the Secretary of Agriculture is anxious that each state adopt a comprehensive road program, and apply available funds directly to such end so that a substantial showing can be made during this period.

As the Pederal funds will largely be expended by the states under the direction of the U. S. office of public roads, there will be a strong tendency toward uniformity in state legislation, and the building up of businessilke state departments to administer road funds.

A conference of State and Federal highway officials was called by the secretary of agriculture to discuss rules and regulations under which secretary of agriculture to discuss rules and regulations under which secretary of agriculture to discuss rules and regulations under which secretary of agriculture to discuss rules and regulations under which secretary of agriculture to discuss rules and regulations under which secretary of agriculture to discuss rules and regulations under which secretary of agriculture to discuss rules and regulations under which secretary of agriculture as a basis for approving projects the secretary will require the states.

The Federal act provides two distinct methods for expending this enormous sum, according to Mr. Lewis.

Under Section 6, $75,000,000 is to be expended in cooperation with the states, upon the dollar for dollar basis, throughout the state, All of the states upon the dollar for dollar basis, throughout the state, All of the states upon the dollar for dollar basis, the state supon agencial plan for the improvement of highways throughout the state, All of the states upon the dollar for dollar basis, throughout the state, All of the states upon the dollar for dollar basis, the state is the secretary will require the state. $78,687 is now available to Oregon under this section. On July 1, 1917, $157,375 or double the amount will be available. The following year three times this year's allotment will be available, and so on until the fifth year when the amount will be $393,437. Allotments will revert if not expended within two years. Funds contributed by counties for state work can be used to offset Federal funds.

TALKING TOO MUCH

Charge Must Be True Because Manager Himself Says So

By H. C. Hamilton

(United Press staff correspondent) New York, Aug. 25.—Fielder Jones, nanager of the St. Louis American eague club, has been talking too much through the newspapers. He said so himself today when asked by the United Press what he thought of the chancs of his team to win the pennant,

Jones said he has been misquoted so frequently he didn't like to say much, but added if the promise was given that his words would not be twisted, he might let out a little secret. The romise given, Jones said:

I think we have a good chance to

It is reported that the Potter Lumber Co., located one mile west of Mill City, is about to open up their logging eamp. The mill burned down a short time ago, stopping activities. It is understood that the logging eamp will be opened and logs sold to mills. A fair sized stock of logs is on hand at the mill at the present time and will be sold. No statements have been given out regarding the rebuilding of the mill, but it is very likely that this will be done.—Albany Democrat.
