COUNCILMEN VOTE $250 FOR PLAYGROUND

Will Provide Sewers for Eastern Portion of City--Other City Business

The sum of $250 was appropriated to the Salem public playgrounds association from the general fund. A bill requiring traveling medicine shows to pay a daily license of $10 or a weekly license of $50 was passed. Action was urged in the matter of providing sewer relief for the people who live in the section of 14th street between Center and D.

Otherwise the regular meeting of the Salem common council last night was a quiet affair, with nothing to disturb the spirit of peace which brooded over it. It had been understood prior to the meeting that the playgrounds matter, which had aroused a storm at a previous meeting, was to pass without serious opposition, but the understanding was not based on substantial grounds. Immediately upon the introduction of the matter Alderman Cook, who had led the opposition to the bill from its first appearance before the council, was on his feet.

"I am opposed to this thing on principle," said Cook. "Boys are putting in their time playing on these grounds when they should be working and earning their own clothes. Parents should take care of their children." It was much the same line of talk that the alderman had used on a former occasion. Its chief significance lay in the fact that the bill was not to be put through without opposition. Alderman Hudelson followed Cook with the statement that he considered it a great thing to raise a family. He, with the assistance of his wife, had raised seven children, he said. They had been successful in doing so without the aid of a public playground. Mothers of families should look after these matters. It was not right to ask the city to spend good money to do it.

But Alderman Hudelson seemed to lack his customary conviction. It was noted that he was not so firm as he had been known to be at former times when the public treasury was threatened, and presently he stated that he would vote in favor of the bill with the understanding that he could change his vote later. Alderman Wallace stated that he was going to vote against the bill. He considered public playgrounds a teachers' foul. Alderman Jones, who had led the movement to obtain aid from the city, was a teacher. He was sorry that Jones had got into the mess. The more facts the more taxes.

At this juncture Alderman Jones made an eloquent plea for the passage of the bill. He told of the playground work; what a good thing it was proving to be. "Why," said he, "even Alderman Hudelson's grandson has been one of the most enthusiastic children on the playgrounds." This caused a smile to ripple around the council chamber, and Alderman Hudelson made no remarks. In reply to a question from Cook, Jones gave a brief history of the playground movement in this city and set forth how the money was spent. Cook shook his head. He said he was willing to reimburse Jones, but otherwise he was absolutely opposed and would continue so. Cheaper help should be engaged for the playground work.

A vote was taken, resulting in 7 ayes and 3 noes. The vote succeeded by several margins of excitement, and presently Jones made a motion that the motion just lost be reconsidered. This after the fact had been brought out that the people of the city had already gone on record in favor of a public playgrounds. The motion to reconsider was carried. On the second vote Cook voted no, Elliott yes, Hoover yes, Hudelson yes, Jones yes, Miller yes, McClellan no, Patterson yes, Roberts yes, Wallace no, Mayor White declared the motion carried.

The proposition to raise the license fee for automobiles and taxis carrying passengers for hire was defeated, but in connection with this a motion was introduced by Alderman Cook that the public auto and taxi license be raised to $25 a year, and the city attorney be instructed to draw up a bill for submission to the council. This motion was carried.

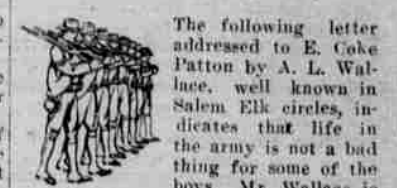

The petition for sewer relief from the people living east of 14th street between Center and D was the cause of some discussion as to whether the matter should be referred to the sewer committee or to the health and police committee. It was finally referred to the former, and the petitioners are assured that relief will be given them before another winter. The council decided favorably in the matter of rebuilding the foot bridge on North 17th street between Cheek and Center. The street committee with the street commissioner was authorized to buy 50 tons of hay. The city attorney was instructed to notify Congressman Hawley to remove an unsightly fence on his property within 15 days or the city would remove the fence at his expense. This fence is located in University addition. Sidewalks, bills and small matters pertaining to street work occupied the attention of the meeting otherwise than as stated in the foregoing.

COMPANY M BOYS "A HEALTHY BUNCH"

A. L. Wallace Writes of Visiting the Salem Boys at Palm City

The following letter addressed to E. Coke Patton by A. L. Wallace, well known in Salem, Elk circles, indicates that life in the army is not a bad thing for some of the boys. Mr. Wallace is studying engraving in Los Angeles and just took a run to San Diego to see the boys when they were camped at Palm City. He writes in part:

"While in San Diego, I visited the boys of Company M when camped at Palm City which is about an hour's drive out of San Diego. There are 1036 Oregon boys camped there of which 135 are from Salem in company M. I was surprised to find such a healthy and husky bunch. Some of the pale-faced, soft-skinned ones at home have taken on a tan with red noses and cheeks, which together with short-cropped hair, gives them the appearance of an entirely different bunch that I knew at home. "I talked with Captain Gehlor, Lieutenant Allen and others I know and they all have about the same report which is that they are all feeling fine and having a good time, and I'll say they sure look it.

"I spent most of the time with Carl Gabrielson and witnessed Company M's baseball team defeat Company I. They have a crack team and have beaten nearly every team in the camp. "I lined up with them for mess Saturday evening and while holding my tin plate, felt like an Uncle Sam hero. Their dinner was a good one, in fact, better than what I have paid a dollar for in this city. "The boys are looking forward with pleasure to their removal to Imperial Beach as there they will have the Pacific ocean for their bath tub and it will be only a few yards from camp. They will have flooring for their tents, electric lights and other conveniences. "I like it in Los Angeles, but with all the fine climate, I long for Oregon and old Salem town, together with its refreshing rains and green hills, which I hope to see again before many months."

OIL TREATMENT FOR STOMACH TROUBLES

A simple prescription made up of a combination of pure vegetable oils is producing wonderful results for sufferers. The remedy, which is said to have originated in France, where it has been used for years by the peasantry, was introduced into this country by George H. Mayr, a leading Chicago druggist, who cured himself of severe stomach, liver and intestinal troubles by its use. Those who have used it say the first dose is sufficient to convince any one of its remarkable merit, and that within twenty-four hours the sufferer feels like a new person. This medicine, which has become known as Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, is sold by leading druggists everywhere with the positive understanding that your money will be refunded without question or quibble if ONE bottle fails to give you absolute satisfaction. For sale by J. C. Perry, Druggist.

FITTING UP A NEW STORE

B. S. Quinn is quite busy this week repairing and remodeling H's building which has just been vacated by G. H. Young. He is being assisted in the work by Joe Thoney. The front room has been partitioned off and is being rearranged for a confectionery store and ice cream parlor. A new soda fountain will be installed, as well as other elaborate fixtures, and it is the intention to make the institution second to none in this part of the county. The back room will be used as a billiard parlor and will be entirely separate from the front. Mr. Quinn expects to be ready to open up for business by next Tuesday or Wednesday. --Donald Record.

SUMMER SPOILED SKIN REMOVED BY ABSORPTION

As undue summer exposure usually leaves an undesirable surface of tan, redness or roughness, often freckles, too, the sensible thing to do is to remove such surface. There's nothing better for this than ordinary mercurized wax, which actually absorbs an unwholesome complexion. The thin layer of surface skin is itself absorbed gently, gradually, so there's no inconvenience, no detention indoors. Spend the wax lightly over the entire face at bedtime and take it off in the morning with warm water. If you will get one ounce of mercurized wax at the drugstore use it for a week or so, you may expect marked improvement daily. When the underlying skin is wholly in view your complexion will be a marvel of spotless purity and beautiful whiteness.

Don't let those summer wrinkles worry you; worry breeds more wrinkles. Banish them by bathing the face in a solution of powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in 1/2 pt. witch hazel. Used daily for a while this will be found wonderfully effective.
