DEALERS WHO SUPPLY SALEM PEOPLE WITH THE POPULAR HOME PRODUCTS

Next week is the last of the present effort to bring the community spirit into the pink of condition; where the people will be in shape to appreciate that the home producer has a right to the inside track when money is spent. It's simple when the truth is laid bare. It resolves itself into this: Buy of a man at home and triple your chances on seeing your own money again.

If you buy of Jones and Jones uses your money to pay salaries, his men will patronize you and there's your money again.

Anything to save sending our good money away where none of us can use it again. It's like sawing off your leg; you can always do that as a last resort. Let's try the other first. We are publishing once more the list of manufacturers of your town and mine. Cut it out. Hang it up in the kitchen, Mrs. Housewife, and in your office, Mr. Businessman. Let's get acquainted with the manufacturers at home and they will grow and so will we.

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever." This old saying is without question a part of the creed of Chas. G. Miller, live manager of our Hotel Marion.

If one would have proof of this, let him invade the hotel and inspect the new grill room.

The color scheme and hangings surpass anything ever seen in the valley. Smartly unique in every respect and worthy of a visit over and above the assurance of the tempting meal they will be sure to serve you.

Grand Trunk Railway to Grant Diversion Privilege On Fruit

Fruit shippers in the northwest will welcome news which has just been given out by F. L. Norman, general agent of the Grand Trunk railway of Seattle, to the effect that his company will publish effective as soon as possible, the privilege for diversion of fruit shipments after arrival at destination on their line.

"We have been working on this for the last three years," said Mr. Robinson, traffic manager of the Northwestern Fruit Exchange. "California shippers have been permitted to divert shipments originating in their state, after arrival at destination on the Grand Trunk railway and have the through rate to final destination protected, while shippers of the northwestern states were denied the right to divert to any point beyond, after arrival at destination without being compelled to pay a local rate from point of diversion to final destination. We were finally able to convince the Grand Trunk officials that they were restricting distribution which every railroad wishes to increase."

"Recently when Mr. Dalrymple, vice president of the Grand Trunk railway, was in Seattle, the matter was brought to his attention with the result that his company will now extend this privilege to the shippers of the northwest."

Mr. Robinson says, "much credit must be given to Mr. Paul Weyrauch, of Walla Walla, president of the Fruit Growers agency for his co-operation in presenting the shippers' needs to the officials of the Grand Trunk railway. This agency has about 80 per cent of the fruit output of the northwest affiliated with it."

This decision should be of great benefit to shippers who export to eastern Canadian points reached by the Grand Trunk railway.

Linn County Annual Fair of Scio, Sept. 7; Program Will Be Good

(Capital Journal Special Service.) Scio, Ore., Aug. 22.—Aeroplane flights, harness and running races, free entertainment specialties, stock exhibits and displays by school children are only a few of the features promised for the tenth annual Linn county fair to be held at the Scio fair grounds, September 6, 7 and 8. Governor Withycombe will attend the opening day at the fair and will deliver an address.

"Last year," said Dr. A. G. Prill, president of the fair association, "we held a most successful fair but this year we are going one better. We have arranged a three day program crammed full of varied interest. The children's fair, so popular last year, will be repeated on a larger scale. The boys and girls of the county have been preparing for this year's exhibit and keen interest will be staged when prizes are awarded.

"The ladies have brought their departments up to practical readiness with a new building now nearly completed for the housing of exhibits in the art and ladies' fancy work departments. A new and lusty crop of babies will be entered in the prize baby contest.

"Linn county stock is known the world over and the blue ribbons will be on parade in connection with the prize stock exhibits. Harness and running races will be prominent in the program and fast time is insured, for the Scio track holds the half mile state record, 1:03.

"Music will be plentifully supplied by the Knights of Pythias band. Dancing will be indulged in every evening and all the forms of diversion common to a fair will be on hand with the merry-go-round, ferris wheel, racks and—of course—the peanut and pop corn as a side attraction.

The officers of the Linn County Fair association are: A. G. Prill, president; Charles Wade, secretary; Roy V. Shelton, assistant secretary; Ed Myers, treasurer. Directors: M. C. Gaines, C. Middlestadt, W. G. McDonald, T. M. Holt and A. G. Prill. Clerk of the course, T. K. Sanderson.

Superintendents: T. M. Holt, horses; S. F. Zysert, sheep; E. Shelton, chickens; D. W. Bumbough, agriculture; Mrs. A. G. Prill, textile; Mrs. W. P. Gill, art; Mrs. Ed Myers and Mrs. E. Shelton, baby show; Mrs. B. L. Devaney, school exhibits.

New Today ads in the Journal will be read in all live Marion county homes.

FORMER GOVERNOR HAS LAUGH ON THOSE WHO CRITICISED HIS PRISON POLICY

Ex-Governor Oswald West took a pleasant little fling at the Withycombe administration this morning when he sent the following telegram to his old former campaign manager, Ben W. Oicott:

Secy. of state:

Press reports indicate the governor is seeking advice as to proper methods of conducting penitentiary. Please call his attention to the fact that I have on file in my office clippings from the Oregonian, Telegram and other friendly newspapers covering a period of four years and carrying many suggestions which are at his disposal. (Signed) OSWALD WEST.

During his term of office as governor Oswald West was ridiculed and criticized about his prison policy, honor system and many other reforms that he inaugurated at the penal institution in Salem. The results of his administration proved the wisdom of his course, for, during his term, he had better discipline, more respect from the unfortunate men who had placed themselves under the leash of the law and fewer escapes than any other administration.

In spite of the fact that he let the whole camp of convicts remain away from the prison for weeks without a guard and trustees were given the confidence of the executive and allowed to go about their duties freely, the number of escapes was surprisingly low.

Under the present administration there have been a large number of escapes, many men going who have but a short time to serve. The fact suggests a very poor condition at the prison and it is a common fact among newspaper men of the capital that the affairs are in a rotten shape. Under Warden Minto the prisoners are accorded treatment that reflects on ancient prison policies. Some of them have been known to remark that they would rather be dead than stay there that they would rather face the guards' bullets in an escape than to endure the present system at the Oregon state prison.

With affairs now in such turmoil that a mutiny of the prisoners is threatened Gov. Withycombe wants a prison advisory board appointed and asks for help in handling the difficult situation. No doubt the clippings in West's scrap book as set forth at the time he was governor would embody many suggestions of the Oregonian, Telegram and other republican papers who knew how to run the prison at that time.—Albany Democrat.

He Does Not Need Hughes But Hughes Needs Him

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 23.—Politicians and others were interested today in a statement credited to Senator Miles Poindexter, who is here today in furtherance of his candidacy for re-election, concerning the alleged snubbing by Governor Hughes' political managers of the Washington senator.

"Governor Hughes needs my support a great deal more than I require aid from him," Poindexter is quoted as saying in answer to a question as to the status of affairs between the two.

When Candidate Hughes reached Spokane to begin his speaking tour of the state, his campaign was taken charge of by National Committeeman Perkins, "stand pat" Tacoma editor. Senator Poindexter, a strong bull moose, had been expected to join the Hughes party and accompany the presidential candidate to the coast, but he was not invited to do so.

Poindexter would not express an opinion today as to whether Hughes would carry this state for the G. O. P.

Some people are so cock-sure of their manions in the sky that they lose sight of the fact that they have to pay rent here.

TWO TRAINS FROM PORTLAND TO COOS BAY

Portland, Ore., Aug. 23.—Two special trains leave the Union depot tonight for Coos Bay, carrying several hundred visitors to the railway jubilee at Marshfield. Before the departure an hour will be put in on both specials practicing jubilee songs.

Bathing Suit Was Short at Both Ends

New York, Aug. 24.—There are some bathing suits that even Coney Island calloused to short skirts and low necks, can't stand.

Patrolman Christopher Waldeck today made the first arrest in two years of a girl charged with wearing a daring bathing suit. Eighteen year old Hilda Yudia of some plumpness wore the shortest bathing skirt Chris has seen at Coney, he said the waist was cut entirely too low and the jersey fitted her too snugly. Magistrate Steers fined Hilda $2.
