

SOCIETY and CLUBS

SOCIETY turned feminine the other day and gave away a secret. She confessed her age! Oh, but that must remain a confession! Suffice to say, that once upon a time, Society was a gay debutante, and had a first season like a regular debutante, and had the world at her feet, like a modern debutante. Then it was, in her first season, that Society tossed her coquettish curls and told the rest of us what should be done in all the seasons to come after. Among other commands, Society decreed that August should forever after be the dull month of her reign, and be dismissed by all society cronies, as precisely thus—Dull. And so it has been, dull. But this has been a duller August than all the Augusts before. And the reason lies far afield, where none of us can see it—down on the Mexican border. Had any mere man dared to boast a few months past, that with one hundred and fifty units of the masculine element withdrawn, Society would grow wimpy and talk of going into a decline—imagine the result! A series of Eve and Eve parties would have been the outcome, merely to prove that Society could still pursue its gay and wimpy course, without mere man. But, one hundred and fifty of these were men are gone now and Society is pensive, when not cast down; echoes, indeed the matron at the Benefit Tea, who said, "There's no fun doing for me, till my boy comes back."

But Society forgets to sigh and rises merrily to the occasion, in the way of benefits for the dependents of Company M. O. N. G., the very latest being a Silver Tea at the Y. W. C. A. club rooms, on Wednesday, under the auspices of the Salem Patriotic League. A profusion of delectable sweet pastries graced the drawing rooms, where a musical program was given. Various numbers were contributed by Miss Frances Cameron, Miss Mignon Oliver, Miss Ruth Schultz, Mrs. G. E. Terwilliger, Professor T. S. Roberts, Mrs. Carlton Smith and Miss Lucile Barton. Miss Z. Galloway, the Misses McGillchrist, Mrs. D. W. Harrison and Miss Cleveland assisted in the serving and Mrs. William McGillchrist, Sr., Mrs. A. N. Moore, Mrs. R. S. Wallace and Mrs. William Galloway poured. Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. P. A. Elliott, Mrs. W. G. Ackerman, Mrs. David Wright, Mrs. Chauncey Bishop. The proceeds in the neighborhood of five dollars will be added to the growing sum in the treasury of the Patriotic League.

Several novel benefits are being planned for the very near future, featuring musical and gala treats, certain to prove strong drawing cards.

Motor trips to noted points of scenic interest, are proving more and more popular as the most delightful manner of entertaining out of town guests during the vacation season, and have quite taken precedence this week over the regular round of formal affairs, which commonly fill to overflowing the social calendar of the busy maids and matrons, on the advent of the latest arrivals in guestdom. A trip offering numerous and distinctive possibilities of pleasure to the motorist was the extended sojourn, taken this week, when a party composed of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Bush, their house guests, Dr. and

Mrs. Eugene Fuller and daughter, Miss Eugenia Fuller of New York, and Mrs. Harry Clay left Thursday for Crater Lake, Yosemite and Lake Tahoe. The touring party will travel in two cars, returning in a fortnight.

Charming in every detail was the bridge tea, given by Mrs. E. E. Waters Tuesday afternoon, the last of a series of delightful affairs, honoring Miss Roselle Crump of Buffalo, New York, the house guest of Mrs. W. C. Knighton, who left for Salt Lake city Wednesday. Masses of lovely sweet peas and golden glow made a pleasing setting for the bridge tables, three being circled by the players. Mrs. Henry Meyers captured the high score. Assisting the hostess in the serving were Mrs. W. C. Knighton and Mrs. Fred Waters. The guests were: Miss Roselle Crump, Mrs. Chauncey Bishop, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Henry Meyers, Mrs. Fred Stewart, Mrs. Charles McNary, Mrs. George Waters, Mrs. Rollin E. Page, Miss Mable Withycombe, Mrs. Lenta Westcott, Mrs. J. H. Lauterman, Miss Margaret Cosper, Mrs. Fred Waters, Mrs. W. C. Knighton.

Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson, state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, will be in Portland all next week, making arrangements for the state chapter to receive Mrs. William Cummings Story, national president of the D. A. R., who will be in Portland on Thursday. Mrs. Patterson will have charge of the program for the day, the chief event of which will be the dedication of a memorial drinking fountain at Multnomah Falls. The fountain is erected in honor of the Oregon pioneers.

Yesterday Mrs. Story was in Tumwater, near Olympia, Wash., where she made an address at the unveiling of the monument erected by the D. A. R. The organization is desirous of marking the old trails used by the early-day pathfinders and settlers. Several prominent women will be invited to attend the ceremonies in Portland. Among these will be Mrs. Edmond Rowden, state regent of Washington; Mrs. Eliza Perry Leary, of Seattle; Mrs. Henry McCleary, chairman of the National Old Trails' committee; Miss Florence Finch, national chairman of the magazine committee, will accompany Mrs. Story. A luncheon will be given at Crown Point Chalet. Other members of the Salem chapter, besides Mrs. Patterson have signed the likelihood of their attending the Portland exercises.

Mrs. J. B. Stump is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. C. S. Hamilton at her home on North Front street.

Miss Gladys Gill of Alto, California, is the guest of Miss Carol Dible over the week end. Miss Gill is returning from a several weeks sojourn through Washington and Oregon.

Mrs. M. M. Fox will leave for Coos Bay Sunday morning to visit her son's family at North Bend.

Many an informal little festivity is being arranged during these days of social inertia on the spur of the moment, to dispel the boredom of the midsummer days. Such an afternoon was pleasantly whiled away, when a few friends met at Mrs. J. D. Sutherland's home on Tuesday for an hour or two of bridge. Two tables were used, the high score falling to Mrs. L. F. Griffiths.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Young and daughter, Miss Isabelle Young, of Albany motored to Salem Thursday, to be the guests of Mrs. W. L. McDougal for the Cherrian dance. Mrs. McDougal asked in a few additional guests for dinner, covers being laid for Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Bishop, Mrs. William Burghardt, Jr., Frederic Thielgen and Mr. and Mrs. McDougal. The party attended the dance afterwards.

Mrs. Ralph Matthews of Martinez, California, the house guest of Mrs. A. L. Brown, continues to be the inspiration for a variety of pleasurable affairs. Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Matthews, Mrs. John Harrison and Mrs. Alfred Brown were the guests of Mrs. R. S. Wallace on a motoring trip to Silver Creek Falls. Yesterday afternoon, Mrs. H. H. Olinger and Mrs. George W. Brown entertained at an informal Kensington, complimenting Mrs. Matthews at the home of Mrs. Olinger.

Mrs. W. H. Dancy is entertaining as week end guests, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hendricks, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gens of Portland.

Mrs. Harry Clay was hostess at a prettily-appointed little dinner, Wednesday evening, covers being arranged for eight.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilson are sojourning at Willhoit Springs for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Pinnell are spending the week end at Grand Island.

A Salem visitor of the week was Montague Lord, who left for the Philippines Thursday, having been the guest of his mother and sister, Mrs. William P. Lord and Miss Elizabeth Lord.

Miss Frances Dick is enjoying a short stay in Portland.

Miss Averil Harris is visiting Miss Portia Baker of Portland.

The perennial June bride had scarcely swished away in silken train, ere the dainty mid-summer bride was throwing her rose bouquet, and giving place to the bride-elect of autumn, heralded by showers, teas and all manner of gayeties. Claiming a large share of these prenuptial attentions are Miss Eva Hogue, whose marriage to Harold Jory will take place August twenty-second and Miss Vera Martin, whose wedding will be an event of September sixth. Honoring these attractive bride-elects, a pretty lawn party was given Tuesday night at the home of Miss Gertrude Eakin. The young people complimenting the honor guests were: Miss Ada Ross, Miss Lois Martin, Miss Ruth Hodges, Miss Laura Ross, Miss Rosamond Gilbert, Miss Lucile Ross, Miss Gertrude Eakin, Pinkham Gilbert, Fred Smith,

Clinton Ostrander, Archie Smith and Harold Eakin.

Don Miles returned last evening from a combined business and pleasure trip to California. During his stay in San Francisco, Mr. Miles was entertained by his Sigma Chi fraternity brothers at Stanford and Berkeley. He also visited his brother, Roderick Cooke Miles, formerly of Salem, whose recent marriage to Miss Ramona Hendly, a University of California girl will be of interest to Salem friends.

Mrs. S. C. Dyer returned Wednesday evening from a delightful outing at Agate Beach. During her stay Mrs. Dyer was house guest of Mrs. William Brown at her beautiful cottage in Seal Rock. Mrs. W. Connell Dyer returned on Thursday from Agate Beach to meet Mr. Dyer, who arrived in Salem Thursday night from a trip to Chicago.

A most delightful time was the general verdict of those who attended the reception tendered Dr. and Mrs. G. F. Holt and family at the Baptist parsonage last night. A committee of women of the church consisting of Mrs. Sam Vail, Mrs. F. H. Reasoner and house profusely with flowers and vines. By the use of screens, Japanese lanterns, easy chairs and flowers the broad porches had been transformed into cozy rooms.

The receiving line consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Holt and children, with the deacons and their wives stood in the parlor. The guests were received by Mrs. F. H. Reasoner and Miss Nina McNary. They were presented to those in the receiving line by Mrs. Sam Vail. Assisting in the serving of refreshments which consisted of cake and meats were Mrs. C. R. Gregg, Mrs. Peter Graber, Mrs. O. A. Davidson. During the evening an interesting program was given. Miss Lillian Stege rendered two violin solos accompanied by Miss Evaline DeLong on the piano. Mrs. L. G. Curtis gave a number of pleasing readings.

Vocal selections were given by Miss Pratt, Mrs. F. H. Reasoner and Miss Abbie Davis. Mrs. Fred and John Brewer sang a duet. Mrs. Fred Brewer and Miss Emily Phillips gave piano numbers. The attendance was large, both the young people and adults of the congregation being largely represented.

An exceedingly pretty home wedding took place Thursday evening, when Ethel M. Finley became the bride of Clarence E. Thomas at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Nichols on Union Street. The simple rite ceremony was performed by Rev. F. L. Porter of the First Christian church, the couple pledging their vows under a large bell arranged in an archway of ferns and sweet peas. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Mrs. C. C. Cory. Following the service, Mrs. Cory sang "Because." The bride wore a handsome embroidered gown of white and carried white carnations. The occasion also marked the birthday of the bridegroom and that of his niece, Miss Leola Nichols, so the gala events celebrated were threefold and included the cutting of the customary birthday cake. Quantities of sweet peas and roses formed attractive decorations throughout the rooms. A dainty wedding cake was served by Miss Bessie Schaffer, Miss Ruby Wendall, Miss Mona Schaub and Miss Leah Nichols. The guest list included, Miss Reta Finley and Mrs. Ed Finley, sister and aunt of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Clearwater, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cory, Miss Lou Russell, Gus Livingston, Miss Bessie Schaffer, Ruth Kendall, Mona Schaub, Rev. F. L. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Nichols and Glenn and Leah Nichols. The bride has spent her girlhood in Oregon, but Mr. Thomas is a former resident of Redfield, Iowa. He is a brother of Mrs. C. G. Nichols and is in the employ of the Nichols Grocery. The young couple will be at home to their friends at 1215 South Twelfth street.

The members of the Eastern Star will be entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mary Cook, 1118 Oak street. Additional hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Lena Cherrington, Mrs. Lela Johnson, Miss Theresa Powle, Miss Gladys Steel.

Miss Anne Shannon Munroe, the well known newspaper correspondent, whose reminiscence and chatty letters from the exposition last summer, created so much interest among her Oregon readers, is being congratulated during a short stay in Portland on the great success of her new novel "Happy Valley." A story of eastern Oregon, it is nevertheless meeting with instant enthusiasm both east and west, Boston surpassing any other city as regards the sale of the book. Miss Munroe, one of description of the eastern Oregon country, has been a keen earnestness, among people to know more about conditions, with a view to settling there. Miss Munroe states she says further:

"The interest which my book has created is causing a revival of many other books concerning Oregon. Edw. Van Markham, the celebrated poet, was born in Oregon, but he has not been back here in years. I met him in New York last winter and we got to be very good friends. He is now engaged in some very serious work, but he volunteered the information that as soon as it was completed he was coming to Oregon for a year's stay to get material for stories."

"While I was in Chicago, talking to my publishers, I said that I next planned to write a story laid in Washington, and that away back in my mind I had the first threads of a cattle story of Oregon, and immediately the president of the company said: 'Drop the Washington story and give us another Oregon story, and do it right away,' so that is why I am going back to my homestead. I haven't the characters and I haven't the plot, but I know where I can get them. The story will have to do with the old cattle life, before the advent of the railroad and before the days of the story which runs through 'Happy Valley.'

Miss Monroe arrived Sunday night from Tacoma, where she has been visiting relatives for a short time. On Monday she enjoyed a trip over the highway and the end of this week will see her starting for her eastern Oregon ranch.

Mrs. Clifford Brown and son passed through Salem yesterday on their way to Seal Rock, where they will be guests of Mrs. William Brown.

The R. A. Harris family and William Chittick are camping on the west bank of the Willamette river for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lachmund and Mr. and Mrs. John Scott have returned from a two days tour of the Columbia Highway.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Al Patterson and daughter, accompanied by Mrs. Patterson's mother, Mrs. Frank Tauscher of Chehalis visited Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Beall yesterday, motoring back in the evening.

Among the Salem people at the different beaches the past week were the following: Miss Jennie Pearce, Hotel Moore, Seaside; Frank Glover, Hackney Cottage, Seaside; Wash.; Miss Muriel Edwarston, Driftwood hotel, Long Beach, Wash.; George Conway, Long Beach hotel; William A. Marshall number of readers. The effect of her the Kreets cottages, Rockaway; Mr. and Mrs. DeLeon and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wells, one of the Cornell cottages, Cannon Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Hagelorn had as their guests, yesterday, Mrs. Epigraph and daughter, Mable. Additional guests asked for the evening were: Mrs. Ehrlich and daughter of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Rosman, Mr. and Mrs. Edward LaBranch, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred LaBranch, Mr. and Mrs. Yale Hagelorn, Mrs. Alfred LaBranch played several enjoyable selections on the piano.

A delightful little al fresco party of the week was that given by Miss Eleanor Rogers, Tuesday night at her home in Ben Lomand Park. Dancing was the diversion of the evening, an attractive roofgarden being employed to advantage by the guests. They were Miss Marie Campbell, Miss Leoneline Eckerling, Miss Lucile Jaskoski, Miss Lorraine Bentley of Spokane, Miss Helen Deckebach, Robert Egan, Max Kune, James Marr, Fred Lampert, Frederick Deckebach.

Mrs. W. H. Copeland, worthy matron of the Eastern Star, and husband, who is agent for the K. C. S. R. R. at De Quincy, Louisiana, two sons, Harry and Glenn, have been enjoying the summer in Salem, guests of Mrs. Copeland's mother, Mrs. M. M. Fox on north Fourth street. They also visited relatives in Newburg and Everett, Washington, leaving Wednesday morning for the south.

Twenty-two ladies of the Swedish church gathered at the home of Mrs. G. D. Donaldson on Tuesday for a social afternoon. Sweet peas combined with ferns, made pleasing decorations for the affair. The enjoyment of the gathering consisted in its pleasant informality, the guests joining in a number of songs. Needlework also formed one of the diversions. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess later. Mrs. Donaldson had as her guest this week, her mother, Mrs. Margaret Peterson of Dallas.

A pleasant al fresco party was that given Wednesday evening at the home of the Misses Dora and Lulu Heglen. The lawn was gayly illuminated with Japanese lanterns. The evening was passed with games and music, followed by the serving of dainty refreshments. The guests were: Miss Phoebe Heath, Miss Ruby Perkins, Miss Mary Barriack, Miss Gertrude Witzel, Miss Greta Witzel, Miss Lucy Holt, Miss Ethel Boyce, Miss Esther Baldwin, Miss Lulu Heglen, Miss Dora Heglen, Miss Leola Heglen, Clark Craig, Earl Seamer, Robert Seamer, Nathan Mueller, Marvin Holt, George Holt, William Holt, Vernon Ellwell.

Little Miss Alice Claxton celebrated her seventh birthday, Friday afternoon, at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. John Barker on Nebraska avenue. A dainty color scheme of yellow and white was employed in the dining room, carried out by white sweet peas and yellow streamers. A twinkling birthday cake gladdened the eyes of the little folk, who circled the table. Mrs. Edith Claxton and Mrs. William Barker served during the refreshment hour. A peanut hunt and other games, belonging to the province of birthday parties were played by the small guests who were: Catherine Barker, Edna Raymond, Helen Yarnell, Marie Wahlroff, Gladys Barker, Martha Chase, Honor Vell, Elsie Raymond, Edith Barker, Alice Claxton, Raymond Graber, Leo Graber, Herbert Sydney and Allen Barker.

A most enjoyable reception was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ray L. Farmer on Chemeketa street, in honor of Miss Anna Knowland of Detroit, Michigan. Mrs. Farmer and the Mother's class of the First Methodist church were the hostesses for the afternoon. Miss Knowland, who is a well known former resident of Salem, organized the Mother's class of the Methodist church, and was the teacher of the beginner's department at that time. She now has a church position in the Woodward avenue Presbyterian church of Detroit and is in charge of the beginner's department numbering three hundred. Interesting talks were given during the afternoon by Miss Knowland, Mrs. C. W. Boesch, Mrs. C. A. Park, Mrs. E. C. Minton and Miss Beryl Holt. Seasonable decorations of golden glow and dahlias were effectively arranged. Miss Knowland was favored with a genuine reminder of the state that was formerly her home, in the shape of loganberry punch, Oregon's distinctive drink, which was served the guests. Assisting Mrs. Farmer in serving were Mrs. Ivan Farmer and Mrs. Clifford Farmer. The reception was attended by a large number of the honor guest's old time friends. Miss Knowland who has been the house guest of Mrs. Farmer, left Sunday for Astoria, where she will visit relatives before leaving for Detroit.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

A new branch of the Y. W. C. A. work will be established in the fall, with the organization of educational classes at the association building. Courses will be given in Domestic Science, millinery and dressmaking and other classes will be formed if a suitable number for class work make the demand. Miss Mabel Withycombe has been appointed a member of the educational committee of which Mrs. Alice H. Dodd is chairman. The work will be formulated under methods similar to those used in other cities.

Miss Katherine Jones has returned from motoring up the McKenzie river, and a weeks stay at Belknap springs.

Miss Katherine Perlich, who has been a guest at the Y. W. C. A. for several weeks, has gone to Portland. Miss Perlich has taken up her duties in the art department of Olds, Wortman and King.

Miss Grace Maxwell of Seattle will arrive in Salem the latter part of the week, en route from Los Angeles where she has been spending her vacation. Miss Maxwell is secretary of the northwest field, and will be guest at the association building during her stay in the city.

Fall Neckwear Is Arriving in New Guises

So Ultras. Out of nearly 200 different choices designed by the Association of American Neckwear Manufacturers this one was picked as representative of what autumn will provide for chic "fixings." It is a fine white net and polka dotted along the edge and shirred into a double drape, which is finished with narrow val. The roll collar is cleft to make revers, also embroidered.

Margaret Mason Writes of Gotham Fads and Fashions

By Margaret Mason

Again of nights now I sing,
Of nights sheer that closely cling,
So fine they'll pass inside a ring,
And O, they cost like anything.

New York, Aug. 18.—If there should be a shortage in the Georgetown crepe output goodness knows what would ever become of us. Not only are most all our day clothes made of this filmy fabric, but all of our night clothes as well. So we couldn't go out and we couldn't go to bed. The chances are we'd take the only course left to us and go daffy.

However, no such dire calamity presages at the moment of going to press. The Georgetown crepe industry flourishes; so likewise does the diaphanous opaque fashioned of this far from nightgown material.

The Georgetown crepe night is truly a thing of beauty, but hardly a joy forever as it scarcely has the lasting qualities of a raincoat or even a crepe de chine gown.

Some of the most exquisite models are the most simple, relying on a perfection of the material for their sole charm. One Empire model of flesh tinted Georgetown is sleeveless and is bordered around the neck and the armholes with a heading of fine footing. A wide band of flesh satin ribbon runs under the footing makes the high waistline.

A unique finish on another flesh tinted model is formed of tiny pale blue baby ribbon. One with this finish in pink, and another in mauve are also shown. All of the gowns come in white and ivory also.

Another charming finish is a tiny hemstitched banding of the Crepe Georgetown itself, either in blue or mauve on either flesh gowns and pink, blue or mauve on the white.

Lavender, by the way, is rapidly superseding that erstwhile Frenchy favorite, pale blue, as a combination with flesh underwear and touches of mauve are found on nearly every smart new article of lingerie this season.

The pajama girl is not the rarity now that she used to be. She is no longer the pink pajama girl, however, although she still is the pink of perfection. Alluring indeed are the 1917 pajamas of mauve, blue or rose broche narrowly banded in lavender, all save the mauve one which has a Nile green finish.

For the vacillating maid who cannot quite make up her mind between the enchanting nightgown and the alluring pajamas comes a pajama nightgown, if you please. It is of pink tulle, crepe de chine or crepe Georgetown and is cut in one with a nightie top and an ending of full pantaloons like Pierrot always wears with a cunning lace edged frill around the ankles. Bifurcated foundations also have spread to negligees, and a recent imported model has full Turkish trousers of crepe de chine, a crush taffeta girdle of contrasting shade, and a blouse and loose coat of crepe Georgetown. The blouse is finished around the neck with a wide fringed double ruche of the taffeta.
