VOTE PUTS MAINE

(Continued from Page One.) missing precincts is heard from." The republican committee exhibited a message from Governor McCall, of Massachusetts, declaring: "The result of the Maine election is an unmistakable indication of a strong trend which I believe is nation-wide toward the republican presidential candidate."

"The vote does not represent the majority the republicans have had in this state in past presidential years. A similar republican majority in 1892 was followed, it may be remembered, by a sweeping of the country by Cleveland."

"Then you don't think Maine will point the way this year?" he was asked. Say Democrats Disappointed. "Maine is normally republican - and look what happened in 1892," the democratic leader rejoined.

While belittling Maine's infallibility in forecasting the election two months hence, democratic leaders were plainly disappointed at their poor showing at the polls. Democracy poured its strongest campaigners into the Pine Tree state. They started a fire under Hughes' labor record, they preached eloquently how Wilson "kept the country out of war" and they stood pat on his Mexican policy. Five cabinet members did missionary work.

The fact that the state issues were subordinated for national questions in the fight made republican politicians here believe that the republican victory really does mean something nationally in the way of a trend back to the party which was ousted from power four years ago. They pointed to the fact that Ralph D. Cole, chairman of the republican national committee's speakers bureau concentrated former ball moose speakers into Maine - Roosevelt, McCall, McCormack and others of that type - and made a particular bid to welcome "the party that was 'back into the G. O. P. Maine voters, they said, used their heads, because while the general state and national tickets were overwhelmingly republican, the down-easters elected democratic sheriffs, county attorneys and other county officers in all but two counties. They elected these officers at home on local issues, according to the republican view - and they chose others who were to represent them at the state capital and in congress on the issues of national importance.

Practically a Clean Sweep. By Perry Arnold. (United Press staff correspondent.) Augusta, Maine, Sept. 12. -Maine was back in the republican fold today with what, on the face of returns from 93 per cent of her voting precincts, showed a republican majority of about 12,000 in yesterday's election. The republicans were apparently completely victorious in gubernatorial, senatorial and congressional tickets.

But whether or not Maine's vote can be taken as "pointing the way" to what will happen in November was a disputed point among politicians - because the republican majority was not nearly what it used to be in the old days of Frye and Eugene Hale and this despite the fact that the total vote probably will be the largest ever recorded in the Pine Tree state.

The republicans were jubilant because the issues of the campaign were almost exclusively national and because Senator Charles F. Johnson, running on his record as a Wilson democrat and supported by the entire strength of the democratic administration was defeated "Dan Mack" - otherwise Congressman Daniel McMillen - in the Second district where 24 hours ago they were almost admitting lack of hope of turning out one of the most popular representatives in Maine.

Normal Majority 25,000. The democrats on the other hand, pointed to the fact that Maine formerly was republican by 25,000. Governor Oakley Curtis, in a statement at Portland admitting his own defeat by Carl E. Milliken, republican, summed up the democratic view when he remarked: "If the republicans don't get a majority of 15,000, Wilson is upheld."

Maine democrats were pointing today to the fact that they have materially reduced the usual Maine republican majority on national issues and to the figures for 1892 when a republican plurality of 12,500 in September did not "point the way" to election of Grover Cleveland in November.

Summarized from the latest figures obtainable today the Maine vote was as follows: With 42 Precincts to Come. For United States senator (long term) returns from 593 precincts out of 635: Frederick Hale, republican, 78,049. Charles F. Johnson, democrat, 68,273. For United States senator (long term) returns from 593 precincts out of 635: Bert M. Fernald, republican, 79,368. Kenneth M. Sills, democrat, 66,832. For governor: (returns from 593 precincts out of 635): Carl E. Milliken, republican, 79,902. Oakley C. Curtis, democrat, 66,547. The same precincts in 1914 gave: Haines, republican, 57,932. Curtis, democrat, 61,375. Gardner, progressive, 18,919. Congressional returns: First district, 88 precincts out of 89: L. B. Goodall, republican, 19,732. L. A. Stevens, democrat, 16,103. Second district, five precincts missing: W. H. White, Jr., republican, 19,157. D. J. McGillivray, democrat, 18,770. Third district, 25 precincts missing: John A. Peters, republican, 21,829. John E. Bunker, democrat, 18,277. Fourth district, 26 precincts missing: Ira G. Hersey, republican, 15,066. L. A. Pierce, democrat, 11,913.

INDOOR LIFE MAKES FAT

TRY OIL OF KOREIN TO KEEP WEIGH DOWN, OR TO REDUCE SUPERFLUOUS FAT. People who are confined within doors and who are deprived of fresh, invigorating air and exercise must take precaution to guard against over-stoutness, as fat acquired by indoor life is unhealthy and a danger to the vital organs of the body. Lack of exercise in the fresh air is said to weaken the oxygen carrying power of the blood, so that it is unable to produce strong muscles and vitality and the formation of unsightly and unhealthy fat is the result.

If you are 15 or 20 pounds above normal weight you are daily drawing on your reserve strength and are constantly lowering your vitality by carrying this excess burden. Any persons who are satisfied in their own mind that the are too stout are advised to go to Central Pharmacy or a good druggist and get a box of oil of korein capsules, and take one after each meal and one just before retiring at night.

Even a few days treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, improved digestion and a return of the old energy; footsteps become lighter and the skin less flabby in appearance as superfluous fat disappears.

Oil of korein is inexpensive, cannot injure, and helps the digestion. Any person who wants to reduce 15 or 20 pounds is advised to give this treatment a trial.
