

SOCIETY and CLUBS

AVARIETY of festive, al fresco affairs has been one of the few compensations, society has derived from the sudden descent of tardy summer this week. Every natural resource, from a lake to a lawn has been heralded with glee, and promptly taken possession of by the pleasure seekers, who would combine both a "good time" and a cool time." These outdoor jollifications have ranged from the regular, annual picnics, such as that of the Orange club on Wednesday evening to more informal gatherings, including the jolly picnic dinner, also on Wednesday night, at Mrs. Fred Stewart's residence and the lawn party, given by Mrs. George Brown and Mrs. Elbert Brown Wednesday afternoon.

Conspicuous among the smaller affairs was a gay, motor party to Spong's lake, Thursday night. Swimming was a later diversion of the evening. Those included in this outing were: Mr. and Mrs. Chester Cox, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Grier, Miss Mary Creed Howard, Miss Edna Simonton, James Young, John Roberts, W. L. McDougal,

One of the most thoroughly pleasurable picnic suppers of the summer, enjoyed for its very informality, was that participated in by a coterie of friends on Wednesday evening in an inviting oak grove on the grounds of Mrs. Fred Stewart. Afterwards the party attended the jitney dance at the armory. The merry makers were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles McNary, Mr. and Mrs. Rollin K. Page, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Waters, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Waters, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Knighton, Mrs. Fred Stewart and son, Richard Stewart, Bert Olcott, J. H. McNary, F. W. Waters of Portland, Frederick Deckebach, Mrs. C. A. Gray, Mrs. Alice Dodd, Miss Margaret Cooper, Miss Lucy Stoughton, Harvey Wells.

Mrs. E. Cooke Patton entertained at a charming bridge Tuesday afternoon, complimenting Miss Mabel Creighton and Mrs. Edgar Senders of Portland house guests of Mrs. W. H. Dancy. Three tables were arranged for the players, Mrs. Rollin K. Page capturing the high score. The house was effectively decorated with masses of weigelia. Miss Luella Patton assisted the hostess in serving. The guests were: Mrs. Edgar Senders, Miss Mabel Creighton, Mrs. W. H. Dancy, Mrs. W. H. Eldridge, Mrs. W. C. Knighton, Mrs. J. D. Sutherland, Mrs. E. E. Waters, Mrs. Zadok Kiggs, Mrs. S. S. Spencer, Mrs. Fred Stewart, Mrs. Milton Meyers, Mrs. Rollin K. Page, Mrs. Edgar Hartley.

A pretty, al fresco Kensington on Wednesday, was the contribution of Mrs. Elbert Brown and Mrs. George Brown, in the round of farewell festivities for Mrs. Ralph Matthews of Martinez, California, who has been the house guest of Mrs. A. L. Brown for a number of weeks. The affair was at the home of Mrs. George Brown on Summer street. Thursday, Mrs. R. S. Wallace entertained for the visitor, with a motoring party, taking aer guests, Mrs. Matthews, Mrs. O. L. Brown and Mrs. John Harbison to Willoit Springs for the day. On Friday Mrs. Matthews returned to her home at Martinez.

Mrs. Russell Catlin and Mrs. H. B. Thielson entertained at a delightful Kensington Friday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Catlin on Chemeketa street. The honor guest was Mrs. W. T. Slatier, who leaves Monday for Portland, where the Slaters will make their permanent residence. Mrs. Ada Strong and Mrs. Frank Spears assisted the hostesses. During the afternoon, Mrs. Carlton Smith sang, accompanied by Miss Lela Slater. A feature of the affair was a note written by each guest to Rev. Robert Gill, who has been seriously ill in Portland. The guests were the ladies of the Episcopal Guild.

Mrs. H. B. Allen of Witchita, Kansas, has been the inspiration for a number of pleasant affairs this week, during her visit in the city, as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Volk of Volkland. On Wednesday evening, Mrs. J. B. Miles was hostess at an informal dinner at her home in Salem Heights.

Sweet peas were prettily arranged in the dining room, while a profusion of dahlias and carnations graced the living room. Circling the table were Mrs. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Volk and Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Miles and small grandsons.

Another guest of the week, who was given a variety of social attention, was Mrs. J. M. Willey of Cambridge, Massachusetts. Mrs. Willey has spent the greater part of her western sojourn in Portland, passing the previous week among her Salem friends. She is past president of the Woman's Relief Corps of Salem, and her stay was marked by a series of informal gatherings, given by individual members. Last Saturday the Relief Corps tendered Mrs. Willey a reception Monday afternoon. Mrs. T. C. Davis was hostess at her home on Fairmount Hill for the guest of honor and Monday evening Mrs. Terwilliger entertained for her. Tuesday, Mrs. Ronald Glover gave an informal luncheon in her honor, having known Mrs. Willey in Washington, D. C. Thursday she returned to Portland, to remain until the sixth of September, when she leaves for Washington, D. C. to spend the winter. Mrs. Willey will go by way of the Great Northern.

A dainty pink and white wedding was that of Miss Eva Belle Hogue and Harold Jory at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Hogue, 1645 Court street, on Tuesday evening. At 8:15 o'clock, Rev. Carl Elliott of the Presbyterian church read the marriage service, the simple ring ceremony being used. The bride was attended by little Ruth Barclay as flower girl and Albert Barclay as ring bearer. The small folks are nice and nephew of the bride. A lovely gown of crepe charmeuse, made with a high bodice of silk lace was worn by the charming bride. A wreath of piquant Cecil Brunner rosebuds, held her veil. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses, which she tossed to her girl friends as she left. The three parts fell to Miss Gertrude Eakin, Miss Lucile Hammond and Miss Ruth Hodges. The pink and white color scheme was used throughout the decorations, pink and white sweet peas intermingled with greenery, forming a pleasing and delicate effect. Before the ceremony Miss Helen Hogue sang, "Because," and Mrs. A. W. Hogue of Seattle played the wedding march. A short reception followed the service. Assisting at the wedding collation were Miss Ruth Hodges who poured, Miss Gertrude Eakin, who cut the ices, and Miss Carrie Cooksey, Miss Lucile Emmons and Miss Helen Wood, who served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Hogue, Mrs. Emily Jory, Mrs. R. W. Barclay, Miss Helen Hogue, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hogue, Miss Constance Jory, Miss Edith Reynolds, Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Gregg, Mrs. J. C. Raber, Miss Venita Rabe, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Frickey, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Hogue, Mrs. Mary Caschere, Miss Ethel Caschere, Misses Helen and Ruth Barclay, Carl and Albert Barclay, Miss Ruth Hodges, Miss Lucile Emmons, Miss Carrie Cooksey, Miss Helen Wood, Miss Gertrude Eakin. Both the bride and bridegroom are well known Williamette University graduates of the 1916 and 1915 classes. Mr. Jory is on the faculty of the Enterprise high school, at which place, the couple will make their home after September 15. Mrs.

The Salem Orange club, composed of graduates and ex-students of the Oregon Agricultural College, held its annual picnic and election of officers Wednesday evening. The members of the club gathered at Wilson Park, where they found waiting an auto truck and automobiles which conveyed the picnickers to the Weeks peach farm a few miles north of Salem. The warm evening made the water enticing, and most of the party donned bathing suits for a dip in the Willamette. This was followed by those essentials of all picnics, the good things to eat, which were served cafeteria style. Then, gathering in a semi-circle, in a Chinese lantern-lighted space with the orange and black decorations on the surrounding trees forming an artistic background, the old timers and the new to their college days and vied with one another in recalling past memories in song and speech and impersonation. Percy A. Cupper presided, and impersonated President Kerr. The club quartette, composed of Mrs. Wright, Mrs. McCallister, Mrs. Cupper and Miss Sykes, sang the college song, "Hail to Old O. A. C." Miss Sykes appeared as Dean Crane, the dean of women at O. A. C. Dave Wright, Mark McCallister, Louis Metzger, Frank Ward and Mrs. Weeks, each impersonated some well known college character and took off to advantage their familiar traits and characteristics. A much appreciated vocal solo and encore was given by Miss Eugene McIntyre, accompanied on the violin by Mr. Lyons. The program ended by all joining in the college song and familiar college songs. At the business meeting that followed, J. L. McCallister, corporal in Company M, now on the Mexican border, was re-elected president, Mrs. Dave Wright was re-elected vice president, Miss May Steusloff, secretary, and Mark McCallister treasurer. The members of the club present were:

Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Mark D. McCallister, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Metzger, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Witzel, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ward, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Pearcey, Milton A. Roareman, C. M. Wilcox, L. R. Pilkington, Stewart P. Lamb.

Miss Pauline Dick and Miss Harriet Griffith entertained at a pretty lawn party, Thursday night at the home of the latter, 228 North Capitol street. The guests of the evening were: Miss Dorothy Patterson, Miss Bula Fox, Miss Carolyn East, Miss Margaret Goeffette, Miss Elizabeth Dyer, Miss Francis Hodge, Miss Eva Miles, Miss Marjory Harbard, Miss Muriel Simpson, Miss Gladys Moore, Ben Howard, Paul Stanly, Earl Shaffer, Richard Goodin, Asst. Owl Frank Dechbach, Ralph Wilson, Malcolm Smith, Charles Robertson, Kenneth Wilson.

Miss Vera Martin, a much feted bride-elect, was the honor guest at an exceedingly pretty party, Wednesday night, given by Miss Anna Yantis at her home on Center street. Red predominated in the decorative scheme, a crimson bevy of gay hearts and cupids, contributing to the festivity of the occasion. The table was centered with a mass of handsome dahlias. The mother of the hostess, Mrs. S. E. Yantis, assisted in serving the guests who were: Miss Vera Martin, Miss Lucile Ross, Miss Louise Umphreys, Miss Freda Spitzbart, Miss Agnes Martin, Miss

R. W. Barclay, sister of the bride, of Mason City, Iowa, will remain for some time longer, but Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hogue of Seattle have returned to Seattle. Following the ceremony, Mrs. and Mrs. Jory left for a week's honeymoon at Seaside.

Guests at the home of Gen. and Mrs. W. H. Byars, during the fore part of the week, were Hon. and Mrs. Benton Mires, of Drain, Oregon, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Schlegel and son, Palmer. The Schlegels were en route to Portland, having motored up from Eugene.

Mr. Allan Howells of Albany is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. Munroe Gilbert, over the weekend.

Miss Aline Thompson will return to tomorrow from Agate Beach, where she has been enjoying a fortnight's outing.

Mrs. W. T. Grier entertained at a small dinner party Wednesday evening, preceding the Cherry dance at the armory. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McDougal, Mr. and Mrs. William Burghardt, Jr., Miss Edna Simonton, John Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Grier.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Thatcher returned the fore part of the week from a pleasant vacation. They visited their daughter, Mrs. Ryan at Orozco, spending the remainder of the time in the mountains, fifteen miles from Grand Ronde. Mr. and Mrs. Thatcher and their hosts were the only white people in the vicinity, the country being largely inhabited by Indians.

Senator and Mrs. C. P. Bishop will return Tuesday, after an extended sojourn in the East, and a short tour of Yellowstone Park en route home. The Bishops are now visiting in Pendleton.

The Ladies Aid of Salem Heights will hold their annual picnic at Alberts park, Wednesday August 30. All neighbors and friends are invited. They are asked to bring baskets and take the 2 o'clock car.

Miss Lou Ritter, who has been visiting Mrs. J. H. Evans at her home on North Commercial street, left last night for Salt Lake city. Mrs. E. J. Allen and sister, Miss Nell Porter, of Woodburn are weekend guests of Mrs. Evans.

The Women's Relief Corps and G. A. R. picnic on Thursday was largely attended despite the warm weather. A short program was given as follows: Prayer by Rev. Porter; vocal numbers by the Misses Huston; address by Ronald Alder; a talk by Rev. Nesbit Byars; a selection by Mrs. Hallie Parry Hinings. About 160 people were present.

Miss Eva Fisher left Thursday on the Shasta Limited for Los Angeles, where she will enter the state normal school the coming week. En route, Miss Fisher will visit in Pomona, where she will be the guest of her brother, Dr. W. T. Fisher.

Among the reunions that occur during the year: old settlers, state, society, etc., the family reunion is probably the most intimate. It is expressive of those "endearing charms" which most people feel, but which are, in the main, unexpressed. The following interesting account of the Stout reunion at Mehama is given by one of the guests.

"In the battles of life, which we all are compelled to fight, it becomes necessary to occasionally halt, stop by the wayside to refresh ourselves and gain new inspirations for the future steps in life. This brief halting, when coupled with the inspiring stimulus of fraternal and companionable associations, adds additional and greater pleasures and makes us realize fully that there is something worth living for and that a life without friends, would indeed be a dismal blank."

"This family has, for years passed, kept up a practice of holding family and neighborly reunions at least once a year. Their last meeting was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stout, Mehama, Oregon, Sunday, August 20th, 1916. At this meeting all the family were present excepting one son—the total number being fifty.

impromptu meetings: Irrigation in central Oregon, Mrs. John Dubuis; Bonneville Fish Hatcheries, Mrs. F. L. Purvine; the electrifying of the railroads in eastern Oregon, Mrs. E. E. Fisher; a trip to Mt. Hood and Mt. Adams, Mrs. Carrie Chappell. Miss Lucile Farago of Seattle discussed the biological research work being carried on at Friday Harbor. The next regular meeting of the North Salem club is dated for fair week hence it will be postponed until September twentieth, when it will be held at the home of Mrs. John Dubuis, 275 E street.

A combined wood cutting bee and picnic formed an all day affair Wednesday at the home of Miss Nellie Taylor on the Wallace road. It is an annual event when neighbors and friends gather for a helpful and jolly time together, the men to fell the trees saw and split them, ready for use and the women to prepare the dinner. Edward Loos was on hand with his gasoline saw and others were armed with cross cuts and axes or were ready with an ax and wagon for hauling. The ladies put in an appearance with heavily laden baskets of good things for the inner man. Fancy work of several kinds was also much in evidence.

A sumptuous hot dinner was served at twelve o'clock in a beautiful fir grove not far from the river and close to the working men. The long table covered with snowy linen, gleaming with silver and loaded with the choicest of the season's dishes proved very attractive to them after their morning's arduous labor. Work was taken up again after dinner and continued until late in the afternoon when supper was served in cafeteria style.

About fifteen cords of wood were ready for the shed at the close of the day and the general impression was a good time and one well spent. Several neighborhoods were represented. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Beckett, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Chaffee, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mulkey, Clara Mulkey, Meral Mulkey, Lawrence Mulkey, Elizabeth Mulkey, Teddy Mulkey, Clara Edna Mulkey, Benj. Irving, Lola Irving, Jeannie Irving, John Irving, Lois Irving, C. A. Mulkey, Mary E. Mulkey, Margaret Mulkey, Mildred Mulkey, Genevieve Mulkey, Mildred Mulkey, Jessie Stephens, Esther Stephens, Alpha Horner, Elvin Horner, Raymond Horner, Ronald Horner, W. Henry Horner, Freda Horner, Zelpha Horner, W. H. Byars, Benton Mires, Mrs. B. Mires, Mrs. S. Irvine, Mrs. F. Ramp, Mrs. J. Vibert, T. Hennessy, Mrs. T. Hennessy, Jo Turnidge, Mrs. J. Turnidge, W. H. Loose, Mrs. W. H. Loose, Cecil Loose, Victor Loose, Mrs. Minnie Root, Floyd Root, Maybel Porter.

The P. E. O. society gathered informally at the home of Mrs. C. D. Ranch Wednesday afternoon, to meet Mrs. H. O. Miller of Seattle, the aunt and guest of Miss Anne D. Swezey. The afternoon was passed with needle work, refreshments being served at a later hour by the hostess and Miss Swezey.

The program of the regular meeting of the North Salem Woman's club on Wednesday held at the home of Mrs. E. E. Fisher, was replete with entertaining numbers and topics of a most timely nature. A short business meeting was followed by the program: An instrumental solo by Miss Lucile Ross, "To Spring," Grieg; violin number by Paul Purvine, "May Day," encore, "Devotion," reading by Mrs. E. E. Fisher, "A Clinic in the Mountains;" vocal solo by Miss Lucile Fargo, "The DeKoven Lullaby," encore, "Loch Lomond." Owing to the unexpected absence of Mrs. Edith T. Wethered, who was to have described her recent trip to Crater Lake, the club members, who had returned from their respective outings, were asked to talk of their trips. As a result, the following interesting subjects were featured by the

The Women's Benefit association of the Maccabees together with the Knights of the Maccabees, have arranged something in the nature of a jitney social to be given in McCracken hall next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, to which the public is cordially invited. Taere will be no admission charge. After a program refreshments will be served at the booths, where music will be enjoyed. A fish pond will be there, for those who do not care to partake of refreshments, but wish to spend a jitney. As the order is getting ready to entertain the District Rally they want the public to realize that the Maccabees are a wide awake and enthusiastic association.

at the home of Mrs. C. Van Patten Thursday afternoon. About fifty ladies were present. The afternoon was spent with fancy work and games. Piano and vocal solos were given by Misses Cleo McFarlane and Leila Cookingham. Dauntless refreshments were served by the hostess. The decorations were tastefully arranged throughout the reception rooms.

Multnomah Falls Thursday afternoon was the scene of a great occasion for the Daughters of the American Revolution.

With impressive ceremonies a large boulder, selected as a fitting monument to the memory of the Oregon pioneers was dedicated under the auspices of the Multnomah Chapter of the D. A. R.

The monument, located in a conspicuous spot just off the Columbia river highway and with a commanding view of Multnomah falls, stands as a marker of the Old Oregon Trail used by pioneers who journeyed down the trail following the Columbia.

To Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, honorary state regent, introduced by Mrs. Davis, was given the honor of unveiling the monument, which had been decorated with a large American flag. Following the unveiling a large wreath of ivy was placed on the marker by George H. Himes, after which it was christened by Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson, state regent, with Multnomah Falls water poured from a historic bottle, brought over the plains by the pioneers to whose memory the monument is dedicated.—Oregon Journal.
