QUALITY AND SERVICE

Market Unusually Brisk and Prices Advanced

New York, Sept. 6.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today says: On a wide and active market, which, however, the larger proportion of the total business was provided by a relatively small group of stocks, prices moved in the direction of higher levels in the best part of the day, with new records reported for United States Steel common, which crossed par, for the Mercantile Marine shares, for Inspiration Copper and for several other less prominent issues. Although the advance brought out tremendous offerings in the leading securities, the market exhibited an equally tremendous capacity for absorption, especially in the case of steel, which was sold practically in reams on stop orders in the neighborhood of its high for the day. The general market was reactionary in the late trading but declines from the high point as a rule were small.

Varying phases of visible storm clouds as presented last week in the railroad situation, and as seen at present in many labor circles, fail to weaken the general list of stocks for the excellent reason that the market has for its foundation and support unprecedented earnings and big money supplies. Labor may figure in securities movements to a greater degree at a later period. The public which is now interested in the stock market is a strong public. It is a public with large financial means and in many instances the buying represents the investment of profits made from the sale of munitions in Europe, both for speculative turns and actual cash purchases to hold for income account.

Members of the Salem Cherrian band who attended the Labor day celebrations in Portland were distributed among several bands in the procession. Among those who marched and played were Ivan G. Martin, Robert Savage, Oscar Steelhammer, Warren Hunt, Richard Riley and A. E. Lamberger.

Girls are in greater demand than young men, according to those who are securing employment for young men and women who wish to pay their way through college this fall. Cheer up. Now that the canning season is over, the wholesale price of sugar dropped 75 cents a hundred this afternoon and the private tip is that even another drop may be looked for, although there is nothing official about this additional drop. SUFFRAGISTS WILL INDORSE NOTHING

Will Back Neither Candidate Nor Party, Three Plans Are Proposed

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 6.—To no party or no candidate will go the indorsement of the National Woman Suffrage association which went into convention here today. This much was decided upon after a struggle in the executive committee which began early yesterday afternoon and lasted until well towards morning today. The program arranged by the executive committee calls for the re-election of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt as president and the election of a vice-president to succeed Mrs. Frank M. Roensing.

More than a thousand women, representatives of 12,000,000 suffragists, were present at the formal opening of the convention in St. Paul's church today. Suffrage leaders supporting three different views as to the best manner of obtaining votes for women engaged in a three cornered fight this afternoon.

Following the discussion the delegates were to vote whether the association should concentrate its efforts on getting the vote through national congressional legislation or through action of the state legislatures, or whether they should continue the present plan of supporting both federal and state campaigns.

Miss Laura Clay, of Lexington, Ky., a state's rights advocate, urged the suffragists to center their activities on getting suffrage legislation through their state legislatures.

"Coercion of some sort will be necessary to force enough states to ratify a woman suffrage amendment to obtain the necessary two-thirds," said Miss Clay.

Mrs. Ida Husted Harper, of New York, who advocated concentrated effort in behalf of the federal amendment said: "We have now obtained enough equal suffrage states to make our measure a national political issue and to force its endorsement by the platforms of all five parties."

Mrs. Raymond Brown, vice-chairman of the New York State Suffrage association, urged the association to continue its support of both national and state campaigns and to maintain strict neutrality in regard to political parties.

LA FOLLETTE WINS IN RED HOT FIGHT

Incomplete Returns Give Him 16,000 and Indicate Total of 75,000

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 6.—Incomplete returns from 50 of the 71 counties in the state this afternoon give LaFollette a lead of 16,000 over Jeffries for the nomination for United States senator on the republican ticket. Philipp has won by the republican nomination for governor by about 35,000 plurality.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 6.—United States Senator Robert M. LaFollette, progressive republican, has been nominated candidate to succeed himself by a large majority over Malcolm G. Jeffries, of Janesville, returns from yesterday's primary showed early today. It is estimated from scattering returns that LaFollette's majority will be about 75,000.

Governor E. L. Phillips, conservative republican, has defeated former Governor Francis E. McGovern and William H. Hatton, progressives, for re-nomination for governor on the republican ticket. He will have a large plurality, Phillips was one of the original Hughes supporters in Wisconsin.

Burt Williams, of Madison, was nominated for governor and William F. Wolfe, LaCrosse, for United States senator by the democrats without opposition.

tant several automobiles were called in to distribute those properly tagged. By this means about 50 of the 100 blankets and comforts were returned. Mrs. Chauncey Bishop, Mrs. R. S. Wallace, Miss Eleanor Rogers, Miss Edith Bynon and A. M. Hansen with autos assisted this morning in the distribution. The armory will be open Saturday and then if there are any blankets and comforts unrecalled for, they will be turned over to those in charge of the armory.

Three drunks were taken in by the local police last night. Sid Brownell and P. M. Neer had been almost full bottles of Hostetter's bitters on them when arrested. The third was William Sparks, colored. Each of them was fined $10 in police court this morning. Brownell and Neer paid the fine, but Sparks was short of money and will work for the city five days.

The Eugene Chamber of Commerce is doing its best to attract a big crowd at the Lane county fair and big cow boy round-up, September 13, 14 and 15. Delicious! That is the likely comment on pie made with

First of all, pie properly made with Crisco looks tempting. The crust has a rich, flaky appearance that puts a new edge on the appetite no matter what dainties have gone before. Then, it is so tender that it breaks at a touch of the fork. Even the under crust which becomes tough so easily, cuts as readily as the upper crust. Finally, it tastes rich, yet delicate; fresh, palatable, delicious in every sense.

PLAIN PASTRY 1 1/2 cupfuls flour 1 teaspoonful salt 1/2 cupful Crisco 1 cold water (Use level measurements)

Sift flour and salt twice and cut Crisco into flour with knife until finely divided. Finger tips may be used to finish blending materials. Add gradually sufficient water to make stiff paste. Water should be added sparingly and mixed with knife through dry ingredients. Form lightly and quickly with hand into dough; roll out on slightly floured board, about one-quarter inch thick. Use light motion in handling rolling-pin, and roll from center outward. Sufficient for one pie.

WM. S. HART IN PLAY OF KENTUCKY FEUDS

Triangle Star Seen in a Part Different from Any He Has Portrayed Before

In "The Apostle of Vengeance," Triangle feature which will be seen at the Oregon theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday, William S. Hart is seen in a story that is different from anything in which he has heretofore appeared. "The Apostle of Vengeance," a drama from the pen of Monte M. Katterjohn, is a tale of Kentucky mountain feuds and has been handled with the realism characteristic of Jace productions. Its many tense scenes are framed in settings of unusual picture-questness, thus combining two of the most important elements in photoplay production.

Hart is cast as David Hudson, a minister who is the eldest son of a sturdy Kentucky mountaineer. He is brought face to face with the problem of choosing between avenging the death of his father, killed in a feud battle, and abiding by the scriptural teaching that "To me belongeth vengeance and recompense." His decision forms the big scene of the story and how he succeeds ultimately in restoring order among the warring factions is forcefully depicted throughout the remainder of the play.

In Hart's support will be seen such well-known Ince Triangle players as Nona Thomas, Josephine J. Dowling, Fanny Midgley, Jack Gilbert and Marvel Safford. The production was directed by Hart and photographed by Joe August.

Young Weston Hikes Fifty Miles a Day

Now that hiking has become and is likely to remain a favorite pastime, note what young Billy Weston is doing. He was in Salem a few days ago and today is climbing the mountains beyond Roseburg. The distance from Portland to Salem by road is 52 miles and young Billy says he made it in one day, that is, he left Portland at 6:30 one evening and was in the city at 6:30 the following evening. While the average pleasure hiker figures on not more than 15 miles a day, young Weston, son of the famous Edward Payson Weston, the greatest walker of the past generation, makes from 50 to 80 miles when getting down to business. "Young Weston" as he calls himself, said that he was 47 years old and that besides doing a lot of walking, the best way to remain young was to refrain from smoking and to eat down on the amount of meat as part of one's regular diet.
