temperature is indicated."

He modified this just a bit—to be on the safe side — by announcing that showery weather is "probable" tonight in the lower lake region and

UNITED PRESS WILL FURNISH THEM NEWS

Press Cable Service Established with South American Cities

Buenos Ayres, Aug. 7.—Long term contracts were closed here today by which the United Press service is extended to South America, with principal headquarters in the office of La Nacion, South America's greatest newspaper.

Coincidentally the Central and South American Cable company has reduced the press rate between New York and South American cities from 22 cents to 10 cents per word.

This deal, which establishes the first comprehensive news service between the two continents, was closed by Roy W. Howard, of New York, president of the United Press, and Jorge Mitre, publisher of La Nacion. Charles P. Stewart, formerly European manager of the United Press, will be in general charge of these contracts marks a new epoch in the development of social and commercial relations between North and South America. Heretofore the principal newspapers of South America have received their foreign news from European agencies.

The United Press now will cover the world for South American papers. On account of cable transmission conditions, much of the service will be filed direct from the London, Berlin, Paris and Rome bureaus of the United Press but a large part of the transmission will be handled through New York.

Children and Parents at Playground Sunday

Sunday was a big day for the children as well as their parents at the Albert Park playgrounds as fully 500 spent part of the day picnicking and watching the children play. From early morning until dark the crowds were going and coming.

The boys' dressing room is now completed and in use, giving the park dressing rooms made of lumber for both the boys and girls.

One more boat of the flat bottom variety is now in use on the creek, thanks to the generosity of Mrs. J. S. Graham. This gives the children two boats each capable of holding about ten, and both of the flat bottom, non-sinkable kind.

The matter of the appropriation of $250 by the city council for maintaining the grounds during the summer will come up before the council at the meeting tonight. On account of the objection of one member at the last meeting, the voting on the appropriation necessary for keeping the park open was delayed until tonight when it will come up for a final reading and passage.

TELEGRAPHERS TALK STRIKE

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 7.—Bumors of a nation-wide telegraph strike were current here this afternoon following a meeting yesterday of the Kansas City local of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America. W. B. Roberts, president of the local, said no strike action was taken, but that the sentiment of the men here favored a walkout, unless an eight hour day was granted with an increase of pay.

The exact date of the rumored strike was not learned officially, but it is understood to be about August 15.

thence east to New England, also in the South Atlantic and east gulf states; if showers do come it'll be somewhat cooler thereabouts, he opined.

The temperature, he said, remains unreasonable"—perhaps it was "unreasonable"—high in the upper Mississippi, the Ohio valley and the upper lake region and Tennessee.

The Meyers barber shop on North Commercial street changed hands last week. The present owner is W. L. Brown and is now in charge of the shop.

Portland Towboat Hits Snag and Goes Down

Portland, Or., Aug. 7.—A huge hole rent in her hull by a submerged snag, the river towboat Shaver sank in shallow water off Walker Island today. The crew escaped in shifts. They declare the stream is well over the lower reefs. The Shaver is 155 feet long, 30 feet beam, and one of the biggest towboats on the Columbia river.

Pilot ring was in charge of the vessel when it struck. Two large log rafts were in tow. With water rushing into the hold and the Shaver sinking rapidly, its bow was turned toward the nearest land—Walker Island. After an exciting race while deckhands prepared small boats for launching and Ring stuck to his wheel, the crippled steamer grounded.

The Bingham building occupied by the stem Fruit company is receiving a new coat of paint.

STRIKE NOT SETTLED

New York, Aug. 7.—Late this afternoon the directors of the New York City Railways company authorized the following statement: "There has been no settlement between the New York City Railways company and its striking employees. The matter has been under consideration all day and a committee of the board is now waiting upon the mayor and Chairman Strauss of the public service commission."

GERMANS MAY PROTEST HER LEAVING PORT

Washington, Aug. 7.—The German embassy, it was thought here today, will probably protest any clearance of the Italian steamer Re d'Italia from New York. If made, this will be based upon the captain's admission on arrival yesterday that he fled from pursuing submarines and that naval gunners fired and probably hit one of the chasing vessels.
