A very pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday, July 19, at 2 p. m. when Miss Lena E. Coleman of Los Angeles, became the bride of Walter Isaac Newton of Claxton, Oregon. The ceremony was performed by Reverend E. E. Haring at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Berry. The attendants were Miss Juanita Caplinger and Frank Fisher.

The bride wore a gown of white net, over white silk, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Miss Caplinger wore a dainty gown of pink silk and carried pink roses.

The rooms were tastefully decorated throughout with roses and ferns. An elaborate wedding dinner was served, covers being laid for the two families and a few close friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton left for a short wedding trip, on their return they will make their home in Ocean Park.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Coleman of 718 El Centro avenue. She is a graduate of the Vine street school and was also a student of Hollywood high school.

The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Isaac Newton of Claxton, Oregon, formerly of London, England.

The wedding of the young couple is the culmination of a romance which began a few years ago when they were both residents of Portland, Oregon.

Among the out of town guests at the wedding were Mrs. O. L. Higg and Mrs. E. Wilcox of Oakland, counts of the bride, and Messrs. Rodney and Pitzer of Portland.—Los Angeles Times.

TO SET TRIAL DATES FOR DYNAMITERS

Judge Will Fix Date Next Week—All the Prisoners
Charged with Murder

San Francisco, Aug. 10.—The date for the trials of Israel Weinburg, one of the five persons charged with murder in connection with the San Francisco bomb outrage will be set on Saturday, August 19; Edward Nolan's trial will be set next Wednesday and the three other bomb suspects will be set next Tuesday.

When the five prisoners appeared before Superior Judge Cabaniss this morning for arraignment, the court continued all of the cases on request of the prisoners or their attorneys.

All five prisoners were brought into court under a heavy guard of detectives. Warren K. Billings, principal suspect, lost none of his nonchalance during the hearing, smiled at several friends in the court room and laughed in Judge Cabaniss' face when the court read the indictments to him. He was represented by Attorneys Edward Lemansky and John Lawler.

When Mooney and his wife appeared, it was the first time they had seen each other since their arrest a few days after the dynamiting. They embraced affectionately and spoke a few words of encouragement to each other. Neither was represented by counsel and Mooney said to the court: "This is a big thing and I have not yet been able to arrange for counsel. I would like to have the court continue my case for two weeks to give me an opportunity to get an attorney."

Judge Cabaniss declined to continue the hearing that long and set it for Tuesday along with Billings and Edward Nolan. He advised Mooney to get an attorney at once. Attorneys William H. Cook and Albert Wallstein represented Nolan in court.

All the prisoners were charged with murder on three counts of the indictments against them, first separately and then jointly. The specific charges were that they had been responsible for the murders of Mrs. Hetty Knapp, Arthur Nelson and Captain Reuben Vaughn.

Neither Emma Goldman nor any of her anarchistic followers was in court.

United Press Scores
South American Scoop

Buenos Ayres, Aug. 10.—Charles F. Mott of Syracuse, N. Y., former superintendent of the Onondaga county penitentiary, indicted following an investigation of a scandal growing out of the letting of hospital contracts, was arrested today by Argentine detectives after a pursuit lasting several months.

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 10.—The Syracuse police, who have been waiting for months for some word of Charles F. Mott, received their first word of his arrest in Argentine today from the United Press dispatched in an extra edition of the Syracuse Journal.

The story was the biggest local news of the year in Syracuse and through the new South American service of the United Press the Journal scored a complete scoop.

Union Iron Works to Build Two Big Ones

San Francisco, Aug. 10.—Two 10,000 ton steel steamers will be built on its own account by the Union Iron Works as a speculative investment it was announced today. When completed, they will be offered to any prospective purchaser for about $1,750,000 each.

This announcement following the granting of a 25 year lease to the company on waterfront land in Alameda is regarded as significant. When the Union Iron Works' Alameda plant is completed, it will include ways on which six steamers can be built simultaneously and will make the company's plant on the east side of the bay larger than that on this side.

It is reported that today's announcement means that the Schwab interests, controlling the Union Iron Works, propose to build a big fleet of steamers on its own account.

BORN

They will be substantially constructed in order that they may be used for other purposes besides class rooms. At the Washington junior high, the building will be 39½ feet by 33½ feet. At the Lincoln and Grant junior high schools, they will be 27½ by 39½ feet. Plans and specifications were drawn by George M. Post and the contractors will submit their bids at the meeting of the board of education next Monday evening.

LOJU COMPANIES MUST HAVE MORE MACHINERY

Wire for Duplicate Batching
Outfit—Heavy Shipments Made

On account of the business assuming such large proportions and the heavy demand for Loju coming in from all points in the west, the Northwest Fruit Products company yesterday wired to the manufacturers of bottling machinery to ship by express, duplicate filling and washing machines. When these arrive within a few days, the bottling capacity of the Loju plant will be doubled.

On account of the berries ripening late this year, bottling has been delayed several weeks, and while plans were made to ship by the first of July, delays were such that many points will not receive their car shipments of Loju until the latter part of this month.

This week car load shipments were made to Pueblo, Col., Salt Lake City, Milwaukee, Denver, Minneapolis, Kansas City, three cars to Joplin, Mo., car loads to St. Paul, Wichita, Oklahoma City, five cars to Los Angeles and two cars to San Francisco. Before the first of September car loads will be shipped to Sacramento, San Diego, Tucson, Arizona; Spokane, Wallace, Idaho, three cars to Portland, 2½ to Tacoma and two cars to Oakland, Calif. In all 34 cars will be shipped before September 1.

In each car is about 1000 cases of Loju. The Northwest Fruit Products company, for the manufacture of Loju alone, has paid out this season $90,000 for loganberries. Before the end of the season, they expect to ship out at least 200,000 cases.

Some idea of the growing business of the manufacture of Loju may be had from the fact that all this business has been developed within the last year, and that the Northwest Fruit Products company is not shipping or accepting business east of the Mississippi river. They are only working west of the Mississippi and the re-orders for Loju have been such that it may be a year or two before agencies are established in the eastern states.

AFRAID RUMANIA

woods, taking 100 prisoners and six machine guns, it was officially announced today. South of the Somme a German reconnaissance was dispersed.

On the Verdun front no important infantry fighting occurred during the night. There was an intermittent bombardment in the region of Fleury and the Vaux-Chapelle woods.

In the Vosges a German attack on French positions northeast of Altkirch failed utterly.

Many air raids were carried out last night. On the Somme front three German aeroplanes were defeated.

More Big Successes.
By Ed L. Keen.

(United Press staff correspondent.)

London, Aug. 10.—New and striking successes for the allies in their great triple offensive were reported in official dispatches from the war office this afternoon. On every front the allied capitals announced gains in the last 24 hours.

Pushing rapidly eastward on the Isonzo front, the Italians have occupied the Austrian position of Boschni and have captured more ground from the retreating garrison of Gorizia.

The Austrian position of Boschni and Gorizia, six miles north of Goritz, is unofficially reported to be in Italian hands.

Russian troops have captured the railway station of Chryplin, only three miles east of the important city of Stanislaw and the right bank of the Bistritza river.

At the same time Petrograd reports the Slavs have resumed their advance in the extreme southwest, where they have been held up by reinforced Austro-Germans.

On the Somme front both the British and French war offices announced slight gains. These statements, however, were contradicted by the German war office which claimed the repulse of allied attacks on the Somme front.

The Russian Report.

Petrograd, Aug. 10.—The railway station of Chryplin, only three miles east of Stanislaw has been captured by the advancing Russian army, it was officially announced today.

Chryplin is a railway station on the right bank of the river Bistritza. Earlier unofficial dispatches had reported that the Russians were approaching the river.

The Austro-Germans, in falling back upon Stanislaw blew up the railway bridges over the Bistritza and are preparing for a stand on the left bank of the river.

Further south, in the region of Wokoty and the rivers Bityl Sereznosz and Sutchaya, the Russians advanced several versts.

(A verst is about two-thirds of a mile.)

British Claim Gains.

London, Aug. 10.—Further progress northwest of Pozieres, where the Australians yesterday penetrated German trenches on a 600 yard front was reported by General Haig this afternoon. The Australians have gained all local objectives which are rapidly being consolidated.

The night was generally quiet except for the bombardment of British positions southeast of the Trones wood by German artillery, General Haig reported.

Nearing Stanislaw.

Petrograd, Aug. 10.—The right wing of General Letchinsky's army has reached the Monastyrskaya-Nisnaya railway, 13 miles northeast of Stanislaw and the mouth of the Zlota Lipa river, it was officially announced today.

Dividends Held Down to Meet Any Contingencies

New York, August 10.—A very striking disposition exists on part of big corporation managers against distributing in the form of dividends current extraordinary profits. While those engaged in turning out munitions usually secured the largest rewards, big profits have not been restricted to such concerns, but extended to many of the regular industrial; and even the railroads have shared in the general prosperity. Circumstances considered, dividends as a rule have been distributed very conservatively, and while there have been many increases, the additional distribution as a whole has been only a fraction of the actual gain in profits. Several reasons contributed to the adoption of such a policy. Munition makers naturally led in this conservative movement, and sought to protect themselves against the future by reserving sufficient funds to wipe off cost of plant or depreciation, to offset the rise in commodities and wages, to reduce indebtedness and to leave a good surplus for meeting reaction or any other unforeseen conditions that may develop after the war. Other industrial, especially steel and chemical concerns, recognized that the extraordinary gains of 1915 and 1916 were ephemeral, that sound business management required taking advantage of such a situation by reducing fixed obligations, allowing for depreciation and enlarging of plant to meet new demands, and in general placing their business in a strong position against the future.

Certain Securities Affected.

There are, however, certain classes of securities less directly affected by the war; among these being the railroad and such industrial concerns as produced strictly for the home trade or legitimate export orders. These, too, enjoyed great activity; quite sufficient to materially enlarge their profits, but not enough to warrant more than moderate increases in dividends if any. Many corporations have made unusual gains in gross earnings, but the rise in wages, commodities and other costs prevented profits from becoming abnormally large and kept dividends from increasing.

The stock market still refuses to respond to the stimulus of these phenomenal profits. In spite of danger spots, the outlook is encouraging. In ordinary times such conditions as now exist would be accompanied by widespread and active speculation, if not a boom surpassing all records. But stocks stubbornly refuse to move either up or down, except within relatively narrow limits; every pronounced rise being followed by a fall of consequence is soon checked by a withdrawal of offerings. Such an anomalous situation has never been seen. The war, of course, is the only explanation. It fills the situation with so many hidden uncertainties that all ordinary standards of judgment are apt to miscarry. Who knows when the war will end, and how the country will take the readjustment to a peace basis?

All Is Uncertainty.

Who can tell how many more securities Europe will unload on this market; and who can fairly estimate the coming pressure of foreign loans? Though all these problems are being faced in a confident spirit, it is impossible to feel sure of what will happen. Home affairs are not without their perplexities. The crop outlook is not encouraging.

both wheat and cotton having suffered striking serious deterioration, though there will be sufficient of both to secure good prices and prevent famine. The labor situation is particularly threatening; prosperity seeming to have turned the heads of a certain type of leaders and making them think that the rights of the public and owners are entirely subservient to the demands of labor, whether reasonable or unreasonable. The national political campaign fairly opened with Mr. Hughes' address and will soon become more of a factor in estimating the future. The Mexican problem is far from a settlement and may remain so for months to come. The money outlook is satisfactory and time money easy owing to limited demand and abundant supply. Money in circulation in the United States now amounts to over $4,000,000,000, or more than $400,000,000 in excess of a year ago. The situation in fact has changed so completely that New York banks are transferring their balances to London to secure the better rates here. Capital applications in the United States since January 1 aggregated about $2,000,000,000, or nearly double the amount of a year ago. Of this vast sum nearly $450,000,000 represented foreign loans of various descriptions, about $900,000,000 industrial issues while railroad issues accounted for another $500,000,000. In July new charters of $1,000,000 or over in the principal Eastern States aggregated $217,000,000, compared with $71,000,000 a year ago, and $68,000,000 in 1914. So much for the very extraordinary demands upon our capital market which cannot be prolonged without affecting the financial situation on this side. Evidently we are threatened by congestion in the security market which may partly explain the unwillingness of the market to respond to stimulating surface conditions.

Trade is somewhat less active as usual at this season. Bank clearings last week were only 33 per cent ahead of last year, compared with recent gains of 40 per cent and over. Railroad earnings are satisfactory, running 25 per cent more than a year ago; the latest report of the New York Central showing an increase of $21,000,000 of gross earnings for the six months ending June, and $10,000,000 in operating expenses being highly significant. Inside selling at home and war selling abroad, plus the constant pressure of both new and old issues, create a perplexing situation. Were the market governed by ordinary rules, there would be greater activity and wider, if not sensational, fluctuations. As it is the situation is stabilized by the conservative spirit of New York bankers who are discouraging unsound operations and looking out for American interests. The British government is also exerting a steady influence, having potent reasons for aiding the preservation of sound conditions here in order to facilitate its own operations. Great Britain not only wants to keep exchange at a convenient level, but also to avoid the threatened congestion of our security markets and pave the way for a new bond issue later on. The situation therefore is encouraging in spite of perplexities. Steel shares are strengthened by the fact that further big munition orders are coming or have come this way, indicating vigorous prosecution of the war by the Allies. When the war ends it is practically certain that big foreign orders will be received from abroad for railroad equipment industrial plants and other reconstruction requirements which Europe cannot meet. It has been estimated by high authority that $5,000,000,000 will be required to replace the necessary plants and property thus far destroyed in Belgium and France, and that a goodly portion of such orders must come to the United States. If this supposition proves true our export trade, especially of steel products, will continue active after the war, with a consequent stimulus upon many other industries.

WOMEN IN FAVOR OF INDORSING HUGHES

Gathering at Colorado Springs
Rely On Promise of a Politician

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 10.—Sentiment was strongly in favor of endorsing Charles E. Hughes and adopting a ringing declaration against President Wilson as the delegates from the 12 suffrage states gathered here today for the national party conference.

The republican candidate's personal pledge for a federal suffrage amendment, was contrasted by the conference leaders with President Wilson's opposition to national action.

The policy of the woman's party will be fixed at an executive session tomorrow afternoon when a $500,000 campaign will be launched to elect friends of a federal suffrage amendment.

The "society" spirit evident among the fashionably gowned delegates will be vented at the open reception in their honor this evening given by Mrs. Leonard Eager Curtis, leader of the "400" in the Pikes Peak region.

With soap box orators wherever they can gather a crowd, the women are proving more of an attraction here than the Pikes Peak motorcycle races. The Antlers hotel, headquarters for the conference is bedecked with suffrage flags. Suffrage literature is presented to every one. A party of the leaders motored up Pikes Peak to plant their symbol—a purple, gold and white flag.

Austrians Ousted.

Rome, Aug. 10.—The strong Austrian position at Boschni, south of Goritz, has been occupied by Italian forces, it was officially announced this afternoon.
