

SOCIETY and CLUBS

By ALINE THOMPSON

The week just ended was fraught with interesting events, prominent among which was the third annual tennis tournament at the Salem tennis club courts Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The courts were the mecca for all society folk during the afternoons, the grounds being dotted with gaily attired women and men, whose colorful sport clothes made the scene most picturesque. Each afternoon prominent matrons and maids were in charge of the refreshments and were assisted by other members of society.

Small flower bedecked tables were arranged under a huge marquee for the serving, and here the energetic devotees and spectators reveled in refreshing beverages.

Quite the gayest event given during the tournament, was the dinner dance at the Hotel Marion Friday night which was planned by the entertainment committee as a special courtesy to the numerous out of town players. Through of merry parties, danced through the evening, many entertaining with gay little dinner parties, which made the festivity one of the most delightful of the summer season.

Now that the frivolity is over for this season, society will turn its attention once more to the affairs regularly scheduled on the calendar.

Weddings also have occupied a conspicuous place on the calendar this week, and Wednesday was notable for three, the Page-McGillchrist, which was an event of Wednesday morning, and the Hersey-Martin, and an Slyke-Harding wedding, which took place in the evening.

Miss Winifred Byrd will be greatly missed from the social gayeties again this winter, as she leaves in about a week for New York, to prepare for her debut in concert in that city in the near future. Miss Byrd is a pianist of unusual distinction, and during her sojourn in New York last season, a number of eastern critics took a flattering interest in her work.

Honoring Mrs. F. E. Smith of Portland, Mrs. Guy Gargant was hostess for a charming luncheon Wednesday. The affair was most informal, only a few matrons of the hostess' Kensington club being asked.

Mrs. T. W. B. London and daughter Miss Zulette London, of Vancouver, B. C., are the house guests of Mrs. George F. Rodgers.

A smart affair of Thursday afternoon, was the charming bridge party for which Mrs. John D. Sutherland was hostess. The affair was given as a farewell attention to Mrs. William C. Knighton and Mrs. Charles Gray and the guests numbered about a dozen matrons of the smart set.

Mrs. John H. Albert was awarded the high score honor. The residence was aglow with quantities of colorful garden flowers, effectively arranged in baskets and bowls. Dahlias and sweet peas, in tones varying from a pale pink to a deep rose, were used in the drawing room, and yellow marigolds and lavender thistle bloom in the dining room. Assisting were Mrs. John H. McNary and Mrs. J. N. Smith.

Mrs. Sutherland asked as her guests: Mrs. Ruben P. Boise, Mrs. John H. Albert, Mrs. William C. Knighton, Mrs. Charles Gray, Mrs. Robin K. Page, Mrs. A. N. Bush, Mrs. Milton L. Meyers, Mrs. John H. Minto, Mrs. George William Gray, Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson, Mrs. John H. McNary, Mrs. J. N. Smith, Mrs. Fred S. Stewart, Mrs. E. E. Waters, Mrs. S. R. Jessup of Boise, Idaho, Mrs. Charles L. McNary, Mrs. John Scott and Mrs. F. E. Smith of Portland.

Mrs. Harry E. Clay, who is one of the party of friends touring with the A. N. Bushs, writes to friends and recounts the wonderful times they are having on their trip. Among the many places of interest visited by the party this week were Lake Tahoe, Sacramento and Shasta Springs, California, Medford and Klamath Falls. Mr. and Mrs. Bush and their guests are expected home next week.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Rose will have as their guests next week, their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Edgerton and small daughter, Jacqueline, of Chehalis, Wash. Mrs. Edgerton was one of the most popular girls in the younger set and her arrival in Salem is eagerly anticipated, as it is her first visit here since her marriage.

Informal yet charming was the small dinner party for which Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Burghardt, Jr., were hosts Thursday evening. A huge bowl of yellow zenias and snap dragon adorned the artistically appointed table. Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. Percy Young and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart of Albany, Mr. and Mrs. Walter McDougal and the hosts.

Amid an array of beautiful blossoms, Miss Isabel McGillchrist became the bride of William Page Douglas of San Francisco, at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William McGillchrist Sr. Rev. F. T. Porter performing the ceremony.

The residence was artistically decked with garden flowers, a color scheme of yellow being developed with marigolds and golden glow. An arch twined with smilax and centered with a huge bell tied with yellow tulle bows against a background of greenery and bright yellow blossoms, made an effective setting for the bridal couple.

The bride, who is a charming girl, wore a creation of white embroidered silk net over a foundation of flesh colored chiffon and net, made on the newest lines. Her tulle veil which was simply arranged hung in graceful folds. Her bouquet was a savor of bride's roses and sweet peas.

The bride's attendants, Miss Edith Shaw, Miss Lucile Kuntz, Miss Adelta Nye, Miss Helen Farrar, Miss Irma Botsford, Miss Gertrude Buell of Eugene, and the bride's sisters, Miss Hazel McGillchrist and Miss Ethel McGillchrist, were all attired in all white gowns, their yellow dutch caps and nose gays adding the only touch of color.

The bride's small nephew, William McGillchrist, III, acted as ring bearer and dainty little Marion Shaw, in a pretty little white frock was flower girl.

Miss Bernice Clark played the wedding march and the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Gordon McGillchrist charmingly sang "Because."

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served. Tete-a-tete tables prettily adorned with pink and white roses were arranged on the vine covered veranda, and the bride's eight attendants assisted in the serving.

The bride's traveling suit was a smart model of blue serge worn with a black hat. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas left for a trip to southern California, and upon their return will make their home in Oakland.

Society will miss again this winter Mrs. Charles Gray, who left today for Eugene where she will be chaperone for the girls of the Chi Omega Sorority. Mrs. Gray's promise to be with the girls again this season has caused much rejoicing, as she is not only very popular but an ideal companion.

To bid adieu to a few friends who have entertained her this summer, Mrs. Gray was hostess Tuesday for a charming luncheon at the Hotel Marion. Wednesday Mrs. Gray presided over a similar affair, her guests again being several prominent matrons.

A gay affair of the week was the dance for which Mr. and Mrs. Homer H. Smith were hosts Tuesday night at their residence on Summer street. About twenty two guests enjoyed the evening and the informality of the affair combined with the graciousness of the hosts made it one of the merriest of the week's festivities.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Deekebach, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Dancy, Dr. and Mrs. Harry H. Olinger, Mr. and Mrs. John Caughill, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Locke, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Siock, Mr. and Mrs. William Walton, Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Gillingham, Miss Helen Deekebach, Miss Bernice Craig, Miss Rose Pratt and "Don" Byrd.

The wedding of Miss Vera Ellen Martin and Carl H. Hersey of Seattle was one of the notable events of the week. It was a charming affair solemnized at 5 o'clock on Wednesday at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilton W. Martin, Rev. Carl H. Elliott officiating.

The house was a veritable bow of blossoms, a pretty color scheme of pink and white being developed with asters and altar banked with the same delicate blossoms against a background of graceful ferns made an artistic foil for the bridal party.

The bride, an unusually pretty girl, wore a gown of ivory charmeuse and silver lace, simple and attractive. Her shower bouquet was of bride's roses and sweet peas. Miss Anna Yantis, Miss Unice Flenor and Miss Ruth Gibson caught the bouquet.

Miss Lois Martin, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and her gown was a chic pink tulle trimmed with gold lace. She carried pink and white asters.

Little Katherine Corey attired in a dainty little white frock, carrying the ring in a huge pink aster, acted as ring bearer.

Kenneth Martin, the bride's brother, attended Mr. Hersey.

Miss Frieda Spitzbart sang at "Dawning" by Cadman, and Miss Lucille Ross played the wedding march and also after the ceremony.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served. Presiding at the artistically adorned table were Miss Anna Yantis and Miss Genevieve Frensch, Miss Alma Ross, Miss Unice Flenor, Miss Ruth Gibson, Miss Laura Ross assisted in the serving and in various other ways.

The bride's going away suit was of midnight blue serge worn with a smart hat of green.

After a month's sojourn at the Bush Hotel in Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. Hersey will make their home in Portland, where Mr. Hersey is associated with the O. B. N. construction company. E. Among the out of town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Hersey and Miss Leota Wright of Kamas, Mrs. Della Gerlinger, and J. C. Morton of Eugene, Miss Lissa Wright and Elmo Wright of Portland, H. H. Lamb of Linneus, Missouri, Mrs. Jessie Hammond and the Misses Gertrude and Lois Hammond and Henry Hammond of Oakland, California.

One of the most attractive weddings of the summer took place on Wednesday when Miss Ermine Janice Harding became the bride of Clarence Van Slyke of Chehalis, Washington. The ceremony was performed at 6:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Agnes Harding, on Union street, Rev. Carl H. Elliott officiating.

The decorations were all in pink and white, dahlias, asters and a profusion of other garden flowers being effectively arranged in the various rooms. The end of the living room was made into a floral bower, enclosing an altar, with pillars forming an approach to the altar. The pillars were topped with huge bouquets of deep pink dahlias, from which hung graceful festoons of clematis and greenery.

The bride was attired in a gown of Georgette crepe, and taffeta. The skirt was very short and full, and the bodice was adorned with rare lace. The cloudlike tulle veil arranged in Juliet cap centered with orange blossoms enveloped the attractive little bride. Her bouquet was a lovely shower of bride's roses.

Miss Eloise White of Portland was maid of honor and wore a charming frock of apricot taffeta and a large hat of silver lace. Her bouquet was of pink roses.

Harold Hagar attended Mr. Van Slyke, and the bride party was preceded by a small flower girl, Miss Edith May Jenks and little William McGillchrist, III, who again acted as ring bearer.

Merlin Harding, a brother of the bride, gave her in marriage.

Miss Lela Slater of Portland played the wedding march, and Mrs. Merlin Harding, sister-in-law of the bride, charmingly sang "Today" by Carrie Jacobs Bond.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held and a buffet supper served. After supper Mr. and Mrs. Van Slyke left for a sojourn in British Columbia, and upon their return will make their home in Chehalis, Washington, where Mr. Van Slyke is associated with his father in the Miners' and Merchant's bank.

The bride's going away costume was a smart suit of brown broad cloth, trimmed with brown fur, worn with a chic hat of purple.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Knighton will leave Thursday to resume their former residence in Portland and will be domiciled at Trinity Place apartments. Mrs. Knighton is a great favorite in local society and will be greatly missed by her host of friends.

Every afternoon and evening is filled with numerous little farewells at attentions in honor of the Knightons, among them being a bridge party for which Mrs. George E. Waters will be hostess Tuesday.

Complimenting Miss Ada Ross and Miss Laura Ross, who are leaving Salem to teach school this winter, the Misses Helen and Dorothy Pearce were hostesses on Monday for a delightful Kensington. It was very informal, only a few of the girls friends being asked. An artistic arrangement of purple and white asters adorned the room. During the afternoon the guests enjoyed several solos and readings given by Mrs. Bahn.

Those gathering to bid adieu to the girls were: Miss Hazel Bishop, Miss Gertrude Cunningham, Miss Ethel Casebere, Miss Lina Heist, Miss Rosamond Gilbert, Miss Nellie Casebere, Miss Lulu Heist, Miss Genevieve Avison and Miss Laura Heist.

Another charming affair honoring Miss Laura Ross and Miss Ada Ross was the luncheon for which Miss Gertrude Cunningham was hostess Tuesday at the residence of her grandmother, Mrs. D. W. Matthews.

Creeling the table, which was prettily centered with golden-hued garden flowers, were: Miss Ada Ross, Miss Laura Ross, Miss Helen Pearce, Miss Rosamond Gilbert, Miss Dorothy Pearce, Miss Lucille Ross, and the hostess.

Mrs. Milton L. Meyers entertained informally Thursday evening with a few tables of bridge, in honor of Mrs. Harry H. Olinger's house guests, Mrs. W. J. Northrup of Portland and Mrs. R. T. Stafford of Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. John Albert have as their guests, Mr. Albert's daughter, Mrs. Fred A. Wiggins and daughter, Miss Mildred Wiggins of Toppenish, Washington, who have been summering at Newport. Mrs. Wiggins will return home Monday while Miss Wiggins will remain in Salem to attend the Willamette University.

Mrs. L. F. Robe and daughter, Miss Helen Robe, who have been the guests of Mrs. Russell Catlin left Friday for Seattle. Mrs. Robe and Miss Robe have recently returned from a summer's sojourn in Alaska.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Fisher motored home Thursday from a few days visit in Eugene. They were accompanied by Mrs. W. F. Osburn who left Friday for Portland.

Miss Ruth Fugate whose marriage to Paul A. Fugate of Aberdeen, Idaho, will be a simple event of Sunday September the seventeenth, was honored for a charming Kensington given Monday night by her sisters, Mrs. A. Tyson Woolpert and Miss Grace Fugate. The guests were a few intimate girl friends and included the members of the bride-elect's sewing club.

Those gathering for the affair were: Mrs. Charles Bates, Miss Christabel Jewett, Miss Alma Phole, Miss Margaret Graham, the Misses Elsie and Etta White, Miss Lottie Lally, Miss Louise Umphreys, Miss Margaret Fisher, and the Misses Hallie, LaVerne and Nettie Gilson.

The many friends of Mrs. Ralph Jackson will regret to know that she will leave Monday for her home in Chicago, Ill. Mrs. Jackson has been passing the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Durbin, and her visit here has been made delightful by many little attentions.

The Hotel Marion rang with merriment last night, as a large number of gaily attired dancers frolicked through one of the most delightful dinner dances that the hotel has been sponsor for this season. Many joined congenial groups of friends and few entertained parties. Among the hosts were Mr. and Mrs. George Rodgers, whose guests were: Mrs. T. W. B. London and daughter, Miss Zulette London of Vancouver B. C., Miss Marion Howe of Carlton, Miss Marion Smita, Miss Stella Frohman, Anson Frohman of Portland, Lewis Bond of Eugene and Ralph D. Moores.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Linn and party, Mrs. Charles G. Miller, Mrs. Carolyn Dick, Miss Paula Linn, Leslie Toole, Lamar Toole, J. P. Rodgers and Miss Helen Mensinger and A. Smith of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic D. Thielsen went to Portland Friday. They will return tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Bishop have as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Young of Albany, who motored to Salem yesterday for the dinner dance at the Hotel Marion last night. The Youngs will return home tonight.

The members of the "Round Dozen Club" were pleasantly entertained on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Gill on the Pringle road. The afternoon was devoted to needle work. Besides the club members a few additional guests were asked and included: Mrs. R. Wicklander, Mrs. Yas. Callahan, Miss Ethel Yates, Miss Mary Rupert, Miss Wilson and Miss Greta Gill.

Mrs. L. A. Westcott, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Anna Stroble, in Seattle is expected home today.

One of the prettiest of the week's luncheons was that for which Mrs. Caroline Selee was hostess Monday at her home on the Liberty road and Hansen avenue. The guests were the members of the P. O. Sisterhood. Mrs. Gertrude Volk acted as toastmistress and toasts were given by Mrs. A. L. Goldfrey, Mrs. D. E. Bower, Miss Laura Grant and Miss Annona Welch. Assisting the hostess were: Mrs. D. E. Bower, Mrs. C. D. Rauch and Mrs. H. E. Bolinger.

Miss Marguerite Rankin who has been the house guest of Miss Hazel Erixon has returned to Portland.

Mrs. James R. Linn and daughter, Miss Paula Linn, of Portland are passing a few days in Salem and are at the Hotel Marion.

Mr. and Mrs. Romo C. Hunter have visited them Mr. and Mrs. William Bert Powell of Portland. Mrs. Powell was formerly Miss Agnes Hall of this city and during her brief visit here has been delightfully entertained by her old friends.

Miss Margaret Rodgers will leave tomorrow for Eugene, where she will attend the University of Oregon.

In celebration of their twenty fifth wedding anniversary Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Barr entertained with a large function on Friday. The festivity opened in the morning with a solemn high mass at St. Joseph's church and culminated in the evening with a large "500" party at their residence on North Fourteenth street. A large number of old friends called during the day, and the members of the family and visiting priests gathered for a wedding feast at noon. The residence was decked with asters and other garden flowers, a color scheme of green and white being adopted about the various rooms. Guests were asked to make up fourteen tables of "500" in the evening and the hosts were literally showered with attractive gifts.

Late in the evening the celebration was closed with delightful refreshments. Assisting the hostess were the Misses Mary Schoettle, Ruta Copper of Seattle and Gertrude Hartman.

About twenty five members of the Woman Relief Corps and a few members of the G. A. R. gathered at the home of Mrs. Henry Schott on Thursday afternoon. The hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Schott, Mrs. LaMoine Clarke, Mrs. Fred Thompson, Mrs. Coons and Miss Ada Simpson.

The afternoon was pleasantly whiled away with needle work.

Harold Hagar will leave Monday for Cambridge, Massachusetts, where he will resume his studies at Harvard University.

Mrs. John H. Minto has as her house guest for the week end, Mrs. G. M. McLaughlin of Portland.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Miss Effie Mull Saturday evening, when a few of her friends gathered to celebrate her sixteenth birthday. The evening was spent playing games, followed by dainty refreshments. Those present were: Misses Mildred Gill, Dollie Dutton, Edith Bollinger, Gladys Bartholomew, Mildred Bradbury, Effie Mull and Messrs. Ben Maxwell, Oscar Webb, Clement Gardner, Edwin Vincent and John Mull.

Mrs. J. M. Garrison and daughter, Mildred, who have spent the summer at Newport, arrived home Wednesday.

Mrs. John H. Cradlebaugh has as her guest Miss Eva Kinahan of Omaha, Neb., who is en route home from Southern California where she has been spending the summer.

There is to be no running, hopping or shrugging of shoulders in the dances for the coming winter, according to Professor M. M. Ringler, who just returned with his wife from a two months' trip in the east, at which time they attended the National Association of Dancing Masters' convention in Chicago. The old-fashioned waltz will return to favor, and the fox trot and one step will be popular dances.

The new dances will consist largely of walking and cotte, and they will be slower. In the past dances have been too fast. Older people could not dance them.

"The two-two, a new dance, was adopted by the national association; also the twinkle trot, which is danced in a slow walk rhythm, and consists of two center steps, the twinkle step, a two step and draw step, followed by the waltz. It is danced to waltz music."

"I found business to be very good in the east," Mr. Ringler remarked, "but the weather was disagreeable. It was altogether too warm for me."—Oregon Journal.

A quiet but very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Behrke, Florence, Oregon, Wednesday September 6th, at 10 o'clock when their daughter, Olive Greene became the bride of Willis Robert Dallas of Corvallis. The Rev. I. G. Knotts of Albany performed the impressive ring ceremony. The bride was beautifully gowned in a dress of white net over white satin, trimmed in old lace. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses, white carnations and maiden hair fern.

After a short honeymoon trip to Portland Mr. and Mrs. Dallas will return to Florence.

It's Either Round Dozen Skirts
Or No Skirts at All--In Bahia

By Margaret Mason
In Bahia, Brazil
The fashions are nil.
Each wears what she will
And it's "comme il faut" still.
Some beads and a shawl
Are quite jaunty withal;
And a smile's very nice
For they never have ice.

Bahia, Brazil, Aug. 8.—(By mail to New York)—There are 365 churches in Bahia and it looks like some of the Bahia belles number their skirts by the sacred edifices. Paris and New York have nothing on Bahia when it comes to that "hoops, my dear" effect.

The women seem to run to skirts, whereas the men just seem to run after them.

This bouffant ether effect, topped off with a nifty little coming jacket and a gaily lined shawl draped carelessly over the left shoulder is considered a toilette de luxe in Bahia.

The styles are a bit extreme in this Brazilian port, however. Where some petticoats seem numberless, yet again some seem to number less than nothing. Their motto seems to be "If you must do it, go the limit." If you must skirt the properties do a good job and call it a dozen.

If you must wear a hat, wear a hat. The Bahian bonnet certainly makes our alleged picture or garden hat or our erstwhile Merry Widow look like a pill box.

Even in motoring, these huge straw or shirred chiffon hats are vaunted and flaunted.

On the other hand, or rather head, a bandanna suffices, or the weak's wish or the family firewood. I even watched one totting a neatly balanced coffin.

'Twould seem that everything goes to the head in Bahia—even the fauna.

A chic and very popular effect in an afternoon hat is an osier basket heaped high with green bananas. Where have we anything on the Bahian belles with our fruit trimmed casques of this summer I'd like to know!

The fruit woman on the corner, with her fruit basket piled high with mangoes, pineapples and oranges knows not the terrors of a milliner's bill; she deftly hoists her stock in trade and in basket to the top of her coiffure and moves on to the next stand, or rather squat.

The color line is drawn neither in fashions nor in families in Bahia. Out of a population of about 200,000, about 150,000 are fast black and the rest a bit shady. They seem especially adapted to mourning effects and even the babies are matched up with sable garments at the slightest bereavement.

For the short trousered and short skirted, young socks are quite the rage and a neat and original touch is obtained by wearing the Boston garter in the open.

The scented and gold tipped cigarettes of our effete New York and London Lady Nicotines are spurned in Bahia. Here again their motto prevails. If you must smoke, smoke a real smoke. Hence, short black cigars and fat black pipes are smoked by the smoked natives of Bahia.

As for us U. S. maids as we took launch back to the good ship Verdi, most of us were wearing marmoset fur in the rough—so very rough indeed that this morning we were wearing marmoset bites. These tiny little chattering monkeys are exterminated as pests in Bahia or else sold to guileless tourists for a dollar apiece. The tourists all bite and so do the marmosets.

Thus do we bear away the mark of Bahia simply by carrying Bahian monkey business on board.

Our Fall Lines are now practically complete

All departments are full of dependable merchandise, ordered months ago under the most favorable market conditions. The great scarcity of desirable merchandise has compelled factories to advance prices on many lines but we have marked every item at the lowest possible price, and the greater part of our stock is now marked considerably below the present market value. Our prices are figured on the spot cash plan of business, which means a saving to our customers on every purchase.

We Undersell "Credit Stores"

Our store will close at 6:30 this evening in order to give our employes an opportunity to attend the circus.
