

Our Fall Campaign Is On

Here Is Information About Our Candidates

The Hart Schaffner & Marx styles are here for fall. The famous Varsity Fifty Five suits show a more marked waistline. The buttons on the coat front are placed higher, lapels are a trifle shorter, new ideas in waistcoats.

The belt-back variations of Varsity Fifty Five will interest dressy young men. Some of the "belters" are double breasted—smarter features than you ever saw before.

Older men who like conservative clothes are amply provided for; suits show no decided innovations; fabrics dark blues, grays, browns.

This season hard-to-fit men will have a "picnic." Our sizes, patterns and models were never more complete.

The Overcoat hit of the season is Varsity Six Hundred; a trifle body tracing; in rich new fabrics—fall weight.

"Shelter Coats"—ideal fall utility coats made of light weight materials, rainproofed; smart enough for dressy occasions.

The Shirts show new and different colorings; splendid values at $1.50 and up.

Hats—for early fall the new soft shapes are the thing; browns, grays, blues, blacks—$2 and up.

Plenty of striking Neckwear in every conceivable shade—50 cents and up.

Now come in and see the clothes themselves. The prices are low, values high.

"JUST WRIGHT SHOES"

Contain all the quality that good solid leather, high grade trimmings and expert workmanship can give them. Among the new fall styles, of which we show a number, there is sure to be one that will please you. We want you to see them and try them because you are insured satisfaction.

STATE FAIR BOARD APPEALS FOR ROOM

Those Who Can Entertain Visitors Asked to Report to Secretary Lee

Have you any rooms which you would like to rent during the state fair?

If you have make a list of them, giving name, street address and telephone number and mail them in to Secretary A. H. Lea, state fair board, Salem, Oregon. Also state what conveniences will be furnished with the room or rooms, such as bath, heat, telephone, hot and cold water, proximity to car line; whether suitable for men, women, married people with or without children; state whether rooms can be furnished single or en suite, and also state price to be asked by the night and for the week. If you have no rooms to rent during the fair, kindly show this to a neighbor or friend who has.

This year the state fair board will, in conjunction with its general free information service, conduct a free "room register" for the benefit and convenience of state fair visitors and Secretary-Manager Lea desires to make this service so complete and satisfactory that it will reflect credit, not only to the fair board but upon the hospitable spirit of the residents of Salem who will no doubt cooperate fully toward adding to the comfort and pleasure of fair visitors.

At every state fair, and especially along about the middle of the week when the crowds are at their apex and the hotels and lodging houses are taxed to their fullest to furnish accommodations to the thousands of visitors from over the state and abroad, there is a big overflow of strangers in a strange land who have a right to expect that some arrangement has been made for their accommodation. It is, therefore, up to the kindly hearted people of Salem, who have extra rooms to spare, to throw their doors open and extend the hand of greeting and hospitality to the visitor.

The people of Salem have never failed to meet this responsibility and can always be depended upon in a "pinch" to supply all of the necessities toward making the visit of the "stranger within the gates" a pleasant experience long to be remembered. Heretofore it has been the custom of the Salem Commercial club to conduct a room registry for the benefit of state fair visitors and it has performed a very meritorious function with great credit to the management. It is to be hoped that the Commercial club will continue to serve in this important office. In addition to establishing a room register in connection with the information bureau at the fair grounds this year, Secretary-Manager Lea does not propose to work at cross purposes with the commercial body or any other agency which seeks to render a kindly service to patrons of Oregon's greatest educational institution—the state fair—but to work in harmonious cooperation with them and tender whatever aid the fair management can in looking after the comfort and convenience of those who were unable to arrange accommodations in advance of their coming.

A telephone will be installed in the information booth at the fair grounds and it will be one of the chief duties of the person in charge to keep in continuous touch with those who have rooms to rent during the week and it will be very important to have those who send in lists of rooms to keep the information bureau posted at all times regarding vacancies. But the main thing now is to decide upon how many of your extra rooms you can spare during the week, September 25 to 30, inclusive, or the week previous and following the fair, and mail your list to Secretary Lea at your earliest convenience. Do not wait until the last minute; the best time to attend to this matter is right now.

Eugene, Ore., Sept. 11.—About 40 per cent of the hop crop of Lane county has been lost as a result of excessive rain during the last week, according to a statement made by John Seavey, one of the largest hop growers in the county, and who, with his brother, owns yards aggregating 270 acres.

It has been estimated that the total crop in Lane county this year would amount to more than $120,000. The loss to date, it is said, will amount to $40,000.

Mr. Seavey stated that if the rains continue, the hops remaining in the field will be lost, which means that almost the total yield will be spoiled.
