FLAX REPORT SHOWS LOSS OF ABOUT $9,000
Nearly $20,000 Still On Hand
--Other Business of Board of Control Session

The flax industry received much attention at a meeting of the state board of control this morning.

The salary of Superintendent Crawford was fixed at $200 a month, which will later be increased to $250 if he makes a financial success of the enterprise.

Superintendent Crawford was authorized to install at once two retting tanks each 15 by 50 feet on grounds to be selected by him near the penitentiary.

Fifty tons of flax will be retted at once.

STATE HOUSE NEWS

The public service commission is at Bend today hearing a complaint of the Central Oregon Irrigation company, whose water users plead that they have had insufficient water, that ditches and flumes have not been maintained, and that their contracts have not been fulfilled in other respects. This case has been pending since last January, when the supreme court held that it had no jurisdiction in the case, which the Central Oregon Irrigation company brought to enjoin the public service commission from hearing the case. Judge Galloway of Marion county recently held that his court did not have jurisdiction to enjoin the commission.

The Oregon Retail Grocers association filed this morning articles of incorporation with the corporation commissioner. The association is possessed of property and money valued at $50, and its source of revenue is given as initiation fees, dues, subscriptions, donations and gifts. Also were filed this morning supplementary articles of incorporation of the Dundee Woman's club of Dundee, Yamhill county.

The federal law under which Oregon is to receive $127,000 for the construction of roads in national forests contains a provision requiring that the state or county shall co-operate on a basis of 50 per cent of cost. This information was brought out in an interview with Assistant State Engineer Cupper this morning. No advice has been received by Mr. Cupper from State Engineer Lewis relative to the appropriation, but it is his idea that the federal plan is to get the states to build as many miles of road as possible and Oregon probably secured the big appropriation of $127,000 out of $1,000,000 available for the year on a showing as to the great amount of high-grade roads that has been done of late years, is being done this year and is contemplated.

The $10,000,000 appropriation has nothing to do with the $10,000,000 appropriation which has not yet been appropriated.

A complaint was filed at the office of the state public service commission Saturday by James L. Davidson and Clay Bush, farmers living near Mouth, that the Valley & Siletz Railway company, whose right of way runs over their lands, has torn down their fences and allowed their livestock to get out. The complaint asks for immediate relief from the situation, as grain fields are being ruined. The commission has taken the matter up with the railway company.

MAIL ORDER HOUSE GREAT ADVERTISER

Two Carloads of Catalogs Sent Here for Distribution --Postage $1,896.45

A check for $1896.45 was received a few days ago by Postmaster Hucklestein, in payment of postage on catalogs from an eastern mail order house, to be mailed locally and into the second and third zones.

The shipment of 2700 catalogs to be sent within 150 miles of Salem, is shipped by freight in two cars, and the $1896.45 worth of postage the house paid, was for shipment by mail from Salem under a special permit whereby the catalogs are distributed and mailed from the freight depot.

An item isn't all. The same house makes this large a shipment annually and in between times sends out a few hundred more. The mail order house sending these catalogs will not send a second unless there has been enough business received to justify the expense of printing and mailing the catalog, all of which indicates that this one house is receiving business from 27000 families within a distance of 150 miles from Salem. The city and rural routes from Salem receive more than 1000 of the catalogs.

Bankers of Fashion

THE character of a store doesn't change from season to season any more than the character of a woman changes. The policy of this store, now as always, is to buy liberally in the markets where styles are created, and to share with our customers the saving effected by large buying.

The policy—so economical to our patrons—we have demonstrated so completely and consistently that our old customers and their acquaintances come to us with the same confidence that we place in our bankers—that is with an assurance of absolute dependability, proved by experience.

We are bankers—Bankers of Fashion.

paigned than the mere stand or fall of Lemberg and Kovel. Prisoners say that the northeastern part of Hungary is being evacuated by civilians because of the Russian advance near Korozeko.

Serbs and Bulgars Meet.
Salonika, Aug. 21.—Bulgarian forces are advancing south of the Greek town of Florina, despite stubborn Serbian resistance. Stouborn fighting continued all day Saturday near Banitz, 31 miles northwest of Salonika.

The Bulgars emerged from the village of Florina and attempted an advance southward. At the same time other strong Bulgarian detachments attempted an offensive along the Monastir-Salonika railway. The Serbs drove in the right flank of the Bulgarian force from Florina, forcing the enemy back upon the town and at the same time made a vigorous attack eastward as far as Lake Ostrovo. Fighting is still going on.

Incessant skirmishes between the patrols and frequent infantry engagements in which whole regiments have taken part are reported on the British and French fronts along the whole Greek border east of Lake Doiran. In the Doiran district particularly hot artillery struggles have occurred. Airmen on both sides are very active. Hostile aeroplanes attempted a raid on allied camps south of Doiran but were driven back by allied aviators.

Bulgars Alarm Greece.
Athens, Aug. 21.—Bulgarian troops are reported within 10 miles of the Greek port of Kavala, in their advance to attack the allies right wing.

The Greek cabinet has been called into special session because of the Bulgarian advance into Greek territory. Generals Mosehopoulos, Sottilis and Ghenadis attending the conference.

Kavala, a port of about 5,000 population, with considerable trade, was taken from Turkey by Greece in the Balkan wars. It lies 18 miles west of the Bulgarian border and has long been coveted by the Bulgars.

The government is watching the Bulgarian invasion of Greek territory with the greatest interest. The newspaper Patris says the cabinet thus far has reached no decision and will await further developments.

From the military standpoint the the Bulgarian advance is considered unimportant, so far as the allies are concerned. The Bulgars apparently are trying to seize strategic positions on the allied flank, from which to deliver attacks when the expected allied offensive begins.

The British and French ministers conferred with premier Zarnasias, who immediately afterwards summoned the chief of staff of the Greek army. The discussion turned to the question of withdrawing portions of the Greek army and civilians from the territory occupied by the Bulgars.

Desperate Fighting at Verdun.
Paris, Aug. 21.—The Germans made a second desperate attempt to recapture the village of Fleury, three and one-half miles northeast of Verdun last night, attacking in force after spraying the French positions with liquid fire. The war office announced today that the French barrage infantry fire stopped the attack short, inflicting serious losses to the enemy.

In yesterday's fighting north of the Somme in which the French captured a strongly fortified wood between Guillemont and Maurepas, six German cannons were captured. Last night an active artillery duel continued on the Somme front but there were no infantry engagements of importance.

Practically the whole of the village of Maurepas is now in French hands as the result of Thursday's fighting and local actions since that time. The French first captured a number of strong positions at the outskirts of the town and then drove the Germans from the remainder of the village with their artillery. German artillery made it inadvisable for the French to occupy the remainder of Maurepas until the French

FORCED BRITISH BACK

London, Aug. 21.—British covering patrols withdrew before strong enemy forces northeast of Fourcaux wood in last night's fighting, but the Germans were unable to follow up the advance before the British artillery fire, General Haig reported this afternoon.

The Germans three times attacked British positions at Fourcaux wood, after heavy bombardment but were each time repulsed.

The Germans bombarded British positions near Pozieres and northeast of Contalmaison with gas shells last night. In the northern fighting zone, the Germans attempted a raid on British trenches northeast of Halluch and east of Leptentin. They were driven back, penetrating the British positions at only one point, from which they were immediately ejected.

BULGARS CAPTURE TOWN

Berlin, Aug. 21.—Bulgarian troops have captured the village of Vichill, southeast of Florina, it was officially announced this afternoon. Another Serbian position was stormed and captured at Malkaniszeplania.
